FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JULY 17, 1860.

India Office, July 14, 1860.

THE Secretary of State for India in Council has received the following papers.

No. 1.

GENERAL ORDER OF THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA.

Simla, April 30, 1860.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General is pleased to publish for general information the following despatch from Major-General Sir J. Michel, K.C.B., late Commanding Malwa Division, No. 9, dated 3rd January, 1859, reporting operations against the rebels by a column under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel H. R. Benson, Her Majesty's 17th Lancers.

These operations were duly reported to the Home Authorities in March 1858, in the Foreign Department, but it having been ascertained that Lieutenant-Colonel Benson's Report was not received in that Department, and was therefore not transmitted at the same time, that deficiency is now supplied by its publication.

No. 2.

Major General Michel, Commanding Malwa Division of the Army, to the Adjutant-General of the Bengal Army.

Chapeira, January 3rd, 1859.

SIR,

No. 9.

I HAVE the honour to forward a despatch from Lieutenant-Colonel Benson, detailing the pursuit, and finally the defeat, of the rebel forces under the Rao Sahib and Tantia Topec.

2. When the small number of Colonel Benson's column is taken into account,—that this column without tents, camp followers, or commissariat, in five days performed the distance of 142 miles; and at its termination defeated a very superior force; taking elephants, camels, &c.,—I trust his Lordship the Commander-in-Chief will consider that Colonel Benson, and the troops under his command, have well done their duty.

I have, &c.

J. MICHEL, Major-General,
Commanding Malwa Division Army.

SIR, Gerapore, December 29, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to inform you, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, that, after a pursuit of 148 miles in one hundred and twenty hours, the column under my command, strength as per margin,* came into action with the rebel force this morning at about three miles distance from Gerapore, their number apparently about 4,000 fighting men, under command of Tantia Topee and the Rao Sahib, and, after an engagement of two hours, put them to flight, and pursued them for ten miles with heavy loss, capturing six elephants, and between thirty and forty camels, besides treasure and a prisoner, rank unknown, when, in consequence of the rebels dispersing over a hilly and thick jungle country, and the horses, especially the draft horses of the artillery, beat, I did not deem it expedient to follow further, and abandoned the pursuit at about twelve miles distance from Monohur Sharrah at 3 P.M. Further detail I have the honour to state below.

1. On Friday, the 24th, at Ninose, having carefully ascertained that the passes leading out by Reipore had been blocked up by cutting down trees, &c. which duty had been most successfully performed by Lieutenant Coglan 4th Native Infantry, whom I had detached the day previous with 100 men for that purpose to Reipore, I struck my camp and marched to Nowgaum, and, next day, not being able to gain any intelligence of the movements of the rebels, I made a reconnoissance, taking with me a small body of cavalry and Highlanders, and found that the rebels, after an attack on Pertabghur, had marched the previous evening towards Mundesoor.

2. I immediately returned to camp, and made a forced march to protect Mundesoor ; arrived there that evening, and heard the rebels were encamped four miles distant.

3. Next morning, taking two days' supplies, and leaving the artillery waggons, infantry, led horses, tents and baggage of every description, also ghorahwallas and grass-cutters, behind, under command of Captain Holmes, with orders to follow leisurely, according to the instructions I might send back, I started towards Setur Mhow ; but, finding my information had been wrong, I changed my direction towards Caimpore, at which place I came on the track of the rebels and followed it, for, as most of the villages had been plundered, it was often difficult to obtain guides ; and halted that night on the left bank of the Chumbul River.

4. Marched at day-break, for I could not follow the track by moonlight, crossed the Chumbul, and came up with the rebel force encamped at Dug ; at 5.40 P.M., drove in their advanced posts, and bivouacked for the night in sight of their fires.

5. Advanced at 4 o'clock A.M. so as to attack them at daybreak, and halted in the plains of Dug till light, when I found the main body had left the camp the previous evening, on their outposts being driven in, but had left strong mounted picquets, which had remained till 3 A.M., and then followed the main body ; pressed after them, and crossed the Koliscind River.

6. Having started at 3 o'clock A.M. from the right bank of the Koliscind, and marching eight miles, I came in sight of the fires of the rebel camp at Gerapore, when I advanced over the ploughed land to deaden sound, and waited for day-light. I then advanced, and found that the main body had marched and were two miles ahead. I immediately trotted off after the main body and came up with them, and, on emerging from a wooded lane, found them drawn up in line of battle on a rising ground, with a jungle and a ravine in their rear. I formed the cavalry into columns of division and advanced, when the rebels commenced firing. I then moved my leading column to the right; uncovering my guns, brought them rapidly to the front, when they opened fire at about 400 yards, grape and shell. The rebels, after a great deal of shouting, retired, and I ordered out two divisions of cavalry to attack on their (the enemy's) right, which they did, driving them into the jungle. I then re-formed, and advanced in two columns well together through the jungle and across the ravine, rebels retiring before me. On coming out on the other side of the jungle, which was a thin strip, I found that the rebels had changed their position, left back, and re-formed on a rising ground on my left. I advanced my two columns, bringing forward my right, and formed line to the front, guns in the centre, and advanced to within 400 yards from their line, and opened fire, pouring in grape and shell, apparently with great effect. The rebels then made an attempt at an advance in line, and, failing that, tried to turn my left flank, but I directed Sir George Leith, who commanded the left squadron, to half wheel to his left and move up, which he did quickly, and they retired. I then ordered Sir William Gordon, who commanded the right squadron, to advance, bringing up his right shoulders, which he did, and advanced, destroying and cutting up numbers, the rebels flying through the jungle and across the ravine, but he gallantly followed them, and cut off a number of camels, &c. I then advanced with the artillery and other squadron, cutting up a few rebels, and re-formed the force, and followed through the jungle across the ravine, but, owing to the difficulty of having to make a road for the guns, I was delayed for a few minutes, and dismounted the cavalry to rest. The moment the guns were across, I took up the pursuit over an open, but stony and hilly, country, where I again found the rebels drawn up on a hill; but, on bringing the guns to the front, they quickly retreated, and I then pursued them in line, guns trotting down the road, and a squadron of Lancers on each flank, for about five miles, towards Monohur Sharrah, when, in consequence of their dispersing, and the horses being beat, I abandoned the pursuit; but, seeing four elephants in their front, I sent a troop, under Captain Lowe, supported by another under Sir George Leith, to dash forward and bring them in, which duty Captain Lowe performed in a very satisfactory manner. I then returned to Gerapore and bivouacked for the night.

7. I think it my duty to bring to the notice of the Major-General Commanding, the gallant and able manner in which Major Learmouth commanded and led the 17th Lancers.

8. Also to mention with the highest praise Serjeant-Major Butler, Royal Horse Artillery, who was in command of the guns, for the celerity and precision with which he brought them into action over a most difficult country.

9. I also beg to state that I received every assistance from my Acting Staff-Officer, Lieutenant Gonne, 17th Lancers, from my Interpreter Mr. Reeves, 6th Native Infantry, and my Acting Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenant Nolan, 17th Lancers ; all of whom were most active and intelligent in conveying orders, &c.

10. To the untiring zeal and energy of Captain Hutchinson, the Political Agent, who accompanied me during these operations, both in obtaining accurate information, procuring supplies, and rendering me every assistance in his power, I attribute in a very great measure the success which has attended them.

11. I cannot too highly praise the conduct of both officers and men in this pursuit for their gallantry in the field, and for the cheerfulness with which they bore their great fatigue, and the privation of liquor and European supplies, sleeping each night on the bare ground without any sort of covering, although the nights were exceedingly cold, without a murmur or complaint of any kind. Casualties as per margin.*

I have, &c.

Commanding 2nd Cavalry Column.

India-Office, July 20, 1860.

THE Secretary of State for India in Council has received from the Government of Bombay a despatch, from which the following is an extract :

Bombay, January 9, 1860.

IN the copy of the minute recorded by our President, relative to the services of civilians and military officers in Civil employ during the recent troubles in India, which has appeared in the public prints in England, there is an error which we would wish to rectify. In that paragraph of the minute which alludes to the assistance which our President states he received from his colleagues there followed the words, "and from the Secretaries to Government." In the minute as published in England the passage alluded to runs thus, "and from the Secretary to Government."* This error may have occurred from a mistake of the copyist either in Calcutta or in England, or it may have been a misprint in the London Gazette, but under any circumstances we think it an act of justice to point out that our President's acknowledgments referred to all the Secretaries to Government.

RESIGNATION.

2nd Regiment of the Royal Surrey Militia.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to accept the resignation of Captain William Richard Barnes.

FROM THE

Admiralty, August 1, 1860.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty from Commodore William Loring, C.B., Senior Officer of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels on the Australian Station :

No. 19. Her Majesty's ship Iris, Auckland,
SIR, April 27, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copies of reports which I have received from Captain Cracroft, of Her Majesty's ship Niger, relative to the proceedings of a part of her crew employed on shore at Taranaki, at the requisition of His Excellency the Governor of New Zealand.

The capture of the pah, as described in his letter No. 10, was, on the part of Captain Cracroft, his officers, and men, a most dashing and judiciously timed affair.

His Excellency Colonel Gore Browne informs me that it was most opportune. The death of several of the most troublesome of the Taranaki Chiefs, and of a considerable number of their followers, served not only to damp the ardour of the rebellious tribes, but also to avenge some cold blooded murders which these very people had committed only a few days previously.

And it is now known that, under God's providence, this success was also the means of saving the lives of a detachment of the Colonial Volunteers whom the Maories had beleaguered in a neighbouring house, and whose ammunition was almost expended.

Captain Cracroft has not mentioned his own personal share in the affair, but I learn that his coolness on that and on other occasions was most conspicuous, and that he did not undertake this very hazardous service in a spirit of headstrong gallantry, but from a deliberate conviction that it was necessary that the attempt should be made, and therefore it was done, and done most successfully.

Under these circumstances I trust that their Lordships will authorise me, in accordance with the request of Captain Cracroft, in his letter No. 11, to decorate William Odgers, leading seaman, with the Victoria Cross. These Maori natives are by no means a contemptible foe,—man to man they are equal to ourselves; and in the storming of the pah it could only have been by eager and determined gallantry that success could have been attained.

I also beg to call their Lordships' attention to his letter No. 12, enclosing a letter from the Colonel in command of the troops in another part of the field, and also a letter from Colonel Gold, Commanding-in-Chief.

Lieutenant W. H. Blake's conduct, as Senior Lieutenant of Her Majesty's ship Niger, has been uniformly correct and efficient, and whilst on shore, in command of fifty-five seamen, he has shown himself a gallant leader.

I much regret to state that his wound is of a serious nature; and I beg very respectfully and strongly to recommend him to the notice of their Lordships as an officer whose conduct has rendered him worthy of promotion.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM LORING, Commodore.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty.

No. 10. Her Majesty's ship Niger, Taranaki,
SIR, New Zealand, March 31, 1860.

AT 1 P.M., on the 28th instant, I received the enclosed requisition from Colonel Gold; you are aware through my letter of proceedings, No. 8, that 55 men belonging to this ship under the command of the first Lieutenant were already landed to assist in the defence of the town, but as the case appeared urgent and the weather was fine, I did not hesitate in complying with it, and landed at 2 P.M., with the force detailed in the margin*.

2. We had scarcely taken up a position pointed out to me by Colonel Gold, when intelligence arrived that Colonel Murray was hard pressed by the natives and short of ammunition, and Colonel Gold requested me to advance to his support. I therefore proceeded to the Omata Blockhouse, about four miles on the great South-road, from whence I was enabled to obtain a good view of the country, and of a Pah constructed on the crown of a hill, about a mile beyond, which displayed flags, and from which a continual fire of musketry was kept up upon Colonel Murray's force on my right; here I found Lieutenant Blake, first Lieutenant of the Niger, just brought in dangerously wounded by a ball through the breast.

* Lieut. A. J. Villiers, Mr. W. W. Smyth, Acting Mate, Mr. S. Gassiot, Midshipman, Mr. W. C. Karlake, Midshipman, Dr. W. Patrick, Surgeon, Mr. W. H. Hyde, Assistant Paymaster.—Officers, 7; Seamen, 43; Marines, 10.—Total, 60, with a 24 pounder rocket tube.

3. I immediately sent Mr. W. H. Hyde, Assistant Paymaster, doing duty as my aide-de-camp, to inform Colonel Murray of my arrival; and as it was half-past five, and there was only half an hour's daylight left, I determined to attack this Pah at once.

4. Accordingly I planted the 24 pounder rocket tube about 700 yards from it, and, after a few discharges, the men stormed the Pah under a heavy fire, in the most gallant style,—William Odgers, leading seaman, doing duty as my coxwain, being the first man in it; and having captured the flags, and destroyed everything living in the trenches, as far as could be ascertained in the dark, I returned to the blockhouse.

5. In performing this service I am thankful to say that I had only four men wounded, which may be in some measure accounted for by the rapidity of the attack, taking the enemy completely by surprise, and giving no time for the usual Maori tactics; while the increasing darkness also favoured our small force, and prevented a good aim being taken by their sharpshooters.

6. It was impossible for me to estimate the number opposed to us, nor could their exact loss be ascertained—16 dead were counted inside the entrenchment, 11 or 12 were lying in the road outside; but no doubt many of the wounded succeeded in crawling away unobserved.

7. After a short rest at the blockhouse I returned to town, placed the wounded in military hospital, and re-embarked my men, as I did not consider the ship safe without them at this exposed anchorage.

8. I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of all engaged in this sharp and decisive affair, more especially the conduct of William Odgers, leading seaman, to which I shall bring your more particular notice in another letter.

9. I beg to enclose the Surgeon's report of casualties in the party landed.

I have, &c.,

Captain and Senior Officer in New Zealand.

No. 11. Her Majesty's ship, Niger, Taranaki,
SIR, New Zealand, March 31, 1860.

WITH reference to paragraph No. 4 of my letter No. 10, 1860, I beg leave most respectfully to lay before you a statement of the conspicuous gallantry of William Odgers, leading seaman, upon the occasion of the capture of the Pah, in having been the first to enter it, in the face of the heavy fire opened upon us.

He also assisted in hauling down the enemy's colours, in which act of daring, which was performed under my own eye, three other men equally participated, viz : Robert Glanville, captain fore-top, William Older, A.B., and William Clarke, supernumerary marine, belonging to the Iris carrying your broad pendant.

And I should wish to submit for your consideration, whether all these men are entitled equally with William Odgers to the decoration of the Victoria Cross, and if not, then I should beg leave to recommend William Odgers for it, as being the most deserving, for the reason first mentioned.

It would be proper to add that Robert Glanville and William Clarke were both severely wounded in the Pah.

I have, &c.,

Captain and Senior Officer in New Zealand.

No. 12. Her Majesty's ship, Niger, Taranaki,
SIR, March 31, 1860.

REFERRING to my letter No. 10 of this date, reporting the service upon which Lieutenant W. H. Blake, Senior Lieutenant in charge of a detachment of seamen and marines, had been employed with the force under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Murray, 65th Regiment—

I have now the honour to enclose a letter and its enclosure, received from the Lieutenant-Colonel expressing his high sense of the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Blake, at the action at Omata, on the 28th instant, in which that officer was dangerously wounded, as also of the steady good conduct of the petty officers, seamen and marines upon this occasion, under Mr. C. B. Theobald, Midshipman, upon whom the command had devolved.

In requesting you to bring the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Blake to the favourable notice of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, I beg to recommend him to their lordships as a most zealous, active officer, who has always merited my entire confidence, and is well worthy of promotion.

The name of Lieutenant Blake has been before mentioned to their lordships in despatches, as being the Senior Lieutenant present at the destruction of a formidable Chinese piratical stronghold and junks in March, 1859.

I have, &c.,

Captain.

SIR, New Plymouth, March 31, 1860.

I CONSIDER it due to you to express the high sense I entertain of the gallant services rendered by Lieutenant Blake, and the officers and men of Her Majesty's ship Niger, who formed part of the force under my command, employed against the rebel natives at the village of Omata, on the 28th instant.

I was myself an eye-witness of the steadiness with which the gallant blue jackets advanced in skirmishing order over a difficult piece of country, compelling their opponents to retire before them ; and, from the information that has reached me since, their force told severely.

I beg to add that it was with extreme regret that I beheld their gallant leader taken to the rear dangerously wounded. My regret was the greater, from the feeling of friendship I entertained for that officer, occasioned by the perfect cordiality which existed between us on all matters of duty since he has been attached to the garrison under my command.

I beg further to inform you that the men of the Niger, when ordered to retire, displayed the same steadiness under the command of Mr. Theobald, who seemed to possess the coolness of a veteran.

I herewith enclose a return of casualties in the Naval Brigade.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) G. F. MURRAY,
Brevet-Lieutenant-Colonel.

Commanding Her Majesty's Ship Niger.*

*Brigade Office, Taranaki,
March 29, 1860.*

COLONEL GOLD, commanding the Forces, wishes to express to Captain Cracroft, of Her Majesty's Ship Niger, Senior Naval Officer on the Station, Lieutenant-Colonel Murray, 65th Regiment, and Captain Brown, of the New Plymouth Militia, and the officers, non-commissioned officers, warrant and petty officers and men, who were engaged yesterday with the enemy, his high sense of the gallantry displayed, which led not only to the rapid destruction of a Pah, but also to a considerable loss on the part of the insurgents. The Colonel Commanding will not fail to report most favourably to higher authority their distinguished valour and most active exertions.

By command,

(Signed) JOHN PAUL,

Captain 65th Regiment, Acting Major of Brigade.

In consideration of his services, as mentioned in these despatches, Lieutenant William Hans Blake has been promoted to the rank of Commander, with Seniority, from 26th June, 1860.

William Odgers has also been offered a Warrant as a Gunner or Boatswain, provided he be found competent.

War Office, 3rd August, 1860.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the Decoration of the Victoria Cross on the under-mentioned Officers of Her Majesty's Indian Forces, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, in consideration of their gallantry and Distinguished Conduct during the operations of the Expeditionary Force in Persia in 1856-57, as recorded against their several names ; viz.:

20th Bombay Native Infantry.

Captain John Augustus Wood.—On the 9th of December, 1856, Captain Wood led the Grenadier Company, which formed the head of the assaulting column sent against Bushirc. He was the first man on the parapet of the fort, where he was instantly attacked by a large number of the garrison, who suddenly sprang on him from a trench cut in the parapet itself. These men fired a volley at Captain Wood and the head of the storming party, when only a yard or two distant from that Officer ; but, although Captain Wood was struck by no less than seven musket balls, he at once threw himself upon the enemy, passed his sword through the body of their leader, and, being closely followed by the men of his company, speedily overcame all opposition, and established himself in the place. Captain Wood's decision, energy, and determined valour, undoubtedly contributed in a high degree to the success of the attack. His wounds compelled him to leave the field for a time; but, with the true spirit of a good soldier, he rejoined his regiment, and returned to his duty at Bushire before the wounds were properly healed. Date of Act of Bravery, 9th December, 1856.

3rd Bombay Light Cavalry.

Lieutenant and Adjutant Arthur Thomas Moore, and Lieutenant John Grant Malcolmson. — On the occasion of an attack on the enemy on the 8th of February, 1857, led by Lieutenant-Colonel Forbes, C.B., Lieutenant Moore, the Adjutant of the Regiment, was, perhaps, the first of all by a horse's length. His horse leaped into the square, and instantly fell dead, crushing down his rider, and breaking his sword as he fell amid the broken ranks of the enemy. Lieutenant Moore speedily extricated himself, and attempted with his broken sword to force his way through the press; but he would assuredly have lost his life, had not the gallant young Lieutenant Malcolmson, observing his peril, fought his way to his dismounted comrade through a crowd of enemies to his rescue, and, giving him his stirrup, safely carried him through everything out of the throng. The thoughtfulness for others, cool determination, devoted courage, and ready activity shewn in extreme danger by this young Officer, Lieutenant Malcolmson, appear to have been most admirable, and to be worthy of the highest honour. Date of Acts of Bravery, 8th February, 1857.

Her Majesty has also been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the Decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned Seaman of the Royal Navy, whose claim to the same has been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, in consideration of an Act of Bravery which he performed in the recent operations against Rebel Natives in New Zealand, as recorded against his name ; viz. :—

William Odgers, Leading Seaman of Her Majesty's Ship Niger.—On the 28th of March, 1860, William Odgers displayed conspicuous gallantry at the Storming of a Pah during operations against Rebel Natives in New Zealand ; having been the first to enter it under a heavy fire, and having assisted in hauling down the enemy's colours. D., to be a member of the General Council of Medical Education and Registration of the United Kingdom.

Arthur Helps.

burgh, Bremen, and Lubeck, to be an Ordinary Member of the Civil Division of the Second Class, or Knights Commanders, of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
August 7, 1860.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires at St. Petersburg, enclosing a copy of an Ukase issued by the Emperor of Russia, authorizing foreigners to enter the Russian commercial guilds, upon the same footing as native subjects, and conceding to them all the rights conferred by the guilds upon Russian merchants.

The ukase further grants to foreigners the right to acquire, by purchase, succession, legacy, gift, or imperial concession, all kinds of property, both real and personal, excepting always such property as the Russian hereditary nobility, and foreigners possessing equal rights, are alone able to obtain by virtue of existing laws.

Foreigners are further allowed to act as agents for occupied estates, provided the consent of the proprietors has been obtained. It is also lawful for them to farm real property under the conditions prescribed by law.

The above concessions do not apply to foreign Jews, who are subject to a special treatment.

War-Office, August 7, 1860.

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the under-mentioned Soldier of Her Majesty's Army, whose claim to the same has been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, on account of an Act of Bravery performed by him in India, as recorded against his name, viz.:—

Military Train, 2nd Battalion.

Private Samuel Morley, No. 201.—On the evacuation of Azimgurh by Koer Sing's Army, on the 15th of April, 1858, a Squadron of the Military Train, and half a Troop of Horse Artillery, were sent in pursuit. Upon overtaking them, and coming into action with their rear-guard, a Squadron of the 3rd Seikh Cavalry (also detached in pursuit), and one Troop of the Military Train, were ordered to charge, when Lieutenant Hamilton, who commanded the Seikhs, was unhorsed, and immediately surrounded by the Enemy, who commenced cutting and hacking him whilst on the ground. Private Samuel Morley, seeing the predicament that Lieutenant Hamilton was in, although his (Morley's) horse had been shot from under him, immediately and most gallantly rushed up, on foot, to his assistance, and in conjunction with Farrier Murphy, who has already received the Victoria Cross for the same thing, cut down one of the Sepoys, and fought over Lieutenant Hamilton's body, until further assistance came up, and thereby was the means of saving Lieutenant Hamilton from being killed on the spot.

Crown-Office, August 4, 1860.

MEMBER returned to serve in the present

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
August 13, 1860.*

With reference to the notice inserted in the London Gazette of the 3rd instant, the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations hereby notify that they have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a further Despatch from Major Stokes, the British Commissioner for the European Commission of the Danube, enclosing a copy of the following "Provisional Tariff of Navigation Dues, applicable to the Sulina Mouth of the Danube, in execution of Article XVI. of the Treaty of Paris of the 30th March, 1856."

THE European Commission of the Danube: Whereas the 16th Article of the Treaty of Paris, of the 30th March, 1856, stipulates that the expenses of the works executed to clear the mouths of the Danube, as well as the neighbouring parts of the sea, from the impediments which obstruct them, as well as those of the establishments intended to secure and facilitate the navigation, shall be covered by means of fixed duties established and levied by the Commission ;

And whereas the increase of depth produced by the provisional works undertaken at the Sulina mouth, and by the works of rectification in the course of the river, on the shallows of the Argagni, as well as the improvements introduced into the establishments of which mention is made in the treaty, have already the effect of diminishing the impediments which vessels encounter in the Danube, and the expenses resulting therefrom ;

And whereas, in order not to lay exclusively upon the commerce of the future the weight of the expenses of these improvements, of which the trade of the present day is beginning to reap the benefits, it is just and equitable, whilst awaiting the application of the definitive tariff which will be established after the completion of the works, to subject the navigation immediately to a provisional toll, proportioned to the advantages which it enjoys at the present time ;

And whereas, in order to simplify the collection as much as possible, it is desirable that the different dues paid by vessels, whether for the works of improvement or for the service of the establishments, such as lighthouses and pilots, be blended into one single navigation due ;

The Commission decrees the provisional tariff, of which the tenor is as follows :

ART. 1. Every sailing vessel of more than 30 tons register, quitting the port of Sulina to go to sea, and which shall have, according to her manifest, more than half of her full lading, shall pay a fixed navigation toll by ton register, the amount of which shall be regulated according to the following table, by the total tonnage of the vessel, and by the depth on the bar at the mouth of the Sulina branch.

| VESSELS. | Amount of toll per ton register, with a depth on the bar of | | | | | | | | | | | |
| | less than 10 feet. | from 10 to 11 feet. | from 11 to 12 feet. | from 12 to 13 feet. | from 13 to 14 feet. | from 14 to 15 feet. | more than 15 feet. | | | | | |
| | fs. cs. | fs. cs. | fs. cs. | fs. cs. | fs. cs. | fs. cs. | fs. cs. | | | | | |
| Above 30 tons and less than 100 tons | 0 75 | 0 75 | 0 75 | 0 75 | 0 75 | 0 75 | 0 75 | | | | | |
| From 100 tons to 150 tons | 1 0 | 1 50 | 2 0 | 2 0 | 2 0 | 2 0 | 2 0 | | | | | |
| Above 150 tons and not more than 200 tons | 1 0 | 1 50 | 2 0 | 2 50 | 2 50 | 2 50 | 2 50 | | | | | |
| Above 200 tons and not more than 250 tons | 1 0 | 1 50 | 2 0 | 2 50 | 2 75 | 2 75 | 2 75 | | | | | |
| Above 250 tons and not more than 300 tons | 1 0 | 1 50 | 2 0 | 2 50 | 2 75 | 3 0 | 3 0 | | | | | |
| Above 300 tons ... | 1 0 | 1 50 | 2 0 | 2 50 | 2 75 | 3 0 | 3 25 | | | | | |

ART. 2.—Steam vessels belonging to a public Company, specially appropriated to the transport of passengers, and making periodical voyages according to a time-bill published beforehand, shall pay each time on leaving the river a fixed toll of 25 centimes per registered ton without reference to their lading being whole or partial. This toll shall be calculated on the total tonnage of the vessel less 40 per cent. for space occupied by engines and coal bunkers. These vessels shall be free from all toll on entering the river.

ART. 3.—All merchant steam vessels, not included among those designated in Art 2, shall be subjected to the same tolls as sailing vessels, excepting the deduction of 40 per cent. which shall also be made from their total tonnage on account of the engines and coal bunkers. The amount of the toll which these vessels shall pay by register ton, is to be determined in conformity with the above table after the deduction of 40 per cent. guaranteed by this Article.

ART 4.—Sailing vessels and merchant steam vessels other than those mentioned in Art. 2, which shall enter the Port of Sulina from the sea, and which shall have, according to their manifest, more than half of their lading, shall pay for their passage inwards one-fourth of the toll which would fall on them for the passage outwards according to the above Arts. 1 and 3. They shall, however, pay the total amount of the toll for entering if they clear outwards with less than half cargo.

ART. 5.—Lighters chartered for the passage of the Sulina Bar by vessels which shall have paid the duties fixed by the preceding articles, shall pay for each passage effected with a lading

namely :

|--------------------------------------|------------|
| Lighters of 10 to 50 tons burden ... | 6 francs. |
| Those of more than 50 and not ex- | |
| ceeding 100 tons | 8 francs |
| And those of more than 100 tons ... | 12 francs. |

ART. 6.—Vessels of more than 30 tons register which shall remain at anchor on the roadstead of Sulina to load or unload the whole or part of their cargo, without entering the port, shall not be subjected to the tolls established by the preceding Articles ; the said vessels shall only pay a uniform duty of 50 francs per vessel towards the expenses of the establishments, such as lighthouse and pilotage, by which they really profit.

Lighters chartered to transport across the bar the cargo of the said vessels, shall pay for each passage of the bar, with either whole or part lading, a fixed duty of 1 franc per ton on their total tonnage.

Steam Lighters shall be allowed a deduction of 40 per cent. on their tonnage in the calculation of the tolls which they will have to pay.

ART. 7.—Vessels of war shall be freed from all toll for passing the Sulina Bar, either inwards or outwards.

ART. 8.—Sea going vessels, or lighters, who shall seek shelter in the Port of Sulina from bad weather, those who shall put in to repair damages, and those who by reason of any accident whatever shall be obliged to take refuge in the port, and shall be prevented from continuing their course at sea, shall be freed from all toll, provided that they put to sea again without transacting any commercial business.

ART. 9.—The tolls established by the present tariff shall comprise :

The tolls imposed on vessels to cover the expenses of the works and other improvements effected by the European Commission.

The duties at present in force for the maintenance of the Lighthouses of Sulina, and the Isle of Serpents; and the dues intended to cover the expenses of the Pilot Service on the Sulina Bar.

In addition to these tolls, vessels shall be subjected to no toll or charge whatever, except the pay of the River Pilots, which vessels will pay in conformity with Arts. 61 and 62, of the Pilotage Regulations of the 9th July, 1860.

ART. 10.—The amount of the tolls shall be paid over to the Cashier, who shall be appointed to administer the Navigation Cash Office of the Port of Sulina, and who shall give receipt for the same.

ART. 11.—By the expression of register ton shall be understood the English ton, measuring 1015 kilogrammes. The tonnage of vessels shall be ascertained from the regular ship's papers.

ART. 12.—Vessels entering the Danube without regular ship's papers showing their tonnage, shall be submitted, exclusively with a view to fix the navigation tolls which they shall be bound to pay in conformity with the present tariff, to an approximate valuation made under the direction of the Captain of the Port, and with the concurrence of the competent Consular authority, by two ship-masters, of whom one shall be chosen by preference from among those of the nation of the vessel concerned.

In the same manner shall be decided disputes which may arise, on the proportion of a vessel's lading in the cases provided by the above Articles 1 and 4.

The apprizement of tonnage, in default of regular ship's papers, shall be made at the expense of the vessel which gives rise to it ; the same rule shall hold for the apprizement of the proportion of the lading, if it is in excess of the declaration of the master of the vessel.

In the contrary case the said expenses will remain at the charge of the navigation chest.

In any case these apprizements shall be final, and can give rise to no appeal whatever.

ART. 13.—The depths, according to which shall be determined the tolls established by the present tariff, shall be measured on the Sulina Bar in English feet.

Soundings shall be taken every day under the direction and responsibility of the engineer superintending the works of improvement at the mouth of the river ; the result of these soundings shall be posted daily at the Navigation Cash Office, and at the office of the Captain of the Port.

If the state of the weather does not allow of soundings being taken, the amount of the tolls to be levied shall be calculated on the latest depth ascertained.

ART. 14.—Every vessel which shall endeavour by any means whatever, to escape the payment of the tolls fixed by the present tariff, shall be liable, in addition to the tolls which she shall have to pay in conformity with the preceding Articles, to a fine equal to four times the amount of these tolls.

The application of this fine shall be pronounced by the Captain of the Port of Sulina.

Any appeal from these judgments shall be brought before the European Commission of the Danube, or before the International Authority who shall succeed to its functions.

The period within which such appeal must be made, and the form of proceeding, shall be determined hereafter by special dispositions.

The judgments pronounced by the Captain of the Port shall take effect, notwithstanding an appeal: in such case the amount of fine shall be paid into the navigation chest as a deposit.

Upon confirmation of the judgment, the amount of fine shall accrue to the said chest, to be devoted to the relief of shipwrecked persons.

ART. 15.—The commanders of vessels of war, stationed at the mouths of the Danube, conformably with Article 19 of the Treaty of Paris, shall be called upon to ensure the payment of the tolls established by the present tariff, and of the fines accruing under its stipulations, by the vessels of their nation, and of those whose flag they shall be authorized to protect, either by virtue of a Treaty or by virtue of a general or special delegation.

The action of the vessels of war shall be demanded, as a rule, by the intervention of the Captain of the Port of Sulina on the requisition of the Cashier appointed to administer the navigation chest.

In default of a vessel of war authorized to exercise a coercive action over an offending vessel, the Captain of the Port shall have recourse to the intervention of the Ottoman man-of-war at Sulina.

ART. 16.—The present tariff shall come into operation on the 1st September (new style).

Chartered vessels which shall have started for their destination at the moment when the preliminary notice, published by the European Commission on the 11th July, 1860, shall have been legally made known in their port of departure, shall not be subjected, for the voyage commenced, to the tolls established by the present Tariff: they shall only pay for that voyage the dues in force at the moment of their departure.

ART. 17.—The present Tariff being only provisional, can be revised.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of AUGUST 31, 1860.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Tuesday, August, 28, 1860.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by Her Majesty to release you from further attendance in Parliament, and at the same time to convey to you Her Majesty's acknowledgments for the zeal and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the performance of your important duties during the long and laborious session of Parliament now about to close.

Her Majesty commands us to inform you, that Her relations with Foreign Powers are friendly and satisfactory, and Her Majesty trusts that there is no danger of any interruption of the general Peace of Europe. Events of considerable importance are indeed taking place in Italy ; but if no foreign powers interfere therein, and if the Italians are left to settle their own affairs, the tranquillity of other States will remain undisturbed.

The proposed Conferences on the subject of the cession of Savoy and of Nice to France have not yet been held ; but Her Majesty confidently trusts that in any negotiations which may take place full and adequate arrangements will be made for securing, in accordance with the spirit and letter of the Treaty of Vienna of 1815, the neutrality and independence of the Swiss Confederation.

That neutrality and independence were an object to which all the powers who were parties to the Treaties of Vienna attached great importance ; and they are no less important now than then, for the general interests of Europe.

Her Majesty commands us to assure you, that the atrocities which have been committed upon the Christian population in Syria have inspired Her Majesty with the deepest grief and indignation. Her Majesty has cheerfully concurred with the Emperor of Austria, the Emperor of the French, the Prince Regent of Prussia, and the Emperor of Russia in entering into an engagement with the Sultan, by which temporary military assistance has been afforded to the Sultan for the purpose of re-establishing order in that part of His dominions.

We are commanded by Her Majesty to inform you, that Her Majesty greatly regrets that the pacific overtures which, by Her Majesty's directions, Her Envoy in China made to the Imperial Government at Peking, did not lead to any satisfactory result ; and it has therefore been necessary that the combined naval and military forces which Her Majesty and Her Ally the Emperor of the French had sent to the China Seas should advance towards the northern provinces of China, for the purpose of supporting the just demands of the Allied Powers.

Her Majesty, desirous of giving all possible weight to Her diplomatic action in this matter, has sent to China, as special Ambassador for this service, the Earl of Elgin, who negotiated the Treaty of Tien-sing, the full and faithful execution of which is demanded from the Emperor of China.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Her Majesty commands us to convey to you Her warm acknowledgments for the liberal supplies which you have granted for the service of the present year, and for the provision which you have made for the defences which are essential for the security of Her dockyards and arsenals.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty commands us to express to you the gratification and pride with which she has witnessed the rapid progress in military efficiency which Her Volunteer Forces have already made, and which is highly honourable to their spirit and patriotism.

Her Majesty has given her cordial assent to the Act for amalgamating Her Local European Force in India with Her Forces engaged for general service.

Her Majesty trusts that the additional freedom which you have given to commerce will lead to fresh development of productive industry.

Her Majesty has given Her ready assent to several measures of great public usefulness.

The Acts for regulating the relations between landlord and tenant in Ireland will, Her Majesty trusts, remove some fertile causes of disagreement.

The Act for amending the law which regulates the discipline of Her Majesty's Navy has established salutary rules for the administration of justice by courts-martial, and for maintaining good order in the naval service.

The Act bearing upon endowed charities will give means for a less expensive administration of the property of charities, and for the speedy and economical settlement of disputes affecting such property, while by another Act relief has been afforded to Her Majesty's Roman Catholic subjects with regard to their charitable endowments.

Several other Acts have been passed for legal reform, which must lead to the more satisfactory administration of justice.

Her Majesty has observed with deep satisfaction the spirit of loyalty, of order, and of obedience to the law, which prevails among her subjects both in the United Kingdom and in her dominions beyond sea ; and Her Majesty has witnessed with heartfelt pleasure the warm and affectionate reception given to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales by Her North American subjects.

You will on returning to your several counties have duties to perform scarcely less important than those which have occupied you during the session of Parliament ; and Her Majesty fervently prays that the blessing of Almighty God may attend your efforts, and guide them to the attainment of the objects of Her constant solicitude, the welfare and the happiness of Her people.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read ; after which the Lord Chancellor said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

By virtue of Her Majesty's Commission, under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in Her Majesty's name, and in obedience to Her commands, prorogue this Parliament to Tuesday the sixth day of November next, to be then here holden ; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the sixth day of November next.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in further exercise of the powers reserved to them, in and by the said several before recited Acts of Parliament, by two other Warrants in writing duly made, and bearing date respectively at Whitehall, Treasury-chambers, one of the said two last-mentioned Warrants the 19th day of June, 1858, and the other of the said two last-mentioned Warrants the 1st day of July, 1859, and respectively reciting (amongst other Warrants), the said hereinbefore recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, did make and declare certain other regulations, orders, directions, and conditions therein mentioned, respecting certain of the said packets, in and by the said hereinbefore recited Warrant of the 21st day of July, 1857, authorised to be transmitted by the post as aforesaid.

And whereas it is expedient to authorise the transmission by the post of packets of a like kind between any part of the United Kingdom and the island of Saint Thomas and other Danish colonies in the West Indies, and also between the said island of Saint Thomas and the other Danish colonies in the West Indies, and the British colonies in the West Indies, and to fix certain rates of postage at which such packets may be so transmitted, in the manner hereinafter mentioned and contained.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said two hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this, do by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners (by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided), order, direct, and declare as follows :—

6. Provided always, that in all cases where any packet may be transmitted by the post under the authority of this Warrant, and any such packet shall be so transmitted as not to be transmitted in conformity with the provisions thereof, and under and subject to the regulations, orders, directions, and conditions herein contained or referred to, and shall by reason thereof have become liable, under or by virtue of this Warrant, to be charged with the like rate or amount of postage to which

TREASURY WARRANT

Whereas by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

And whereas by another Act of Parliament passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the post office," further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and power is also given to the Postmaster-General (amongst other things) to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage, British, Colonial, or Foreign, of any letters sent by the post to be prepaid either in money or in stamps, as he might think fit, on the same being put into the post office, and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the prepayment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether, or on certain letters, and to require the prepayment thereof to be in stamps, and also to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations thereby made, and power is also given to the Postmaster-General and any officer of the post office to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations therein mentioned, and to open such letters and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury should from time to time direct.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have, by divers Warrants under their hands, fixed, made, and established certain rates of British postage, payable on the transmission by the post of certain colonial letters therein respectively mentioned, and it is expedient to make regulations for the prepayment of the several rates of postage payable on letters posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Bermuda, in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us, in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts,

4. Nothing hereinbefore contained shall in anywise prejudice or affect the privilege granted by the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, in favour of petitions and addresses forwarded to Her Majesty by the post, nor the privilege granted by the same Act to Members of each House of Parliament to receive by the post petitions and addresses to Her Majesty, and petitions addressed to either

House of Parliament, not exceeding thirty-two ounces in weight, nor the privilege granted to printed votes or proceedings of Parliament, nor shall anything in this Warrant contained in any wise prejudice or affect the privilege which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service now by law enjoy, of sending and receiving by the post letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

5. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant, shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

6. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made, at any time hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke, any of the orders, directions, or regulations hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other orders, directions, or regulations in lieu thereof.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, and at any time after the passing of that Act by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas by a Warrant under the hands of two of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1855, certain rates of postage were fixed on letters transmitted by the post direct by British packet boat, between Gibraltar and Hong Kong or Singapore, without passing through the United Kingdom.

And whereas it is expedient that the said Warrant should be repealed, and that further regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers vested in us, in and by the said recited Act, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided), order and direct that the said Warrant, dated the 31st day of December, 1855, and the several rates of postage, and the several orders, directions, and regulations, therein mentioned and set forth, shall cease and determine, and shall be, and the same are, hereby repealed and revoked.

And we do further order and direct, that on every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post direct by British packet-boat, between Gibraltar and Hong Kong, or Singapore, without passing through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of postage heretofore chargeable on such letters, a uniform British rate of one shilling (in which the Red Sea or Persian Gulf packet, rate is included).

And we direct, that on every letter transmitted, as is mentioned in this Warrant, exceeding half an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid. progressive and additional rates of postage as follows ; that is to say :

On every such letter, exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every such letter, exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every such letter, exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

On every such letter, exceeding three ounces, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight, above the weight of four ounces, there shall be charged and taken two additional rates of postage ; and every fraction of an ounce, above the weight of four ounces, shall be charged as one additional ounce ; and each progressive and additional rate, chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

And we further direct, that nothing in this Warrant contained, shall in anywise alter, prejudice, or affect the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, nor in anywise prejudice or affect the privilege which officers, seamen, and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service now by law enjoy, of sending and receiving letters by the post, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

And we further direct, that the term "by the post," used in this Warrant, shall include the conveyance through Egypt.

And we further direct, that this Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of December, 1860.

And we hereby declare and direct, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, for the time being, of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any two of them, by Warrant under their hands, at any time hereafter to alter or repeal any of the rates hereby altered, or the regulations hereby made, and to make and establish any new or other rates or regulations in lieu thereof, and from time to time to appoint at what time the rates that may be payable are to be paid.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(10,031.)

The Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, copies of two Notifications issued by the Captain of the Port of Leghorn, translations of which are subjoined :

(Translation.)

PORT OF LEGHORN.

To obviate the damage which frequently occurs during the winter season in the old port of Leghorn (or Porto Mediceo), more especially when vessels sail in, during the prevalence of the south-west and west-south-west winds, the Minister of Marine, by resolution, dated the 22nd June last, has ordered that during the prevalence of said winds, and under any other imperious circumstances, vessels shall be momentarily prevented entering the said port, as they may then anchor with safety in the new port.

In publishing the said ministerial decision for the information of mariners, notice is further given, that on and after the 1st October of the current year 1860, whenever the aforesaid imperious circumstances arise, warning not to enter the old port shall be given to vessels by means of a plain blue flag hoisted on the external earthwork of the battery, at the point of the mole.

Royal Office of the Port Leghorn,

(Signed) ULISSE ISOLA,
Captain of the Port.

(Translation.)

PORT OF LEGHORN.

To obviate the inconveniences and the damages which not unfrequently have occurred in the new Port of Leghorn, through the abuse crept in of vessels anchoring on arrival with a single anchor, which allowing them to swing round freely with the wind, sometimes come into collision with vessels already anchored there, the Minister of Marine has ordered, under date of the 22nd June last, that in conformity with the 63rd Article of the existing regulation of the 13th October, 1859, for the ports of Tuscany, all vessels hereafter entering the new port, shall bring up with both bower anchors, declaring that all ship masters who do not obey the present order, shall make good all damages which they may thereby occasion to other vessels, conformably to Article 39 of the said regulation.

TREASURY WARRANT.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Aet for the regulation of the duties of postage,” power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof and a seale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage threon, and for other purposes relating to the post-office.”

And whereas it is expedient that further regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now, we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury, in exereise of the powers vested in us in and by the said recited Acts and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows:

1. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation, or posted in the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation, addressed to the United Kingdom and transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any part of the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation (the conveyance between the United Kingdom and the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation being by British packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of British postage of one shilling.

2. On every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in or addressed to any part of the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation, transmitted by the post between any port in the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation, and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom (the conveyance between the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation and the United Kingdom being by British packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken a British rate of postage of one shilling for the conveyance of every such letter between any port in the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation and any part of the United Kingdom, and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of post-

3. On every letter, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, transmitted by British packet-boat from any port in the Republic of the Uruguay or the Argentine Confederation to any other foreign port, without passing through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken a British rate of postage of one shilling.

4. All such respective letters, so transmitted as hereinbefore in this Warrent mentioned, if exceeding half an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned, (that is to say) :

On every such letter, if exceeding half an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

And for every additional ounce in weight of any such letter above the weight of three ounces, there shall be charged, taken and paid, two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional ounce shall be charged as an additional ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

5. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the privileges which seamen, and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service, are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post, letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

6. The respective letters transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage, respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters which shall be re-directed and again forwarded by the post.

7. The rates of postage chargeable on letters transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

8. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any letters sent between the Republic of the Uruguay, or the Argentine Confederation, and France, or sent otherwise than in closed mails between the Republic of the Uruguay, or the Argentine Confederation, and any foreign country, or British Colony through France.

9. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

His Majesty The King of the Belgians came on board the Royal Yacht at Antwerp at half-past seven A.M., on Monday the 24th, and accompanied The Queen as far as Verviers.

His Royal Highness The Prince Regent of Prussia joined The Queen at Aix la Chapelle, and accompanied Her Majesty as far as Duren.

Her Majesty slept that night at Frankfort, and travelled on to Coburg yesterday. Her Majesty was received by The Duke and Duchess of Coburg and Gotha, and had the satisfaction of finding

Wherever the Train stopped immense crowds were assembled, who took every opportunity to demonstrate their sincere respect for The Queen.

Notwithstanding the length of the journey, Her Majesty remains in perfect health.

The festivities which had been prepared at Coburg, by order of The Duke of Coburg, have been countermanded, in consequence of the lamented decease of The late Duchess Dowager of Coburg.

Her Majesty intends to remain at Coburg for the present.

I have, &c.,

J. RUSSELL.

The Law Secretary shall discharge such duties in connection with the conduct of criminal prosecutions, as the Judge may from time to time direct.

Provided always, that no Vice-Consul shall be competent to hold a Consular Court unless he holds a commission as Vice-Consul from Her Majesty; but any person acting temporarily, with the approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, as Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, shall be competent to hold a Consular Court.

IV.—JURISDICTION AND POWERS OF THE CONSULAR COURTS.

i.—In General.

13. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction, civil and criminal, exerciseable in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte shall, for and within the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, be vested exclusively in the Supreme Consular Court as its ordinary original jurisdiction.

14. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction, civil and criminal, exerciseable in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte beyond the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, and not under the present Order vested exclusively in the Supreme Consular Court, shall, to the extent and in the manner provided by the present Order, be vested in the several Provincial Consular Courts each for and within its own district.

15. Where a suit or proceeding of a civil nature instituted in a Provincial Consular Court does not relate to money, goods, or other property of the amount or value of three hundred pounds sterling, or upwards, or does not relate to or involve, directly or indirectly, a question respecting any civil right or other matter at issue of the amount or value of three hundred pounds sterling, or upwards, or is not brought for the recovery of damages of the amount of three hundred pounds sterling or upwards, the Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the case without Assessors.

In all cases other than those hereinbefore described, the Court shall hear and determine the case with Assessors.

16. The Supreme Consular Court shall have, in all matters civil and criminal, a concurrent jurisdiction with the several Provincial Consular Courts, such jurisdiction to be exercised subject and according to the other provisions of the present Order.

17. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, as and when he thinks fit, visit, or appoint the Legal Vice-Consul Cancellier, or the Law Secretary of the Supreme Consular Court to visit, in a judicial or magisterial capacity, any Provincial Consular Court, and there inquire of, hear, and determine any case, civil or criminal, pending in that Court, or arising within its jurisdiction.

18. A Provincial Consular Court may of its own motion, or on the application of any person concerned, report to the Supreme Consular Court the pendency of any case, civil or criminal, which appears to the Provincial Consular Court fit to be heard and determined by the Supreme Consular Court. The Supreme Consular Court shall thereupon direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined, and the same may and shall be so heard and determined accordingly.

19. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall, in the exercise of every part of its respective jurisdiction, be a Court of Record.

20. Each Provincial Consular Court may and shall execute any writ or order issuing from the Supreme Consular Court, and take security from any person named in any writ or order for his appearance personally or by attorney, and may, in default of such security being given, or when specially ordered by the Supreme Consular Court so to do, send the person named to Constantinople on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or if there shall be no such vessel available for the purpose then on board any British or other fit vessel.

The order of the Supreme Consular Court shall

21. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be auxiliary to one another in all particulars relative to the administration of justice, civil or criminal.

ii.—In Civil Matters.

23. The Supreme and every other Consular Court may promote reconciliation, and encourage and facilitate the settlement, in an amicable way, of any suit or proceeding pending before it.

24. The Supreme or other Consular Court may, with the consent of the parties, refer to arbitration the final determination of any suit or proceeding pending before it, or of all matters in difference between the parties to the suit or proceeding, on such terms and with such directions as to appointment of an arbitrator and other things as may seem fit, and may, if it thinks fit, take from the parties, or any of them, security to abide by the result of the reference.

In any such case the award shall be final and conclusive.

On the application of any party a decree of the Court may be entered in conformity with the award, and no such decree shall be open to any appeal or re-hearing whatever.

25. Every agreement for reference to arbitration or submission to arbitration by consent between or by British subjects, may, on the application of any party, be made a rule of the Supreme or other Consular Court having jurisdiction in the matter of the reference or submission, which Court shall thereupon have power and authority to enforce the agreement or submission, and the award made thereunder, and to control and regulate the proceedings, before and after the award, in such manner and on such terms as may be just.

26. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be a Court of Law and of Equity ; and (subject to the other provisions of the present Order) shall have and may exercise all jurisdiction, power, and authority, legal, equitable, or other, which any Consul of Her Majesty by custom has or may exercise in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

27. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be a Court of Bankruptcy and Insolvency, and as such shall, as far as circumstances will admit, have, each for and within its own district, with respect to British subjects and to their debtors and creditors, being British subjects, or being subjects of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or subjects or citizens of any other State, and submitting to the jurisdiction of the Court, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to the Court of Bankruptcy, the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, and the County Courts respectively, in England, or to such other judicial authority or authorities as for the time being has or have jurisdiction in England in matters of Bankruptcy, Insolvency, or Protection.

28. The Supreme Consular Court shall, as far as circumstances will admit, have in itself exclusively for and within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, with respect to British subjects.

all such jurisdiction relative to the custody and management of the persons and estates of idiots, lunatics, and persons of unsound mind, as for the time being belongs to the Lord Chancellor or other person or persons in England intrusted by virtue of Her Majesty's sign manual with the care and commitment of the custody of the persons and estates of persons found by inquisition in England, idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind.

29. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court for Matrimonial Causes, and as such shall, as far as circumstances will admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, with respect to British subjects, all such jurisdiction, except the jurisdiction relative to dissolution or nullity or jactitation of marriage. as for the time being belongs to the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in England.

30. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court of Probate, and as such shall, as far as circumstances will admit, have for and within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, with respect to the property of British subjects having at the time of death a fixed place of abode within such dominions, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to Her Majesty's Court of Probate in England.

Provided always, that a Provincial Consular Court shall have power to grant probate or administration where there is no contention as to the right to the grant, and it is proved on oath that the deceased had at the time of his death a fixed place of abode within the jurisdiction of the particular Court.

Every probate or administration granted by a Provincial Consular Court, shall have effect over all the property of the deceased within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, and shall under all circumstances effectually discharge all persons paying to or dealing with an executor or administrator thereunder, notwithstanding that any defect may afterwards appear in the grant; and no such grant shall be impeached by reason only that the deceased had not at the time of his death a fixed place of abode within the particular jurisdiction.

Any person having in his possession or under his control any paper or writing of the deceased being or purporting to be testamentary, shall forthwith bring the original to the Supreme or other Consular Court, and deposit it there.

Any person neglecting so to do for fourteen days after having knowledge of the death of the deceased, shall be liable to such penalty, not exceeding fifty pounds sterling, as the Court may think fit to impose.

Where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Supreme or other Consular Court, that any paper purporting to be testamentary is in the possession or under the control of any person, the Court may, in a summary way, whether a suit or proceeding as to probate or administration is pending or not, order him to produce and bring into Court such paper.

Where it appears to the Supreme or other Consular Court, that there are reasonable grounds for believing that any person has knowledge of any paper purporting to be testamentary, (although it is not shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the paper is in his possession or under his control,) the Court may, in a summary way, whether a suit or proceeding for probate or administration is pending or not, order him to attend for the purpose of being examined respecting the same in open Court or on interrogatories, and after examination to produce the paper and bring it into Court.

Any person failing to attend or to be examined, or to produce and bring in the paper accordingly, shall be liable to the same consequences as he would be liable to if he were a party to a suit in the Court, and had made like default.

From and after the death of an intestate having at the time of death a fixed place of abode within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, and until administration granted, the personal property of the intestate within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, shall be vested in the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, as the personal property of an intestate in England is vested in the Judge of Her Majesty's Court of Probate there.

If any person, other than one of Her Majesty's Consular officers, takes possession of, and in any manner administers any part of the personal property of any person deceased without obtaining probate or administration within three calendar months after the death of the deceased, or within one calendar month after the termination of any suit or dispute respecting probate or administration (if there shall be any such which shall not be ended within two calendar months after the death of the deceased), he shall be liable to forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling.

31. Where a British subject, not having at the time of death a fixed place of abode in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, dies in those dominions, the Supreme or other Consular Court, within whose district he dies, shall, where the circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require, forthwith on the death of the deceased, or as soon after as may be, take possession of his personal property within the particular jurisdiction, or put it under the seal of the Court, (in either case, if the nature of the property or other circumstances so require, making an inventory), and so keep the property until it can be dealt with according to law.

32. Where any decision of a Provincial Consular Court, sitting with or without Assessors, is given in a civil case in respect of a sum or matter at issue of the amount or value of fifty pounds sterling or upwards, or determines, directly or indirectly, any claim or question respecting property or any civil right to the amount or value of fifty pounds sterling, or upwards, but not in any other case, any party aggrieved by the decision may apply to the Provincial Consular Court for leave to appeal to the Supreme Consular Court.

The terms on which the person applying shall be entitled to leave, and the procedure on appeals, shall be regulated by the Rules to be made under the present Order.

In any case, other than the cases hereinbefore described, the Provincial Consular Court may, if it considers it just and expedient so to do, give leave to appeal on the like terms.

iii.—In Criminal Matters.

33. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall have power and authority to cause to be apprehended and brought before it any British subject being within the district of the Court and charged with having committed any crime or offence within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or on board any British vessel being within the same dominions, and to deal with the accused according to the jurisdiction of the Court and in conformity with the provisions of the present Order; or where the crime or offence is triable, and is to be tried, in England, to take the preliminary examination, and to commit the accused for trial and cause or allow him to be taken to England.

34. The Supreme and every other Consular

Court may promote reconciliation and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way of proceedings for assault or any other offence of a private or personal character, on terms of payment of compensation or other terms that may seem reasonable or expedient, and may thereupon order the proceedings to be stayed.

35. Whenever any person shall be convicted before the Supreme Consular Court of the crime of murder, the proper officer of the Court, under its direction, shall, in open Court, require the offender to state if such offender hath or knoweth anything to say why judgment of death should not be recorded against such offender; and in case such offender shall not allege any matter or thing sufficient in law to prevent such judgment if the offence had been committed and the trial had taken place in England, the Court may order the same to be entered on record, and thereupon such proper officer as aforesaid shall enter judgment of death on record against such offender, as if judgment of death had been actually pronounced in open Court against such offender by the said Court.

The Supreme Consular Court shall have power to impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding twenty years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding five hundred pounds sterling.

36. All crimes which in England are capital shall be tried by the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court with a jury.

Other crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the Judge or any officer of the Supreme Consular Court and not heard and determined in a summary way, shall be tried by jury.

Any crime or offence tried before the Judge or any officer of the Supreme Consular Court may be tried by jury where the Judge or other officer so directs.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of cases within the original jurisdiction of the Supreme Consular Court as the Judge, having regard to the law and practice existing in England, may from time to time direct, shall be heard and determined in a summary way.

A jury shall consist of six indifferent British subjects of good repute resident in the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, or in the other Consular district in which the Judge or other officer of the Supreme Consular Court, is, for the time being, sitting for criminal trials (as the case may require).

37. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith send a report of every sentence of death recorded by such Court, together with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any recommendation that he may desire to make, to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, for his direction as to the amount and nature of the punishment to be actually imposed, as and by way of a commuted punishment, such actual or commuted punishment not to exceed the measure of imprisonment and fine mentioned in Article 35.

38. Where a Provincial Consular Court is held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul Cancellier, it shall have power to impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling.

In other cases a Provincial Consular Court shall not have power to impose punishment exceeding imprisonment for twelve months, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of fifty pounds sterling, or a fine of fifty pounds sterling alone.

39. The Supreme and every other Consular Court in imposing punishments shall have regard, as far as circumstances may allow, and subject to the other provisions of this Order, to the punishments legally imposed by the law of England for the like offences.

40. Where the crime or offence with which any person is charged before a Provincial Consular Court appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would not be adequately punished by such punishment as the Court has power to impose, and the accused is not to be sent for trial to England or Malta, the Court shall reserve the case to be heard and determined by or under the special authority of the Supreme Consular Court.

The Provincial Consular Court shall take the depositions, and forthwith send them, with a minute of other evidence, if any, and a report on the case, to the Supreme Consular Court.

The Supreme Consular Court shall direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined, and the same may and shall be heard and determined accordingly.

41. Where the crime or offence with which any person is charged before a Provincial Consular Court is not assault endangering life, cutting waiming, arson, or housebreaking, and appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would be adequately punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than twenty-five pounds sterling, the Court shall hear and determine the case in a summary way and without Assessors.

In all cases other than those hereinbefore described, the Court shall hear and determine the case on indictment and with Assessors.

42. Where a person charged with a crime or offence escapes or removes from the Consular district within which the crime or offence was committed and is found within another Consular district, the Supreme or other Consular Court within the district of which he is found may proceed in the case to examination, trial, and punishment, or in a summary way (as the case may require), in the same manner as if the crime or offence had been committed in its own district ; or may, on the requisition or with the consent of the Court of the district within which the crime or offence was committed, send him in custody to the last-mentioned Court, or require him to give security for his surrender to that Court, there to answer the charge and be dealt with according to law.

Where any person is to be so sent in custody a warrant in that behalf shall be issued by the Supreme or other Consular Court within the district of which he is found, and every such warrant shall be a sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up to the Court of the district within which the crime or offence was committed, in obedience to and in pursuance of such warrant.

43. The Supreme or other Consular Court may order any person convicted before it of any crime or offence to pay all or any part of the expenses of his trial and imprisonment or other punishment, and, where it appears to the Court that a charge is malicious, or frivolous and vexatious, may order all or any part of the expenses of the prosecution to be paid by the prosecutor.

44. Where the circumstances of the case render it just or expedient, the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may report to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State in favour of and recommending a mitigation or remission of any punishment awarded by the Supreme or any other Consular Court ; and on such recommendation any such punishment may be mitigated or remitted.

Provided always, that no such recommendation shall be made with reference to any punishment awarded by a Provincial Consular Court, except on the recommendation of that Court, or on the dissent of the Assessors or Assessor, if any, from the conviction, or from the amount of punishment awarded.

45. Malta shall be and is hereby (in pursuance of The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section iv) appointed as the British Colony to which any person may be sent for trial who is charged with the commission of any crime or offence the cognizance whereof appertains to the Supreme or other Consular Court within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, where it is expedient that the crime or offence should be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it appears to him expedient as aforesaid, by warrant under his hand and seal and under the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause the person so charged to be sent for trial to Malta accordingly.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, in obedience to and in pursuance of such warrant.

Where any person is to be so sent to Malta, the Supreme or other Consular Court before which he is charged, shall take the preliminary examination, and shall bind over such of the proper witnesses as may be British subjects in their own recognizances to appear and give evidence on the trial.

46. The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith send to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State a report of the sentence passed by the Judge or any officer of the Court in every case not heard and determined in a summary way, together with a copy of the minute of proceedings and notes of evidence, and any observations that the Court may think fit to make on the case.

Every Provincial Consular Court shall forthwith send to the Supreme Consular Court a report of the sentence passed by it in every case not heard and determined in a summary way, together with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations that the Court may think fit to make on the case. The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith transmit the same, together with any observations the Court may think fit to make on the case, to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

47. Malta shall be and is hereby (in pursuance of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section v.) appointed as the British Colony to which any offender sentenced to suffer imprisonment for or in respect of any crime or offence of which he has been lawfully convicted before any Consular Court may be sent, where it is expedient that the sentence passed in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte should be carried into effect within Her Majesty's dominions.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it appears to him so to be expedient as aforesaid, by warrant under his hand and seal and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause such offender to be sent to Malta, in order that the sentence passed upon him may be there carried into effect accordingly.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, in obedience to and in pursuance of such warrant.

48. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it seems to him expedient, by warrant under his hand and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause any offender convicted before any Consular Court and sentenced to imprisonment, to be sent to and imprisoned at any such place in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may, from time to time, approve.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed, to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up at such place, in obedience to and in pursuance of such warrant.

49. If any British subject shall be guilty of publicly deriding, mocking, or insulting any religion established or observed within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte,—or of publicly offering any insult to any religious service, feast, or ceremony established or kept in any part of such dominions, or to any place of worship, tomb, or sanctuary belonging to any such religion, or to the ministers or professors thereof,—or shall wilfully commit any act tending to bring any such religion, or its ceremonies, mode of worship, or observances into ridicule or contempt, and thereby to provoke a breach of the public peace,—every such British subject shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to punishment (in the discretion of the Court) by imprisonment for not more than two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling, or a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling alone.

Notwithstanding anything in the present Order contained, every charge against a British subject of having committed any such offence shall be heard and determined in a summary way, and any Provincial Consular Court shall have power to impose the punishment aforesaid.

Her Majesty's Consular Officers shall take such precautionary measures as may seem to them proper and expedient for the prevention of such offences.

50. (i.) Where it is shown on oath, to the satisfaction of the Supreme or other Consular Court, that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that any British subject in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte is about to commit a breach of the public peace, or that the acts or conduct of any such British subject are or is likely to produce or excite to a breach of the public peace, the Court may cause him to be brought before it and require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court, to keep the peace, or for his future good behaviour, as the case may require.

(ii.) Where any British subject is convicted of any crime or offence before the Supreme or other Consular Court, or before a Court, in the sentence of which the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, or any of Her Majesty's Consuls-General, Consuls, or Vice-Consuls concurs, the Supreme or other Consular Court for the district in which he happens to be may require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for his future good behaviour.

In either of the cases aforesaid, if the person required to give security fails so to do, the Court may order that he be deported from the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte to such place as the Court may direct: Provided always, that the Court shall not, without the consent of the person to be deported, direct the deportation of a native of Malta or any of its dependencies to any place other than Malta, or of a native of Gibraltar to any place other than Gibraltar, or of a native of any part of Her Majesty's dominions other than Malta, its dependencies, or Gibraltar, to any place other than England.

Each Provincial Consular Court shall forthwith report to the Supreme Consular Court any order of deportation made by it, and the grounds thereof. The Supreme Consular Court may reverse the order, or may confirm it with or without variation, and in case of confirmation, shall direct it to be carried into effect, and shall issue its warrant in that behalf.

The person to be deported shall be detained in custody until a fit opportunity for his deportation occurs.

He shall, as soon as may be practicable, (and in the case of a person convicted as aforesaid, either after execution of the sentence or at any time while the sentence is in course of execution), be embarked in custody under the warrant of the Supreme Consular Court on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or, if there shall be no such vessel available for the purpose, then on board any British, Maltese, Ionian, or other fit vessel, bound to the place of deportation.

The warrant of the Court shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of such vessel of war, or other vessel, to receive the person to be deported and convey him in custody to the place of deportation.

The Supreme or other Consular Court may order the person to be deported to pay all or any part of the expenses of his deportation. Subject hereto, the expenses of deportation shall be defrayed as the expenses relating to distressed British subjects are defrayed, or in such other manner as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may from time to time direct.

The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith report to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State any order of deportation made or confirmed by it and the grounds thereof, and shall also inform Her Majesty's Ambassador, Minister, or Chargé d'Affaires at the Sublime Ottoman Porte of the same.

If any person deported returns to the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte without the permission of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, (which permission the Secretary of State shall have power to give) he shall no longer be entitled to be protected as a British subject in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

V. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

51. Where a Consular Court proceeds to hear and determine any case, civil or criminal, with Assessors, the Court shall nominate and summon as Assessors not less than two and not more than four indifferent British subjects of good repute resident in the district of the Court.

Where, nevertheless, by reason of local circumstances, the Court is able to obtain the presence of one fit person only as Assessor, the Court may sit with him alone as Assessor, and where for like reasons it is not able to obtain the presence of any fit person as Assessor, it may sit without an Assessor; but in every such case the Court shall record in the minutes of proceedings its reasons for sitting with one Assessor only, or without an Assessor.

An Assessor shall not have voice or vote in the decision of the Court in any case, civil or criminal, but an Assessor dissenting in a civil case from any decision of the Court, or in a criminal case from any decision of the Court or the conviction or the amount of punishment awarded, may record in the minutes of proceedings his dissent and the grounds thereof, and an Assessor dissenting shall be entitled to receive gratis a certified copy of the minutes.

52. In every case, civil or criminal, heard before the Supreme Consular Court, or any officer thereof, or any other Consular Court, a proper minute of the proceedings shall be drawn up, and shall be signed by the Judge or Consular officer before whom the proceedings are taken, and sealed with the seal of the Court, and shall, where Assessors are present, be open for their inspection and for their signature if concurred in by them.

The minute, together with depositions of witnesses and notes of evidence taken at the trial by the Judge or Consular officer, shall be preserved in the public office of the Court.

53. In a civil proceeding the Supreme or other Consular Court may order such costs, or costs, charges, and expenses as to the Court seem reasonable to be paid by any party to the proceeding, or out of any fund to which the proceeding relates.

54. The Supreme or other Consular Court, either of its own motion, or, in civil cases, on the application of any party to any suit or proceeding or reference to arbitration, may summon as a witness any British subject within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

Any British subject, duly served with such a summons and with reasonable notice of the time and place at which his attendance is required, failing to attend accordingly and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, shall, over and above any other liability to which he may be subject, be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling, or to imprisonment for not more than thirty days, at the discretion of the Court.

55. In civil cases the Supreme or other Consular Court may, where the circumstances of the case appear to justify it, order that the expenses of a witness, on his appearing to give evidence, shall be defrayed by the parties to the suit, proceeding, or reference, or any of them.

56. Any person appearing before the Supreme or other Consular Court to give evidence in any suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, or on any reference, may be examined or give evidence on oath, or in such form and with such ceremony as he may declare to be binding on his conscience.

57. Any British subject wilfully giving false evidence in any suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, or on any reference, shall, on conviction, be liable to the penalties of wilful and corrupt perjury.

58. All costs and all charges and expenses of witnesses, prosecutions, punishments, or deportations or other charges or expenses, and all fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties payable under the provisions of the present Order, may be levied by distress and seizure and sale of ships, goods, and lands; and no bill of sale, or mortgage, or transfer of property, made with a view to security in regard to crimes or offences committed, or to be committed, shall be of any avail to defeat the provisions of the present Order.

59. All fees, pecuniary penalties, fines, and forfeitures levied under the present Order (except moneys accruing from a percentage on the estates of bankrupts or insolvents or deceased persons, or on moneys deposited with a Consular officer) shall be carried to the public account, and be applied in diminution of the public expenditure on account of the Consular service in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Port.

60. Each Provincial Consular Court shall every six months furnish to the Supreme Consular Court a full and faithful report of every case, civil and criminal, brought before it, in such form as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may from time to time direct.

61. The provisions of the present Order, relating to British subjects, shall extend and apply to all subjects of Her Majesty whether by birth or by naturalization, and also to all persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

The provisions of the present Order, relating to British subjects, shall also extend and apply to subjects of the United States of the Ionian Islands resident in or resorting to the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, save so far as any of such provisions confer or relate to the power of deporting from the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or the power of imposing punishment of an amount greater than that which, at the time of the making of the present Order, can be lawfully awarded, in the case of an Ionian subject, by a Consular Officer of Her Majesty resident in such dominions. And the provisions of the present Order relating to British vessels shall extend and apply to all vessels navigating under the national commercial flag of the United States of the Ionian Islands.

62. Every British subject arriving at any place within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte where a British Consular Office is maintained, except a British subject borne on the muster-roll of a British ship there arriving, shall, within a reasonable time after his arrival (a notification of which time shall be kept exhibited in some conspicuous place in the Consular office), register himself in a register to be kept by the Consular Officer.

Any British subject failing so to register himself, and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Consular Officer, shall not be entitled to be recognized or protected as a British subject in any difficulties in which he may be involved in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

The Consular Officer may issue to any person so registered, on the request of such person, a certificate of registration under his hand and Consular seal, and, subject to such regulations as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretary's of State may from time to time approve of, may charge upon each such certificate a fee of such amount, not exceeding five shillings, as the Secretary of State may from time to time direct.

63. In any case in the decision of which, under the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties with the Sublime Ottoman Porte, any of Her Majesty's Consuls may or ought to concur, the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court or any Consul-General, Consul or Vice-Consul exercising jurisdiction under the present Order, shall be competent to act and shall exclusively act on the part and on behalf of Her Majesty.

64. The Supreme or other Consular Court, according to its respective jurisdiction, original or appellate (as the case may require), and in conformity with the rules relating to suits between British subjects and appeals therein, may hear and determine any suit, proceeding, or question of a civil nature, instituted, taken, or raised by a British subject against a subject of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or a subject or citizen of any other State in amity with Her Majesty, or by a subject of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or a subject or citizen of any other State in amity with Her Majesty against a British subject :

Provided that the subject of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or the subject or citizen of such other State as aforesaid, obtains and files in such Court the consent in writing of the competent local authority on behalf of the Sublime Ottoman Porte or of the Consul of such other State (as the case may be) to his submitting, and does submit, to the jurisdiction of the Supreme or other Consular Court, and, if required, gives security to the satisfaction of the Court, by deposit or otherwise, to pay fees, damages, costs, and expenses, and abide by and perform any such decision as may be given by the Supreme or other Consular Court originally or on appeal (as the case may require).

65. Where it is shown to the Supreme or other Consular Court that the attendance of a British subject to give evidence, or for any other purpose connected with the administration of justice, is required in a Court or before a judicial officer of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or in a Court or before a judicial officer in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte of any State in amity with Her Majesty, the Supreme or other Consular Court may, in cases and under circumstances which would require the attendance of such British subject before one of Her Majesty's Consular Courts in the Ottoman dominions, and if it seems to the Supreme or other Consular Court, just and expedient so to do, issue a compulsory order for the attendance of such British subject in such Court or before such judicial officer and for such purpose as aforesaid.

Any British subject, duly served with such an order and with reasonable notice of the time and place at which his attendance is required, failing to attend accordingly and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Court making the order, shall be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling, or to imprisonment for not more than thirty days, at the discretion of the Court.

66. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may from time to time frame Rules for the effectual execution of the present Order, and for the observance of the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties between Her Majesty and the sublime Ottoman Porte, and for the maintenance of order among British subjects in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, and for the regulation of procedure and pleading, forms of writs, and other proceedings, expenses of witnesses and prosecutions, costs and fees, in civil and criminal cases, in the Supreme Consular Court and other Consular Courts, and the regulation of appeals to the Supreme Consular Court from the other Consular Courts.

The Rules shall be so framed as to secure, as far as may be, that cases shall be decided on their merits according to substantial justice without excessive regard to technicalities of pleading or procedure, and without unnecessary delay.

No Rules shall take effect unless and until approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

A copy of the present Order and of the Rules for the time being in force shall be affixed and kept open and exhibited in some conspicuous place in the Supreme Consular Court and other Consular Courts respectively, and in every British Consulate in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, and printed copies shall be provided and sold at such reasonable price as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may from time to time direct.

No penalty shall be enforced for the breach of any Rule until the Rule has been so affixed, kept open, and exhibited for one calendar month in the Court of the district within which the breach of the Rules is committed.

For the purpose of convicting any person committing a breach of any Rule, and for all other purposes of law, a printed copy of the same, purporting to be certified under the hand of the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, and the seal of the Court or under the hand and consular seal of one of Her Majesty's Consuls-General, Consuls, or Vice-Consuls, shall be taken as conclusive evidence of the same, and no proof of the handwriting or seal purporting to certify the same shall be required.

67. Nothing in the present Order or in the Rules to be made under it shall be deemed to deprive the Supreme or any other Consular Court of the right to observe and to enforce the observance of any reasonable custom obtaining within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or to deprive any person of the benefit thereof, except where the present Order or any Rule contains some express and specific provision incompatible with the observance of such custom.

68. No suit or proceeding shall be commenced in the Supreme or other Consular-Court against any person for anything done or omitted under the present Order, or any Rule made under it, unless notice in writing is given by the intending plaintiff to the intended defendant one calendar month at least before the commencement of the suit or proceeding, nor unless it is commenced within six calendar months next after the act or omission complained of, or in case of a continuation of damage within six calendar months next after the doing of such damage has ceased.

The plaintiff shall not succeed in any such suit or proceeding if tender of sufficient amends is made by the defendant before the commencement thereof; and in case no tender has been made the defendant may by leave of the Court at any time pay into Court such sum of money as he may think fit, whereupon such proceeding and order shall be had and made in and by the Court as may be had and made on the payment of money into Court in an ordinary suit.

VI.—APPEAL TO HER MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

69. Where any decision of the Supreme Consular Court is given in a civil case in respect of a sum or matter at issue of the amount or value of five hundred pounds sterling or upwards, or determines directly or indirectly any claim or question respecting property or any civil right of the amount or value of five hundred pounds sterling or upwards, any party aggrieved by the decision may, within fifteen days after the same is given, apply by motion to the Supreme Consular Court for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council.

In case leave to appeal is applied for by a party adjudged to pay money or perform a duty, the Supreme Consular Court shall direct either that the decision appealed from be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended, pending the appeal, as the Court may consider to be the more consistent with real and substantial justice.

In case the Court directs the decision to be carried into execution, the party in whose favour it is given shall, before the execution of it, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the due performance of such Order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

In case the Court directs the execution of the decision to be suspended pending the appeal, the party against whom the decision is given shall, before any order for suspension of execution, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the due performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

In all cases security shall also be given by the appellant to the satisfaction of the Court to an amount not exceeding five hundred pounds sterling for the prosecution of the appeal, and for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any respondent by Her Majesty in Council, or by the Lords of the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council.

If the last-mentioned security be given within one calendar month from the filing of the motion-paper for leave to appeal, then, and not otherwise, the Supreme Consular Court shall give leave to appeal, and the appellant shall be at liberty to prefer and prosecute his appeal to Her Majesty in Council according to the rules for the time being in force respecting appeals to Her Majesty in Council from Her Colonies, or such other rules as Her Majesty in Council may from time to time think fit to make concerning appeals from the Supreme Consular Court.

In any case other than the cases hereinbefore described, the Supreme Consular Court, if it considers it just or expedient so to do, may give leave to appeal on the terms and in the manner aforesaid.

The present Order shall not affect the right of Her Majesty at any time, on the humble petition of a party aggrieved by a decision of the Supreme Consular Court, to admit his appeal thereon on such terms and in such manner as Her Majesty in Council may think fit, and to deal with the decision appealed from in such manner as may be just. And the Right Honourable Lord John Russell, and the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, two of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Edmund Harrison.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

CARTWORTH, YORKSHIRE.

WHEREAS notice in writing was duly given to me, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the Local Government Act, 1858, was adopted on the 4th day of July, 1860, by such part of the township of Cartworth, in the parish of Kirkburton, in the county of York, as maintains its own highways, such part having known and defined boundaries; and whereas it has now been duly certified to me, that a copy of such notice has been advertised for three successive weeks in the Huddersfield Chronicle and the Huddersfield Examiner, those being two of the local newspapers published and circulated in the aforesaid part of such township, and that copies of such notice have also been affixed to the principal doors of each church and chapel in such part of such township to which notices are usually affixed; and whereas an appeal has been duly made to me, under the provision of the said Act, by owners and ratepayers within the aforesaid part of such township, setting forth grounds on which they dispute the validity of the vote for the adoption of the said Act therein, and praying for the exclusion of such part of such township from the operation of such Act; and whereas inquiry has been duly directed by me into the circumstances of the case, and such inquiry has been made, and the result thereof reported to me.

Now, therefore, I, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, as aforesaid, do hereby, under the provisions of the said Act, issue the following order, and do determine the questions arising on such appeal as follows—

That the vote for the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, within the said part of the said township of Cartworth, was not valid.

Given under my hand this 18th day of October, 1860.

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT
TO THE LONDON GAZETTE of OCTOBER 23, 1860.

CONVENTION between Her Majesty and the Emperor of the French, supplementary to the Treaty of Commerce of January 23, 1860; with a Tariff annexed thereto.

Signed at Paris, October 12, 1860.

[Ratifications exchanged at Paris, October 25, 1860.]

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the Emperor of the French, desiring to ensure the execution of the Treaty of Commerce concluded between them on the 23rd of January, 1860, within the limits and in the manner contemplated by the Second Additional Article to that Treaty, have resolved to negotiate a first complementary arrangement in order to determine the specific or ad valorem duties which shall be imposed upon the goods of British origin and manufacture enumerated in the said Treaty, when imported into France ; and they have for that purpose named as their plenipotentiaries, that is to say :

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Right Honourable Henry Richard Charles, Earl Cowley, Viscount Dangan, Baron Cowley, a Peer of the United Kingdom, a Member of Her Britannic Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her said Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of the French ; and Richard Cobden, Esquire, a Member of the British Parliament ;

And His Majesty the Emperor of the French, M. Thouvenel, a Senator of the Empire, Grand Cross of His Imperial Majesty's Order of the Legion of Honour, &c., &c., &c., His Imperial Majesty's Minister and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs ; and M. Rouher, a Senator of the Empire, Grand Cross of His Imperial Majesty's Order of the Legion of Honour, &c., &c., &c., His Imperial Majesty's Minister and Secretary of State for Agriculture, Commerce, and Public Works ;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles :

ARTICLE I.

The articles of British origin or manufacture enumerated in the Tariff annexed to the present Convention, shall, when imported direct from the United Kingdom, under the French or the British flag, be admitted into France at the duties specified by the said Tariff.

ARTICLE II.

In order to establish the fact that the goods are of British origin or manufacture, the importer must present at the French Custom-house either an official declaration made before a British Magistrate exercising jurisdiction at the place of despatch, or a certificate granted by the chief officer of the Customs at the port of embarkation, or a certificate granted by the Consuls or Consular Agents of France at the places of dispatch, or at the ports of embarkation. The above-mentioned Consuls or Consular Agents of France shall legalize the signatures of the British authorities.

ARTICLE III.

The importer of machines and mechanical instruments, complete or in detached pieces, of British origin or manufacture, shall be exempt from the obligation of producing at the French Customs any model or drawing of the imported article.

ARTICLE IV.

The importer of any goods of British origin or manufacture taxed ad valorem, must attach to the declaration verifying the value of that article, and to the certificate of origin, an invoice emanating from the manufacturer or from the seller, which shall show the real price, and shall be visé by a Consul or Consular Agent of France in the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE V.

When articles upon which an ad valorem duty is levied have been previously warehoused, the duty shall be levied according to the value of those articles at the time of their actual entry into France.

ARTICLE VI.

The importer against whom the French Customs may desire to exercise the right of pre-emption stipulated in the Treaty of the 23rd of January, 1860, may, if he prefers to do so, demand a valuation of his goods by Experts.

The same demand may be made by the French Customs when they may not think fit to have immediate recourse to pre-emption.

ARTICLE VII.

If the result of such valuation by Experts should prove that the goods have not a value of five per cent. above that which has been declared by the importer, the duty shall be levied upon the amount of the declaration.

If the proved value is five per cent. above the value declared, the French Customs shall be entitled, at their choice, either to exercise the right of pre-emption, or to levy the duty on the value determined by the Experts.

This duty shall be increased by fifty per cent., as a fine, if the valuation of the Experts is ten per cent. above the declared value.

If the value, as determined by the arbitration, exceeds the declared value by five per cent., the costs of the inquiry by the Experts shall be defrayed by the declarant. In the contrary case, they shall be defrayed by the French Custom-house.

ARTICLE VIII.

In the cases contemplated by Article VI the two arbitrating Experts shall be named, one by the declarant, the other by the local Chief of the French Customs Service. If there be difference of opinion between them, or if at the time of appointing the Experts the declarant shall require it, the Experts shall choose an Umpire. In default of agreement, this Umpire shall be appointed by the President of the Tribunal of Commerce at the port of importation, or, in his default, by the President of the Tribunal of Commerce at the nearest place.

The decision of the Arbitrators shall be given within the fifteen days which follow their nomination.

ARTICLE IX.

Independently of the duties of Customs, articles of goldsmith's work and of jewellery of British manufacture in gold, silver, platina, or other metals, imported into France, shall be subject to the system of control established in that country for similar articles of domestic manufacture, and shall pay, if it becomes necessary, on the same basis as those, the duties of marking and guarantee.

ARTICLE X.

The Tariff annexed to the present Convention shall, independently of the articles already admissible under the Treaty of the 23rd of January last, be immediately applicable to refined sugars, to works in metal, to machines, to detached pieces of machines, to tools, and to mechanical instruments of every description.

ARTICLE XI.

The present Convention shall have the same duration as the Treaty concluded between the High Contracting Parties on the 23rd of January last, of which it is a complement.

ARTICLE XII.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Paris within fifteen days, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed it, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

PROTOCOLS

RELATING TO THE PRECEDING TREATY.

(Translation.)

Protocol of a Conference held at the Department of Foreign Affairs, August 3, 1860.

His Imperial Majesty the Sultan wishing to stop, by prompt and efficacious measures, the effusion of blood in Syria, and to show his firm resolution to establish order and peace amongst the populations placed under his sovereignty; and their Majesties the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Emperor of Austria, the Emperor of the French, His Royal Highness the Prince Regent of Prussia, and His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, having offered their active co-operation, which His Majesty the Sultan has accepted; the Representatives of their said Majesties and of His Royal Highness have agreed upon the following Articles:—

[Here follow Articles I to VI, as above.]

It is understood that the six preceding Articles shall be embodied verbatim into a Convention, which shall receive the signatures of the undersigned Representatives, as soon as they are furnished with full powers from their Sovereigns, but that the stipulations of this Protocol will come immediately into force.

The Chargé d’Affaires of Prussia, however, points out that the present distribution of the Prussian ships of war may possibly not permit his Government to co-operate at present in the execution of Article IV.

Done in sextuplicate, at Paris, the 3rd of August, 1860.

Protocol of a Conference held at the Department of Foreign Affairs, August 3, 1860.

The Plenipotentiaries of Great Britain, Austria, France, Prussia, Russia, and Turkey, desirous of establishing, in conformity with the intentions of their respective Courts, the true character of the assistance afforded to the Sublime Porte by the provisions of the Protocol signed this day, the feelings which have dictated the clauses of this Act, and their perfect disinterestedness, declare in the most formal manner, that the Contracting Powers do not intend to seek for, and will not seek for, in the execution of their engagements, any territorial advantages, any exclusive influence, or any concession with regard to the commerce of their subjects, such as could not be granted to the subjects of all other nations.

Nevertheless, in recalling here the Acts issued by His Majesty the Sultan, the great importance of which was established by Article IX of the Treaty of the 30th of March, 1856, they cannot refrain from expressing the value which their respective Courts attach to the fulfilment of the solemn promises of the Sublime Porte, that serious administrative measures should be taken to ameliorate the condition of the Christian population, of every creed, in the Ottoman Empire.

The Plenipotentiary of Turkey takes note of this declaration of the Representatives of the High Powers, and undertakes to transmit it to his Court; pointing out that the Sublime Porte has employed, and will continue to employ, her efforts in the sense of the wish expressed above.

Done, in sextuplicate, at Paris, the 3rd of August, 1860.

or in respect of re-direction on such letters, when such letters shall have been re-directed and again forwarded by the post, and transmitted or sent through any foreign country (the several conditions imposed by the fifty-third section of the Act of the third and fourth Victoria, chapter ninety-six, with respect to letters received by the post by the privileged persons therein mentioned, being duly observed, with respect to letters to be received by the post, by such seamen, serjeants, corporals, drummers, trumpeters, fifiers, and private soldiers respectively, as aforesaid); and also by Warrant under their hands, to reduce or remit the rates of postage, British or Colonial, which might be chargeable by law on or in respect of re-direction on all letters received by the post on their own private concerns, by commissioned officers and warrant officers, whether in the army or navy, and midshipmen and master's mates in the navy, whether at home or abroad; and by commissioned officers and warrant officers, midshipmen, and master's mates in Her Majesty's Indian military and naval forces whilst respectively actually employed in Her Majesty's service, which shall have been re-directed and again forwarded by the post.

And whenever any such letter so to be received by any such seaman, serjeant, corporal, drummer, trumpeter, fifer, or private soldier, shall be conveyed by private ships, the gratuities payable by law to the masters of such vessels in respect of such letters must in all cases be paid to the Post Office in addition to the postage.

3. In all cases in which a letter sent by the post on their own private concerns, addressed to any commissioned officer in the army or the navy, respectively, whilst actually employed in Her Majesty's service in any of Her Majesty's colonies, or on any foreign station, and before the delivery of such letter at the place of its address, the officer to whom it shall be addressed shall, in the execution of his duty, have removed from that place to any other place (whether at home or abroad) (except as in the next clause of this Warrant is mentioned), every such letter shall be re-directed to such officer at such other place, and shall be forwarded to the latter place, and any postage, British or Colonial, chargeable by law on or in respect of

SUPPLEMENT
TO THE LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 2, 1860.

Foreign-Office, November 3, 1860.

THE following Despatches have been received at the Foreign-Office from the Earl of Elgin, Her Majesty's High Commissioner and Plenipotentiary

in China :

Steam Sloop Grenada,
Pehtang, August 20, 1860.

MY LORD, (Received Nov. 2, 8.15 P.M.)

I HAVE the honour to enclose translations of three despatches which I have received from the Governor-General of this province, with a copy of my reply.

The rapidity with which these missives succeed each other, is evidence of the desire of the Chinese Authorities to arrest our military operations.

It was not in my power to reply with corresponding celerity, because I thought it right, before so doing, to confer not only with Vice-Admiral Hope, who is on the spot, but also with Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant, at the headquarters of the Army, and with Baron Gros, whose residence is at the anchorage in the Gulf.

No reference is made in these despatches to the demands conveyed in Mr. Bruce's ultimatum.

It is, of course, impossible to listen to overtures which are marked by so significant an omission.

Moreover, I think it important after all that has occurred, that the occupation of the Peiho Forts by our military force, and the opening up of the river to Tientsin, should precede any serious negotiations for the re-establishment of peace ; and with this view, I have deemed it my duty to signify to the Commanders-in-Chief, my anxious desire that they will expedite to the utmost their measures for effecting these objects.

I have, &c.,

Hang, Governor-General of Chih Li, &c., makes a communication.

WHEREAS the Powers along the seas that trade with, or while they trade with, China, are always held to be at peace with her ; since the arrival of the British Minister he has been daily moving troops (or engaged in hostilities), the Governor-General cannot say with what intention. Himself looking up and identifying himself with His Majesty the Emperor's bounteous love for all living souls, on the receipt of the British Minister's communication, he at once acquainted His Majesty with the truth (or made true report of its contents to His Majesty), and he has this day the honour to receive an Imperial Decree to the effect that His Majesty the Emperor has appointed a Minister to await in the capital the British Minister's arrival there, in order that they may confer together.

In obedience to His Majesty's Decree [the Governor-General] makes this communication, to which he hopes [the British Minister] will be so good as to reply.

A necessary communication, addressed to His Excellency Lord Elgin, &c.

Hang, Governor-General of Chih Li, &c. makes a communication.

On the 28th instant (14th August), the Governor-General as the records show, wrote to apprise the British Minister that he had had the honour to receive an Imperial Decree to the effect that

His Majesty had appointed a high officer to await in the capital the arrival of the British Minister to confer with him and settle matters.

The officer sent in with this, on his return, reported that a white flag was flying in the British camp shewing a desire for the suspension of hostilities (or indicating an intention to suspend hostilities). Evidence so complete of the British Minister's desire to maintain friendly relations unbroken, is extremely gratifying.

Although it was not the Governor-General who negotiated the treaty of the 8th year (1858) with the British Minister, still as His Majesty has been so good as to appoint a minister to await the British Minister's arrival in the capital, negotiations could at once be entered on.

It will doubtless be right however now that peace is solidly established between the two nations, that arms should be laid aside for evermore. As soon as the Governor-General shall receive the British Minister's reply, he will send an officer to learn what day it will suit him to fix for an interview at which everything may be discussed.

A necessary communication addressed to His Excellency Lord Elgin, &c.

Hang, Governor General of Chih Li, &c., makes a communication.

THE Governor-General has twice addressed the British Minister, and has as yet received no reply.

On the 13th instant (16th August), about the hour of eight, he had the honour to receive an Imperial decree, to the effect that "His Majesty had instructed an Imperial Commissioner to proceed [to this place] to negotiate, and that he will arrive immediately; respect this!"

It becomes his duty to communicate this to the British Minister, who, he trusts, will instruct the Military and Naval Commanders-in-Chief to suspend hostile operations, and so prevent any loss on either side, as this might occasion a breach of friendly relations.

He therefore writes a necessary communication addressed to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, &c.

Hien Fung, 10th Year, 6th Moon, 30th day,
August 16, 1860.

Translated by THOMAS WADE,
Chinese Secretary.

The Undersigned, the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary in China, has received three despatches from his Excellency the Governor-General of Chih Li, under date respectively the 14th, 15th, and 16th instant.

The Governor-General announces, first, the appointment of a high officer, who is to await the arrival of the Undersigned in Peking, subsequently the immediate approach of an Imperial Commissioner, and requests him to call on the Commander-in-Chief of Her Britannic Majesty's forces to desist from further hostilities.

In his despatch of the 8th instant the Undersigned apprized the Governor-General that the military and naval Commanders-in-Chief had been called upon to act, in consequence of the unsatisfactory reply given by the Great Council to the demands of the British Minister, conveyed in his letter to the Council in March last, they are engaged in taking possession of the Taku Forts, and opening up a passage for the Undersigned to Tientsin ; until this object shall have been accomplished, and sufficient assurances given of the resolution of the Chinese Government to concede the points demanded in the letter in question, the Undersigned cannot call on the military and naval Commanders-in-Chief to suspend their operations.

MY LORD, (Received Nov. 2, 8.15 P.M.)

I HAVE the honour to inclose the translation of a despatch to me from the Governor-General of the Province of Chih Li, which was sent on board Admiral Hope's vessel when he reached this place on the 24th instant ; also of a despatch to me from Hǎng and Wǎn, announcing the appointment of Kweiliang, with whom I negotiated the Treaty of 1858, and Hang-fuh, the Governor-General of the Province of Chih Li, to be Imperial Commissioners to treat with me at Tientsin.

Hang, a President of the Board of War, Governor-General of the Province of Chih Li, makes this communication :—

I BEG to inform you that I, having in the first instance retired from Taku to Tientsin, have now caused to be withdrawn from the latter place all the troops forming its garrison, and also to be removed the guns from all the batteries. As we are now establishing friendly relations between our two countries, I hope that when your Excellency comes to Tientsin, you will not bring many vessels of war, which I fear might excite alarm in the minds of the inhabitants; to this end I address you.

Translation.

ON the 9th day of the seventh month (25th August), we received at Tientsin an Imperial Decree, dated the 8th day of the month, in the following terms :

We hereby appoint Kweiliang and Hang Fuh Imperial High Commissioners. Let Kweiliang proceed by express to join his colleague, and transact business.

Respect this.

On the same day we received another decree, as follows :

Let Hang-ki remain at Tientsin, to transact business under the orders of Kweiliang and Hang Fuh. Wantsun is to come immediately to the capital. Respect this.

We make known the above to your Excellency, and we request that you will await the arrival of

to Lord John Russell.

Steam Sloop Granada,

Tientsin, August 26th, 1860.

(Received Nov. 2, 8.15 P.M.)

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship that I arrived last night at this place.

My despatches inclose translations of several communications which I have received from the Chinese functionaries.

A perusal of these various documents will, I think, satisfy your Lordship that the Emperor of China desires peace, although he has not quite yet made up his mind to concede all that I am instructed to demand. His reluctance to do so will no doubt be surmounted in due time.

Vice-Admiral Hope and Lieutenant-General Sir H. Grant have exerted themselves to the utmost to prevent the calamities of war from falling with severity on the peaceable inhabitants of the country. This course is recommended by policy, as well as by humanity ; for here, as in other parts of China, the people, when unmolested, prove to be the most useful purveyors for the wants of the army.

The Cavalry Brigade, consisting of two squadrons of King's Dragoon Guards, and Fane's and Probyn's horse, with Stirling's 6-pounder battery, have just arrived. They performed the journey from Peiho to this place by land. Mr. Wade, who, at my request, accompanied them, reports that their march has been most prosperous; that the people, though greatly alarmed at their appearance took heart when they found that they were not maltreated, and offered readily for sale such supplies as the country affords.

Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant has found a suitable encampment for them in the vicinity of the town.

The persons (gentry of this place) who were appointed to procure supplies for Sang Kolinsin's army have, at Mr. Parkes's instance, undertaken to perform that service for us.

MY LORD, (Received Nov. 2, 8.15 P.M.)

I HAVE the honour to enclose the copy of a very interesting report which I have received from Mr. Parkes, who, at my request, accompanied Vice-Admiral Hope when he advanced upon Tientsin on the 23rd instant, and who has, since the Admiral's departure, been rendering the most useful services in making arrangements for the reception of the allied troops and ambassadors at this place.

I have, &c.,

The Lord John Russell,

Tientsin,August 26, 1860.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to make the following report to your Lordship of particulars which have come under my notice during the proceedings of the last three days.

After quitting your Lordship on the morning of the 23rd inst., I joined Admiral Hope, who proceeded up the Peiho in his tender, the Coromandel, accompanied by a division of 5 gunboats. At half-past 2 p.m. the forts of Shwangkeang were passed, and found to be deserted. The people of the various villages on the banks of the river turned out to look at the steamers as they passed along, and, far from evincing any feeling of hostility, gave proof of their good will in hauling, entirely of their own accord, at the hawsers or ropes that had occasionally to be landed, and also in bringing fresh fruit and vegetables to the boats that were sent ashore on this service.

At 7 p.m. our small squadron anchored at a point 10 miles below Tientsin, and I had an opportunity of conversing with a number of respectable persons who represented themselves as a deputation sent by the people of the city to pay their respects to the Allied Commanders. From them I learned that the authorities entertained no idea of defending the extensive works recently thrown up by Sang Kolinsin for the defence of Tientsin, and that both garrison and guns had been withdrawn. That Sang Kolinsin himself had passed by the place the previous day (or within twenty-four hours of his abandonment of the Southern Peiho Forts), but only with a small body of one or two hundred jaded horsemen, and that he himself was too dispirited to enter the city. The Viceroy Hang Fuh, they said, had also arrived from Takoo this day at noon.

Admiral Hope having determined, upon receipt of this intelligence, to occupy Tientsin with the small force he had with him, the gunboats pushed on the following morning, and having landed parties of Marines at the two forts which command the approach to Tientsin, arrived off the city about 9 A.M. Several subordinate officers came off with polite messages from their superiors, in reply to which the Admiral requested the Viceroy to come himself to the Coromandel. His Excellency complied without hesitation, and was accompanied by Hangke and Wantsenen, the officers commissioned by the Emperor to escort your Lordship to Peking. Admiral Hope informed them that they must consider Tientsin to be in possession of the allied forces; that the people would be scrupulously protected, and the civil authorities allowed to remain in the exercise of their functions, and he shewed them a proclamation which I had prepared by his direction for the purpose of apprizing the people of this change in their position. The Viceroy and his companions made an ineffectual attempt to induce Admiral Hope to regard them as the governors of the city, but a reference made by them to Canton led the Admiral to observe that the situation of the two cities and of their respective native authorities must be considered parallel. While this interview was proceeding a party of Marines had taken possession of, and hoisted the English and French flags on the east gate of the city, and the above-mentioned proclamation was posted in the same public thoroughfare.

The Admiral having desired me to remain at Tientsin and to act with Captain McCleverty as occasion might require, I proceeded to inform myself of the condition of the city. Having found out the temporary residence of the Viceroy and Commissioners, I had a long and friendly conversation with them on the position of affairs, my object being to make it plain to them that the Chinese Government had it in their power to arrest the progress of hostilities—hostilities which they, by their faithless acts, had entirely brought upon themselves, by agreeing unconditionally to the terms of your Lordship's letter to the Viceroy of the 17th instant, and that delay in doing so was full of peril to them. The Viceroy told me that he had forwarded that letter to Peking the moment he had received it, but no further instructions had reached him on the subject. I pointed out that, during the short intervening period, all the Takoo forts and Tientsin had fallen, and that our army was now on the march, remarks which led them to offer many personal assurances of their wish for the restoration of peace, &c.

Having knowledge that a committee of supply had been formed, by Sang Kolinsin, at Tientsin, to assist him in his operations, I requested the Viceroy to direct the native gentry who compose this committee to act as a board for the supply of our troops with fresh provisions, and, before the evening had closed in I had the satisfaction of arranging with several members of this committee the manner in which large supplies of bullocks, sheep, fruit, and vegetables were to be brought in for our use.

The following morning, the 25th, the first supply of provisions that had been ordered was punctually delivered, and the Committee rendered me further assistance in a search which I then made for suitable quarters for your Lordship, and undertook the repair of another building which may be required for the public service. At an interview which I had with the Commissioner Hangke, he showed me an Imperial Edict, dated the previous day (24th), appointing Kwei-leang and Hangfuh (the Viceroy), to be Imperial Commissioners for the transaction of business with your Lordship, and ordering the former to travel by post to Tientsin. I spent the greater part of this day in visiting many of the streets of the city, and the country around it; and wherever I went, although I was unaccompanied by any guard, the people received me in a very friendly manner, and evinced but little alarm at the new state of things. I observed that women were being taken out of the city; but bullocks, droves of sheep, forage, &c., were being brought in, and most of the shops remain open. At one place, Peitsang, five miles from Tientsin, 300 or 400 of the villagers set themselves willingly to work, by my desire, to clear out some granaries which I thought might be required for the accommodation of our troops.

I have noticed that the Viceroy has removed from the streets, as I requested him to do, the recent hostile proclamations of Sang Kolinsin. But one met my notice, issued only six days ago, in which the people are informed that the Allies have been defeated, and we are now suing for peace, and that therefore the people need not be alarmed, nor remove from the city.

This morning I again had occasion to see the Commissioner, Hangke, and he showed me an Impérial edict depriving Sang Kolinsin of his three-eyed peacock's feather, his honorary position in the body-guard, and his command-in-chief of the Manchoo-bordered blue banner. The edict characterizes the above as a "light punishment."

(Extract.)

August 25, 1860.

MY LORD, (Received Nov. 2, 8.15 P.M.)

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship that the Allied Forces are in possession of the Peiho Forts, and that the river is now open up to Tientsin, whither it is the intention of the Commanders-in-Chief to proceed immediately, each with 1000 men and a battery of artillery. The remainder of the Allied Forces to move up to some eligible ground within about 16 miles of Tientsin.

In consequence of the heavy rains the troops were unable to leave Pehtang until the morning of the 12th of August, when a force of 2000 French and English, with two batteries of artillery, marched along the causeway to attack the Chinese intrenched camps situated about five miles from Pehtang, General Janvrin's division followed. Sir Robert Napier's division previously moved to the right by a sort of cross road, which was supposed eventually to diverge towards the same direction. On arriving within range of the first camp, the artillery opened and soon drove the Tartar's cavalry, &c., out of it. The same with the second. Whilst this was going on, a large body of Tartar cavalry came down and actually rode within 200 yards of Sir Robert Napier's artillery. The infantry opened fire, our cavalry charged, and dispersed them, causing them considerable loss.

General de Montauban then marched a force with artillery along a causeway to attack what appeared to be a large entrenched camp close to the River Peiho, but upon opening fire, found that nothing could be effected from the causeway, the ground on either side being impracticable; he sounded the retreat, and encamped his force on the ground between the two entrenched camps taken in the morning.

Monday was employed in building bridges, &c., over the various creeks. On Tuesday morning, a division of each force, with its artillery, the English to the right and the French to the left, marched to the attack of the entrenched camp above-mentioned.

The artillery opened, and gradually approached to within 400 yards, silenced the fire of the Chinese guns, the infantry with difficulty crossed two big ditches, scaled the walls, and captured the camp and villages of Tungko. Sir R. Napier took up his quarters in the place with his division. The French marched back to their camp. The losses in killed and wounded was slight on the part of the Allies; the total not exceeding 20.

On the 15th inst., the Emperor's fête day, salutes were fired.

The time was employed till the 18th in getting up provisions, building various bridges, the tide constantly flooding the whole country, and in fixing upon a spot for one to be built over the Peiho, where the French Engineer, having crossed the river with two companies of Chasseurs to reconnoitre the ground on the other side, was attacked by the Tartar cavalry and a fire of gins, &c., opened upon him. The Chasseurs drove away the cavalry, and more troops having crossed the river the Chinese withdrew.

The construction of the bridge immediately commenced.

Sunday and Monday nights were employed by Sir Robert Napier in throwing up batteries &c., and on Tuesday the 21st, about 5 A. M., a force of 1,500 English, and 1,000 French, with all the heavy guns which could be brought up, commenced the attack of the forts.

The Chinese being the first to open fire. The firing of our artillery, English and French, was excellent, and soon told with great effect upon the fort, a powder magazine inside of which was blown up. The besieged made a most determined resistance, and it was not till after two hours' heavy cannonading that the infantry was ordered to advance.

Nothing could surpass the desperation with which the besieged fought, every description of missile being brought to bear upon the attacking parties. At length, after a very prolonged resistance, the English and French succeeded in getting a footing in different parts of the fort, each much about the same time, and the allied flags were planted upon the top of the cavalier in the fort.

The Chinese Commander-in-Chief, a relation of Sang Kolensin's, was killed in this fort, the whole of which was strewn with the bodies of the dead and dying. The French loss in the attack was about 130 killed and wounded, and the English about 200.

The gun-boats, during the attack upon this fort, fired at long range upon the North Fort nearest the mouth of the river, in order to create a diversion. They also succeeded in blowing up a magazine in that fort.

During the time given to rest the men after gaining possession of the fort, a flag of truce was sent from the other side of the river, but as it was merely bringing a letter for Lord Elgin and the object appeared to be to gain time, the order for the attack of the Lower North Fort was given at 2 P.M.

To our surprise we approached without a shot being fired, and having crossed, with great difficulty the various ditches, &c., entered, no resistance being made by about 1500 men, whom we found in the Fort.

It soon became evident, from the appearance of the Great South Fort opposite, that it had been evacuated; a small force was dispatched across the river to occupy it.

No sooner had we entered the Lower North Fort, than a tremendous storm came on which soon rendered the whole country impassable for heavy artillery, and would have prevented our carrying on operations for some days, had they not luckily been just in time brought to a conclusion.

During the night the navy removed the various barriers at the entrance of the River, and at daylight the English Admiral, accompanied by several gun-boats, ascended the River as far as the village of Tangken, and the day before yesterday some of them were sent on to Tientsin.

Thus in one day we got possession of all the forts. The prisoners taken were all set free, and some of our troops have already commenced their march upon Tientsin by land; 2,000 French and English have also started for that place in gun-boats. Tientsin, I hear, has been made over to us by the Chinese authorities.

I am happy to inform your Lordship that, in all the intercourse which has taken place between the Allied Commanders-in-Chief, Departments, &c., the utmost cordiality has prevailed, and has mainly contributed to produce the happy results which I have herewith briefly brought to your Lordship's notice.

I have, &c.,

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY
of NOVEMBER 4, 1860.

War-Office, November 4, 1860.

MR. SECRETARY HERBERT has received two Despatches with Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to him by Lieutenant-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K.C.B., Commanding the Forces in China :—

No. 37. Head Quarters,
SIR, Tangku, August 24, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to report that the Allied Forces were unable to leave Pehtang, until the 12th August, on account of the very heavy rain, which had made the country almost impassable.

On that morning, however, the troops marched according to the following dispositions, viz., the 2nd division of infantry, an Armstrong battery, a rocket battery, Madras sappers, and the cavalry brigade, with three 6-pounders. The whole under Major-General Sir Robert Napier struck off to the right of the road leading from Pehtang to Sinho, for the purpose of turning the left of the Tartar position. This column experienced the greatest difficulty in getting through the deep heavy ground, which extended for more than two miles out of Pehtang, and considerably delayed the departure of the main column, under Sir John Michel, which moved along the causeway leading directly from Pehtang to Sinho, and which was composed as follows, viz., the 1st infantry brigade, a company of royal engineers, an Armstrong battery, 1,000 French infantry, and a French battery, all under Brigadier Staveley. This was followed by the 2nd infantry brigade, two 9-pounder batteries, and a rocket battery, succeeded by the main column of the French.

On approaching the entrenched camp, the Tartar cavalry moved rapidly down to attack Sir Robert Napier, who was at this time about two and a half miles off, on my right flank. His report of that part of the engagement I beg to enclose.

Sir John Michel's division deployed at the same time in front of the enemy's works, and opened fire with Lieutenant-Colonel Barry's Armstrong battery, and Captain Desborough's 9-pounders, a French battery being on the left, together with a French and an English rocket battery. These guns kept up such a heavy fire, that the Tartars were unable to resist long, and they abandoned their works, being closely followed into their second entrenched line at Sinho, which they were unable to defend, and fled to Tangku.

I enclose Sir J. Michel's report of this affair.

The enemy's force was composed principally of cavalry, and numbered about 4,000 men. At Sinho I was joined by Sir R. Napier's division, and the cavalry who had cut up a good number of the Tartar horsemen.

The loss of the Chinese was about 100 men.

On the 13th I reconnoitred the ground along the banks of the Peiho leading to Tangku, and found it tolerably firm, though intersected with creeks and ditches. I ordered these to be bridged during the night, and on the morning of the 14th an Allied Force moved from Sinho towards Tangku, keeping their right flank on the bank of the river. The English part of the force consisted of the 1st infantry division under Sir John Michel, and the artillery, as per margin,* which formed one grand battery under Brigadier-General Crofton, R.A.

On arriving within a mile of Tangku, a battery and some junks on the right bank were silenced by two Armstrong, and two 9-pounder guns: and a party of sailors who had been brought up for the purpose crossed the river and burned the junks.

The whole of the Artillery was then advanced to within 600 yards of the entrenchment, and opened a heavy fire on the walls: two French batteries deployed on our left: the enemy replying with ten or twelve guns and a brisk fire of gingalls and matchlocks. The artillery gradually advanced to within 350 yards, and the enemy's guns being silenced a breach was commenced, when a passage across the double wet ditch was discovered at the river's edge by the 60th Rifles and an entrance was effected, the Chinese retiring with great precipitancy. At the same time the French advanced with great gallantry and entered by the main gate which had been partially broken in by the artillery fire. The garrison of Tangku retreated, some into the North Forts and some across the river to Tangku.

I am happy to say that our losses in these two engagements were very slight, owing to the enemy being completely paralyzed by the superior fire of our artillery.

Forty-five guns were captured in Tangku. My thanks are due to Major-Generals Sir John

* 2 Armstrong batteries, 2 9-pounder batteries, 2 rocket batteries.

Michel, and Sir R. Napier, commanding divisions (the former had a horse killed under him on the 14th), also to Brigadier-General Crofton, commanding Royal Artillery, and Brigadier Patle, commanding the cavalry, for the able way in which they exercised their respective commands; and the whole of the officers and soldiers acquitted themselves to my satisfaction.

I beg to enclose a list of casualties.

No. 38
SIR,

Head Quarters, Tangku,
August 24, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to report that after the capture of Tangku on the 14th instant, I commenced bringing up siege-guns and ammunition from Pehtang with a view to the reduction of the uppermost fort on the left bank of the Peiho, distant about two miles from Tangku.

The ground upon which it was necessary to advance was mostly of a very difficult nature, and intersected with broad and deep canals used in the manufacture of salt.

I placed Major-General Sir R. Napier in charge of the advance, his division being quartered in Tangku. Under his superintendence bridges were thrown over these ditches and canals by Lieutenant-Colonel Mann, commanding Royal Engineers; and heavy guns, as per margin,* with a good supply of ammunition having been brought into Tangku, the 67th Regiment and an Armstrong battery were pushed forward on the evening of the 19th, to within 2000 yards, to cover the working parties making roads, bridges, &c. On the 20th, the road was made practicable to within 300 yards of the fort, batteries were traced, and the heavy guns were brought out ready to place in position by daybreak of the following day. The Chinese opened fire during the day, and were replied to by Captain Milward's Armstrong guns at 2000 yards range with good effect, and the firing gradually ceased.

During the night batteries were constructed for the heavy guns and mortars, and for one field battery, also for two 8-inch guns, which were brought up by great exertions from Pehtang during the night; and the whole were placed in position by daybreak of the 21st August.

It had been arranged with the Admirals that the gunboats should cross the bar that morning, and should engage the outer North Fort, and the flank of the outer South Fort, at the same time that the attack on the inner North Fort was commenced by the land forces.

At 5 A.M., however, the Chinese opened fire upon the troops from all their forts within range, and we were thus forced to reply an hour earlier than had been intended.

The artillery was disposed as follows :—a French 24-pounder battery of 6 pieces, one English 8-inch gun, and 2 Armstrongs, played on the inner South Fort to keep down the fire they might otherwise have poured on our right flank. Two Armstrong guns and two 9-pounders fired from Tangku across the river at an entrenchment which flanked the French right; three 8-inch mortars were in the centre at 600 yards range, and to their left rear an Armstrong battery, two 32-pounder guns, and two 8-inch howitzers, all of which played on the fort we were attacking. In addition to this, two 9-pounder guns, four 24-pounder howitzers, the remaining 2 Armstrong guns, and a rocket battery were placed in the open ground about 800 yards in front of the fort.

The storming party of infantry consisted of a wing of the 44th, under Lieutenant-Colonel MacMahon, and a wing of the 67th, under Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas, supported by the other wings of those two Regiments, and the Royal Marines under Lieutenant-Colonel Gascoigne. A detachment of Royal Marines under Lieutenant-Colonel Travers carried a pontoon bridge for crossing the wet ditches, and Major Graham, R.E., conducted the assault. The whole were commanded by Brigadier Reeves.

The fire of the artillery was most effective, the guns of the fort (of which many were of very large calibre), were speedily silenced, and at about 7 a.m. the magazine blew up with a terrific explosion. A few minutes later the magazine in the outer North Fort was also exploded by a shell from the gun-boats.

The field guns were all advanced to within 500 yards of the fort, and redoubled their efforts.

The fire of the forts having almost entirely ceased, a breach was commenced near the gate, and a portion of the storming party was advanced to within 30 yards to open a musketry fire, the French infantry being on the right, the English on the left.

The fire of our artillery being thus partially compelled to slacken, the enemy emerged from their cover, and opened a heavy fire of musketry on our troops.

The French, under General Collineau, immediately pushed on to the salient next the river, crossed the wet ditches in the most gallant manner, and established themselves on the berm, from whence they endeavoured to escalate the walls ; this, however, they were unable to effect, from the vigorous resistance of the Chinese.

The efforts of the Sappers to lay down the pontoon bridge were unavailing ; no less than fifteen of the men carrying it being knocked over in one instant, and one of the pontoons destroyed.

At this juncture, Sir R. Napier caused the two howitzers of Captain Govan's battery to be brought up to within 50 yards of the gate, in order more speedily to create a breach, and a space sufficient to admit one man had just been made when our storming party (now joined by the head-quarters' wing of 67th, under Colonel Knox) who had partly crossed by the French bridge and partly swam over, forced their way in by single file in the most gallant manner, Lieutenant Rogers, 44th Regiment, and Lieutenant Burslem, 67th Regiment, being the first to enter, when they assisted in the regimental colours of the 67th, carried by Ensign Chaplin, who first planted them on the breach (assisted by Private Lane 67th Regiment), and subsequently on the cavalier, which he was the first to mount. At the same moment the French effected their entrance, and the garrison was driven back step by step, and hurled pell-mell through the embrasures on the opposite side.

Here the same obstacles which had impeded our advance, obstructed their retreat ; in addition to two wet ditches and two belts of pointed bamboo stakes there was swampy ground, and a third ditch and bank.

The storming parties opened a destructive fire on them from the cavalier, and this was enhanced by the cannister fire of Captain Govan's guns which had been moved to the left of the fort for this purpose.

The ground outside the fort was literally strewn with the enemy's dead and wounded : three of the Chinese were impaled on the stakes. A few fugitives reached the outer North Fort which opened fire to cover their retreat, and was answered by the Armstrong guns with good effect.

About an hour after this, the whole of the forts on both sides of the river hauled down their war banners, and hoisted flags of truce. General Montauban and I sent each an Officer to ask their meaning, and summon them to surrender, but they only received an evasive and insolent reply, and were defied to come on to the attack.

Accordingly two fresh regiments, the 3rd Buffs and the 8th Punjab infantry, having been brought up, I advanced to attack the outer North Fort. Two 8-inch guns were placed in position against it ; the other siege guns could not be brought up.* The field batteries were placed at 800 yards' range on an arc encircling the left and front, the French guns on our right. Not a shot was fired by the enemy, and the Allied Infantry pushed on, crossed the ditches, and scaled the walls, without meeting any opposition ; the garrison of 2000 men being made prisoners.

This fort was stronger than the first. They are all constructed on the same plan, being redoubts with a thick rampart heavily armed with guns and wall-pieces, and having a high cavalier facing seawards, the guns of which were all turned in towards us ; they have two unfordable wet ditches, between which and the parapet sharp bamboo stakes were thickly planted, forming two belts, each about 15 feet wide, round the fort, an abattis encircling the whole, and further covered by pieces of water, which force an advance to be made only on a narrow front.

Towards evening the garrisons of the South Forts were observed to be evacuating them, and detachments of English and French were passed over in ships' boats, and occupied them. There is not now the trace of an enemy near us, and the whole of the forts and entrenched camps are in our hands, containing about 400 guns, many of which are of very large calibre.

It is difficult to account for the confusion and uncertainty which seemed to pervade the enemy when the first fort fell; but it now appears that the general in command was killed, and the second in command either killed or missing; and the confusion caused by this, together with the severe lesson received in the first fort, rendered them incapable or unwilling of further resistance.

I cannot conclude this despatch without expressing my sense of the very valuable services of Major-General Sir Robert Napier, who conducted the attack, and whose assistance has been most useful.

The service of the artillery under Brigadier-General Crofton was most excellent; its effects I have already described.

The engineering operations were conducted by Lieutenant-Colonel Mann; and lastly, I must bring to notice the gallant conduct of the storming party, which was commanded by Brigadier Reeves, who, himself severely wounded in three places, did not quit the field until he had conducted his men into the fort.

The wounded were removed as soon as possible into Tangku, where every arrangement for their temporary reception was made by Dr. Muir, the Principal Medical Officer.

Many others, both officers and soldiers, behaved in a manner deserving of being mentioned; but want of time does not permit me to treat of it in this despatch, and on a future occasion I shall do myself the honour of bringing their names to your notice.

I would also wish to inform Her Majesty's Government how cordially and sincerely our French Allies have co-operated with us, as well as the admiration I feel for their gallant conduct in the field.

General de Montauban has always shown every disposition to act thoroughly in concert with me, and to co-operate in every manner in his power.

The services of the gunboats will doubtless be brought to notice by the Naval Commander-in-Chief, and I beg here to record what a valuable and efficient colleague I have found in Admiral Hope, whose unwearying exertions throughout the whole campaign, and in discharging the onerous duties of transporting this large force to the seat of war have contributed greatly to the success of operations.

Head Quarters, 1st Division, Camp, near Sun-ho,

SIR,

August 24, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to report that, in obedience to the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the 1st division, under my command, marched from Pehtang about half-past 10 A.M. on the 12th instant.

On reaching the enemy's second picket-house, which is about 900 yards from their entrenched position, skirmishers of the 1st Royals were sent to the left, and some of the 31st to the right, and shortly afterwards Colonel Barry's battery of Armstrong's guns, and Captain Martin's battery of 9-pounders (the whole under the command of Captain Desborough), opened fire on the enemy's entrenchment at a distance of about 800 yards; after a cannonade of twenty-five minutes, the enemy's cavalry were seen moving to their left from the entrenchments.

The guns then advanced to within 500 yards, and played on the enemy's position, as also on the cavalry who were moving to their right; the fire of two Armstrong guns quickly dispersed their cavalry, and in a few minutes the advance was sounded, and the enemy's position found to be abandoned.

The enemy now retired to the entrenched village of Sin-ho, but Sir Robert Napier's division having turned their left, the cavalry of the enemy, in large numbers, escaped behind this village towards the Peiho Forts.

The Armstrong guns, at a range of from 2000 to 2,500 yards, made good practice on the fugitives.

This engagement having been entirely that of artillery, only one man of the division was wounded.

I have, &c.,
 (Signed) J. MICHEL, Major-General, Commanding 1st Division.

Camp, Tang-ko,
August 24, 1860.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the result of the operations of the Force under my command, employed in the advance from Pehtang, and the attack of the Tartar post at the Sin-Ho entrenchment.

The troops left their billets at 4 A.M. of the 12th instant, and moved out in the following order :—

An advanced guard of 200 men of the 3rd Buffs, with two Armstrong guns of Milwards' Battery, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Sargent, 3rd Buffs.

4 Armstrong guns, Milward's Battery.

23rd Company Royal Engineers.

3rd Buffs.

8th Regiment Punjaub Infantry.

44th Regiment.

Rolton's Rocket Battery.

Royal Marines.

Madras Sappers and Miners.

Right Wing 67th Regiment.

Reserve Ammunition.

Hospital Stretchers, &c.

2 Squadrons King's Dragoon Guards.

Probyn's Horse.

3 Guns, Stirling's Battery.

Fane's Horse.

The head of the column moved at 4 A.M., but though two days hard work had been devoted to repairing the roads, the deep tenacious mud rendered them so difficult that it was not till half-past seven that the rear of the column cleared the gate of Pehtang.

According to His Excellency's instructions, the force above enumerated struck off from the causeway by a track to the right, at half a mile from Peh-tang. The Commander-in-Chief was himself a witness of the extreme difficulties which had to be overcome in extricating the troops from the inundated town of Peh-tang, and advancing them through the deep mud, in which gun-wheels frequently were imbedded axle-deep. It cost two hours hard labour to the troops to traverse the first two miles.

I advanced by brigades in line of contiguous columns at quarter distance, my front covered by the advanced guard of 200 3rd Buffs, and Milward's Battery, under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Sargent. The cavalry was formed on my right.

A considerable halt was necessary to enable the rear to struggle through the heavy ground, and close up, for I was aware that I was liable to attack from the north as well as from the enemy in front.

Observing the approach of the allied columns to the direct attack of the entrenchment upon the causeway, and perceiving the enemy in great force, both in that entrenchment and in front of the village of Sin-ho, I marched directly towards them, taking their position in flank, and threatening their line of retreat.

On arriving within 1,500 yards, Milward's Armstrong guns opened on the enemy. These were the first shots fired with that weapon in war, and the range and accuracy of their fire excited the admiration of the force. The Tartar Horsemen were surprized by the fire, but not shaken. After some hesitation they streamed out in a long line through a passage across the marsh which separated us, and forming with great regularity and quickness, enveloped my force in a great circle of skirmishers. The northern portion formed by the cavalry, known to be in that direction, who hitherto kept out of sight, seemed suddenly to rise in position from the plain.

As soon as the enemy's movements were clearly defined, I sent to Brigadier Pattle, commanding the cavalry, directing him to detach a troop to protect my right rear, and to take the opportunity to charge, which the enemy so boldly offered him.

I then had the satisfaction of seeing the admirable charge of my cavalry, by which the Tartar horde, in front of them, was driven from the field in disorder. Milward's Battery had continued to play upon the enemy as long as it was possible to do without injury to our advancing cavalry.

About this time Stirling's half-battery, which being unable to follow the movements of cavalry in such heavy ground, had been left with an escort of 30 of Fane's Horse, under Lieutenant Macgregor, was charged by a body of Tartar cavalry of very superior numbers. Lieutenant Macgregor gallantly led his small party against the enemy and defeated them, many Tartars being killed, and Lieutenant Macgregor and many of his men being severely wounded.

Whilst this was going on, my attention had been diverted from my right front to a large party of Tartars, who were steadily approaching the Buffs, on the left front, apparently regardless of the fire of two of Milward's guns under Lieutenant Harvey, of the Rifles, of the advanced guard, and of Rolton's rockets. They advanced to within 450 yards, and bore unflinchingly for a considerable time such a fire as would have tried any troops in the world. The 4th Brigade, under Brigadier Reeves, being similarly attacked at the same time, replied with a steady fire, which did considerable execution.

At length the courageous endurance of the enemy began to give way, and they fled from the field with precipitation.

I then advanced my Force towards the western end of the village of Sin-ho, and joined the allied columns.

At no time throughout the day, had we opportunity of coming into contact with the enemy's infantry.

Trusting that the objects intended by His Excellency have been carried out by the force under my command, I beg to bring to his notice the excellent conduct and discipline of the troops of all arms, during a very trying day.

I am much indebted to the Brigadiers commanding the several brigades of cavalry and of infantry, and to the Officer commanding the Field Artillery, all of whom performed the duties entrusted to them to my entire satisfaction.

I received the most valuable assistance from my Divisional and Personal Staff, whose labours were unremitting.

I beg to subjoin a list of officers, whom I desire earnestly to recommend to His Excellency's favourable consideration.

I have, &c.,

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received from Vice-Admiral Hope, C.B., the Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's ships and vessels in China.

CAPTURE OF THE FORTS AT THE ENTRANCE OF THE PEI-HO.

No. 287. Coromandel, in the Pei-ho,
MY LORD, August 27, 1860.

YOU will be pleased to acquaint the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that on the 12th instant the allied troops moved out of the village of Pehtang, and occupied that of Sinho, driving back a considerable body of the enemy, and taking two entrenched positions on their march, and that on the 14th they attacked and captured the fortified village of Tang-kou, the enemy retiring across the river and into the forts on its northern bank. To the despatches of the Lieutenant-General in command I beg to refer their Lordships for the details of these and other purely military operations.

2. The Lieutenant-General in command having acquainted me with his intention of attacking these forts on the 21st, the French and English gun-boats, with the rocket-boats of the fleet, were moved into the Pei-ho on the day previous, in order to shell the outer North Fort, with those of light draft, while those of larger size should be held in reserve for the purpose of checking the flank fire of the Southern Fort, should it open on the troops during their advance.

3. The attack of the troops on the inner fort commenced about daylight, and that of the gun-boats, which had been delayed for want of water in the position assigned to them about six, half an hour later the magazine of the inner fort exploded, as did that of the outer fort shortly after. At nine the allied flags were shewn from the inner fort, and at eleven the firing ceased, flags of truce being displayed on all the remaining forts.

4. During the afternoon the outer North Fort was taken possession of by the troops without further resistance. In the evening the South Fort, being deserted by the enemy, was occupied, and the booms across the river were removed; but the iron stakes, of which there were two double rows, being fixed with much firmness, a passage through was not opened till noon of the following day, when the gun-boats passed up and anchored off Tang-kou.

5. On the following day, a force of English and French gun-boats* left for Tientsin, and, on their arrival next morning, finding that the town was destitute of troops, and the authorities anxious to make their unconditional submission, in concert with Admiral Charner, I placed guards in the forts and on the city gates, hoisting the allied flags in token of its military occupation. It is the intention of the Lieutenant-General in command to place an adequate force in the town or its vicinity, the infantry and artillery portion of which are now being forwarded in the gun-boats.

6. The fire of the gun-boats and rocket-boats†, which I placed under the orders of Rear-Admiral Jones, to whose assistance on all occasions I have

* First Squadron of Gun-boats, Captain McCleverty:—Havoc, Staunch, Opossum, Forester, and Algerine.

Fourth Squadron of Rocket-boats, Commander Hire.

been much indebted, was well directed and serviceable: that of the French gun-boats attracted attention by its precision. Being placed well in on the mud on the northern bank of the river, at high water, only one English gun-boat was within long range of the South Fort, and all being more or less out of the line of fire of that which they attacked. The enemy, after a few shot, which fell short, ceased to fire on them, and consequently they sustained no casualties whatever.

7. While therefore I have not on this occasion to draw their Lordships' attention to conduct, such as that which distinguished both officers and men in the attack of last year, I yet gladly avail myself of this occasion to express the sense I entertain of their unwearied exertions, not merely in effecting the landing of the army here, an operation continued without intermission until it was completed, but also in the fitting out of the transport fleet; the embarkation at Hong Kong, as well as the disembarkation and embarkation at Talien-whan Bay, all of which together with the keeping up the supplies of the army has involved much heavy labour.

8. I am indebted to Commander Ward and the surveying officers under his directions, for a chart of Talien-whan Bay, and the coast line of the extreme of the Gulf of Pechili, made early in the year, notwithstanding much bad weather, for accurate surveys of the Pehtang and Pei-ho rivers, while still in the possession of the enemy, and for much zeal and ability displayed in subsequently buoying those rivers.

9. I am unwilling to conclude this despatch without acknowledging the cordial co-operation on all occasions, of my colleagues, and more especially of Vice-Admiral Charner, on whose suggestion the effective position assigned to the gun boats was adopted.

I have, &c.,

J. HOPE,

Vice-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

The Right Honourable Lord Clarence Paget, C.B., M.P., Secretary of the Admiralty.

THE undersigned, Hang-fuh, Viceroy of the province of Chi-li, addresses the following communication to the English and French (French and English) Military and Naval (Naval and Military) Commanders-in-Chief.

On the 5th day of the present month (21st August), the Honourable Commanders-in-chief advanced upon the Forts, both by sea and land, and took those on the Northern Bank ; this success proves the efficiency of the troops of the honourable Commanders-in-chief, and the Chinese Army being defeated tender their submission. The latter have accordingly withdrawn from all the Forts on the southern bank, and are now willing to surrender into the possession of the honourable Commanders-in-chief all these Forts, together with the whole of their munitions and any fortified camps or entrenchments. The undersigned further engages to depute officers to point out to officers on the part of the Commanders-in-chief the position of any mines that may be in the Forts, and of all secret defences placed in the river, in order that no injury may be occasioned thereby to the honourable Allies. It is understood that the delivery of the Forts as soon as effected shall be followed by the cessation of hostilities in this locality, and also that no injury shall be done to the inhabitants, who shall be efficiently protected both in person and property.

A necessary communication, dated Heenfung, 18th year, 7th month, 5th day (August 21st), 1860.

PROCEEDINGS OF BATTALION OF MARINES SERV-ING WITH THE ARMY.

No. 288, Coromandel, in the Peiho,
(One Inclosure.) August 27, 1860.

MY LORD,

Herewith I forward for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the report I have received of the late operations, from Lieutenant-Colonel Gascoigne who is in command of the battalion of Royal Marines serving with the army, and should they prove to have been so fortunate as to have obtained the favourable notice of the Lieutenant-General in command, I feel assured their Lordships will feel pleasure in meeting any request which may be made in their favour by His Royal Highness the Commander-in-chief.

I have, &c.,

Vice-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief,
Right Honourable Lord Clarence Paget, C.B.,
Secretary of the Admiralty.

[Inclosure in No. 288 of 1860.]

Battalion of Royal Marines, (L.I.) Ton-Ku, August 24, 1860.

SIR,

I have the honour to report for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the proceedings of the Battalion Royal Marines under my command, serving by your order with the expeditionary force, and attached to the Fourth Brigade in the Second Division, since landing at Pehtang on the 9th instant.

On the 12th August the whole force (excepting the 99th Regiment), moved out for Sinho. The Tartar cavalry showed themselves in great numbers during the advance and made demonstrations of attack, but were repulsed with considerable loss, the casualties being few on the side of the Allies. Our own battalion though engaged having none.

On the 14th at daylight, the artillery with the 3rd and 4th Brigades, and a French force, were sent forward to take the strongly fortified village of Ton-ku. After a severe bombardment the 60th Rifles effected an entrance at the west angle upon the river, the casualties having been but few on the part of the Allies. Two deep ditches encompassed the place, and the loss to the enemy was great.

On the 21st (having marched out of Ton-ku the previous evening), the Artillery, Engineers, Royal Marines, 44th and 67th Regiments, accompanied by about 1,500 French, moved to the attack of the strong North Peiho Fort. The right wing of the Royal Marines being sent forward under Lieutenant-Colonel J. O. Travers, to carry the pontoons and scaling-ladders, these companies were commanded by Captain J. C. Symonds, Brevet-Major J. C. D. Morrison, Captain J. B. Prynne and Lieutenant T. H. A. Brenan, with No. 6 Company, which (on account of the deep mud and heavy weight of the pontoons) was subsequently ordered to assist. These officers all distinguished themselves by endeavouring to surmount the difficulties that met them at every step. The pontoons being laid down by order of the Commanding Engineer, the ladders were immediately taken round to the right angle and put across the ditch. A rush of men upon them caused them to be used as bridges to cross the wide ditch, the men standing up to their armpits in water to support them.

An entrance was effected at the main gate about the same time as at the angle. This fort commanded the others, and in consequence of its fall, and some good practice from four gunboats (one shell exploding a magazine) the forts on both sides of the river submitted to the Allies.

With regard to the operations, the remainder of the battalion was kept moving up in support, and during the assault was so placed as to command access to the gate or the angle, should either point have required further assistance.

The loss to the battalion was 1 private killed, 5 officers, 1 serjeant, 2 corporals, and 21 privates wounded. A list of them is inclosed, and all of them are doing favourably.

I have the satisfaction of reporting the good conduct of the battalion generally. Lieutenant-Colonel Travers, during these operations, supported his well-known character for devotion and untiring energy. Assistant-Surgeon D. M. Shaw was well up to the front under fire, and gave instant attention to the wounded men. Dr. J. Little's arrangements for quickly passing them to the rear being most complete and satisfactory.

Captain Prynne was one of the first to enter the fort, followed by some men of his company, and shot down with his revolver a mandarin of note, since ascertained to have been the General-in-command.

Captain Prynne speaks highly of Serjeant Teacle, of the 8th Company, Serjeant Knapp, of the 83rd, Corporal Kelly, of the 61st, Private Bray, of the 16th, and Private Bowerman, of the 8th Company. The conduct of Serjeant Henry Trent, of the 83rd Company, was deserving of all praise, as he continued his indefatigable exertions to get the pontoons up, although wounded, until another severe wound obliged him to be taken to the rear.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. H. GASCOIGNE.

Lieutenant-Colonel Commanding Battalion.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the under-mentioned Officers and Soldier of Her Majesty's Army, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, on account of Acts of Bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their names, viz.:—

7th Hussars.

Major Charles Craufurd Fraser (now of the 11th Hussars).—For conspicuous and cool gallantry, on the 31st December, 1858, in having volunteered, at great personal risk, and under a sharp fire of musketry, to swim to the rescue of Captain Stisted, and some men of the 7th Hussars, who were in imminent danger of being drowned in the River Raptée, while in pursuit of the rebels. Major Fraser succeeded in this gallant service, although at the time partially disabled, not having recovered from a severe wound received while leading a Squadron in a charge against some fanatics, in the Action of Nawabgunge, on the 13th June, 1858. Date of Act of Bravery, 31st December, 1858.

78th Regiment.

Surgeon Joseph Jee, C.B.,—For most conspicuous gallantry and important Services, on the entry of the late Major-General Havelock's relieving force into Lucknow, on the 25th September, 1857, in having during action (when the 78th Highlanders, then in possession of the Char Bagh, captured two 9-pounders at the point of the bayonet), by great exertion and devoted exposure, attended to the large number of men wounded in the charge, whom he succeeded in getting removed on cots and the backs of their comrades, until he had collected the Dooly bearers who had fled. Subsequently, on the same day, in endeavouring to reach the Residency with the wounded men, Surgeon Jee became besieged by an overwhelming force in the Mote-Mehal, where he remained during the whole night and following morning, voluntarily and repeatedly exposing himself to a heavy fire in proceeding to dress the wounded men who fell while serving a 24-pounder in a most exposed situation. He eventually succeeded in taking many of the wounded, through a cross fire of ordnance and musketry, safely into the Residency, by the river-bank, although repeatedly warned not to make the perilous attempt. Date of Act of Bravery, 24th September, 1857.

93rd Regiment (late).

Colour-Serjeant James Munro. — For devoted gallantry, at Secunderabagh, on the 16th November, 1857, in having promptly rushed to the rescue of Captain E. Walsh, of the same corps, when wounded, and in danger of his life, whom he carried to a place of comparative safety, to which place the Serjeant was brought in, very shortly afterwards, badly wounded. Board of Trade, Whitehall, November 7, 1860.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister at Naples, enclosing a copy of a Decree, dated the 18th ultimo, and published in the Official Journal of that City, of which the following is a translation :

Translation.

Art. I. From the date of the publication of the present Decree, all merchandize arriving from any other of the United Provinces of Italy will be considered home produce, and consequently treated as such in Neapolitan ports.

The transport of such goods will be considered as a coasting trade when carried on in vessels under the national flag. Our customs regulations will, therefore, be applied to the same.

The custom-houses along the frontier of the Marches and Umbria are abolished.

The existing regulations respecting the Island of Sicily will remain in force until the Italian tariff is introduced there.

Art. II. The duties fixed in the table annexed to the Decree of 24th of September last, on the importation and exportation of certain merchandize, will continue provisionally in force.

Art. III. Foreign goods arriving from the free ports of Leghorn, Genoa, and Ancona, will pay, at the custom-houses of the ports at which they arrive, the duties fixed by the tariff at present in force.

Vessels with such produce can only deal with first-class custom-houses, according to the Regulations of June 19, 1826.

Art. IV. The exportation of grain from the Italian provinces and from Sicily is provisionally prohibited.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
November 8, 1860.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires at Parana, a copy of a new Custom House Law for the thirteen Provinces of the Argentine Confederation, by which the import and export duties of the Confederation are reduced to the rates levied at Buenos Ayres.

By the same law, whenever the amount of duty exceeds fifty dollars, it may be paid in Bills at six months date, instead of in Bills at two, four, and six months, respectively, for each third part of the amount, as heretofore.

A Decree for giving effect to the above law extends to the whole of the Confederation the tariff of valuations in force at Buenos Ayres.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
November 7, 1860.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, (1686.)

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
November 8, 1860.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Lisbon, transmitting copies of two notices issued by the Board of Health of that port, of which the following are translations :—

The Board of Health of this Kingdom hereby make known that the port of Gibraltar is considered suspected of cholera morbus.

Lisbon, 19th October, 1860.

The Board of Health of this Kingdom, having observed that the 16th Article of the Edict of the 8th March last, is repeatedly and frequently infringed on the part of captains of vessels, in presenting at the ports of the Kingdom more than one bill of health, contrary to the disposition of the quarantine regulations of the same date, and thereby causing serious inconvenience to the service of the health stations and to commercial interests, they have decided to give publicity to the above cited Article in a separate edict, the tenor of which is as follows :—

ARTICLE 16.

No vessel must have more than one Bill of Health, and that it may be considered in regular order, it should be passed according to the official form of the Portuguese Consul at the port of departure. and have the visas of the Portuguese Consuls at the ports they may touch at, or put into through stress of weather.

1. The Bill of Health as also the visas, shall make particular mention of the state of the public health, not only of the port, but of the whole of the consular district, the Consuls declaring, as near as possible, the proximate number of cases of cholera, yellow fever, and plague, when in any part of the consular district there exists any of the said disorders.

2. In the absence of the Portuguese Consul, the Bill of Health can be passed and the visas certified by the Spanish Consuls, and in the absence of the latter, by those of any other nation having commercial relations with Portugal.

3. The Bills of Health that do not bring a Consular attestation shall not be considered in any way valid.

In order that ignorance or other pretexts be not alleged, the Board of Health, in virtue of the authority conceded to them by the 16th Article of the Decree of the 3rd January, 1837, hereby make known, that the vessels arriving in the ports of the kingdom, presenting more than one Bill of Health after the 1st January, 1861, or with a Bill of Health not in the official form, shall be considered as having an irregular Bill of Health, and as such, subject to the dispositions and sanitary measures relative to this infringement of the regulations.

The Board likewise make known that the official form of Bills of Health to which the above 16th Article refers, is the same that was ordered to be observed and put in force by the Consuls and Consular-Agents, in the Circular Order of the 10th and 11th of June of the present year, addressed to these functionaries by the Minister for Foreign Affairs.

All which is made public by the present edict for the information of those interested.

And whereas another Act was passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas by the said last-mentioned Act power was given to Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to make and issue such orders regulations, conditions, and restrictions as he should deem to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of regulating the receipt, transmission, and delivery by post of periodical publications under the provisions of that Act.

And whereas Her Majesty's then Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, did, by virtue of the said last-mentioned Act, make and issue certain orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions, bearing date the 24th day of December, 1855, and the 27th day of May, 1859, which he deemed to be necessary and expedient for the purpose of regulating the receipt, transmission, and delivery by post of printed newspapers and certain periodical publications under the provisions of the said last-mentioned Act.

And whereas it is expedient to make provision for regulating the transmission by the post of the newspapers hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury (in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the several hereinbefore-mentioned Acts, or any or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf) do, by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows:

1. On every printed newspaper posted in a British colony addressed to a foreign country, or posted in a foreign country addressed to a British colony transmitted by the post between any such colony and any such foreign country through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and taken in all cases where no specific rate of postage has hitherto been fixed on a newspaper so transmitted, or where no regulation by Treasury Warrant has hitherto been made authorizing a newspaper so

3. Her Majesty's Postmaster-General may charge all or any such newspapers, which shall be sent by the post, otherwise than in conformity with the terms, conditions, and regulations mentioned or referred to, in this present Warrant, with such rates or rate of postage respectively, not exceeding in amount such rates or rate respectively, as would be chargeable upon the same as letters or a letter, as to him shall seem fit.

4. FROM THE
LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 13, 1860.

Foreign-Office, November 13, 1860.

A DESPATCH, dated Tien-tsin, September 8, 1860, of which the following is an extract, has, with its enclosures, been this day received at the Foreign-Office from the Earl of Elgin, Her Majesty's High Commissioner and Plenipotentiary in China :

"In pursuance of an arrangement previously made Messrs. Wade and Parkes waited, by my desire, on the Imperial Commissioners, on the 6th inst., with a draft of the Convention which it was understood was to have been signed on the 8th. The Commissioners, who had already been unofficially apprised of its terms, made little objection to any portion of it, except the clause providing that of the total indemnity of eight million taels declared to be due by China to Great Britain, one million should be paid before Tientsin was evacuated by the British troops. After some conversation, however, in which they betrayed manifest signs of uneasiness, they announced to my Secretaries that they could not stipulate that the Convention should take effect without previous ratification, and that so far from being ready to sign it on the 8th inst., they could not do so at all until it had been submitted to the Emperor for his approval.

This intimation led to a discussion respecting the extent of the powers held by Kweiliang and his colleagues.

It is not very easy to apprehend the precise import of the phraseology employed in Imperial Decrees on subjects of this nature. It was very obvious, however, from what passed during the course of this discussion, that Kweiliang either had not, or did not, at this particular moment wish it to be supposed, that he had powers equal to those, which he held when he made a Treaty with me here in 1858 ; although in the first communication which I received from him announcing his appointment, the title which he assumed, and the language which he employed, were calculated to convey the opposite impression.

It was impossible to attribute this departure from a precedent so recently established, and established in the person of Kweiliang himself, to anything but a deliberate design to create delay which might throw us into the winter, and thereby extricate the Peking Government from its present embarrassments. To check this policy by an act of vigour was manifestly indispensable, unless we intended to forfeit all the advantages secured by our advance to this point; and I accordingly resolved, with Baron Gros' concurrence, to intimate to the Imperial Commissioners, that, in consequence of the want of good faith exhibited by them in assuming the title of Plenipotentiaries, when they could not exercise the authority which it implied, and of the delays which the alleged necessity of constant reference to Peking would occasion, I had determined to proceed at once to Tang-chow, and to enter into no further communications with them until I should have reached that place.

Inclosure No. 2 in this despatch is a copy of the letter in which I conveyed to them this determination. and inclosure No. 1 is a copy of the report in which Messrs. Wade and Parkes narrate what passed at the interview to which I have been referring.

My letter to the Imperial Commissioners produced a reply, of which inclosure No. 3 is a copy. But, although civilly worded and abounding in promise, their reply was, in fact, an admission of the charge that they had been hitherto negotiating under false pretences. Inclosure No. 4 is a copy of my answer, and simply states that I adhere to the resolution communicated to them in my former despatch.

With the infelicity which so often characterizes the proceedings of Chinese negotiators in such cases, the Imperial Commissioners betrayed their want of candour in this matter, on the day succeeding that on which Major-General Sir R. Napier reached this place with the 2nd division of the force under Sir Hope Grant's command. The army was therefore in the best possible condition for a movement in advance, and I officially apprized the Commander-in-Chief, who has been throughout fully cognizant of the course of the negotiations in which I have been engaged, of the cause of my desire to proceed to Tanchou, in a letter of which the copy forms inclosure No 5 of this despatch.

(Inclosure No. 1, in the Earl of Elgin's Despatch of the 8th of September, 1860.)

MEMORANDUM of an interview between the Assistant Imperial Commissioners, Hangki, and Messrs. Wade and Parkes.

Tientsin, September 7, 1860.

UNDER instructions from his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, who had communicated his wishes to that effect to the Commissioners in a despatch of the same date, we proceeded about half-past four, on the afternoon of the 6th instant to the yamun of the Salt Commissioner, in which the Imperial Commissioner Kweiliang is staying, and at which it had been arranged we should meet the Assistant Commissioner Hangki, to deliver to the latter the draft of a Convention, on signature of which Lord Elgin promised in his earlier despatch of the 29th of August, to call on the Commanders-in-Chief to desist from further hostilities.

The substance of this Convention had been made fully known to the Commissioners so early as the 3rd instant, and a draft of the whole Convention, with the exception of one article, was non-officially handed to Hangki on the evening of the 5th instant; and it was then distinctly understood, after he had read it over, that the preliminary interview with the Ambassador should take place on the 7th, and the Convention be signed on the 8th instant. The single article to be added, as we then told Hangki, concerned the troops, the distribution of which, in the south, was not yet absolutely decided; but we repeated what he already knew, that the moment the one million taels, stipulated for in the Convention, was paid, the force would be withdrawn from Tien-tsin. The article, as it now stands, was of course added to the draft officially handed to him last evening.

The condition affecting the movements of the troops, however, seemed comparatively of little interest. His grand difficulty, to all appearance, was the payment of the money demanded. He had suggested some verbal changes and omissions in the despatch already in his hands, but nothing that would not have admitted of modification, without compromising any principle.

When now reading over the preamble, however, he was reminded that, before signature, the powers of the Plenipotentiaries would have to be produced, that is to say, on the part of the Chinese. The imperial decree, describing more or less the nature of the case requiring the appointment of imperial commissioners, and defining their authority to deal with such case. He did not seem much disturbed by this remark, but presently, on coming to the article which provides for the immediate operativeness of the Convention, "without the formality of a ratification," he said that these words could not be inserted by any Chinese in a Treaty, and that, in fact, without first receiving the approval of the Emperor, the Commissioners could not sign the Convention at all.

This induced us to remark that the two Commissioners, Kweiliang and Hang-Fuh, have each of them in their titles the words pien-i-hing-sz, implying power to act as the occasion shall demand, and we went on to inquire what words describing the question they were charged to dispose of had accompanied such other words as invested them with the pien-i-hing-sz powers, in the imperial decree which we never doubted they had received.

Hangki then said that they had not received any other decree than that already communicated to Lord Elgin in Hang-Fuh's and Hangki's despatch, without date of the day (received 25th instant), and of this Tsunghan, the Commissioner of the Salt "Gabelle," who, partly as host and partly in satisfaction of Chinese usage, was assisting at our conference, went to procure a copy. He returned presently with one which he subsequently admitted had been made from a Peking Gazette, which he also produced. The decree is identically the same with that recited in the above despatch. It does not state what the Commissioners are to discuss or dispose of, nor does it state that they are invested with p'en-i-hing-sz powers. It makes no allusion even to foreign affairs.

We continued to press Hangki regarding this decree, firmly persuaded that, as in 1858, the Emperor had issued one, declaratory of the nature of Kweiliang's mission, and his authority to deal with us. Hangki suggested that Kweiliang must have got his orders at his last audience of the Emperor, but that such a decree, as we spoke of, might possibly be in the possession of Hang-Fuh, who was at his own residence, but as Tsung-lian continued to pass back and forward between Hangki and Kweiliang, it was deemed advisable to request an interview with the latter. This after a little delay was acceded to. Kweiliang informed us that he was very seriously indisposed. He looked so, and appeared at the same time rather to exaggerate his infirmity. He seemed at the same time fully conscious, as did the other two mandarins, that there was something wrong.

It was explained to him, that our Commission had been simply to confer with Hang-ki, with a view to putting the Convention, the terms of which he was already aware, into shape, and that one of the first points to which we had naturally come, was the exhibition of the powers referred to in the preamble, which would have to precede the signature of the Convention itself; that understanding from Hang-ki that there was no decree on the subject, except that short one of the 24th ultimo, we had deemed it advisable to hear this from his Excellency Kweiliang's own lips, as we thought it useless to proceed with the further consideration of the draft we had brought, until we had informed Lord Elgin of the fact. Kweiliang as Tsung-han had done previously, fell back upon his first interview with Lord Elgin, in 1858. He said he had then produced a decree which was rejected as insufficient, because he was not furnished with a Kwan-fang, and that he had now brought a Kwan-fang without a special decree. He was reminded that the former decree was objected to as being in itself incomplete, even had he possessed a Kwan-fang, but that that decree did at least declare that he was armed with the Plenipotentiary powers he assumed in his title, and he was again urged to say when, or by what decree, he was now invested with the same title, to his employment of which alone was to be attributed Lord Elgin's acceptance of him as a Minister qualified to treat of the matter in hand.

Kweiliang endeavoured to impress upon us that he was sure to be regarded at Peking as possessing the necessary powers, as in Lord Elgin's letters to him, which he had forwarded to the capital, he had always been addressed by Lord Elgin as Plenipotentiary Minister. After some beating about the bush, however, he admitted that he had no decree save the one before us, but would immediately write to Peking for the powers required.

We then took our leave.

HARRY S. PARKES,
Joint Chinese Secretaries.

(Inclosure No. 2, in the Earl of Elgin's Despatch of the 8th September, 1860.)

THE undersigned, Earl of Elgin, &c., has the honour to acknowledge the note of their Excellencies the Imperial Commissioners, proposing an interview with him this day.

The undersigned has since received the report of his Secretaries, Mr. Wade and Mr. Parkes, who were yesterday sent to deliver officially to the Assistant-Commissioner Hangki, the draft of the Convention which, as stated by the undersigned in his despatch of the 29th August, it was necessary should be signed before he could apply to the Commanders-in-Chief to desist from offensive operations.

Independently of the plain language used in the undersigned's despatch above referred to, the nature of the stipulations to be entered into by this Convention having been communicated in various conversations, dating so far back as the 3rd instant, and a draft of almost the whole Convention placed in their hands on the 5th instant, it is with no little surprise that the undersigned has learnt that their Excellencies declare that they have no authority to sign the Convention until it shall have been submitted to His Majesty the Emperor, and that they are unable to produce any decree investing them with the powers implied by certain words forming part of their official titles, and their assumption of which alone induced the undersigned to regard their Excellencies as competent to the negotiations which their despatches of the 23rd August and 25th of August declared them qualified to undertake. The undersigned will not dwell on the want of good faith indicated by this proceeding. It is enough for him to observe that the alleged necessity of reference to Peking, from a point so distant as this involves delays to which he will not submit. He has accordingly called upon His Excellency the General Commanding Her Britannick Majesty's Army in China, to provide him with such a force as will enable him to proceed, without loss of time, to Tung Chan, and he has further to intimate to the Imperial Commissioners that he can neither receive their visit nor enter into any convention with them, for the re-establishment of peace, till he shall have reached that city.

(Signed) ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

(Inclosure 3 in the Earl of Elgin's Despatch of September 8, 1860, received 7th September, 1860.)

Kweiliang and Hang-Fuh, Imperial Commissioners, and Hangki, Assistant - Commissioner, make a communication in reply.

THE Commissioners have this instant received the letter of His Excellency the British Minister, and having thoroughly acquainted themselves with its contents, would urge that a representation has been made to the Throne regarding the question raised at their interview of yesterday with His Excellency's secretaries, Messrs. Wade and Parkes, and that His Majesty's decree may be expected in a day or two. Peace between the two countries having become matter of negotiation (or negotiations being already on foot) a certain amount of indulgence, they think, may be allowed in all deliberations. It is their duty to state this to His Excellency the British Minister, and to request him notwithstanding what has happened, at least to wait three days or so at Tien-tsin, so as to enable everything to be settled satisfactorily ; to the more perfect re-establishment of friendly relations. This will be best. They accordingly address this communication to him.

A necessary communication, &c.

September 8, 1860.)

THE undersigned has the honour to acknowledge the communication received last evening from their Excellencies the Imperial Commissioners, Kweiliang, Hang-Fuh, Hangki, urging him to delay his departure from Tien-tsin for a few days.

The undersigned begs to state, in reply, that he has nothing to add to the despatch which he had the honour to address yesterday to the Commissioners.

(Inclosure 5 in the Earl of Elgin's Despatch, of the 8th of September, 1860.)

SIR, Tien-tsin, September 8, 1860.

I regret to say that I have been compelled to break off, for the moment, negotiations for the re-establishment of peace with China, in consequence of its having been unexpectedly intimated to my secretaries, Messrs. Parkes and Wade, by the Imperial Commissioners, that they have not the requisite authority to treat with me.

As this is evidently a device to gain time, I have thought it my duty to inform them that negotiations are closed for the present, and that they cannot be resumed until I shall have reached Tang-Chan.

(Signed) ELGIN and KINCARDINE.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY
of NOVEMBER 14, 1860.

War-Office, November 15, 1860.

MR. SECRETARY HERBERT has received a Despatch with Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to him by Lieutenant-General Sir J. Hope Grant, G.C.B., Commanding the Forces in China:—

Head Quarters, Tien-tsin,
September 2, 1860.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that, on the 24th August a private letter was received from Lieutenant-Colonel March, Royal Marines, Commanding at Shanghai, stating that reliable information had arrived of the intention of the rebels to attack that city.

The garrison of Shanghai then consisted of one Company of Marine Artillery, about 400 of Royal Marine Light Infantry, and the Loodianah Regiment of Sikhs. I accordingly despatched the 44th Regiment forthwith to reinforce them, and sent Brigadier Jephson to take the command.

On the 27th August, a report arrived, informing me that the rebels had actually attacked Shanghai, and had been repulsed.

Before leaving Shanghai, in June last, I had instructed the Officer commanding at Chusan to send reinforcements to that place if called upon; and accordingly a force, as per margin*, arrived there from Chusan on the 17th August. On the 18th, the rebels attacked the city, but were repulsed; and on the 20th August, they made a demonstration against the foreign settlement, but retired on being fired into. I enclose a copy of Colonel March's reports of these affairs.

I have since heard that the rebels have retired altogether, and do not intend to molest Shanghai any further.

I am informed also that Mr. Bruce has written to Hong Kong for the 11th Punjaub Infantry, which I had previously requested him to do, in the event of his requiring assistance. There is consequently now a very large force at Shanghai, and I purpose leaving them there until the expeditionary force breaks up.

The measures taken by Colonel March, for the defence of the city and foreign settlement, appear to have been taken with judgment and success.

* 100 of the 99th Regiment; 100 19th Punjaub Infantry; 3 Madras Artillery guns.

I have, &c.,

J. HOPE GRANT,

Lieutenant-General,

Commanding Her Majesty's Forces.

The Right Honourable

The Secretary of State for War, &c.

Shanghai,

SIR,

August 21, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that at about 2 P.M. on the 18th, the rebels in some force approached the walls of the city, threatening the south-east, south, and west gates.

1. They advanced under cover until they were near enough to be fired at with effect with canister and smooth bore muskets. About 4 P.M. they retired to a distance of three or four miles.

2. Captain Budd, of the Royal Marines, who commands in the city, and is posted at the south gate, informs me that he thinks the loss of the rebels from the fire on the walls must have been very considerable; they left behind several flags, &c.

3. On the morning of the 19th, they evinced, an intention to advance, but suddenly withdrew.

4. The officer in command of the forts in the city describes their numbers to be from 5,000 to 7,000.

5. Yesterday, at 9 A.M., I was informed that our pickets, on the racecourse, were firing on the rebels. I called out all my force, and on my arrival on the racecourse, found that the rebels, formed in four columns, and carrying black, red, white, and orange flags, were in some force a little to the left of the settlement threatening the Ningpo Joss House; they were sufficiently near to encourage us to fire a few rockets and shell at them, with what effect I cannot say. About 2 P.M. they retired, and took up a position about four miles off, their right being apparently a little in advance of the French convent of Sic-a-wei.

6. They appear to be concentrating their forces for an attack on the city and settlement.

7. Their numbers I should estimate at 6,000 or 7,000.

8. This morning the rebels are encamped in two places, at a distance of about three miles from each other, and from the city.

9. Up to this time, 10.30 A.M., they have shown no disposition to advance.

I have, &c.

(Signed) W. H. MARCH,
Lieutenant-Colonel, Royal Marines,
Commanding the Garrison.

To Captain Biddulph, &c., Military Secretary.

Shanghai,

August 26, 1860.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief that on the 22nd instant was sent, by Mr. Forest, the Interpreter to the Legislation, to the rebels, the notification, a copy of which, I forwarded in my letter to you (No. 1, 18th August), and on the following day an answer, a translation of which by Mr. Consul Meadows herewith inclosed, was received.

1. On the morning of the 24th instant I was informed that nothing was to be seen of the enemy, and I learnt from Colonel Favre, Commandant of the French force here, that the missionaries who had left the convent at Sie-a-wei on the approach of the rebels, had returned there: it has been reported to me, that placards were found on the walls of the convent, announcing their return in ten days; they are now, I understand, at a place called Si-pool, about 15 miles off.

2. From the accounts I have received I am inclined to think that the force they brought down to Shanghai did not exceed 3,000 men.

3. Captain Budd, of the Royal Marines, the senior officer within the city, speaks highly of the steadiness of the Royal Marines and Madras Artillery, under Captain McIntyre, of the latter Corps, and that of the Company of Royal Marines under Lieutenant O'Grady, and the Detachment of the Regiment of Loodianah, under Captains Maxwell and Cavanagh; the accuracy of the fire kept up at the various posts is proved by the loss which the rebels, it is ascertained, suffered.

4. With the zeal and activity displayed by Lieutenant Glasse, of the Regiment of Loodianah, commanding at the Ning-po Joss-house, I have every reason to be satisfied.

5. The firing of the Royal Marine Artillery, under Lieutenant Williams, from the racecourse on the 20th was also very good.

6. Her Majesty's ships Nimrod and Pioneer, the former moored off the settlement, and the latter above the city, did good service with their long-range guns.

7. I wish to bring to the notice of his Excellency the spirited conduct of Mr. (Interpreter) Forest, in volunteering to take the notification sent by the Commanding Officers of the Allied Forces to the camp of the rebels on the 22nd instant ; he was attended in his somewhat dangerous undertaking by Private Phillips, of the Royal Marines, likewise a volunteer, who carried a flag of truce.

I have, &c.

(Signed) W. H. MARCH,
Lieutenant-Colonel Royal Marines,
Commanding the Garrison.

To Captain Biddulph, &c., Military Secretary.

PROCLAMATION sent to Rebel Camp at Shanghai.

REPORT having reached us of an armed force having been collected in the neighbourhood of Shanghai, we, the Commanders of the Military and Naval Forces of Her Britannic Majesty at Shanghai, hereby give notice that the city of Shanghai and the foreign settlement are militarily occupied by the forces of Her Britannic Majesty and of her Ally the Emperor of the French, and they warn all persons that if armed bodies of men attack or approach the positions held by them, they will be considered as commencing hostilities against the Allied Forces, and will be dealt with accordingly.

Shanghai, August 16, 1860.

To the Commander of the Forces in occupation of Soochow, and other places.

Translation of Reply.

LE, Imperial Commissioner of the Sovereign reigning in virtue of the True Decree of Heaven, &c., &c., &c., hereby issues a Notification :

Whereas the appointed period of the Tsing (Manchoo) dynasty having expired the true sacred Lord was sent into the world to save it.

And I, having been honoured with his command to perform the work of Heaven by punishing the crimes (of the rejected dynasty), have, from the time I rose in the cause of right in Kwang-se, never fought a battle without conquering, and never attacked a city without taking it.

A short time back, on our armies occupying Soochow, your countries once and again pressed us to come to Shanghai to discuss personally the various matters connected with foreign trade. Hence it was that after retaking Sing-Keang I came hither, not to seek a quarrel and to fight with foreign nations, but to offer them a treaty of open commerce.

And, on now perusing the communication of your countries, I am in the highest degree surprised at the extravagant perversity of its language.

I would submit to you that I, under the loyal Prince, have the general command of a large body of officers and of an innumerable army, and could have no difficulty in causing the instantaneous destruction of an insignificantly small city such as Shanghai. When I, therefore, come to the place, and station my troops motionless before it, it is really in a spirit of pure regard and of consideration for our common faith. Had I at once ordered a hostile advance, the members of the same house would have been turning against each other, and we could not have failed to incur the ridicule of the Tsing dynasty.

With the Tsing dynasty your nations have now a quarrel: you cannot have forgotten the battle at Tien-tsin. But our state, in at present carrying on a war, has no other object than to regain our own country. We are at enmity with the Tsing dynasty, but with foreign nations we have no quarrel.

Your countries attach much importance to open commerce and trade. Now the advantages to be obtained from us would be greater than those given by the Tsing dynasty, for, after the establishment of peaceful relations with us, unrestricted commerce might be carried on at all places without exception.

But the wild and fallacious nature of the communication which has reached us is such as renders it quite inexplicable. I must conclude that there is no consideration for the feeling that should make us of one mind, in virtue of our common religion, and that there is, it may be, an intention of seeking a quarrel.

For these reasons, I hereby issue a notification for the common information of the foreign nations (at Shanghai). If you desire to carry on open commerce, in accordance with an agreement, you can at once come and consult on the terms of an agreement. If, however, it is your wish to make difficulties and to engage in hostilities, then my troops move as a flood, my commands go forth unchangeable as the hills, and we can only await the time when victory and defeat declare themselves. I trust that you will not bring sorrow on yourselves.

An earnest notification.

The 14th day of the seventh month of the tenth year of the heavenly kingdom of Taeping.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage,” power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty’s Treasury, by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office.”

And whereas it is expedient that further regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers vested in us in and by the said recited Acts, and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows :

1. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom addressed to the Republic of Paraguay, or posted in the Republic of Paraguay addressed to the United Kingdom, and transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any place in the Republic of Paraguay, viâ Buenos Ayres, or any other port or place in the Argentine Confederation (the sea conveyance being by British packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken an uniform rate of British postage of one shilling.

2. On every letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight transmitted by the post between the Republic of Paraguay and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom viâ Buenos Ayres, or any other port or place in the Argentine Confederation (the sea conveyance between the United Kingdom and the Argentine Confederation being by British packet boat), there shall be charged and taken a British rate of postage of one shilling for the conveyance of every such letter between the Argentine Confederation and any part of the United Kingdom, and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port of the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and any such colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted from the said rate of one shilling the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. All such respective letters so transmitted as hereinbefore in this Warrant mentioned, if exceeding half an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned, that is to say :—

And on every such letter, exceeding two ounces and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional ounce in weight of any such letter above the weight of three ounces, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional ounce, shall be charged as an additional ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding half an ounce in weight.

4. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post, letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

5. The respective letters transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage, respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 9th day of February, 1855, relating to re-directed rates of postage upon letters which shall be re-directed and again forwarded by the post.

6. The rates of postage chargeable on letters transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

7. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any letters sent between the Republic of Paraguay and France, or sent otherwise than in closed mails between the Republic of Paraguay and any foreign country or British colony through France.

8. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning, in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty in Council was this day pleased, on a representation of the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order upon the petition of the Justices of the Peace for the county palatine of Lancaster, in general quarter sessions assembled, that the town of Warrington shall be an additional polling place for the southern division of the said county of Lancaster.

At the Court at Windsor, the 23rd day of

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve and ratify the scheme duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

For uniting prospectively the sinecure rectory of Saint Florence, in the county of Pembroke, and in the diocese of Saint David's, with the vicarage of Saint Florence, in the same county and diocese.

Also a representation as to the assignment of a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint Matthew, situate at West Newton, in the parish of Bromfield, in the county of Cumberland, and in the diocese of Carlisle, to be named "The District Chapelry of Saint Matthew, West Newton."

Also a scheme for authorizing the sale of certain property formerly belonging to the prebend of Netherbury in Terra, in the cathedral church of Salisbury, and now vested in the said Commissioners.

At the Court at Windsor, the 23rd day of November, 1860.

The QUEEN'S Most Exeellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churehyards and burial-grounds be postponed, as follows; viz.:

In the parish churehyard, HALIFAX, and in the burials-grounds of the Square Chapel, Holy Trinity Chureh, Salem Chapel, Sion Chapel, St. James's Church, and Hanover-street Chapel, all in Halifax, from the first of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, to the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one. In the churehyard of the parish of BISLEY, Gloucestershire, from the 31st of October to the thirty-first of Deeember, one thousand eight hundred and sixty. In the parish ehurehyard of EAST MOLESEY, in the county of Surrey, from the first of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one. In the parish ehurehyard of WANSTEAD, ESSEX, from the first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, to the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the eighth of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be forthwith discontinued (with eertain exeptions) in the parish ehurehyard and in the Independent Chapel Burial-ground, SAXMUNDHAM; and such Order was, on

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that, with the exception of now existing family vaults and graves, which can be opened without the exposure of human remains, burials be forthwith discontinued in all that part of the parish churchyard of SAXMUNDHAM lying on the south side of the church ; that, on the north side, burials be permitted, provided no human remains be exposed in opening the graves ; and that burials be continued in the Independent Chapel Burial-ground, SAXMUNDHAM, provided that, in opening the graves, no human remains be exposed.

and sixty-one, on condition that only one body be buried in each grave.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the twenty-first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, burials were directed to be discontinued in the MANCHESTER GENERAL CEMETERY AT HARPURHEY, with certain exceptions, and except so far as was compatible with certain regulations therein contained, and such Order was, on the twenty-second day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, varied, and it seems fit that the said Orders be varied ; now therefore Her Majesty by and with the advice of Her Privy Council is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that interments therein be forthwith discontinued, except in accordance with the official regulations for new burial-grounds, omitting Rules 3 and 6, on condition that a layer of earth, not less than a foot thick, be interposed between coffins buried in earthen graves ; and that on and after the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, the regulations for new burial-grounds be observed with the exception of Rule 3, with the above conditions as to burials in earthen graves.

At the Court at Windsor, the 23rd day of

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT
TO THE

LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 27, 1860.

War-Office, November 27, 1860.

MR. SECRETARY HERBERT has received Despatches with Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to him by Lieutenant-General Sir J. Hope Grant, G.C.B., Commanding the Forces in China :—

No. 46. Head Quarters, Chang-tsia-wan,
SIR, September 20, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to report that I left Tientsin on the 9th instant, with 700 infantry, 600 cavalry, and two batteries of artillery ; 3000 French troops followed, one march behind me ; and two days later Sir John Michel marched, with a regiment of cavalry, a 9-pounder battery, and the 2nd Infantry Brigade.

On the 13th instant I reached Hooseiwoo, 40 miles from Tientsin, and as several letters had been received by Lord Elgin from some fresh Commissioners of high rank, I halted whilst Messrs. Parkes and Wade went on to meet them at Tang-chow, 25 miles distant. On the 15th these gentlemen returned, having made satisfactory arrangements with the Chinese Commissioners, by which it was agreed that the Allied Forces should halt at Chang-tsia-wan, 5 miles short of Tang-chow, to which place the ambassadors should advance, with an escort, and sign the convention. On the 16th Sir J. Michel's force arrived, and on the 17th we encamped at Matow, 5 miles short of Chang-tsia-wan. The forces consisted of Lieutenant-Colonel Barry's Armstrong Battery, Captain Desborough's 9-pounders, Captain Stirling's 6-pounder battery, the cavalry brigade, and the 2nd and 4th infantry brigades; and 1200 French, with a light battery. From the above, however, three 6-pounders and the 60th Rifles had been left at Hooseiwoo, to hold that place, where I have a dépôt.

Mr. Parkes rode on to Tang-chow to arrange matters for Lord Elgin's reception, and to make sure of the agreement as to our advance, that a collision might not take place by inadvertence; it having been settled that the Chinese army should fall back from Chang-tsia-wan. Mr. Parkes was accompanied by an escort of Fane's Horse, under Lieutenant Anderson, and by Mr. Loch, private secretary to Lord Elgin. On my part I sent Lieutenant-Colonel Walker, A.Q.M.G., to fix the site of our camp with the Chinese authorities, and D.-A.-C.-Gen. Thompson to receive the promised supplies for the force.

At daybreak on the 18th, I marched, and, after going about four miles, I came in sight of a very large force of Chinese, both cavalry and infantry. Whilst halting to form up my force, Mr. Loch galloped in with three sowars, and informed me that, on going into Tang-chow, the previous day, they had found everything quiet on the road; the Commissioners had agreed to all Mr. Parkes' arrangements; and that, accordingly, leaving Lieutenant Anderson and his sowars at Tang-chow, Messrs. Parkes, Loch, Thompson, and Lieutenant-Colonel Walker, with five men of the King's Dragoon-Guards, had come out to meet us, and show us our camping ground, which was a mile and a-half south of Chang-tsia-wan.

On arrival at that spot, however, they found it occupied by a large Chinese army, whilst batteries had been hastily thrown up and armed, so as to flank the proposed site of our camp. From the commanding officer Mr. Parkes could obtain no satisfaction, so he started back to Tang-chow with an orderly of the King's Dragoon-Guards, to see the High Commissioner and ask the reason of this move. Mr. Loch came on to tell me of this, and Colonel Walker and Deputy Assistant Commissary-General Thompson remained on the ground with four men of the King's Dragoon-Guards and one sowar, where they were to await Mr. Parke's return.

It was only now that I learnt that Mr. De Norman, Attaché to Her Majesty's Legation, and Mr. Bowlby, correspondent of the Times newspaper, had gone to Tang-chow with Mr. Parkes and remained there with Lieutenant Anderson.

Mr. Loch volunteered to return with any orders, and Captain Brabazon Deputy Assistant Quarter-master-General, R.A., volunteered to accompany him.

They accordingly started, under a flag of truce, for Tang-chow, with my orders for Mr. Parkes, and the whole party to return at once to head quarters.

Meanwhile the Chinese cavalry advanced in great numbers, on both flanks, and their infantry poured down on our right front, which was enclosed ground and carefully entrenched. I was extremely anxious not to engage, for fear of compromising our officers, who were in their lines. I therefore covered both my flanks with cavalry and ordered the baggage to be hastened on, and massed on a village in our rear, where it could be defended by a small force. This latter operation occupied nearly two hours, during which time the enemy's cavalry had almost entirely surrounded our forces. Sufficient time had elapsed for all of our party to return from Tang-chow, and I became anxious for their safety, when suddenly a commotion appeared in the enemy's line. The guns and matchlock men in their centre opened fire, and Colonel Walker's party dashed out of the midst of their ranks. Colonel Walker reported that, whilst waiting for Mr. Parkes, a French officer joined him, who was suddenly set upon and cut down by a Chinese soldier, and, on his riding up to prevent his being murdered, his own sword was snatched from his scabbard, and some men tried to throw him off his horse. Seeing that it was a deliberate attempt to assassinate the whole of them Colonel Walker set spurs to his horse and galloped out with his party, under the fire of the Chinese line. One of his men was wounded and one horse, Mr. Thompson receiving a spear-thrust in his back; but they fortunately managed to reach our lines, their wounds not being severe. It was now useless to wait longer, and the attack was immediately formed. General de Montauban advanced to turn their left, and with him I sent a squadron of Fane's horse, under Lieutenant Cattley. On the centre the 9-pounder battery opened, supported by a squadron of King's Dragoon-guards, and part of the 99th regiment advanced up the road.

The Armstrong battery with the 15th Punjaub Infantry took ground to the left, whilst Sir John Michel, with the 1st Sikh Cavalry, three 6-pounder guns, and the 2nd (Queen's), made a wide flank movement on the extreme left, so as to turn the right of the enemy.

The action commenced simultaneously on all points, and it was now apparent that the Chinese had carefully prepared a very treacherous reception for our forces. An entrenchment, skilfully concealed by natural obstacles, extended on our right and left for several miles, and was armed with numerous guns.

Their cavalry hovered in large masses on our entire left flank, so that Sir J. Michel was unable to perform the flank movement that had been intended, until the 1st Sikh Cavalry had, by a brilliant charge, discomfited the Tartar Horse, and his force, advancing, had driven them back for some miles. Finding his position to be such, I caused the Armstrong battery and the 15th Punjaub Infantry to take ground still more to the left, and with them I turned the right of the enemy's entrenchment, who thereupon fled with considerable precipitancy. I then sent the Armstrong guns and the reserve cavalry to join Sir J. Michel, who, after making a circuit of six or seven miles, joined me in front of Chang-tsia-wan at a later hour. Meanwhile the French had turned the left by a very extended sweep, and were advancing steadily up, capturing many guns, whilst the 99th with the 9-pound battery joined me in the centre of the enemy's position. The 15th Punjaub Infantry pushing on with much spirit, captured several guns in the act of retiring, and eventually advanced through Chang-tsia-wan, taking several large camps on the outside. Here my force halted. The French being much exhausted by their extensive movement, had halted on the Chinese position.

The enormous extent of country covered by the enemy, who showed more than 20,000 men, did not permit me to use my force with as good effect as I might have done, as it was too small to allow of its being scattered. The loss of the enemy is estimated at 600 killed, whilst 75 guns fell into our hands.

The French force encountered chiefly infantry, who, on being driven back, were charged most gallantly by Lieut. Cattley's squadron, of whose conduct General de Montauban has written to me in the very highest terms.

The conduct of the rest of the troops was also most excellent; and I would more particularly mention the 15th Punjaub Infantry, commanded by Lieut. Randall, who, under my personal observation, advanced with great steadiness, and kept their position to the front throughout the day.

Mr. Wade went yesterday to Tang-chow to try and gather tidings of Mr. Parkes's party, but the Prefect denied all knowledge concerning them. A Chinaman, however, was brought in to-day, who states that he heard that upwards of twenty foreigners went after the fight to Peking. If this is true, we have every reason to hope for their ultimate safety.

I was compelled to leave a good force at Tientsin, lest the sudden withdrawal of so many troops should allow a disturbance to arise there. This in effect took place, but being judiciously met by Sir R. Napier, everything is again quiet there, and I have directed that officer to join me with two regiments of infantry, leaving two and a-half regiments, with two batteries of artillery under Brigadier Staveley, at Tientsin.

I have, &c.,

No. 47. Head Quarters, Camp near Tangchow,
 SIR, September 22, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to report, that after the action of the 18th instant, I remained in Changtsia-wan for two days, during which time the 1500 French troops left at Hooseiwoo joined us, and some convoys arrived in camp, together with intelligence of a flotilla of junks coming up the Peiho with further supplies. From reconnoissances on the 19th and 20th, we had ascertained that the Chinese army was encamped in very large numbers about four miles off, on the road between Tangchow and Peking, and on both sides of the canal which runs from the Peiho to the latter city.

At daybreak on the 21st I marched from Changtsia-wan, and parking the baggage in a village two miles in front, I was there joined by the French who advanced on the right. Soon after passing Tangchow the French troops got under fire of the Chinese works thrown up to protect a fine bridge crossing the canal, and on the Imperial high-road to Peking. At this point the enemy's infantry appeared in considerable force. On the left, the Tartar cavalry showed in large masses, and advanced rapidly until within 200 yards of our guns, which, hastily unlimbering, drove them off with a fire of canister, assisted by skirmishers thrown forward from the 2nd (Queen's). The Cavalry Brigade, which I had kept écheloned away on the left to guard that flank, was now moving up, and the enemy's cavalry driven away from the right by our fire, hung in large masses on our left front, affording an excellent opportunity for our cavalry to charge, which they promptly seized, the King's Dragoon Guards, under Lieutenant-Colonel Sayers, in particular inflicting a very heavy loss on the enemy. On their left Fane's Horse charged a similar body with great gallantry, whilst the 1st Sikh Cavalry, under Major Probyn, supporting Fane's Horse, effectually turned the right of the Chinese army.

The enemy, though defeated on the spot, yet still remained in front, in clouds of horsemen, who though constantly retiring from the advance of any party of our cavalry, however small, never allowed more than 1000 yards to intervene between us, and showed a steady and threatening front. At this time I had with me the cavalry, the 4th infantry brigade, and three Armstrong guns; the rest of the artillery, with the 2nd brigade, having been left in the centre, with directions to feel the French left. With the three Armstrong guns, under Capt. Rowley, we fired occasional single shots on their thickest masses. These shots, fired singly, at slow intervals, served admirably to illustrate the good qualities of the Armstrong gun; not one failed to strike the thick masses of the enemy, at once dispersing them from the spot.

Thus advancing, the cavalry was brought to a check by the fire of a camp, which was taken by the 99th regiment, under Major Dowbiggin, and which proved to be the head quarters of some of the Imperial princes. This, with several others in the neighbourhood, was burnt by our troops, and the Chinese army retired upon Peking.

We then rejoined our right, which had kept in line with the French, who had carried the bridge, inflicting much loss on the enemy.

Forty-three guns were taken during the action, and the loss of the Chinese was very severe. On the right and left were their heaviest losses, but all along the centre, small groups of dead showed the effect of the artillery fire, which had followed their movements till they finally retreated. Our loss is two killed and 29 wounded—chiefly slightly.

I should wish most particularly to bring to notice the very excellent service of the King's Dragoon Guards. The country is extremely unfavourable for cavalry at present, partly from the number of ditches, and partly on account of the crops of maize and millet having been recently cut, leaving sharp-pointed stubble, most injurious to horses, and rendering their rapid movement very difficult; their charge was however most effective, and they surmounted these obstacles in a most creditable manner.

THE following Despatches have been received at the Foreign-Office from Colonel St. George Foley, Her Majesty's Military Commissioner at the Head Quarters of the French Army in China.

No. 14. French Head Quarters,
Chang ken Wang,

MY LORD, September 20, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that General de Montauban, with the French army, accompanied by Baron Gros, arrived at Ho-see-

Woo on the 14th instant, where Lord Elgin and Sir Hope Grant had already established themselves.

On the 16th instant, it was agreed that both forces should march on the following day, en route for the encamping ground, about twenty-two miles off, five miles on this side of Tang-chow, where we expected to be amicably received and supplied with provisions.

Mr. Parkes, with some English and French staff officers, and a small escort of cavalry preceded us, to make the necessary arrangements for the requirements of the respective forces. We noticed nothing particular on the first day's march, except the absence of inhabitants in the different villages we passed through. On the second day, about half way, we were surprised to see a very large body of Tartar cavalry, numerous guns, and masses of infantry, drawn up as if intending to dispute our further passage. The halt was sounded and time given to concentrate all our baggage. The return of the officers from Tangchow was anxiously looked for, should treachery be intended. All doubt was soon dissipated by their firing upon Colonel Walker, who had escaped from their hands, after witnessing the murder of a French commissariat officer.

The order for attack was immediately given: the French to turn the enemy's left and the English to attack to the front.

The movement succeeded admirably, the Tartars being completely routed, with great loss, the French killing great numbers in the village on the left, the cavalry cutting them up, as they were driven out into the plain beyond.

The English occupied the town of Chang ken Wang, the French encamping on this side of it.

Lord Elgin arrived yesterday morning and Baron Gros in the evening.

Great anxiety prevails respecting the fate of Mr. Parkes, officers, and men, who still remain in the hands of the enemy. The generals-in-chief have written to threaten the capture of Pekin, should they be murdered or ill-used.

To-morrow we are to attack an entrenched camp, about three miles beyond Tang-chow.

Your Lordship will, I trust, excuse the shortness of detail in this despatch, owing to the little time I have had at my disposal, since the 18th, and the sudden departure of the mail.

I have, &c.,

Commissioner, French Head Quarters.

No. 15.

French Head Quarters,

MY LORD,

Pa Li Kao, Sept. 22, 1860.

THE mail having been detained, I have the honour to inform your Lordship, that the French and English forces attacked and captured the Tartar camps situated near the direct road to Pekin, on the banks of the canal which runs from Tangchow to Pekin.

The enemy met us in the open, their force composed of many thousand cavalry, large masses of infantry, and numerous guns. The Tartar cavalry charged up to within 100 yards of the guns and infantry, the fire from which drove them back. On the French left, the King's Dragoon Guards arrived just in time to charge and cut up a great number of them. The enemy, after much resistance, was gradually driven back to the canal, our artillery causing them great loss.

They made a last stand on the bridge crossing the canal, having ten guns placed there. The French 12 lb. guns soon silenced them, and the whole Tartar army retired towards Peking, leaving their camps in our possession.

Sir Hope Grant's force was engaged on our left at some distance off, and succeeded in inflicting great loss upon the enemy.

Singolinsin is said to have commanded in person. We captured upwards of 40 guns. Our loss was comparatively small, the exact detail of which has not yet been sent in. I am happy to say there is every reason to believe that the English and French officers, &c., detained prisoners by Singolinsin, have been sent to Peking.

Official letters have this morning arrived from Peking for Lord Elgin and Baron Gros.

The Commanders-in-chief propose stopping in our present encampment, about 11 miles from Peking, for some days, in order to receive reinforcements, ammunition, and supplies, the two latter to arrive in junks by the river Peiho, which has been found sufficiently deep for water communication.

I have, &c.,

Commissioner, French Head Quarters.

FROM THE
SECOND SUPPLEMENT
TO THE
LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 27, 1860.

Foreign-Office, November 27, 1860.

THE following Despatches and Enclosures were received at the Foreign-Office this day from the Earl of Elgin, Her Majesty's Envoy and Minister Plenipotentiary in China :

MY LORD, September 16, 1860.

ON the early morning of the day succeeding that on which I addressed to your Lordship my despatch of the 11th inst., from Yang-tsun, and when I was already on horseback, two white-buttoned Mandarins arrived in hot haste from the north, bearing with them a letter to me from Prince Tsai and his colleague, the translation of which is the first of the documents herewith enclosed. This communication, as your Lordship will observe, was somewhat defiant in its tone. The writers expressed surprise at my having started with a force from Tientsin, in spite of their letter of the previous day, which letter had not however reached me until two days after my departure from that place ; and required me to return thither in terms slightly imperious. It appeared to me that the proper way of dealing with such a communication was to take no notice of it whatever, and accordingly, without making any reply to it, I accompanied the advancing column of the army to Nan-tsie-tsun, a village which had been already fixed upon as the limit of that day's march, and which was about eight miles beyond Yang-tsun.

At about 7 o'clock in the evening a further communication from the same personages reached me at our new halting place. Its translation forms the second enclosure of this despatch. It purports to be a reply to my communication to them, of which the copy was sent to your Lordship in my despatch referred to above. Both in letter and in spirit it is more modest than that which I had received from them only twelve hours before. It concedes unconditionally, almost all the points in controversy between us. A strong desire is expressed that the British army may not be permitted to go beyond Ho-seewao, a village one day's march in advance of Nan-tsie-tsun, and this request is accompanied by the somewhat ingenuous remark, that, if halted there, it will still be sufficiently near to be called into play, should any hitch occur in the conduct of negotiations.

Before replying to this communication, which could not manifestly be treated with the same disregard as its predecessor, I addressed to Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant a letter, the copy of which, together with a copy of his reply, forms enclosure 3 of this despatch ; with the view of ascertaining whether or not we were in a position to continue, without interruption, our hostile advance on Tung-chow. If the answer to this enquiry had been in the affirmative, I might perhaps have deemed it expedient to decline to listen to any overtures from the Chinese Plenipotentiaries until I should have been either under or within the walls of that city. When I learnt, however, that in the judgment of the Commander-in-Chief, it would be necessary, before undertaking a march which might end in the assault of Tung-chow, to create a large depôt of stores at Ho-see-wao, and to bring up heavy guns, operations which would occupy from 8 to 10 days at the least, and which might perhaps involve a much more considerable expenditure of time, I resolved, with his entire consent and concurrence, to make a communication to the Chinese Plenipotentiaries, which might perhaps have the effect of bringing matters to a speedier issue, and enable us to avoid delays, which at this season of the year, and in the present low state of the river, are not unattended with hazard. I may add, that I do not think I could possibly, for the space of ten days or a fortnight, during which the General would have been engaged in concentrating a large army at Ho-se-wao, have turned a deaf ear to such overtures as Prince Tsai and his colleague were making, without justifying the belief that the avowed object of our march on Peking was not the real one, and that while we professed to be enforcing the stipulations of a treaty, we were, in point of fact, bent on the conquest of the empire. A desperate attempt to resist, involving probably an appeal to the patriotism of the populations in our rear, or a speedy flight into Tartary, would have been the only alternative open to the Emperor and his advisers, if this conviction had obtained possession of their minds.

The communication which, under these circumstances, I determined to address to the Chinese Plenipotentiaries, was in substance to the effect that the British Army would continue its advance on Tung-chow, crushing all opposition which it might encounter. But that if the Chinese authorities gave me the securities for their good conduct which I required, I would cause it to halt at a point within an easy stage of that city, and proceed from there with an escort of 1,000 men to Tung-chow, for the signature of the Convention, and to Peking, for the exchange of the ratifications of the treaty of Tientsin. I embodied these conditions in a letter which I entrusted to Messrs. Wade and Parkes for delivery, recommending them at the same time to endeavour, if possible, to obtain a personal interview with the Prince and his colleague, as I thought that what they might say verbally, in explanation of our real views and objects in China on such an occasion, when for the first time a functionary of the highest authority was about to come into contact with us, would be likely to produce a much more salutary effect than anything which I could write. For reasons which they explained on their return, and which were perfectly satisfactory to me, these gentlemen eventually decided not to deliver my letter. But they obtained access to the Prince and his colleague, and conducted all the other duties of their important and somewhat hazardous mission with a courage and ability which does them the greatest honour.

A letter to me from Mr. Wade narrating briefly the principal incidents of this mission, the translation of a communication from Prince 'Tsai and his colleague, which crossed them on their way, and of a further communication from the same persons which Messrs. Wade and Parkes brought back with them from Tung-chow, form enclosures 4, 5, 6, of this despatch.

On their return, I put Baron Gros and Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant in possession of the information which they had gathered during their mission, and the following plan of proceeding was, after deliberation, agreed on. The Commanders-in-Chief resolved to proceed on Monday, the 17th instant, from Ho-see-wao, to the point at which it had been arranged that the bulk of the allied army should halt, and which it was understood would be reached in two days' march; at the same time, or rather before the departure of the army, Mr. Parkes undertook to start from Tung-chow, accompanied by some of the gentlemen of my suite, who were to proceed thither for the purpose of making preparations for the reception of the Embassy to that place, and to procure for us the means of transport in which we were sadly deficient. Sir Hope Grant also determined to take advantage of Mr. Parkes's return to Tung-chow, to send with him officers of the Quartermaster-General's department, and of the Commissariat, and to furnish an escort for the protection of the whole party.

The French Ambassador, and Commander-in-Chief resolved, on their side, to adopt somewhat similar measures.

The last enclosure of this despatch is the copy of a letter, which I requested Mr. Parkes to deliver to the Prince Tsai and his colleague, on his arrival at Tung-chow. It informs them that I agree substantially to the terms for effecting a pacific settlement of our pending differences with China, which they had been induced by Messrs. Wade and Parkes to offer. I required, however, that a proclamation should immediately be issued to apprise the people that it was at the request of the Chinese Commissioners themselves, that the British Army halted at the place fixed upon, and I added that I would come under no obligation to withdraw it from this advanced position, until I should have been satisfied that the Chinese Government had resolved to keep its Treaty engagements. I also adverted in this communication to the fact, that I was the bearer of a letter from Her Majesty to the Emperor of China, which I should desire to deliver on my arrival at Peking.

I have, &c.,

ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

Enclosure 1.

Received September 12, 1860, 6 a.m.

TSAI, Prince of S. &c., and Muh, President of the Board of War, &c., Imperial Commissioners, make a communication :—

The Prince and his colleague, having had the great honor to receive His Majesty the Emperor's gracious commands to proceed as Ministers Plenipotentiary* to Tientsing, and there in conference with his Excellency the British Minister definitively settle the form in which the stipulations accorded were to be arranged, addressed a despatch to that effect to his Excellency the British Minister, upon the 25th inst., (10th Sept.) Presuming that his Excellency cannot fail to have informed himself of these facts, they are, indeed, astonished to learn that his Excellency has, notwithstanding, again arrayed his troops, and is moving forward from Tientsing.

The purpose of his Excellency's Government being relations of friendship to endure for ever with the Government of China, is this hostile movement (literally, array of troops) reasonable?

* Our term not the usual Chinese equivalent.

If a hostile movement be necessary, then friendly relations do not exist ; in view of these circumstances, it appears to the Prince and his colleague, that it would be inexpedient, on their part, to hurry forward without further deliberation, and it becomes their duty to request his Excellency the British Minister to send back to their quarters in Tientsing, the whole force he has brought thence with him, thereby to show that he has no feeling of animosity, and to put it in some degree in the power of the Prince and his colleague, to proceed to Tientsing, and in conference with him dispose of whatever there is to be deliberated about ; such being the course (consistent with professions) of eternal friendship.

They would add, that if what is required, is the execution of the treaty now concluded, without any additions extraordinary, they are not like the Chief Minister Kweiliang,* they will assuredly not eat their words.

But if the British Minister insists on advancing with a force, if he will not send back his troops, it is plain that he is not earnest in his desire for friendly relations. The troops of Government hold positions throughout the neighbourhood of Ho-see-wao, and if there should be any misunderstanding between them and the others, the negotiations of peace will be seriously prejudiced by it ; nor is it possible for the Prince and his colleague to interfere. They can only hope that His Excellency will think over what has been stated. They are already at Matan,† where they will wait until his Excellency write a reply to say that his troops are returned to Tientsing ; that thereupon they may proceed to Tientsing.

Enclosure 2.

*Received at Nau-tsai-tsun,
September 13, 1860, 7 p.m.*

TSAI, Prince of S, and Muh, President of the Board of War, &c., &c., Imperial Commissioners, make a communication in reply.

On the morning of the 7th day of the present moon (12th September), the Prince and the Minister his colleague, received a despatch from his Excellency the British Minister, in which he states that "he had never desired any other than a pacific solution of the present question." These words, which prove his Excellency is sincere in his desire for friendly relations, are most gratifying to the Imperial Commissioners. His Excellency proceeds to say, "that it was only because Kweiliang showed himself unable to sign the Convention immediately that his Excellency had felt it his duty, in order to prevent further loss of time, to move to some place nearer [the capital]; and had accordingly resolved to proceed to Tungchow."

The Prince and his colleague have had the honour to be appointed, by the gracious commands of His Majesty the Emperor, Special Plenipotentiaries for the negotiations of peace. They have reached Matan, where it had been their intention to wait until the forces of the British Minister should be withdrawn to Tientsing, and then to proceed to Tientsing and there sign the Treaty (the Convention?) as originally considered, and so bring the question to a pacific termination, that no further time might be lost. His Excellency, fearing a further loss of time, adheres to his intention to proceed to Tung-chow; and seeing that if the Prince and his colleague were to return thither now that they have reached Matan, this moving back and forward would occasion a further postponement of the day [of signature], it would be best [they think] that there should be a conference between the parties. If, therefore, the British Minister will retire his forces to Tientsing, the Prince and his colleague will have it in their power to repair at once to Tientsing for a conference for the consideration and dispatch of business. But if his Excellency be apprehensive that time will be wasted by these movements to and fro, there would be no objection whatever to his halting his force at Yung-tsun, and selecting some place midway [between that town and Matan] near enough to suit his convenience, at which business might be discussed and disposed of. Let his Excellency decide whether it shall be Ho-seewao or Ngan Ping, and inform the Prince and his colleagues which he chooses, and they, on receipt of his reply, will name a day for a conference, and having then at whatever spot within reach [he shall name] or without travelling further, concluded a Treaty [containing] the propositions originally brought forward, seal it and sign it. Thus, assuredly, there will be no delay, if negotiations should not run smoothly, what difficulty would his Excellency have in recommencing his march upon Tung-chow. It would never be too late.

His Excellency is requested to reply with all speed. The Prince and his colleague will make a point of awaiting his reply to shape their course.

They have to add that on receiving their special commission to come forward and negotiate peace, they set out in such haste that it is impossible that there should be perfect uniformity in the paper, seals, &c., which they use ; but let this occasion no doubt or apprehension to his Excellency.

A necessary communication addressed to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin.

Enclosure 3A.

Ngau-tsai-tsun,

SIR,

September 12, 1860.

IN my despatch of the 8th instant, I informed your Excellency that I considered it to be my duty in consequence of the want of good faith shewn by the Imperial Commissioner, Kweiliang, to intimate to him that I should call on your Excellency to convey me to Tung-chow, and that I should not conclude any treaty with the Chinese Government until I had reached that place.

Since I left Tientsing I have been apprised of the nomination of new Imperial Commissioners of very high rank and official standing. These Commissioners assure me that they hold powers from the Emperor of the most certain character, and invite me to confer with them at some point near to this place.

Before I answer this, I should be glad to learn from your Excellency, whether there are any mili-

Enclosure 4.

Pa-li-chiao,

MY LORD,

September 23, 1860.

IT had been of course the intention of Mr. Parkes and myself to report formally to your Excellency the result of our expedition to Tung-chow, and the evening before Mr. Parkes left Ho-si-cou, we carefully went over the whole ground together. From our joint recollection of what took place, aided by some rough notes made during our interview with the Commissioners by Mr. Parkes, I prepared a memorandum of considerable dimensions. This was to have been put into shape and signed by us both, but my own movements, as your Excellency is aware, have been such as to render its redaction impossible, and I must, therefore, limit myself to a précis of the paper, trusting that ere the departure of next mail I shall be able to present it to you with Mr. Parkes's signature.

We reached Tung-chow about noon on the 14th, not having spent the night at Ma-tan, the village at which your Excellency had expected we should find the Imperial Commissioners Tsai and Muh. Ma-tan is a most wretched place, and the Commissioners had left it, I presume, on hearing of our advance to Ho-si-cou.

Along the road to Tung-chow we saw sufficient evidence of the neighbourhood of a large force, but none of the works or batteries found by the Allied Force on the 18th instant.

We reached the city about noon and took up our abode in the yamun of the chief civilian, and about 4 o'clock proceeded to the Temple outside the east gate, in which the Commissioners were waiting our arrival. Our approach had been announced the evening before from Ma-tan.

We were shown into a side room, and the Commissioners almost immediately followed. The Prince Tsai (I tsin-wang) is a tall dignified man with an intelligent countenance, though a somewhat unpleasant eye. Muh-yin, the President of the Board of War, softer and more wily in his manner, but also intelligent. Both were extremely polite, the Prince especially, and without condescension or affectation.

The Commissioners relieved us of the necessity of producing our letter of credence, by requesting to be informed what had dissatisfied your Excellency, to whom they had written once and again. We said that your Excellency found difficulty in deciding whom to trust as representative of the Chinese Government, or by what forms it would consider itself bound, and in explanation, we reviewed briefly the history of our intercourse for the last three years. The Prince deprecated allusion to the past; defended Kweiliang as very old and infirm, and insisted on the guarantee afforded by his own high rank for the validity of any engagements he might accept for his Government. We contended that reference to the past was unhappily inevitable, and closing with what he advanced in support of his own superiority as Imperial Representative, we endeavoured to draw from him what authority he would be able to produce to your Excellency for his exercise of the Plenipotentiary powers assumed by Kweiliang.

He denied that the formula employed by Kweiliang was Chinese. We cited the Decrees of 1842 and 1858, and after much discussion on the nature and object of powers, and in particular upon the national obligations arising out of contracts signed by Plenipotentiary Ministers, the Prince having first declared that what he signed would be as though the Emperor signed it, agreed to procure such a Decree as would correspond to our definition of the powers required.

This obtained, he wished to know what would he be required to sign? We assumed that he knew what had passed at Tien-tsing. He ignored the Convention altogether, although in two of his despatches already written, he had promised to sign it. I reminded him of this, and produced a copy of the Convention which I had in my pocket. He read it rapidly, remarking at first, that if he could promise all the rest, he could not promise the payment demanded within two months at Tien-tsing, if the money were not forthcoming, we should be charging China with another breach of faith; could we not promise to make the terms five months? Of course we could promise nothing. Then he could not promise anything till he had conferred with your Excellency.

I think he here rose and left the room, Muh-yin meanwhile perused the draft, and although he had professed difficulty in understanding our Chinese, and had even affected a little deafness, he showed himself well up in all that had just passed, and, indeed, in all the questions at issue.

Presently, the Prince returning, Mr. Parkes asked him whether he would point out any other articles to which he took exception, and he then objected to the disposition of the troops, the residence of Her Majesty's minister at Peking, the payment of indemnity, the opening of Tien-tsing to trade, and lastly, though this was not in the Convention, to the escort which he had heard was to accompany your Excellency.

All this, however, with little show of earnestness; the old arguments against our coming north at all, the climate, the disposition of the people, &c., were urged, but not as if it was expected they would influence us. After a vast deal of desultory debate, however, we arrived at the following position :—

We explained that your Excellency having declared your intention not to sign the Convention elsewhere than at Tung-chow, would infallibly come to that city for that purpose ; that it would make no difference to your Excellency whether you came with the large force now on its way from Tien-tsing or the escort originally mentioned to Kweiliang ; but that your Excellency, assuming that it would make every difference to the Chinese Government, had sent us to wait on the Prince and his colleague for the purpose of impressing upon them the conditions on which the advance of the force upon Tung-chow might be stayed. We were come simply as witnesses to your Excellency's desire for a pacific termination of the present misunderstanding, should it be possible, but we were not authorized to promise any abatement of the demands already known to the Chinese Government ; indeed it was rather to be assumed from what had passed since our arrival at Peh-tang, that further postponement of the satisfaction of these would but lead to the addition of others ; the most we could undertake to say was that, if we were enabled to report to your Excellency that the Commissioners were ready to sign the Convention, to produce the necessary powers, and to furnish some adequate guarantee for the adherence of the Chinese Government to the engagements he was to contract for it, the British force would not advance beyond a camping ground to be selected to the south of Chang-kia-wan, an old town of some substance about four miles south of Tung-chow. We had already had a long conversation upon the character of the escort which was to be sent with your Excellency, and the readiness with which we admitted the perfect right of the Chinese Commissioners to be attended by an escort of equal strength, or if they wished it of greater strength, had disposed of that difficulty. The greatest opposition was now offered by the Prince to our proposal to encamp near Chang-kia-wan. Indeed, more than once he seemed determined to run all risks rather than concede this point. A distance of five li, say a mile and a half, he at last admitted would suffice, and I withdrew to another room to prepare a draft of the letter to be written by the Commissioners to your Excellency.

The difficulty in this was the guarantee for the future. The Prince again appealed to his position in the Empire, repeating that what he signed was as though the Emperor signed it, &c.; and after a little discussion as to how he should state this, the declaration as it now stands was agreed to.

During my absence the Prince had been in conversation with Mr. Parkes, who, in answer to one of the general expressions of a hope that henceforth friendly relations would continue uninterrupted, had remarked that an increase of intercourse would doubtless make us better friends, and that he rejoiced in the prospect of an acquaintance between the representatives of foreign Governments and the three Princes. Your Excellency will bear in mind that from all we have ever been given to understand the actual Government of the country is in the hands of Prince Hwui, the Prince of Ching, and the Prince of I, to whom Mr. Parkes was speaking. He started at the words the three Princes; by whom, added Mr. Parkes, we have been much misunderstood; and he immediately rejoined:—Not by them alone, but also by (writing the character with his forefinger in the air, à la Chinoise), the Han (Chinese). He then rose, went round the table, and again whispered the word Han. They then became very friendly, and in answer to Mr. Parkes's assurance that our real wish had ever been to do the country service, the Prince at once suggested that we might help them much in supplying the capital with grain; hinting at the same time that we should not, he hoped, attempt to make too great a profit upon it. He then tried to sound Mr. Parkes upon the question of co-operation against rebels, but finding him avoid this question, returned to the grain supply.

My return with the draft put an end to the conversation, and as soon as it had received its final correction, it was sent to be copied. We did not wait for it, as the Commissioners' seal was at their residence in the city; and as it was now well past midnight, we took our leave, very weary of an interview which had lasted upwards of eight hours.

The earnestness, and even vehemence with which the Prince had discussed, first the question of powers, and lastly the position of the force, induced us both to believe that his surrender at last was bonâ fide for the purpose of preventing further hostilities. I think so still; the deep sighs with which Muh-yin perused the despatch we were to carry away, may have had other causes, but they appeared to me at the time not unfavourable symptoms.

The expected letter arrived shortly after us, at our lodgings, and at five o'clock we started for Ho-see-wao. South of Changkiawan we observed numerous cavalry videttes, but no large body, and none of the works upon which our force came two days later. In the neighbourhood of Matan, long lines of a very wretched cavalry presented themselves in parade order. The officers to whom we spoke enquired eagerly if there was a prospect of peace, and the following day were withdrawn throughout the country in question. Mr. Parkes, who had occasion to accompany a civil Mandarin, who had been waiting our return beyond our lines, is my authority for this statement. I think it worth mention, that a prisoner taken on the 21st, in the course of conversation, volunteered the remark that the fighting was all the doing of Sanko-linsin, who was as anxious for it as the Prince Tsai was opposed to it. This accords with other reports.

In the absence of Mr. Parkes, I may be permitted to state that, as on all similar occasions, the greater part of the work of discussion and persuasion fell to his share. His name was evidently well known to the Commissioners, and they treated what fell from him with particular attention.

I have, &c.,

Chinese Secretary.

Received September 14, 1860.

TSAI, Prince of S., and Muh-yin, President of the Board of War, Imperial Commissioners, make a communication:

The Prince and his colleague addressed a communication to his Excellency, the British Minister, on the 26th instant, (12th September), and a reply to a communication received from his Excellency on the 27th instant, (13th September,) and being aware that both despatches have been received by his Excellency, they are really at a loss to understand why he has not replied to them.

The Prince and his colleague having been sent from the capital, by His Majesty's commands, for the purpose of negotiating peace with the British, their sole desire was to meet his Excellency, and in person effect with him a restoration of friendly relations; but the garrisons stationed north of Ho-see-wao are under the command of the high officers in charge of the force; the Prince and his colleague have nothing to say to them; and were the troops accompanying his Excellency, which they understand have reached Ho-see-wao, to advance so far as to come in contact with these garrisons, the inevitable consequence would be a misunderstanding between the two bodies, which would disappoint the hope, strong as it is entertained by the Prince and his colleague, that friendly relations may be firmly established; a consequence seriously to be deplored.

In the British Minister's reply of the 26th instant, he stated that his only object was to proceed to Tung-chow; the Prince and his colleague have really no object to baulk his Excellency's worthy purpose; and they now engage, that if he will station his force at Yang-tsun-tsai-tsun and Ho-see-wao, without making further movement onward, and will then meet the Prince and his colleague according to the article proposed by him at Tientsing, on the subject of his admission into Peking, with a small suite unarmed, the Convention, they promise, shall be concluded, sealed, and signed; and this done, a day chosen for his Excellency's entry into Peking for the purpose of exchanging the ratifications, that no further time may be lost.

The carriages and other vehicles required by his Excellency shall be provided by the local authorities, and shall be sent forward as soon as the number of his suite shall have been stated. Orders shall at the same time be given to the military authorities to furnish an escort; and the Prince and his colleague will write to the high officer commanding the forces to explain to the troops in peremptory terms, that there is to be no alarm or unruly conduct. Thus will his Excellency be enabled to advance with all speed.

The Prince and his colleague can further desire, that the local authorities supply the British force with everything it may require at the points at which it is stationed.

If matters can be arranged in this sense, the Prince and his colleague may be more or less spared the disappointment of their desire for the establishment of friendly relations. They assume that his Excellency entertains a corresponding desire, and they trust that he will have the goodness to reply to them as soon as possible.

Enclosure 6.

THE Imperial Commissioners Tsai, Prince of S., and Muh, President of the Board of War, make the following communication.

His Excellency the Ambassador having sent his secretaries, Messrs. Wade and Parkes, to Tungchow, the Prince and his colleague were informed by them on their arrival here to-day of all those points upon which the Ambassador insists, and there is no one of these which is not now thoroughly understood by the Prince and his colleague.

On the subject of the powers which are to be produced by the Plenipotentiaries on both sides when they meet at Tung-chow for the discussion of business, the Prince and his colleague have no difficulty in engaging, that the necessary Imperial edict shall be forthcoming on their part.

To the enquiry made on behalf of the Ambassador as to what security can be given for the faithful execution of the engagements now entered into, the Prince and his colleague have to reply, that no comparison can be drawn between the authority vested in them and that held by other Ministers who may have been charged with negotiations, and that this fact affords a positive assurance of the future observance of good faith on the part of their Government.

The Prince and his colleague having further been called upon to state, whether they can engage to conclude and sign a Convention identical in every respect with that recently communicated to the Minister Kweiliang; and this effected, that the Treaty of 1858 shall be exchanged in Peking—they willingly undertake the performance of both these stipulations.

The Prince and his colleague having thus accepted the above conditions without exception, have now to express an urgent wish that his Excellency the Ambassador will not bring up the main body of the British forces to Tung-chow, but will limit his escort to about one thousand men; also, that the former shall not occupy any position nearer than five li from the town of Chang-kea-wan.* They have further to urge, that the English forces shall make no onward movement after the Convention shall have been sealed and signed, and that this being done, they shall be withdrawn at an early date.

* Chang-kea-wan is 12 li (or rather less than 4 miles) from the south face of Tung-chow—the distance alluded to will therefore be about 5 miles from the latter city.—H. S. P.

A necessary communication to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, &c.

Dated Hienfung, 18th year, 7th month, 29th day (14th September, 1860).

Enclosure 7.

Ho-se-wu, September 16, 1860.

THE undersigned, &c., &c., has received a despatch from their Excellencies the Imperial Commissioners, Prince of Tsai, and Muh, President of the Board of War, under date the 13th instant, the despatch of their Excellencies of the 14th instant, brought back by his Secretaries from Tung-chow, has also reached him.

In reply the undersigned has the honour to state that he is willing, if all the conditions specified below be faithfully carried out, to stipulate that the main body of the British Force shall not advance beyond five li on this side of Chang-kia-wan. It will commence its march towards that place to-morrow, and it will commit no hostile act upon the route, unless it encounters opposition.

In order, however, to prevent misunderstanding it will be well that their Excellencies should cause a proclamation to be forthwith issued to the effect, that as peace negotiations are on foot, and as the British Ambassador and Commander-in-Chief have agreed in compliance with the request of their Excellencies that the main body of the British force shall halt at the point in question, the people should at once return to their homes, uncloseth their shops, and reopen their markets. This is essential for the protection of the people themselves. All supplies required by the troops will be punctually paid for, if they be offered for sale, but the country will infallibly be scoured to obtain them if no markets be opened.

When the proclamation above referred to shall have been issued, and all necessary preparations shall have been made at Tung-chow for his reception, the undersigned will proceed to Tung-chow with an escort of about one thousand men, and having there signed the Convention, will go on accompanied by the same escort to the capital, there to exchange the ratifications of the Treaty of Tientsing, and to present to His Majesty the Emperor the autograph letter with which he has had the honour to be charged by Her Majesty the Queen of England.

After these several acts shall have been performed, it is the intention of the undersigned to take steps without delay for withdrawing the British troops from the vicinity of the capital, and placing them in the positions specified in Article VII. of the Convention. But he must remind their Excellencies, that by their own admission he has been twice deceived by functionaries professing to hold from the Emperor of China full powers to enter into treaty engagements with him. Whether, therefore, he can be able to give effect to that intention sooner or later, will depend mainly on the evidence which the Chinese Government shall furnish of its determination to carry out faithfully all the Articles of the Treaty of 1858, and of the Convention about to be concluded at Tung-chow.

MY LORD,

IN my despatch of the 16th instant, I did myself the honor to submit for your Lordship's information a statement of the incidents which had occurred here between the 11th instant, when the first communication from Prince Tsai and his colleague reached me at that date. I now proceed to narrate what has taken place subsequently.

The arrangements detailed at the close of my despatch above-mentioned, as having been determined on after the return of Messrs. Wade and Parkes from Tung-chow, were exactly carried out. Mr. Parkes started for that place at a very early hour on Monday the 17th instant, accompanied by Colonel Walker, Quartermaster-General of the Cavalry Brigade, Mr. Thomson of the Commissariat Department, Mr. Loch, my private Secretary, Mr. De Normann, one of Mr. Bruce's attachés, who volunteered to go with him to assist him, and Mr. Boulby, and escorted by five men of the King's Dragoon Guards and 20 of Fane's Horse under the command of Lieutenant Anderson. The allied force and the Commanders-in-Chief commenced their march somewhat later. I received no communication from either during the course of that day. On the following morning, however, at about 10 a.m. the sound of artillery was heard in the distance, and at noon a Seikh trooper arrived from Sir Hope Grant's camp. He brought me a letter from Mr. Parkes, but no news from the camp, except the verbal report that a brisk cannonade had commenced half an hour after he left it.

Mr. Parkes in his letter informed me that the Commissioners had raised the three following objections to my despatch to them of which he had been the bearer:—

1st. To the indefinite date assigned for the withdrawal of our troops which they contended should take place immediately after the signature of the Convention;—2nd, to my proceeding to Peking with an escort, or at least with an escort equal to that which I had stated would accompany me to Tung-chow; and thirdly to the delivery of Her Majesty's letter to the Emperor at an audience. It was on this last objection that they chiefly insisted. I do not enclose the copy of Mr. Parkes's letter as it was marked private, but the closing sentences are so characteristic that I beg leave to quote them. He dates it at 4.30 a.m. from Tung-chow, which is six miles from the proposed place of the encampment of the army, four miles from Chan-kia-wan, and twenty-four miles from Ho-se-wao, where I was residing, and he writes, "I am now starting with Colonel Walker and a Chinese officer to attempt the arrangement of the first of these points (the camping ground for the army). I then go to Chan-kia-wan to start supply work (also for the army), then come back to Tung-chow to get out the proclamation, upon which block cutters have been at work during the night, and if time and physical strength will then admit I shall ride back in the evening to Ho-se-wao that I may know your Lordship's views on the question of audience, which the Chinese authorities will, I am sure, again recur to the moment they see me."

At about half an hour after midnight, I received a letter from Sir Hope Grant, describing the circumstances which led to the engagement of the 18th, its successful issue, and inquiring how I considered the negotiations in which I was engaged for the re-establishment of peace, to be affected by this incident. The General's letter was in pencil, and I cannot now furnish a copy of it. But I enclose a copy of my reply, which I despatched at 4 a.m., of the 19th instant, to the head-quarters of the Commander-in-Chief, by the hands of my Military Secretary, Lieutenant-Colonel Crealock. I followed myself at 5 a.m., as I thought that the detention of Mr. Parkes and the others who were with him, might give rise to questions, in the determination of which I should take my share of responsibility.

I found that Sir Hope Grant had established his head-quarters at Chan-kia-wan, and soon after my arrival there, we proceeded together to the residence of the French Commander-in-Chief, in order that we might confer with his Excellency as to the best means of recovering the subjects of Her Majesty and of the Emperor of the French who were missing.

It was agreed that a reconnoissance of British cavalry should proceed forthwith to Tung-chow, and that Mr. Wade should accompany it with a notification to the chief Mandarin of that city to the effect that the Commanders-in-Chief of the Allied Armies required all English and French subjects to return to the head-quarters of their respective armies, and that if any impediment was put in the way of their return, the city of Pekin would forthwith be attacked and taken. It was added that Tung-chow would not be molested if the inhabitants kept aloof from all resistance to the Allies. Mr. Wade, in the execution of this mission, endeavoured, in the first place, to communicate with a Tartar camp situated on the Pekin side of the city of Tung-chow. But he could get no one to acknowledge his flag of truce, and was fired at more than once. He succeeded, however, at length in obtaining access to the chief Mandarin of Tung-chow, who spoke of our countrymen who had been in the city, with great calmness, saying that he believed a party of upwards of twenty had left it some time before the firing on the 18th had commenced. This conversation left on my mind the painful impression that on their way back to the camp, they had been cut down by the Tartar army in its retreat, an impression which the fact that we had received no communication from the Chinese authorities after the defeat of their army on that day tended to confirm. In a further reconnaissance, however, which was made by Major Probyn on the day following, an intelligent native was captured, who afforded us some relief by assuring us he had seen some of our countrymen proceeding in a cart to Peking. No communication was however received from any Chinese authority respecting the fate of these persons, and the Commanders-in-Chief, with great propriety, as it appears to me, resolved to prosecute their movement in advance. On the 21st instant, accordingly, a large body of Tartar troops on the road from Tung-chow to Peking was attacked and dispersed, and their camps which covered a space of several miles were taken and destroyed.

On the morning of the day following, I received a communication from the brother of the Emperor, informing me that, in consequence of the mismanagement of affairs by the Prince Tsai, and Muh, he had been appointed Imperial Commissioner to treat with me, and proposing an armistice with a view to the re-establishment of peace. I answered by referring them to the Notification which had been already delivered to the chief mandarin of Tung-chow, in the name of the Commanders-in-Chief, and informing them that, until the British subjects detained in Peking were restored, I could not take any steps to stay military operations. I enclose herewith the copy of this correspondence.

I may be expected to say something respecting the origin and cause of the renewal of hostilities which took place on the 18th instant. To hazard conjectures as to the motives by which Chinese functionaries are actuated is not a very safe undertaking; and it is very possible that further information may modify the views which I now entertain on this point. I am, however, disposed at present to doubt there having been a deliberate intention of treachery on the part of Prince Tsai and his colleague, but I apprehend that the General-in-Chief, Sang-ko-lin-sin, thought that they had compromised his military position by allowing our army to establish itself so near his lines at Chan-kia-wan. He sought to counteract the evil effect of this by making a great swagger of parade and preparation to resist, when the allied armies approached the camping-ground allotted to them. Several of our people, Colonel Walker, with his escort, my private secretary Mr. Loch, Baron Gros' Secretary of Embassy Comte de Bastard, and others, passed through the Tartar army during the course of the morning on their way from Tung-chow without encountering any rudeness or ill-treatment whatsoever. At about a quarter to 10, however, a French Commissariat officer was assaulted by some Tartar soldiers under circumstances which are not very clearly ascertained, and this incident gave rise to an engagement, which soon became general. On the whole, I come to the conclusion that in the proceedings of the Chinese Plenipotentiaries and Commander-in-Chief in this instance, there was that mixture of stupidity, want of straightforwardness, suspicion, and bluster which characterises so generally the conduct of affairs in this country, but I cannot believe that after the experience which Sang-ko-lin-sin had already had of our superiority in the field, either he or his civil colleagues could have intended to bring on a conflict in which, as the event has proved, he was so sure to be worsted. At the same time, the facts that he covered by his guns, and with a portion of his troops, the ground assigned to us, and that a French officer, returning from Tung-chow with the knowledge and consent of the Chinese Plenipotentiaries, was assaulted and killed on his lines, entirely justify both the charge of bad faith which has been brought against the Chinese authorities for their conduct in this instance, and the proceedings of the Allied Commanders-in-Chief which have ensued therefrom.

Enclosure 1.

Ho-se-wu, September 19, 1860.

MY DEAR GENERAL,

3½ A.M.

I RECEIVED your letter at midnight.

The bad faith of the Chinese releases us, in my opinion, from any obligation to restrict our advance, and leaves us free to move forward if we deem it expedient to do so.

I think moreover that the safety of Mr. Parkes, and of those who are with him, will be best consulted by a forward movement on your part, but you may probably have received information ere this reaches you, which will enable you to arrive at a sounder judgment than I can on that point.

As far as I am concerned therefore you are perfectly free to go on. Indeed I shall be glad to hear that you have done so.

If there be no troops at Tung-chaw, it would be a pity to drive the respectable inhabitants out of the place; you might probably send a message to say, that in consequence of the bad faith of the Chinese authorities you had resolved to advance, but that if not resisted you will treat it as you treated Tientsing.

Dew is pretty confident that he can carry on his boats to Tung-chaw. At any rate up to this point there is no difficulty whatsoever.

I have, &c.,

(Signed), ELGIN and KINCARDINE.

Enclosure 2.

(Translation.) Received September 22, 1860.

THE Prince Kung, Imperial Commissioner, with full powers, &c., makes a communication.

Tsai, Prince of I, and Muh, President of the Board of War, not having managed matters satisfactorily, His Majesty's decree has been received depriving them of their Imperial Commission. The Prince Kung having had the honour to be named Commissioner with plenipotentiary powers, will at once despatch Hangki and Sanwei-wan to have an interview for the discussion of the question of peace. Let his Excellency the British Minister temporarily suspend hostilities, in order to the establishment of friendly relations.

Enclosure 3.

Pa-li-chiaw, September 22, 1860,

THE Undersigned, the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary in China, has the honour to acknowledge the despatch of his Imperial Highness the Prince of Kung, Minister Plenipotentiary, &c. &c., under date the 21st September.

The Prince must be aware, that on the 19th instant, the chief authority at Tung-chow was called on by the Allied Commanders-in-Chief, to intimate to the various officers and gentlemen, subjects of England and France, who had not yet returned, to repair without delay to the headquarters of the Forces of their respective Governments. It was further intimated, through the same channel, that if any hindrance were offered to the safe and speedy return of any of the persons missing, the consequences would be most serious to the Imperial Government.

The Undersigned has the honour to enclose a written order, to all subjects of Her Majesty now in Peking at once to comply with the above requisition.

He has only to add, that until they reappear, he shall not feel at liberty to call on the Commanders-in-Chief to suspend hostilities, or to recommence negotiations upon the subject of peace.

(Signed) ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

*His Excellency Prince Kung, Imperial Commissioner,
&c. &c. &c.*

Enclosure 4.

Pa-li-chiaw, September 22, 1860.

I, The Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador and High Commissioner in China, hereby require all the subjects of Her Majesty that may be at present in Peking, to return forthwith to the head-quarters of the British Army; and should any attempt be made on the part of the Chinese authorities to detain them, I authorize them, individually or collectively to protest against this proceeding of those authorities, and to warn them of the consequences.

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT

TO THE

LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 30, 1860.

CONVENTION between Her Majesty and the Emperor of the French, supplementary to the Treaty of Commerce of January 23, 1860; with a Tariff annexed thereto.

Signed at Paris, November 16, 1860.

[Ratifications exchanged at Paris, November 30, 1860.]

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the Emperor of the French, desiring to insure the complete execution of the Treaty of the 23rd of January, 1860, by fixing the duties on the importation of such of the goods of British origin or manufacture enumerated in the said Treaty as were not comprised in the arrangement of the 12th of October last, have resolved to conclude, for that purpose, a Second Additional Convention, and have therefore named as their Plenipotentiaries ; that is to say :

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the Right Honourable Henry Richard Charles, Earl Cowley, Viscount Dangan, Baron Cowley, a Peer of the United Kingdom, a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Her said Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of the French ; and Richard Cobden, Esquire, a Member of the British Parliament ;

And His Majesty the Emperor of the French, M. Thouvenel, a Senator of the Empire, Grand Cross of His Imperial Majesty's Order of the Legion of Honour, &c., &c., &c., His Imperial Majesty's Minister and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs ; and M. Rouher, a Senator of the Empire, Grand Cross of His Imperial Majesty's Order of the Legion of Honour, &c., &c., &c., His Imperial Majesty's Minister and Secretary of State for Agriculture, Commerce, and Public Works ;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full-powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following Articles :—

ARTICLE I.

The articles of British origin or manufacture enumerated in the Tariff annexed to the present Convention shall, when imported direct from the United Kingdom under the British or the French flag, be admitted into France at the duties specified by the said Tariff.

ARTICLE II.

The rules established by Articles II, IV, V, VI, VII, and VIII, of the Convention concluded on the 12th of October last between the High Contracting Powers, for the proofs of origin, the declarations of importation, and the valuation by Experts of the productions taxed ad valorem, shall equally apply to the various articles of British origin or manufacture enumerated in the Tariff annexed to the present Convention.

Article III of the Convention of the 12th of October last, which exempts the importers of machines, or detached pieces of machines, of British origin or manufacture, from the obligation of producing models or drawings, is declared to be applicable to all the goods the importation whereof was subject to that formality, and which are comprised either in the present Convention or in that of the 12th of October last.

ARTICLE III.

Independently of the duties of Customs stipulated in the Tariff annexed to the present Convention, and by application of Articles I and IX of the Treaty concluded between the High Contracting Powers on the 23rd of January last, the undermentioned articles of British origin or manufacture shall, on their importation into France, and by way of compensation for equivalent duties paid by French manufacturers, be subjected to the supplementary duties hereinafter prescribed :—

It is understood that refined sugar is not comprised in this list, because the duty of 41 francs per 100 kilogrammes, fixed on the importation of that article, includes the duty on consumption with which it is now charged in France.

It is equally agreed between the High Contracting Powers that, in the event of the modification or the suppression of the duties of excise now imposed upon French manufacturers, goods of British origin and manufacture shall, with regard to such duties of excise, be subjected to the same conditions as similar French goods. If, however, in consequence of the suppression of any of such duties, the Government should establish a supervision or control, or an administrative system over certain articles of French manufacture, the direct or indirect charges which may be borne by the French manufacturer shall be countervailed by an equivalent surtax imposed upon similar British articles. It is further understood, that if drawbacks are granted to other articles of French manufacture, the duties of Customs which are imposed upon similar articles of British origin or manufacture shall be augmented by a surtax equal to the amount of the drawbacks.

ARTICLE IV.

With regard to pure and mixed tissues taxed ad valorem, the valuation of which may appear to the French Government to present difficulties, they reserve to themselves the power to designate the Custom-house of Paris exclusively for the admission of such goods.

ARTICLE V.

Each of the High Contracting Powers engages to extend to the other any favour, any privilege or diminution of Tariff, which either of them may grant to a third Power in regard to the importation of goods mentioned, or not mentioned, in the Treaty of the 23rd of January, 1860.

ARTICLE VI.

The Tariff annexed to the present Convention shall come into force within a time which shall not be later than the 1st of June, 1861, for yarns and tissues of flax, hemp, and jute, and the 1st of October following for all other articles.

ARTICLE VII.

The present Convention shall have the same duration as the Treaty concluded between the High Contracting Parties on the 23rd of January last, of which it is a complement.

ARTICLE VIII.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Paris within fifteen days, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed it, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

Done in duplicate, at Paris, the sixteenth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
December 7, 1860.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris, enclosing a copy of a French Imperial Decree, authorizing the exportation of iron ores from France, free of duty, such exportation having been previously prohibited.

(No. 12976.)

Board of Trade, December 5, 1860.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

THE following Despatch has been received at the Board of Trade from Her Majesty's Consul at the Cape de Verd Islands :

(Copy.)

British Consulate, Saint Vincent, Cape Verd
No. 5. Islands, November 22, 1860.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Board of Trade, that the white hulk, Ocean, belonging to Messrs. Visger and Millers, and used as a coal depôt in this harbour, has been, by order of the Local Government, removed further into the bay, towards the south side of it. It is important that this information should be made public, because Masters of vessels accustomed to frequent this port, and who are not aware of this change, may mistake their position and run aground. The following are the compass cross bearings, taken by Lieutenant R. M. Gillson, R.N., of the present position of the hulk, viz.: Flag-staff of fort, N.N.E., church, E. and by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ south. Variation allowed $17^{\circ} 46'$ west, and the depth of water at low tide is 16 feet.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) THOMAS MILLER,

Her Britannic Majesty's Consul.

To the Secretary of the Board of Trade, Marine Department, London.

FROM THE SUPPLEMENT

TO THE LONDON GAZETTE of DECEMBER 14, 1860.

Foreign-Office, December 15, 1860.

THE following Despatches and Enclosures were received at the Foreign-Office this day from the Earl of Elgin, Her Majesty's Envoy and Minister Plenipotentiary in China :

Camp before Peking,

MY LORD,

October 8, 1860.

AT the close of my despatch, of the 23rd of September, sent by the last mail, I informed your Lordship that a brother of the Em-

Emperor of China, by name Kung, had written to apprise me that he had been appointed to treat with me in the room of Prince Tsai and President Muh, who had been superseded because of their mismanagement of affairs, and that I had referred him, in reply, to the notification which the Commanders-in-Chief had issued some days previously, and which was to the effect that if the British and French subjects, illegally detained in captivity by the Chinese authorities, were not at once set at liberty, Peking would be assaulted.

On the following day I received a further letter from Prince Kung, which stated that the persons in question had been captured after the fight had commenced on the 18th ult., and that they could only be restored after Her Majesty's fleets and armies should have left Taku. The Prince added that there had been a dispute between Mr. Parkes and the Imperial Commissioners Tsai and Muh on the subject of the presentation of the Queen's letter to the Emperor of China.

As I had the good fortune to be within reach of Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant at the time when this letter reached me, I thought it proper to confer with him before answering it. I found that he inclined to the opinion, that it would be advisable to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by it to restate to the Prince, not only the serious consequences which would ensue if he refused to deliver up the British subjects whom he had illegally captured, but also the conditions on which, if they were accepted within a period of three days, peace between Great Britain and China might still be concluded. I was moreover desirous to inform the Prince that the Queen's letter to the Emperor had not been, as he insinuated, mentioned by me, for the first time in the despatch to Prince Tsai and the President Muh of which Mr. Parkes had been the bearer, but that I had referred to it in the very same terms, in a letter written to Kweiliang, at Tientsing ; and further, that I had always treated the question of its presentation as one of courtesy, not of war. I enclose a copy of this communication of Prince Kung, and of my answer ; also of my correspondence with Sir Hope Grant, and of a letter from me to Baron Gros in reference thereto. Further letters between Prince Kung and me, the copies of which are likewise enclosed, followed on this correspondence. Notwithstanding, however, various endeavours on his part to raise discussions which might, as he hoped, enable him to escape from the necessity of categorically accepting or refusing the conditions offered, I deemed it to be my duty to adhere to them, and to require that Her Majesty's subjects, detained at Peking, should be restored, before any steps for arresting hostile operations were taken. I could not admit the principle that they should be dealt with as prisoners legitimately made during war. At the same time, as their lives might have been put in jeopardy if the Chinese authorities had been driven to despair, I thought it proper to intimate, that their unconditional surrender would cause the prospects of peace to improve.

On the 5th instant, the Commanders-in-Chief, having received from the fleets and from Tientsing the supplies and munitions of war which they required, advanced on Peking. On the afternoon of the 6th, the main body of the English force was encamped on the north face of the Tartar city, and the French army, with the British cavalry, at the Summer Palace of the Emperor, having encountered on their march to these points, no enemy, except a few straggling Tartars, who fled on their approach.

On the morning of the 7th instant, I received a despatch from Prince Kung, of which I enclose the translation, in which he goes a great way towards the acceptance of the conditions prescribed by me in the communications which I had previously addressed to him. I may mention, that he refers in it to a letter written to me on the day preceding, which however has not yet reached me. It was agreed that the authorities in Peking should be informed, that the city might still be spared the calamities of an assault, if Her Majesty's subjects, therein detained, were immediately restored, and one of its gates given up to the Allies, and that Mr. Wade should require a mandarin of proper rank to meet him at some point between it and our camp, in whose hands he might place, with suitable explanations, a paper stating these conditions in the names of the Commanders-in-Chief.

I enclose a copy of the document which, in pursuance of this arrangement, was delivered by Mr. Wade to the mandarin sent to confer with him. Mr. Wade leads me to hope that Mr. Parkes and others who are with him may be restored this evening. But as Prince Kung has left the city, and is now at a considerable distance from it, some time must elapse before we learn what view he takes of the demands preferred in the final summons of the Commander-in-Chief.

I have, &c.,

ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

The Lord John Russell,

&c., &c., &c.

Received September 24, 1860.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication in reply:

The Prince has just received the despatch of the British Minister, requiring that the officers of his Excellency's Government, who are still absent, should be desired to return to the army without delay. The officers of his Excellency's Government had, on an earlier occasion, in person, discussed at Tungchow, with the late Imperial Commissioners, the Prince, I, and his colleague, right propositions, to the whole of which assent was given, it is to be presumed, to the satisfaction of his Excellency, the British Minister. The discussion of the question of personal presentation of the national letter* had not yet been satisfactorily terminated, when the British officers in question, going off in anger, fell in with the troops by the way: an encounter ensued, and they were seized in the melée. It is not, therefore, the Chinese Government that has been at all wanting towards the maintenance of friendly relations.

The officers in question are now in the capital: none of them have suffered harm;† but with peace still unconcluded, it is scarcely possible that they should be sent back again. The city of Tientsin and the forts of Taku have both been taken, and are still in possession of the British Government. What occasion is there then for alarm about a few British subjects who may be missing? If the two Governments are indeed to be friends, if (the British Government), desiring a cessation of hostilities, will take its men of war out of the Fort of Taku, the Chinese Government, so soon as the different concessions it is asked to make shall have been discussed and disposed of, will send back the officers in question, such as they shall find them to be,‡ in order to the perfecting of friendly relations.

* The autograph letter of Her Majesty.

† Mortal injury.

‡ This is a mere formula, which it might be almost as well untranslated. It might be rendered all in good order.

The letter addressed by his Excellency to his officers could hardly be delivered while the present state of hostility continues. It shall be delivered as the force has been withdrawn.

A necessary reply, addressed to the Earl of Elgin, &c., &c.

Hienfung, 10th year, 8th moon, 9th day (23rd September, 1860).

Translated by
(Signed) THOMAS WADE,
Chinese Secretary.

THE Undersigned has received a despatch under date the 23rd instant, from His Imperial Highness the Prince of Kung, and makes this communication in reply :

The subjects of Her Majesty the Queen of England now detained in Peking, were at Tung-chow, or on their return from Tung-chow to the British camp, under the protection of a flag of truce, and with the knowledge and consent of the Imperial Commissioners, the Prince Tsai, and the President Muh, when the bad faith and imprudence of the General-in-Chief Sung-ko-lin-sin brought on a conflict between the armies of England and France, and that of China, on the 18th instant. Their arrestation under these circumstances was a violation of the law of nations, and their subsequent detention an act of perfidy which expose the Chinese Government and its officers who have taken part in these proceedings, to the just vengeance of the British army, which is now quartered at a distance of thirty li from the gates of Peking.

The Prince states that a dispute had arisen with respect to the mode in which the letter from Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain to His Majesty the Emperor of China, of which the undersigned is the bearer, should be presented, and gives it to be understood that this letter was alluded to for the first time in the communication of the undersigned to Prince Tsai and his colleague, which Mr. Parkes took with him to Tungehow on the 17th instant. This is an error, and if the case has been represented in this light to the Imperial Prince, His Imperial Highness has been deceived. In his communication to Kweiliang of the 3rd instant, the undersigned referred to the letter in question in the same terms in which he referred to it in his communication to the Prince Tsai, and the President Muh, of which Mr. Parkes was the bearer. Neither at Tientsin nor at Tungehow did he propose to make the delivery of Her Majesty's letter to the Emperor, the subject of a treaty stipulation. The presentation of letters from sovereign to sovereign, and the reception by sovereigns of ambassadors from other sovereigns with whom they seek to cultivate relations of friendship, are matters of courtesy understood and practised in all civilized states. A state affecting to be civilized, which refuses to reciprocate such acts of courtesy, necessarily exposes its professions of amity to suspicion.

In order, however, to give further proof of his sincere desire for the re-establishment of peace between Great Britain and China, and to afford the Imperial prince a last opportunity of averting a blow which will entail the destruction of Peking, and the probable fall of the dynasty now ruling in China, the undersigned makes the following proposals.

If within the space of three days from the date of this letter the British (and French) subjects detained at Peking be sent back to the Head Quarters (of their respective nations), and if the Imperial Prince intimates his readiness to sign the convention placed in the hands of Kweliang, at Tientsin, the bulk of {the British army will not advance beyond its present halting place. The convention will be signed at Tungchow, and after it shall have been signed the undersigned will proceed with a sufficient escort to Peking for the exchange of the ratifications of the treaty of Tientsin. When these acts shall have been accomplished the British army will commence its movement towards Tientsin, at which point it will remain until the spring, as the bad faith, evasions, and delays, of the Chinese government and its agents, have made it inexpedient to proceed further before the winter.

Should these conditions be accepted deputies can be named on either side for the completion of such preliminaries as may be necessary. If they be not accepted the British army will advance on Peking, and in common with that of France take measures to prove that the laws of nations cannot be violated in the persons of British and French subjects with impunity.

Pa-li-chiau,

September 25, 1860.

MONSIEUR LE BARON,

I HAVE the honour to enclose for your Excellency's perusal, a draft of my proposed reply to the letter of the Imperial Prince Kung, received by me yesterday.

I think that as regards the subjects of our respective nations, detained in defiance of the Law of Nations at Peking, we should adopt the principle of entire solidarité. I have, therefore, as your Excellency will observe, put the restoration of the subjects of His Majesty the Emperor of the French on the same footing as the restoration of the subjects of Her Majesty the Queen in the draft letter herewith transmitted.

SIR,

I enclose the draft of a letter which I propose to address to the Imperial Prince Kung, in reply to his communication to me, the translation of which I have the honour to transmit herewith. I believe that it is your Excellency's opinion, that the Chinese Authorities, before the extreme measure of an assault of Peking be resorted to, should be distinctly apprized that they have it in their power to make peace if they surrender Her Majesty's subjects, now illegally detained by them, and concede all the other points which have been demanded.

I propose to stipulate that a portion of the army under your Excellency's command, shall remain at Tientsin until the spring, because I think that it would be inconvenient to have to move it from Tientsin to Taku and Tungku during the winter, which might be the case if the article respecting the disposition of our troops in China, which was inserted in the Convention drafted at Tientsin, were to remain unaltered.

I have, &c.,

MY LORD,

IN reply to your Excellency's letter of this date, forwarding draft of a letter addressed to the Imperial Prince Kung, I have the honour to state that I fully concur in the terms of your Excellency's communication.

As regards the occupation of Tientsin during the winter, I shall be quite ready to do so, if your Lordship considers it to be necessary.

Received 27th September, Midnight.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication in reply.

He has received and thoroughly acquainted himself with the despatch of the British Minister. To the wrong doing of former Commissioners in the transactions conducted by them, to which it alludes, the Prince was no party. He is himself an immediate relation of the Emperor's, and in the weighty office he has had the honour to be especially appointed by His Majesty to fill, he has full authority for every step he takes, nor will his acts assuredly be the same as those of the former Commissioners. In his conduct towards men the Prince is sincere, and he assumes that the British Minister is beyond doubt of like mind.

Every condition of the treaty (or treaties) negotiated at Tientsin being conceded, if, while on the one hand the Prince departs not from this promise, no change whatever is, on the other hand, introduced by the British Government; peace, evermore to endure, is doubtless attainable.

With reference to the presentation of the Government letter, when his Excellency shall have arrived in the capital, some place suited to the solemnity shall be chosen, and an incense table (or altar) having been there set up, the Prince will receive the letter (1) of the British Government, and will place it on the table that due honor may be shewn to it.

The words in the despatch under acknowledgment regarding the attack on and destruction of the capital, and the downfall of the dynasty, are words which indeed it is not fitting that a subject should use. Can it be right for the British Minister, when declaring that he still entertains a desire for peace, to employ them? If a war to no purpose is to be carried on so long as troops are left, a struggle which is not to cease, then, though the British Government have the troops it has in the field, China has yet besides the stout hands in her forces here at present, her troops from beyond the frontier, and those which it will behove her to move up from the different provinces. It would seem then better that neither side should do injury to friendly relations, by further talk of the struggle between them.

As regards the capture by our army in the confusion of the fight of the British officers returning from Tung-chou, it is true that the former Commissioners (2) did seize them, bind them, and confine them; but the Prince when this came to his knowledge, which was but recently, gave orders to the officer in charge to release them from confinement, to lodge them comfortably, to attend to the hurts of those who were wounded, and to treat them with every courtesy. In evidence of the Prince's sincerity towards man, he is bound before he does anything else, to oblige the British Government to put away utterly its suspicions, and he now encloses the card sent by the British Consul Parkes to his Excellency Hang-(Hang-ki) to engage him to come and speak with him this day, that it may be known that this person is safe and well, and has come to no harm.

The letter under acknowledgment proposes that deputies should be sent on either side to confer respecting all matters that have been discussed and disposed of. These shall proceed as soon as an answer has been received naming a time [for a conference].

(1.) The word letter is here raised in the column, not as it has been usually written, but with more honour.

(2.) The term "commissioners" is, on the other hand, not accorded here the honour commonly paid it.

THE Undersigned has received the despatch of His Imperial Highness the Prince of Kung, under date the 27th instant.

Notwithstanding the protestations of good faith and desire for peace with which it abounds, His Highness has not returned the prisoners unlawfully detained in Peking, nor has he stated positively when and where he will sign the Convention negotiated at Tientsin.

The Undersigned regrets to observe on the other hand allusions to the military resources of China which argue a strange forgetfulness of the reverses sustained by the Imperial arms in the last few weeks at Sinho, Taku, Chang-kia-wang, and Pa-li-chiau.

Let no more time be wasted in words so unmeaning. The term of three days allowed for the satisfaction of the demands of the Undersigned he would remind His Highness will expire to-morrow night. The prisoners must be sent in in the course of to-morrow, and the Imperial Prince must write to say when and where the Convention shall be signed. The single modification which will be needed in it has been intimated to His Highness in the undersigned despatch of the 25th, and has been rendered necessary by the bad faith, evasions, and delays of the Chinese Government and its agents. The letter of Her Majesty the Queen can be presented to the Emperor only in one way; if not so presented, it cannot be presented at all; but as the Undersigned has already explained, he has throughout considered this to be a question of courtesy, and not a casus belli.

There is consequently no ground whatever for the apprehensions apparently entertained by His Highness that other changes than those known to him are in contemplation.

Let His Highness then at once appoint his deputies and name a place at which these may meet the deputies of the Undersigned, in order to the form of preparation of the Convention for signature. The meeting may take place to-morrow if His Highness see fit, and at the same time as the prisoners are restored.

The Undersigned will not repeat the words of warning which he addressed to His Highness in his last despatch. He will only add that if the subjects of Her Majesty the Queen, now illegally detained in captivity at Peking be not returned in the course of to-morrow, the British force will forthwith resume its march in advance, and that all responsibility for the serious consequences that may ensue will rest upon His Imperial Highness.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication in reply.

The Prince is in receipt of his Excellency the British Minister's reply of the 15th inst. (29th September), and has acquainted himself with its contents.

The British officers captured by the army outside Tunchow were seized* because an engagement was going on at the time. This was, moreover, an act of the late Commissioners, to which the Prince was no party. It was but recently that he ascertained the facts, and he then immediately gave orders to the officers in charge to lodge them comfortably, according to their degree (intending) of course, that, as soon as peace was concluded, they should be sent back, with all proper attention.

As regards the presentation of the letter of

* The combination is, strictly, "seized and bound."

Government, His Majesty the Emperor is obliged by law to hunt in the autumn, and has already set out on his journey. It is for this reason that the Prince will, with all solemnity, receive it for him and place it on the incense table. Ample honour will thus be done it. The Prince explicitly stated this in his last reply, and he now restates it in answer to the despatch under acknowledgment. As concerns the British officers (detained), he must wait until the British and French forces have fallen back some distance ; they shall then be sent back with all proper attention. The two armies are at this moment so near the city that a good deal of alarm (defensive feeling) is felt, and were they hurried out of it, it might not be quite possible to ensure their safety, some farther harm might befall them. It were best, therefore, that the British force should fall back, and as soon as the treaty is concluded, it will of course be the Prince's part to have them sent back with all proper attention, which will be much more commensurate than it is at present.

There is no objection to the appointment of deputies to confer together, but the British and French armies must, under any circumstances, fall back to the neighbourhood of Chang-kia-wan; this effected, within three days of their so doing it can be arranged to send deputies from either side to some point between this and that, to settle in conference the time and place at which the Tientsin Convention is to be sealed and signed.

The Prince is in his dealings with man most sincere; whatever he says is the truth. The British officers (in his hands) are being treated with courtesy, and shall be sent back with all proper attention as soon as peace shall have been concluded. But he cannot refrain from stating beforehand, that if the British force advances to attack the city it will, he fears, be difficult in that case to answer for their safety.

He therefore replies.

THE Undersigned, &c., is in receipt of the despatch of the Prince of Kung, under date the 29th instant.

His Serene Highness declines to name time or place for the signature of the Convention negotiated at Tientsin, until Her Britannic Majesty's Forces retire to a greater distance from Peking, nor until the Convention shall have been signed will he release the officers and subjects of Her Britannic Majesty treacherously seized when under protection of a flag of truce by the Prince Sinko-insin, and now illegally detained by His Serene Highness.

The Undersigned can regard this answer in no other light than as a rejection of the terms plainly set forth in his previous letters to His Serene Highness, and the delay of three days accorded the Chinese Government having expired, he has no option but to acquaint his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Forces of the unsatisfactory result of this correspondence.

MONSIEUR LE BARON,

I HAVE the honor to enclose the translation of a despatch from Prince Kung, which I received yesterday morning, and a copy of my reply, which is drawn up in pursuance of the resolution adopted at the conference of the Allied Ambassadors and Commanders-in-Chief, held at the head-quarters of his Excellency General de Montauban, on that day.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication in reply.

The Prince received the letter of the British Minister this morning about eight o'clock and has acquainted himself with its contents.

As regards the rendition of the British subjects (detained), the Prince has already made it plain that while peace negotiations were still unconcluded, it would not be treating them with proper attention, were they to be hurried back.

The treaty of the year wuwu (1858), and the convention of Tientsin having both been agreed to, why does the letter under acknowledgment allege that no proposition (or measure) has been assented to? His Excellency the British Minister cannot have carefully studied the replies of the Prince, the interpreter he suspects has misapprehended the text of these. Were the British Government to attempt constraint by an exhibition of force, not only would this have a deplorable effect upon the question of peace as already settled, but the safety of the British subjects in Peking would also too probably be compromised. The British Consul Parkes is well versed in the Chinese language, written and spoken, and the Prince is now in the act of sending an officer to settle with him all matters necessary for the sealing and signing (of the treaties) at a conference. Why then do the British still thus abound in doubts?

A day can be named for the despatch of deputies from either side to confer together.

The Prince accordingly replies. A necessary communication addressed to the Earl of Elgin, &c.

THE undersigned, &c., has the honour to acknowledge the receipt of His Serene Highness the Prince of Kung's despatch of the 1st instant.

In his despatch of the 30th ultimo, the undersigned acquainted His Serene Highness that he had informed His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's land forces, of the unsatisfactory result of his correspondence on the subject of the convention, and the rendition of Her Britannic Majesty's subjects unlawfully detained in Peking.

Her Majesty's troops have in consequence already advanced some distance along the road to the capital. The Government of China has already been so fully apprised, in various despatches, of the exact nature of the demands of the undersigned, that it is impossible it can entertain any doubt as to what is really required of it. If, therefore, it be indeed sincerely anxious for peace, let an officer, qualified to arrange all necessary preliminaries, be sent immediately to the advanced posts of the army, and let the prisoners accompany this officer.

M. LE BARON,
SIR,

Pa-li-chiau,
October 2, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to inclose the translation of a further letter which I have received from the Imperial Prince Kung, and a copy of my reply, the substance of which I have already had the honour to communicate to your Excellency.

I think it right to observe that, in my opinion, the correspondence furnishes no reason for any relaxation in the immediate and energetic prosecution of the measures for the attacking of Sinko-lin-sin's force we were agreed upon at the conference held at the head quarters of the French army on the 30th instant.

To Lieut.-General Sir Hope Grant,

Commanding-in-Chief.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

He has received and has acquainted himself with the contents of a despatch he has received (from the British Minister). The Treaty of the eighth year (1858), and the Tien-tsin Convention of this year having been already agreed to, and the promise given regarding them will assuredly not be retracted; while on the other hand in the late (or former) despatch of the British Government; it is stated that nothing is required in excess of the eight articles now negotiated at Tien-tsin, and the Treaty concluded there in the year Wu Wu (1858) there is nothing to be added, both parties are, in fact, perfectly in accord. The Prince however, bearing in mind that the insecurity of peace as negotiated during many years past, has been entirely owing to the fact that peace has always been negotiated in presence of an armed force, and that it has been impossible to have explanation of the different conditions of the treaty article by article, the consequence of which has been doubt and suspicion on both sides (the Prince bearing these facts in mind), and having here present the British Consul Parkes who is well acquainted with Chinese, written and spoken, and the French officer surnamed I, who also speaks Chinese, has before going farther, sent officers to confer with the officers Parkes and I (Abbé de Luc?), to discuss and satisfactorily dispose of the Treaty (of 1858) already agreed to, and the Convention of Tien-tsin of this year, and as soon as this discussion shall have been brought to a satisfactory issue, a letter will be written to his Excellency the British Minister. It is assumed that there is nothing therefore that cannot be arranged (or that to this arrangement there cannot be any objection). As this discussion is still in process, it is impossible to send back the British subjects here.

As regards the Chinese army, this has been desired by the Prince to fall back for a while, which being so, there can be no doubt that the British Force ought similarly, for the time, to retire. If troops continue to be brought forward, then peace negotiations will be as before, conducted in presence of a force; there will be every difficulty in the way of sending officers from either side to the other, peace negotiations will too probably fail, and injury befall the British subjects in the city. Let his Excellency however, think over this. The Prince in this despatch has spoken plainly, and it is his hope that his Excellency the British Minister will cause the interpreter in his camp to translate very carefully for him what the Prince has said.

The two bags and the note for Consul Parkes have been received and handed to Consul Parkes.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication :

The two British officers, Messrs. Parkes and Loch, having sent in four notes to the Prince, it becomes his duty to send a special messenger with them to his Excellency the British Minister, whom he will thank to receive them and acquaint himself with their contents.

The Prince hopes to receive without delay a reply from the British Minister to the effect that, as he proposed in his earlier reply to his Excellency the propriety of retiring the armies on either side, so as to admit of a conference between deputies from both at some spot midway between them, shall be taken into consideration, and that in accordance with what has passed, the understanding entered into between the British Consul and the deputy of the Prince, peace shall be established on a permanent basis.

Hien-fung, 10th year, 8th moon, 19th day

THE Undersigned has received two despatches from His Imperial Highness the Prince Kung, under date the 3rd instant.

In that which reached the Undersigned this morning was a letter from Mr. Parkes to the effect that the Chinese Government desires some neutral spot there to arrange the preliminaries of a permanent peace.

Mr. Parkes' efforts in the cause of peace have the entire approbation of the Undersigned, neither Mr. Parkes' letter however, nor the deputies under acknowledgment contain any satisfactory reply to the demand so frequently made by the Undersigned for the immediate liberation of the subjects of Her Britanic Majesty unlawfully detained in Pekin. The conditions upon which alone peace can be negotiated remain as the Imperial Prince will find them stated in the despatch of the Undersigned, and to these he must beg once more to refer His Imperial Highness.

The Undersigned will be obliged to the Imperial Prince to forward the enclosed to Mr. Parkes and Mr. Loch together with the accompanying articles for which they have applied.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

The Prince addressed a communication yesterday the 21st instant (6th October), to his Excellency the British Minister, his Excellency has not replied to it, and the British troops have resumed their movement forwards. How is this? it does not look like peace. [Enclosed] is a note from the British Secretary Parkes. If the intentions of the British Minister be really pacific, it is the hope of the Prince that his Excellency will immediately cause the British force to fall back for the present to a distance of some li, in order that an officer may be sent out for a conference, on the 24th instant (8th October), when the opportunity will be taken to return the British subjects now in the capital with due honour. If the troops do not fall back and hostilities continue, there can be no real friendliness in the relations between the two countries (or, no sincerity in the professed desire for friendly relations), and how under such circumstances is either the conclusion of the treaty or the rendition of the British subjects to be effected? It is for his Excellency alone to consider this.

I beg to state that Chinese officers have this day come to say that the 24th instant (8th October), has been named as the day on which the French and English detained are to be sent back to the head quarters of their respective forces, with all honour ; also that the Chinese Commanders have been this day written to to fall back some li from the positions now occupied by their forces, in order to the conclusion of a bonâ fide peace.

If they do so fall back, I may be allowed to assume that the allied forces will in fairness make no further advance.

Palichian, September 25, 1860.

NOTE addressed to Hangki, a deputy of the Imperial Commissioner the Prince of Kung, and handed to that officer on the evening of the 7th October, 1860.

THE Undersigned has the honor to state that he has been sent here (to the Hwa-zing-sze, by the Commanders-in-Chief of the Allied Forces).

Their Excellencies have been given to understand by their Excellencies the Ambassadors of their respective nations, that His Serene Highness the Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, has officially informed their Excellencies, that there is nothing to which he does not assent, either in the treaties concluded the year before last, or in the conventions negotiated this year at Tientsin.

The Commanders-in-Chief have consequently no remark to offer regarding the treaties, but unless the Chinese Government immediately send in to their respective camps the officers and subjects of the two Powers still in its hands, their Excellencies will cause the capital city of Peking to be stormed, in order to shew to those who break faith and do injury to others, that sooner or later their offence will be punished.

If on the other hand the Chinese Government send back those now in its hands without delay, and at the same time depute a competent officer to prepare the conventions and other documents, their Excellencies the Allied Ambassadors will name a day for the signature of the conventions, the exchange of ratifications and similar formalities.

Late events however considered, it will not be proper that faith should be placed at random in the Chinese Government or its people. It becomes expedient to take measures of precaution beforehand against evil that may be done. Before, therefore, their Excellencies enter Peking, a gate of the capital will have to be occupied by an escort detached from both armies. The Commanders-in-Chief will decide which of the gates, and the Chinese troops will be then required to fall back for the time being, from the gate their Excellencies choose to hold.

This effected, if the officers and people of the capital remain quiet without giving trouble as in the case of Tientsin and Tungchow, the Allied Forces will conduct themselves towards them as they have done towards the officers and people of those two cities.

Camp before Peking,
October 9, 1860.

MY LORD,

I HAVE much satisfaction in informing your Lordship that the anticipations in which I ventured to indulge at the close of my despatch No. 57, of yesterday's date, have been realized, and that the English and French prisoners detained in Peking, numbering eight in all, were sent to this camp in the afternoon. The subjects of Her Majesty thus restored are, Mr. Parkes, my Private Secretary (Mr. Loch), and a trooper of Probyn's Horse; the French subjects are, M. l'Escayrac de Lanture, who is at the head of a scientific mission, and four soldiers.

To no one of their numerous friends is the return of these gentlemen a matter of more heartfelt gratification than it is to me. Since the period of their arrest, I have been compelled, by a sense of duty, to turn a deaf ear to every overture for their restoration which has involved the slightest retrograde movement of our army, or the abandonment of any demands previously preferred by me against the Chinese Government. I have felt that any such concession on my part would have established a most fatal precedent, because it would have led the Chinese to suppose that by kidnapping Englishmen they might effect objects which they are unable to achieve by fair fighting or diplomacy. I confess that I have been, moreover, throughout of opinion, that in adopting this uncompromising tone, and boldly setting the national above the personal interest, I was in point of fact best consulting the welfare of our friends who were in duance; but it was not to be expected that all persons would view in the same light a question of policy so obscure; and apart from the warm personal interest which I feel in their safety, your Lordship can well understand that it relieves me from a great load of anxiety to learn from the result that the course which I have followed was not ill-calculated to promote it.

The account which they give of what they have gone through since their capture on the 18th ult. is most interesting. I have requested each of them to put down his recollections on paper, as I can submit them to your Lordship most accurately in this form. A copy of Mr. Loch's narrative I enclose herewith, but Mr. Parkes has been so much engaged on public duty to-day that he has not been able to complete his. Enough has already transpired to convince me, that these gentlemen have exhibited, under circumstances of great trial, constancy and courage of the highest order;—an example nobly followed by the fine old Sikh trooper who was in attendance upon them.

The Chinese officials treated them at first with much brutality, obviously with the intention of working on their fears, and through their fears, influencing in some degree the counsels of the Ambassadors. When this plan failed, they resorted to gentle methods and endeavoured to establish a claim on their gratitude. Such was the conduct of persons whose demeanour towards them was prescribed by authority. It is, however, remarkable that they experienced much kindness and respect throughout from prisoners, and some others of the humble classes with whom they came in contact.

It is a matter of great concern to me, that we know as yet nothing certain respecting the fate of Mr. Bruce's attaché, Mr. De Normann, Mr. Bowlby, the special correspondent of the "Times," and the nineteen troopers consisting of eighteen Sikhs and one Dragoon, who formed the escort, and were under the command of Lieutenant Anderson, of Fane's Irregular Horse. This portion of the party became separated from Messrs. Parkes and Loch, when the latter, at the commencement of the conflict of the 18th ultimo, were taken up to Singkolinsin, for the ostensible object of obtaining a safe conduct from him. Since that time we have heard nothing authentic about them, but we are assured that though they are not now in Pekin, they will soon be restored to us.

I take this opportunity of mentioning, that several valuable papers have been found in the Emperor's summer palace, Yuen-Ming-Yuen, which has been seized by the French. Some are in the Emperor's holograph. The most important, so far as a hurried examination enables us to decide, are some memorials discovered by Mr. Morrison. In one of these, Singkolinsin ascribes the loss of the Taku forts to the explosion of a magazine, and strongly urges the Emperor to withdraw from the capital;—a proposal strenuously resisted by other memorialists. Many of the papers show a determination to resist the barbarians even after the fall of Taku. Great exertions had been made, and it was supposed, with the reinforcements expected, the force available for the defence of the capital would amount to 300,000 men. The allies are put at 10,000. I hope, by the next mail, to be able to furnish translations of these very interesting documents.

MR. PARKES will no doubt inform your Lordship at greater length than I shall be able to do, of the events that preceded our capture, and of the subsequent occurrences; but as for the first twelve days we were separated, I send your Lordship this short report of what came under my own observation, however imperfect it may be from my want of knowledge of the language.

On the morning of the 17th of September, I accompanied Mr. Parkes, with your Lordship's sanction, to Tung-chow, to make arrangements for the moving of your Excellency's camp to that place, when the day was decided on for the signature of the Convention.

We arrived at Tung-chow about 10 a.m., and nearly the whole of that day was occupied by discussions on various questions connected with the Convention, between the Imperial Commissioners, Tsai, Prince of I, and Muh, President of the Board of War, and Mr. Parkes, endeavours being made on their part to draw Mr. Parkes into a decided expression of opinion on the question of your Lordship's delivering the letter of credence to the Emperor. Towards six o'clock, however, in the afternoon, Mr. Parkes thought he had succeeded in shewing them that that was a question he was not empowered to discuss, having no instructions on the subject, and that moreover it was a question not included in the Convention, but one left open for negotiation. It was not until this late hour that Mr. Parkes could get their serious attention to the various arrangements necessary for encamping our troops, and for opening markets for their supplies, and sending carts for the conveyance of your Lordship's camp to Tung-chow, but they then appointed officers for these various duties, and everything seemed satisfactorily understood and agreed to.

Colonel Walker, who had also accompanied Mr. Parkes to Tung-chow, for the purpose of examining the ground agreed on for the encampment of the troops, decided on starting early in the morning to make arrangements for their arrival on the ground, and therefore at about 5.30 a.m. on the 18th, Mr. Parkes, Colonel Walker, and Mr. Morrison, with an escort of five King's Dragoon Guards and four sowars, started for this purpose, leaving the remainder of the party, which consisted of Mr. De Norman, Mr. Bowlby, and Mr. Anderson, who commanded the whole escort, and fifteen sowars, in Tung-chow, to await our return, when we intended to look for a suitable residence for your Lordship.

The yamun in which we were lodged was in the western suburb. The shortest way to gain the road to Matou was through the country, and not through Tung-chow, which road we had been brought in by the previous evening. We advanced at a quick trot, and, as we approached Chang-kia-wang, we observed many detached parties of matchlock men and cavalry hurrying to the front. As we passed through Chang-kia-wang the numbers increased, and became massed, as if being moved forward to take up certain positions. Observing a large body of men to our right, I rode across a field, and found about five hundred cavalry dismounted in a dry watercourse. Being joined by Mr. Parkes, we proceeded along their front until we came to a village, through which we passed, and suddenly found ourselves in the middle of a battery of twelve guns in position, and commanding the very ground on which it had been agreed the night before that our troops were to encamp. Although somewhat surprised at our sudden appearance amongst them, they merely told us to go on to the road, where we joined Colonel Walker and the escort. We had now arrived on the ground decided on for our camp. A narrow stream of water runs close up to the road from the eastward, an embankment or bund running at some twenty yards distant from it. This bund was lined with matchlock men, extending to the left as far as we could see. We rode a short distance along this bund. In front of it, at about one hundred yards distant, was a long line of cavalry skirmishers, extending the whole length of their position, which appeared a sort of semicircle. Mr. Parkes asked some of the men where their General was, and was told he was many li distant. We held a consultation on the threatening appearance of affairs, and Mr. Parkes at once decided on returning to Tung-chow, and find out from the Prince of I the meaning of the Chinese force occupying our position, while I was to pass through their force to give the General as early intimation as possible. Colonel Walker, with five King's Dragoon Guards and one sowar, was to remain on the embankment until either joined by Mr. Parkes or he received orders from Sir Hope Grant to retire.

I met the army with Sir Hope Grant on the march, within half a mile after passing through the Chinese line of skirmishers. I informed him of the position of the Chinese army, and of the position of our party, and the course Mr. Parkes had decided on following. Sir Hope Grant told me it would be necessary to occupy the ground as already decided on, and drive the Chinese back if they offered resistance; but that, if a shot was fired, he would capture Tung-chow. As the enemy's cavalry was moving round to our right, it was necessary to act as soon as possible, and to withdraw Mr. Parkes and his party from Tung-chow. He therefore gave me leave to return to Mr. Parkes with this message, and gave me two sowars of Major Probyn's regiment to accompany me with a flag of truce ; Captain Brabazon was also ordered to return with me, so that he might see the ground. The Chinese made no difficulty about allowing us to pass through their lines. On arriving at the bund, not being able to see anything of Colonel Walker, we proceeded at a rapid rate, straight to Tung-chow. On arrival at the Yamun we found all the gentlemen of the party were absent in the town, but I gave orders to the escort to saddle their horses, and be ready to start at a moment's notice, and in a few minutes the gentlemen returned. Mr. de Norman and myself, accompanied by four men, then started through the city to look for Mr. Parkes, who had gone to the Prince of I's residence. We had not gone half a mile when we met him. He said not a moment was to be lost in escaping. On our arrival at our Yamun the whole party were mounted and ready. It consisted of Mr. Parkes, Captain Brabazon, Mr. de Norman, Mr. Bowlby, Mr. Anderson commanding, one King's Dragoon Guard, and seventeen sowars, and myself, twenty-four in all. We proceeded at a sharp canter. After proceeding half way, we took a wrong turn to the left, this however did not delay us five minutes, and we made straight for Chang-chia-wang, the streets of which place we found full of soldiers. As we cleared the town we heard the guns open, and saw the smoke of guns on both sides, at which time we were within half a mile of being clear of the Chinese line. As we went at a canter, a body of cavalry ranged up on either side, began blowing their matches, and getting their matchlocks and bows and arrows ready. As this had rather the appearance of flight on our part, and as the cavalry might have opened a cross fire upon us at any moment, we halted to consult. The Chinese cavalry, about 300 in number, then drew up in front, and on either flank, supported by a large body of infantry. They said civilly enough that as fire had opened, we could not pass through their lines without an order from their General, who was close by. We had to consider whether we should attempt to force our way through this body of men, and some 3,000 who were beyond them and between us and our army, or act as this officer proposed, and go to the General, by which course we should not forfeit the protection of the flag of truce. Mr. Parkes said he would go to the General, and asked me to accompany him; taking one sowar to carry the flag of truce, we galloped off in the direction indicated. As we turned the corner of a field of millet, which hid us from our escort, we found ourselves in front of about 150 infantry, who rushed forward with their matchlocks pointed, and had it not been for a Chinese officer, who knocked them up, we should have been shot down.

These infantry were on the bank of the small stream I have before referred to, beyond which we saw several mandarins on horseback. We pushed through the infantry, and Mr. Parkes addressed one, who he was informed was Prince Sang-ko-lin-sin, and asked for a safe pass for our flag of truce, but he only received abuse in reply. After a few words, Mr. Parkes turned to me and said, "I think we are prisoners." At that time we were surrounded by men, who seized both us and our horses. It was hopeless to resist; we dismounted, our arms were laid hold of and twisted behind us. In this position we were taken across the stream, over a bridge formed by a boat, and shoved down on our knees in front of Sang-ko-lin-sin. I was knocked forward and my head rubbed in the dirt. Sang-ko-lin-sin spoke to Mr. Parkes with much vehemence. He accused Mr. Parkes of being the cause of all the difficulties that had arisen, and of the action that was now taking place. He then ordered our being taken to the Prince of I, and sent an officer to tell our escort to return to Chang-kia-wan. We listened anxiously for any firing or signs of resistance from that quarter, but heard none.

We were removed to a tent close by, where another General was seated; he treated us more civilly, and allowed us to sit down until the arrival of a cart. While waiting, two French prisoners, belonging to their Commissariat, were brought in from the front. The firing becoming much heavier, a message came for the General who we were with, and a cart was sent for us at the same time, into which all five of us were put, and, surrounded by an escort of some twenty men, were hurried into Tung-chow. The jolting was great over the rough roads of the country, but that over the paved streets of Tung-chow was most painful to bear. The Prince of I having left the city, we followed him out on the Peking road.

Crowds of soldiers were hurrying into the city, and we saw large camps on each side of the road. After going about six li, we came to a large bridge which crosses the canal, this we passed over, but apparently our escort had difficulty in finding where the Prince of I was, for we were turned back, and had to recross the canal and were taken to a large camp a short distance from the bridge. There we were taken out of the cart and taken before Jui-lin one of the Principal Secretaries of State; we were made to kneel down and an examination was commenced, this went on for some time. The heat and dust had greatly exhausted us and Mr. Parkes to bring this tiresome and useless examination to a close pretended faintness, and we were moved to a room of a small farm house close by. Here we were allowed to lie down for a short time, but were soon made to get up by people coming to search us. They took from us all our letters, papers, watches, &c. We were then removed to a small temple and taken before some mandarins whom Mr. Parkes recognised as belonging to the Prince of I's suite. They made us kneel and commenced a long and troublesome examination which was suddenly interrupted evidently by some panic, either by an advance of our troops or from some other cause. Our examiners hurriedly disappeared, and a number of soldiers rushed in with loud cries, who bound our hands tightly behind our backs; from their language and gestures Mr. Parkes anticipated we were about to be executed for they shook their spears and swords at us in a threatening manner, we were taken thus bound into the court of the temple when some change seemed to take place in their plans, for they hurried us back again, and took us outside when they put us into a common country cart which they drove off at a quick pace, this with our hands bound behind us caused us agonies.

We soon got on to the Pekin paved road, but had they not occasionally taken the cart on to the side road I do not think we could have lasted out the seven hours we were in it. From pain, dust and heat our thirst became intense, once or twice they gave us water. After a time they took out one of the French and Sikh prisoners and put them into another cart, some of their officials taking their place in ours. These men caused me great tortures by lifting up my arms, which seemed tearing them out of their sockets. The old Sikh sowar behaved with calm endurance. I told him not to fear, we were in God's hands. Ah! Sahib! he said, I do not fear, I am 'sixty, if I do not die to-day I may to-morrow, and I am with you, I do not fear.

It was getting dark ere we reached the suburbs of Peking, they were not so long as we expected for after about half a mile we reached the gate which from its great height has an imposing appearance. The crowds of people could hardly be kept back who pressed forward to see us.

The street we entered on passing the gate was some fifty feet broad, but the houses on either side were small and only of one story. Darkness coming on we could not see anything even if we had had the strength to look about us.

We rolled through street after street, and the way seemed interminable, we passed through another gateway, and shortly afterwards turned into a large court-yard. Mr. Parkes saw on the lanterns Hsingpoo, or the Board of Punishments. We were kept in the court some quarter of an hour, Mr. Parkes was then pulled out and taken before the examiners, after ten minutes' anxious suspense I saw him pass loaded with chains, I was then taken into a small room dimly lighted, chains and various other evidences of prisons and tortures were hung about the walls. The examiners sat behind a table, in front of which I was forced down upon my knees, a number of questions were put to me, which of course I did not understand, but a man who seized me by the hair and another by the ear and beard gave me a shake and cuff each time I failed to answer. After five minutes of this I made signs I wanted my hat that had been knocked off and was lying in front of me, at this the examiners abused me, and I was knocked forward on my face, a large iron collar was put round my neck with a long heavy chain attached to it, and I was removed into an inner court-yard, where by the dim light of a lantern I saw Mr. Parkes seated on a bench. Few words passed between us, two chains were here made fast to my legs passing through the long chain which was attached to the collar round my neck. We were then made to get up, and the saddest moment of the day then came, for I saw Mr. Parkes being led away in one direction while they took me another, I could only say "God bless you Parkes !" and we were separated.

They led me through long open passages into a court-yard, which had a long barn like building on one side with grated windows through which a strong light shone. The jailors rapped at the door when the most unearthly yell arose that I ever heard, the door was opened with a bang and I found myself surrounded by about forty half naked savage villanous looking fellows as I ever saw in my life. They were criminals of all descriptions, murderers, thieves, &c., some twenty of them were chained like myself. One end of the room seemed kept apart for their use, at the other end were the prisoners who were not chained and seemed of a better class. As soon as I had entered, the door was closed behind me, and the jailors pinioned my elbows although my hands were still bound. By this time I had lost all use of my fingers, they felt bursting and my hands were greatly swollen. After a little time they loosened the rope at my wrist, but only to put on irons. They gave me a cup of tea which was very grateful for I was greatly exhausted. I was glad to see that they intended to place me among the better lot of unchained prisoners, for the others were covered with itch and vermin. They laid me down on a board like a guard-room bed, and chained me up by my neck chain to a beam over my head. I was able to lay at full length and worn out utterly, I fell into a deep sleep.

The next morning my waking was very sad, a little after daylight the doors were thrown open and we were unchained from the beams, and every one went into the court-yard. The yard was about sixteen yards square, and a large verandah was in front of the prison, in one corner of the yard was the cook house, on the other three sides were small wards or prisons for one or two favoured prisoners.

At about nine o'clock two mandarins came in to superintend the distribution of the food for the prisoners. The food the Government supplies is only boiled millet with occasionally a little salt vegetable ; a large bowl twice a day is given to each prisoner. The millet is brought in in a large tub by two men, and served up hot. Only those in chains are on this food, the rest of the prisoners, among whom I was included, received some rice, green vegetables, and a little chopped meat, and French beans, with either bread or biseuit ; this we got twice daily. This food is found and paid for by one of the prisoners, it being a way by which they are allowed to work off a portion of their term of imprisonment. The man who supplied us was imprisoned for thieving, and the cost of feeding the prisoners could not have amounted to less than two taels a day.

The prisoners were very civil and kind, three were appointed to watch and guard me, and at night one always sat at the head of my bed. They helped me by carrying my chain, by getting me water to wash my face and hands, and by getting me a seat to myself if I wanted one.

I found out that of my three attendants two were murderers, and the third was imprisoned for biting his father's finger off. I was surprised to see the good and kindly feeling that existed between all the prisoners, they seemed to feel for each other, and I have often seen a man who had a little better food than his neighbour give him half. During the twelve days I was in prison with them, I only heard one quarrel.

On the first morning of my imprisonment the officials of the prison, two white-button mandarins, made me go down on my knees and asked me a number of questions which I did not understand. In the afternoon I was taken into the courtyard again, and made to kneel for a long time before a number of red-buttoned mandarins, who from their manner evidently abused me. I was then taken back and chained up.

I had succeeded in saving my prayer-book up to the time of being brought into the prison, but it was then taken from me, by signs, however, I got it returned to me the second day. What attracted the greatest curiosity amongst the prisoners and the mandarins who visited me were my boots and this book. The second and third day I was also much visited, sometimes had out to kneel and be abused, other times the visits seemed private, after then I was seldom visited.

I made various efforts through the official visiting mandarins to obtain an interview with Mr. Parkes, and although they sometimes by signs led me to hope that such might be granted, it never was. I heard of Hang-ta-jin having been to see Mr. Parkes frequently, but I was utterly ignorant of the subject of his visits. The days passed wearily by. I calculated and re-calculated the time that would be required for the various movements, I found reasons for delays as days passed and no change came to our situation, but I fed myself with the hope that we should all be released. I had many anxious thoughts as to what had happened to the rest of our party, our impression was that they had escaped. So the days passed until the morning of the 29th September, there had been two great jail deliveries during the period of my confinement, and on the 29th all excepting the men in chains were liberated.

About the middle of that day, while I was lying down, one of the men who watched me, putting his mouth close to my ear, whispered Pa ta jin and Hang ta jin, and made signs my iron collar was to be removed. About two hours afterwards I was taken into one of the side rooms, and there Hang came and ordered my chains to be taken off. I was then removed to another yard, and shortly afterwards joined by Mr. Parkes. That moment repaid me for much suffering.

I did not know whether this was our final release or not, and it was not till the evening that I learnt all that had occurred from Mr. Parkes.

We were placed in separate carts, but this time in the proper carriage-cart, well cushioned. We were taken to the Rao-miao temple, which is close to the north gate. Here we found a good room prepared for us, and another for our attendants who were some of our old jailors. We had a good sized court-yard, in which we were allowed to walk. A remarkably fine guard of Manchu cavalry, consisting of twenty men, had us under their especial charge.

Hang accompanied us to the temple, but soon left, promising to return in the morning. I then learnt from Mr. Parkes of the frequent visits Hang had paid him during his imprisonment, and I cannot be too grateful to Mr. Parkes for his noble and disinterested conduct towards me, - in his firmly refusing to accept any of Hang's offers of release unless he was accompanied by me.

In fact, during the whole of the first day, and during the latter portion of our imprisonment which we passed together, I cannot express myself in terms of too great admiration of his fearless and determined bearing throughout the trials and difficulties that surrounded us ; and I am convinced that one great cause of the happy termination to those dangers, was the firm and consistent language he held to those mandarins, who were sent to attempt to gain some admission from him, either through his hopes or fears.

From the 29th September to the 8th instant, we were confined in the Rao-miao temple ; almost daily Hang came and held long conversations with Mr. Parkes, who will inform your Lordship, at much greater length than I am able to do, of what passed on those occasions. I will not enter therefore at length on this portion of our imprisonment. It was a period of great anxiety and trial, for although we were well treated, we knew that our release, indeed our existence, depended greatly upon how the movement of our troops outside the city might affect the feelings of the Chinese and mandarins inside. We felt that in any sudden panic, when they would be scarcely masters of their senses, they might rush in and wreak on us their vengeance ; this was our real danger, as long as they gave themselves time to reflect we were in comparative safety. This, under God's providence, with the steady advance of our troops, and the consistent and determined line of your Lordship's policy, resulted in our happy release.

Up to within the last few days, we were kept in utter ignorance of all that had occurred, but Mr. Wade's letter, of the 4th instant, made us pretty well acquainted with what had passed.

Hang came yesterday morning with Mr. Wade's letter, calling on the Chinese Government to surrender one of the gates of the city to be occupied by our troops, he said it was impossible, and it was long before he would say whether we could be released; however, at last he did so, and at two o'clock we were put into a cart together, and conducted under a strong escort to the west gate. The streets were deserted and the shops closed. On leaving the gate our escort left us, and we were left by ourselves to reach the camp, where, I thank God, we arrived in safety at 3.30 P.M. The Sikh sowar and five Frenchmen were released at the same time.

This report has grown to much greater length than I anticipated, I only regret that the information I have been able to give your Lordship in it is so meagre.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to enclose the translation of a despatch which I received yesterday afternoon from Prince Kung, and which purports to be a reply to the summons addressed to him three days ago by the Commanders-in-Chief, also a copy of the letter in which I transmitted a translation of this despatch to Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant.

The north-eastern gate of the city was handed over to the allied armies without condition at noon of this day.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ELGIN & KINCARDINE.
The Lord John Russell,
 &c., &c., &c.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

The Prince having repeatedly written to say that he had deputed officers to treat the British Secretary Mr. Parkes, with all honour, and that as soon as they and he had satisfactorily settled together all questions relating to the sealing and signature of the Convention (the rest of) the British subjects could be returned (as well), conduct towards the British Government which was not illiberal. How comes it that the British troops have carried their outrages into the garden palace of the Emperor, and have fired His Majesty's audience halls and dwellings? Is it reasonable that the nation of the British Minister, being one acquainted with the obligations of man to man, with discipline long established in its army, while its troops have wantonly fired and plundered the garden palace, the Commanders of the two armies, and the British Minister should affect ignorance of this? The British Minister should by right state plainly in his reply what steps are to be taken with regard to these proceedings.* This day, however, to his surprise the Prince has received a despatch from his Excellency General Grant, the British Commander-in-Chief, to the effect that he is about to take possession of the An-ting Gate, and to preface this by the erection of a battery, and that in the event of a refusal, he will assault the city on the 29th instant (13th October).

That the soldiers the British Minister might bring with him when he comes to the capital to exchange the treaties should be distributed without the walls, and that his escort should accompany him into the city, were indeed conditions inserted in the Convention, and to which, of course, effect will be given, as (the Convention) has been in toto assented to both by the former Commissioners and the Prince. The British Minister having also stated in a despatch which the Prince has received that there should be no alteration whatever in the treaty—this too can be at once exchanged, that a good understanding may be established, to endure for ever. But the words of the Convention had reference to the British Minister's entrance into the capital for the purpose of exchanging the treaties; the city gates have ever been under the surveillance of high officers specially charged to see them opened and closed, and if they be thrown open at this moment before (peace be concluded), and the duty of inspection and search recklessly neglected, the disorderly of the place will probably seize the opportunity to commit all sorts of irregularities. It is indispensable, therefore, that proper precautions should be taken.

The letter received from the British Government (Sir Hope Grant's despatch) says that the An-ting Gate will be occupied by a body of troops, and the two nations being now at peace, this is an arrangement which can of course be made, but the reply to this despatch should specify certain regulations for the occupation of this gate, and when the British Minister's reply to this effect shall have been received, a day can be named for the signature of the Convention and the exchange of the treaties, in order that before that day all necessary arrangements may be duly considered, to the establishment of a good understanding.

The British officers (still detained) were seized by the late Commissioners. A certain number were missing after the fight, or have died of their wounds, or of sickness. The Prince gave orders to the officers whose business it was to find out where they were, to make them comfortable, and to put them under medical treatment, and he now returns them as his former despatch promised that he would return them, keeping his word without any abatement or modification.

The Prince's correspondence during the last few days has been all carried on with the British Minister, and he thinks it proper to continue to address himself to his Excellency, although he has received the despatch of his Excellency the British General, as the good understanding has been restored.

He therefore writes this despatch, a necessary communication addressed to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, &c.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose for your Excellency's information the translation of a despatch which I received last night from the Prince Kung. I consider its tone to be by no means satisfactory, and I trust that the Commanders-in-

Chief will adhere to their determination to require the unconditional surrender of the gate.

IN reply to your Excellency's letter of this date, I have the honour to state that I sent officers this morning with Mr. Parkes to meet the Chinese deputies with respect to the surrender of the An-ting Gate.

These latter made various excuses to postpone the surrender, but were informed that, if the gate were not given up by noon to-day, the guns would open fire on the walls.

I have just now learned that this has been effected quietly, and the Allied Troops are now in possession of the An-ting Gate, upon which their respective flags are planted.

Camp before Peking,

MY LORD,

October 13, 1860.

DURING the afternoon of yesterday, nine prisoners were returned to this camp: 8 Troopers of Fane's Irregular Horse, and 1 French soldier. All were suffering more or less severely from the effects of the ligatures with which their wrists had been bound. I grieve to say that the evidence given by them leads us to fear the worst for Lieutenant Anderson, of Fane's Irregulars, and Mr. de Normann, Mr. Bruce's Attaché. They seem to have sunk under circumstances of much suffering from the consequences of the maltreatment to which they were subjected. I enclose herewith copies of the depositions of two of the troopers. I was not personally acquainted with Lieutenant Anderson, but he is spoken of by all who knew him as an excellent officer. Mr. de Normann was a young man of remarkable promise. With considerable abilities, great assiduity, singular steadiness of character, and courage of no common order, he had every promise of achieving eminence in his profession. We all mourn most bitterly his untimely end.

Evidence of Mahomed Khan, 4th Troop, Fane's Horse :

When we got to the camp of the Chinese, near Chankianwhan we heard the firing commenced, Messrs. Parkes and Loch left us with one sowar of Major Probyn's regiment. Mr. Anderson waited for about half an hour, and then wanted to go in search of them, but we were stopped by the Chinese.

We were eventually taken outside Tungchow, and our arms taken away from us. We then remounted, and went over the stone bridge along the paved road, to a joss house about a mile or two miles on this side. The next day, Captain Brabazon and a Frenchman left us, and we were taken through Pekin to a garden on the other side (this place was near a lake and temples round). We were there put into tents, 6 in each,

Mr. Anderson told off the numbers to each. This was about two o'clock in the day. About half an hour after our arrival, Mr. De Normann was taken out, under the pretence of having his face and hands washed, he was immediately seized, thrown on the ground, and his hands and feet tied together behind. Mr. Anderson was then taken out and tied in the same manner, then Mr. Bowlby, and then the Frenchman, and then the sowars. After we had all been tied, they put water on our bonds to tighten them. They then lifted us up, and took us into a court-yard, where we remained in the open air for three days exposed to the sun and cold. Mr. Anderson became delirious the second day from the effects of the sun, and want of water and food. We had nothing to eat all that time. At last they gave us about two square inches of bread and a little water. In the daytime the place was left open, and hundreds of people came to stare at us; there were many men of rank amongst the spectators. At night a soldier was placed on guard over each of us. If we spoke a word or asked for water, we were beaten and stamped upon. They kicked us about the head with their boots, if we asked for something to eat they crammed dirt down our mouths. At the end of the 3rd day irons were put on our necks, wrists, and aneles, and about three o'clock on the 4th day we were taken away in carts. I never saw Mr. Anderson again. In our two carts there were eight of us, viz., three Frenchmen, four Sikhs, and myself. One Frenchman died on the road, he was wounded with a sword-cut on the head. We were then taken away towards the hills. That night we stopped at a house to eat and rest, and travelled all the next day. We stopped again at night, and late the next day arrived at a walled town as big as Tientsin. There was also a large white fort outside the town about two miles off. The place was surrounded on three sides by high hills. We were taken into the jail inside the town. A Frenchman died after we had been in jail about eight or nine days, and Sowar Prem Singh, about three or four days after that. They both died from maggots eating into their flesh, and from which mortification ensued.

The mandarin in charge of the jail took off my irons about ten days ago. The Chinese prisoners were very kind to us, cleansed and washed our wounds, and gave us what they had to eat.

Evidence of Jowalla Sing, Duffadar, 1st troop
Fane's Horse :

When Messrs. Parkes and Loch left our party for the purpose of seeing Sankolinsin, there were Mr. Bowlby, Lieutenant Anderson, Captain Brabazon, Mr. De Normann, one man King's Dragoon Guards, one man 1st Sikh Cavalry, and our own party of 17 men, we stood waiting for half an hour, when Lieutenant Anderson asked to be taken to where the other gentlemen were gone; he was told to remain till they came back. After another half hour the army assembled in large numbers and surrounded us, told us to get off our horses, and leading them to come with them. Then, the whole army, as Lieutenant Anderson remarked, about 10,000 men, took us back to Tung Chow, and made us rest for about a quarter of an hour, and give up our arms. They then made us remount, and paraded us through the army, and then took us on the road to Pekin, and rested for that night in a joss house. In the morning they again mounted us on our horses and took us to Pekin. In Pekin they made us dismount, and fed us. They then took us through the city to a place about two miles beyond it ; they there made us dismount and gave us tents. The English officers and the natives separate. Then they took us away one by one and bound us lying on the stomach, with hands and feet tied behind the back. They kept us there in this position for three days. They gave us food three times and that only a mouthful at a time. They then threw us, bound as we were, into carts and took us, as I think, about 20 coss—the mules were trotting and galloping all night. We arrived in the morning at a fort*, and were there put into prison, confined in cages, and loaded with chains. At that time we were seven in all†. I know nothing of the others. They were taken further on. We were kept in this place three days, so tightly bound with cords that we could not move, the sowars bound with one cord, the others with two. At the first place we got nothing to eat, after that they gave us a little as before. After the first day at the second place‡, Lieutenant Anderson became delirious and remained so, with a few lucid intervals, until his death, which occurred on the ninth day of his imprisonment. Two days before his death his nails and fingers burst from the tightness of the cords, and mortification set in, and the bones of his wrist were exposed. Whilst he was alive worms were generated in his wounds, and eat into and crawled over his body. They left the body there three days, and then took it away.

* Showja, I think it is called.

† Anderson, De Norman, 1 duffadar, 4 sowars.

‡ Outside the King's Palace, about three miles from Pekin.

Five days after his death a sowar named Ramdun died in the same state. His body was taken away immediately. Three days after this Mr. De Norman died. On the evening of the day of Lieutenant Anderson's decease the cords were taken off our hands, but our feet were still kept bound, and from that time we were better fed. Our feet were unbound two days after this, and kept so until our release yesterday evening. When Lieutenant Anderson and our comrades called on us to help him by biting his cords, the Chinamen kicked us away. When we arrived at the joss house between Tung-chow and Peking, Captain Brabazon and a Frenchman went back, and Lieutenant Anderson told us they were going to the Commander-in-Chief, to give information and obtain our release.

WALTER FANE, Captain,
Commanding Fane's Horse.

War-Office, December 15, 1860.

MR. SECRETARY HERBERT has this day received two Despatches and their Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to him by Lieutenant-General Sir J. Hope Grant, G.C.B., Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in China :—

No. 51.

Head Quarters, Bivouac, outside Peking,

SIR,

October 9, 1860.

IN continuation of my letter of the 4th instant, I have the honour to report that, on the 5th October, the Allied Forces advanced from Tungchau, leaving the heavy guns, tents, and baggage stored about three miles from that place. We halted for the night about three miles east of the north-east angle of Pekin, and the following morning resumed our march in a north-westerly direction, so as to pass along the northern face of the city, out of gunshot of the walls, and attack Sangolinsin's army, which was supposed to be encamped directly in our front.

The country about here is not good for cavalry, from the great number of trees, villages, and hollow roads. I accordingly despatched the cavalry brigade with two 6-pounders, with mounted detachments, with orders to advance on the road leading to the Emperor's palace at Yuen-min-Yuen, with a view to cutting off the retreat of the enemy in that direction. The French were on our left, whilst the English force moved along the outside of an old rampart which runs parallel to the north face of the city. At this time we received information that the Chinese army was in full retreat, having commenced moving the night before. I therefore sent a message to General de Montauban, that I should advance at once to the Emperor's palace. On the road, however, we came across the rearguard apparently of the enemy, with whom a few shots were exchanged before they fled towards the city. As they appeared to be in considerable force in the suburb, I determined on halting on the northern road, to prevent their moving out in that direction.

The French, meanwhile, anxious to join us in our advance, struck off to their right, and crossing the rear of our column, without either of us seeing the other, pushed on to the palace without meeting any opposition, and occupied it about nightfall.

The cavalry brigade had reached the palace about two hours before this, and were there waiting for us to join them, on their way they saw a body of the enemy's cavalry, but were unable to come up with them.

On the following day, Mr. Wade went to meet a Chinese Commissioner, and conveyed to him a memorandum from General de Montauban and myself, a copy of which I send herewith, as also Mr. Wade's report of his interview.

The result of this has been that yesterday Messrs. Parkes and Loeh, with one Sikh Sowar, and five Frenchmen (one officer and four soldiers) were brought into the English camp.

The Chinese declare that these are all of the prisoners who were in Peking, the rest having been conveyed some distance into the interior; they have, however, been sent for, and will be given up in the course of a few days.

Messrs. Parkes and Loeh have given the following account of their capture:—When Captain Brabazon and Mr. Loeh left the army on the 18th of September, to recall Mr. Parkes' party, they proceeded at once to Lang-chau, where they experienced a short delay in collecting them all together, and then set out to return. On arriving within a few hundred yards of the centre of the Chinese position, where they had left Colonel Walker, they heard firing commence, and immediately their passage was barred by a large body of cavalry and infantry, the Commander of whom informed them, that, as firing had begun, he could not permit them to pass without Sangolinsin's orders. Considering that it would be almost impossible to cut their way through the large bodies which surrounded them, they decided on trusting to the flag of truce which they carried.

Accordingly Messrs. Parkes and Loeh, accompanied by one sikh orderly with a white flag, quitted the rest of the party to go and speak with Sangolinsin; whilst there they were surrounded and made prisoners, by order of Sangolinsin himself, and sent into Peking, where for several days they were treated with great severity. On the 29th September they were removed from the jail, and have been since treated in a proper manner.

The rest of the party they know nothing of, beyond having heard Sangolinsin, at the time of their capture, order the remainder to be seized also, and sent back to Tung-chau.

The five Frenchmen given up were taken prisoners in Tung-chau, whilst walking about the street, and ignorant of what was going on.

The loss of the Emperor's palace appears to have had a great effect on the Chinese authorities, who appear to be now willing to accede to our demands, to which we have added only the giving up one of the gates of Peking into our hands whilst we remain here, in return for which the city will be preserved for them.

The heavy guns will arrive from Tung-chau to-day, so that the Chinese will see that we are prepared to enforce our demands in the event of their deceiving us.

I have, &c.,

 Lieutenant-General,
 Commander of the Forces.

 of State for War, &c., &c., &c.*

*Camp, outside Têh-Shêng Gate,
 October 8, 1860.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to state that I went yesterday evening, at five o'clock, to a temple outside the Têh-Shêng gate, to meet Hangki, the deputy of the Prince of Kung, and that I communicated to him in the enclosed note the decision at which I had been instructed to say your Excellency and General de Montauban had arrived.

Beyond the rendition of our prisoners, which, as your Excellency was already aware, the Prince of Kung had signified in correspondence should take place on the 8th instant, Hangki could speak authoritatively upon nothing. He hoped to hear from the Prince by four o'clock on the 8th, at which hour the "detenus" should be surrendered "with honour."

After fully explaining to him the views of the Allied Commanders-in-Chief, as I understood them, I wrote the note enclosed, and his clerks having copied it in duplicate, I returned to headquarters.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) THOMAS WADE,
Chinese Secretary.

His Excellency Sir Hope Grant, K.C.B., &c., &c., &c.

Note addressed to Hang Ki, a deputy of the Imperial Commissioner the Prince of Kung, and handed to that Officer on the evening of the 7th October, 1860.

THE undersigned, has the honour to state that he has been sent here (to the Hwa-ying-szo) by the Commanders-in-Chief of the Allied Forces.

Their Excellencies have been given to understand, by their Excellencies the Ambassadors of their respective nations, that His Imperial Highness the Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, has officially informed their Excellencies that there is nothing to which he does not assent either in the treaties concluded the year before last, or in the conventions negotiated this year at Tien-tsin.

The Commanders-in-Chief have consequently no remark to offer regarding the treaties, but unless the Chinese Government immediately send in to their respective camps the officers and subjects of the two powers still in its hands, their Excellencies will cause the capital city of Peking to be stormed in order to shew to those who break faith and do injury to others that sooner or later their offence will be punished.

If on the other hand the Chinese Government send back those now in its hands without delay, and at the same time depute a competent officer to prepare the conventions and other documents their Excellencies the Allied Ambassadors will name a day for the signature of the conventions, the exchange of ratifications and similar formalities.

Later events, however, considered, it will not be proper that faith should be placed at random in the Chinese Government or its people. It becomes expedient to take measures of precaution beforehand against evil that may be done. Before, therefore, their Excellencies enter Peking, a gate of the capital will have to be occupied by an escort detached from both armies. The Commanders-in-Chief will decide which of the gates, and the Chinese troops will be then required to fall back for the time being from the gate their Excellencies choose to hold.

This effected, if the officers and people of the capital remain quiet without giving trouble, as in the case of Tien-tsin and Tung-chau, the allied forces will conduct themselves towards them as they have done towards the officers and people of those two cities.

(Signed) THOMAS WADE,
Chinese Secretary.

No. 52.

Head-Quarters,

SIR,

October 13, 1860.

IN continuation of my despatch of the 9th instant, I have the honour to inform you that, on the 10th I made a reconnaissance of the walls of Peking, with General de Montauban.

Having selected the sites for the breaching batteries, the works were immediately traced and constructed, and the batteries were armed, so as to be ready to open fire at noon to day, in the event of the gate not being then surrendered to us.

This morning I sent some officers with Mr. Parkes to arrange with the Chinese Deputies for the surrender of the gate of the city, which we had demanded of them. They endeavoured to make excuses, and delay, if possible, the surrender on various false pretences; but were told, in reply, that twelve o'clock was the hour that had been fixed, and no extension could be granted.

Accordingly the easternmost gate on the north side of the city has been this day occupied by the allied forces without opposition, and a letter having been received from the Prince of Kung, announcing the readiness of the Chinese Government to agree to all our terms, I have every reason to hope to be able shortly to announce that the campaign is at an end, and peace concluded.

Last night a French soldier, and eight sowars of Fane's horse, were surrendered to us, having been brought in from places where they been confined, about fifty miles off.

These men had all been treated with great severity at first, and they report the deaths of one French officer and one soldier, also of Lieut. Anderson of Fane's Horse, and Mr. de Norman, First Attaché to H.M. Legation, and of two sowars of Fane's Horse.

The remainder of the prisoners are to be brought back to-night or to-morrow morning, having been confined a great distance off.

This letter will be despatched by a special steamer to Hong Kong, to overtake the mail, and I trust to be able to add a postscript, giving the names of those who have survived.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. HOPE GRANT,
Lieutenant-General,
Commander of the Forces.

14th October.—The remaining prisoners have not yet been sent in, but the mail can no longer be delayed.

LONDON GAZETTE of DECEMBER 21,

CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

ELECTION and INVESTITURE of the DUKE OF NEWCASTLE.

At the Court at Windsor Castle, December 17, 1860.

A CHAPTER of this Most Noble Order was held this day at three o'clock.

The Knights Companions following, in their mantles and collars; viz.: His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, the Marquess of Exeter, the Marquess Camden, the Earl of Clarendon, the Marquess of Normanby, the Earl of Carlisle, Viscount Palmerston, the Earl Granville, the Marquess of Westminster, the Duke of Devonshire, and the Earl of Harrowby, attended by the following Officers of the Order; viz.: the Prelate, the Chancellor, Garter, and Black Rod, assembled in the Waterloo Gallery, where they were called over by Garter.

Her Majesty, His Royal Highness The Prince Consort, and His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, having passed into the Chapter Room, the Knights Companions and Officers proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions being seated, and the Officers standing in their respective places, the Chancellor signified to the Chapter Her Majesty's royal will and pleasure that a vacant stall in St. George's Chapel should be filled.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, the Duke of Newcastle was introduced by Garter and Black Rod, and being conducted to Her Majesty, received the honour of Knighthood, and having had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand, withdrew.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to an election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor, were by him presented to the Sovereign, who commanded him to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Most Noble Henry Pelham, Duke of Newcastle, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, his Grace was received at the door of the Chapter-room by the Duke of Devonshire and the Earl of Harrowby, the two junior Knights present, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by Garter, bearing the ensigns of the Order, and by Black Rod. The Duke of Newcastle, kneeling near the Sovereign, Garter, on his knee, presented the Garter, - and Her Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness The Prince Consort and His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, the two senior Knights Companions, buckled it around his Grace's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the Ribband and George, and Her Majesty, assisted as before, put the same over his Grace's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition. His Grace then again had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand, and having received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, retired.

The Chapter being concluded, Garter, by Her Majesty's command, again called over the Knights Companions, who, together with the Officers, withdrew from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

*At the Court at Windsor Castle,
December 17, 1860.*

THE QUEEN, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, has been graciously pleased by letters patent, under Her Royal Sign Manual and the Great Seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all the Statutes and Regulations usually observed in regard to Installations, and to grant unto the Most Noble Henry Pelham, Duke of Newcastle, Knight of the said Most Noble Order, and duly invested with the ensigns thereof, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to a Knight Companion of the Most Noble Order of the Garter in as full and ample a manner as if he had been formally installed, any decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

At the Court at Windsor, the 17th day of December, 1860.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order with reference to the representation of the Right Honourable Sir George Cornwall Lewis, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that no new burial-ground shall be opened in any of the under-mentioned parishes, without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that burials in the said parishes shall be discontinued, with the following modifications, from and after the twenty-seventh day of December instant, except as is herein otherwise directed, as follows, viz.:

MARGATE.—Forthwith in the Cemetery adjoining Zion Chapel, except in so far as they can be conducted in accordance with the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth Clauses of the Official Regulations for new Burial Grounds. WARRINGTON.—Forthwith beneath Cairo-street Chapel, Warrington, and that the existing graves beneath the said chapel be closed, in an airtight manner, with stone-work, asphalt, or concrete, and that the entire surface beneath the floor of the chapel be covered with a layer of fresh soil, not less than four inches thick, mixed with charcoal. DENTON, SUSSEX.—Forthwith beneath the Parish Church, and from and after December thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, in the Churchyard, with the exception of now-existing brick graves, and family earthen graves, which can be opened without disturbing human remains, and in which no body shall be buried without a covering of four feet of earth, measuring from the top of the coffin to the general level of the ground. COTTINGHAM, YORKSHIRE.—Forthwith beneath the Parish Church, and also in that part of the Churchyard which is within five yards of any dwelling; also, from and after January first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, in the Churchyard, except in graves not less than five feet deep, which are free from water, and can be opened without the exposure of bones.

At the Court at Windsor, the 17th day of December, 1860.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed, as follows; viz.:

In the Old and New churchyards of the parish of ALMONDBURY, Yorkshire, from the first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, to the first of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one. In the churchyard of PITTINGTON, Durham, from the first of January to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one. In the new part of the churchyard of Saint Helen's, ABINGDON, and in the other parts of that churchyard, provided, no human remains be exposed; and in the Baptist Burial-ground, Saint Helen's, ABINGDON, from the first of January to the thirty-first of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one. In Christ Church Burial-ground, Every-street, Ancoats, in MANCHESTER, from the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, on condition that all the regulations prescribed by certain Orders in Council of the seventh of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and twenty-second of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, in reference to this burial-ground, be strictly observed.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY of DECEMBER 28, 1860.

Foreign-Office, December 27, 1860.

MR. LOCH, Private Secretary to the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, arrived at the Foreign-Office this evening, at seven o'clock, with despatches from his Lordship, enclosing a Convention putting an end to hostilities with China, signed on the 24th of October last, by his Lordship with the Plenipotentiary of the Emperor of China.

Foreign Office, December 28, 1860.

THE following despatches and enclosures were received last evening from the Earl of Elgin, Her Majesty's High Commissioner and Plenipotentiary

in China :—

MY LORD, Pekin October 22, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to enclose the translation of a despatch which I received from Prince Kung on the 15th instant.

I have, &c.,
ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

The Lord John Russell,
 &c. &c. &c.

Received October 15, 1860.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

The Prince has been informed of the strict discipline of the British Minister's retinue now in the city (1), it produces a feeling of security amongst the people, and prevents any doubts or fears on their part.

The Prince is greatly gratified at this evidence of the British Government's sincere desire for friendly relations, and he feels it his duty to conduct himself towards (the British Minister), with corresponding fairness. He has accordingly deputed Hangki, President of the Wu-pi-yuen (Military Department of the Household), to arrange definitely with any British Officer who may be similarly deputed, all details essential to the sealing and signature of the Tien-tsin Convention, and to ascertain sufficiently beforehand the day on which the British Minister will exchange (the ratifications of) the Treaty of the 8th year (1858), to enable all necessary preparations to be made. These may otherwise, it is to be feared, be so hurried, if undertaken only after the Minister has entered the capital, and thus there might be some want of what is due to his Excellency, which would be quite at variance with the desire of the Prince to treat him properly.

Hien-fung, 10th year, 9th moon, 1st day (14th October, 1860).

Translated by

THOMAS WADE,

Chinese Secretary.

(1). The text means, literally, the following men, retinue of the honourable, i. e., your nation. The Prince is anxious to persuade himself that the gate has not been surrendered to the Commanders-in-Chief.

T. W.

Pekin,

MY LORD,

October 23, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to enclose herewith translations of two despatches which I received from Prince Kung, one on the 20th and the other on the 21st instant, with a copy of my reply, fixing the 24th instant for the signing of the Convention, and for the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of Tien-tsin.

I have, &c.,

ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

The Lord John Russell,

&c. &c. &c.

Received October 21, 1860.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

Upon the 6th instant (19th October), the Prince addressed a communication to the British Minister in reply to his Excellency's answer of the 4th instant, appointing the 10th of this moon (23rd October) as the day on which the Convention must positively be signed, and the [ratifications of the] Treaty of the 8th year (1858) exchanged. His Excellency's despatch, however, did not specify any hour on the 10th instant; and as the French are to sign and seal the Convention and exchange ratifications on the same day, unless an hour be fixed beforehand, the preliminary arrangements may possibly not be completed in time.

The Prince trusts, therefore, that the British Minister will specify the hour at which the Convention is to be signed, and the exchange of the ratifications effected, that he may direct officers to make the necessary preparations.

A necessary communication addressed to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, at Hien-fung, 10th year, 9th moon, 8th day (21st October, 1860).

Received October 22, 1860.

THE Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

On receipt of the British Minister's despatch applying for the sum of 300,000 taels, to compensate [the suffering and losses] of the British officers and soldiers [made prisoners], the Prince wrote to say that he assented entirely, and he has this day sent officers to hand over that sum, in security of a good understanding between the two nations.

He trusts that the British Minister will have duly taken over, and will write a reply acknowledging the receipt of this money, which reply can be handed to the officer sent with it, that he may bring it to the Prince, in token of good faith.

A necessary communication, addressed to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, &c.

Earl of Elgin to Prince Kung.

THE undersigned Earl of Elgin, &c., has the honour to acknowledge the Prince of Kung's two despatches, of the 21st and the 22nd instant, and begs in reply to inform His Imperial Highness that as soon as the silver forwarded yesterday shall have been duly examined by the British and Chinese officers now about to commence inspection of it, the undersigned will enclose His Highness the receipt he requests.

The undersigned has further the honour to acquaint His Imperial Highness that he proposes signing the Convention, at the Court of the Board of Ceremonies, to-morrow, at two o'clock, and, immediately after its signature, exchanging the ratifications of the Treaty of 1858.

British Embassy, Peking,

MY LORD,

October 25, 1860.

GENERAL IGNATIEFF, the Representative of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Russia in this country, has had the great kindness to allow us to bury in the Russian cemetery our countrymen, who fell victims to the barbarity of the Chinese. Nothing could be more considerate than the manner in which this service was rendered to us. I enclose herewith the copy of a letter which I addressed to his Excellency on the subject, and I beg to assure your Lordship that I have not stated in that letter, as strongly as I feel it, my sense of the obligation under which I lie to General Ignatieff, for the course which he has followed ever since we have been brought together in the discharge of our official duties.

I enclose the copy of his Excellency's reply.

I have, &c.,

ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

The Lord John Russell,

&c., &c., &c.

British Embassy, Peking,

MONSIEUR LE GENERAL, October 17, 1860.

PERMIT me to convey to your Excellency my very sincere thanks for the great favour which you have done to me, and to my countrymen, by permitting the British subjects, who have been barbarously murdered by the Chinese authorities, to find a last resting-place in the Russian cemetery.

Your secretary gave, I doubt not, a just expression to the sentiment which dictated this most considerate act, on your Excellency's part, when he said to me after the funeral, "to-day we look on this cemetery, not as Russian, or Greck, but Christian."

I cannot address your Excellency on this subject without availing myself of the opportunity to acknowledge the gratification and advantage I have derived from my intercourse with your Excellency ever since our official relations have brought us together. Without departing from the attitude which the instructions of your Government prescribed, you have throughout shown a legitimate sympathy in the success of the endeavours which we have been making to cause a semi-barbarous Government to respect the obligations of good faith in its dealings with other nations. For my own part, I have always derived benefit from your Excellency's opinion and knowledge on the subjects on which I have had the good fortune to converse with you.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

His Excellency General Ignatieff.

MILORD, Pékin, le $\frac{6}{18}$ Octobre, 1860.

J'AI eu l'honneur de recevoir l'aimable lettre de votre Excellence du 5-17 Octobre.

En donnant à vos malheureux compatriotes, qui sont morts d'une manière si horrible entre les mains cruelles des Chinois, la triste hospitalité sur le cimetière de notre Mission, je n'ai fait que mon devoir de chrétien et de représentant d'une nation amie. Je n'ai suivi dans cette occasion, comme dans toutes les autres, que l'esprit des instructions de mon Gouvernement, qui dans un cas comme celui là ne voudrait jamais suivre une autre ligne de conduite.

Il va sans dire, Milord, et je n'ai certainement pas besoin des vous certifier expressément que les tombes des quatre Anglais qui gisent bien loin de leur patrie dans notre cimetière de Pékin seront religieusement gardées par notre mission ecclésiastique avec les mêmes soins que celle ci attache à la conservation des siennes.

Quant à ce que votre lettre contient de personnel sur les rapports qui ont existés entre nous, je remercie votre Excellence pour tout ce qu'elle a bien voulu me dire d'obligeant et de flatteur.

Je me félicite d'avoir entretenu avec votre Excellence les relations les plus franches, et je ne puis à cette occasion que répéter ce que déjà j'ai eu l'honneur de vous dire : que toujours je serai enchanté d'être d'accord avec votre Excellence et d'avoir pu profiter de vos lumières et de votre expérience, dans les conversations intimes sur des sujets qui intéressent au plus haut point nos deux pays.

J'ai, &c.,

MY LORD,

25th October, 1860.

PRINCE KUNG'S communication to me, of which the translation was forwarded in my despatch to your Lordship, of the 13th inst., and of which I furnish a duplicate translation herewith, was by no means a satisfactory document. Although we were receiving, day by day, fresh evidence of the barbarous treatment which our fellow-countrymen, who had been illegally arrested, had experienced at the hands of the Chinese authorities, and although I had constantly stated in my letters to him, that I could not entertain proposals for the establishment of peace until they should have been restored, he makes in it no allusion to them at all; on the contrary, he refers somewhat flippantly to peace as already existing, complains of the advance of the army to the Palace of Yuen-Ming-Yuen, and endeavours to make conditions respecting the cession of the gate of the city, with the manifest intention of giving to that act the appearance of an arrangement entered into for mutual convenience, rather than of an absolute surrender. To have accepted such a communication as satisfactory, and as the basis on which an agreement for the final settlement of our differences with China might be built, would have been, in my judgment, to compromise the most important objects for which this costly expedition was undertaken. The people of China would have been ere long informed that we had been baffled by the defences of Peking. In the more secret councils of the Imperial Court it would have been argued that the arrest of the prisoners had been a successful measure, as it had in some degree at least, paralyzed our movements, and gratified the resentment of the Emperor, without entailing any specific penalty. Low as is the standard of morals which now obtains in China on such points, we should, in my opinion have still further lowered it, if we had not treated the act in question as a high crime calling for severe retribution.

Such being the convictions at which I had arrived after a full and anxious consideration of all the circumstances of the case, and of the obligations which those circumstances imposed upon me, I had to determine how I could best give effect to them, but here I found myself beset with difficulties of no common magnitude.

Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant, as your Lordship will perceive, from my correspondence with him, of which a copy is transmitted herewith, held the opinion that his army must commence its march towards Tien-tsin, on or before the 1st of November; and further, that any attack on Peking, or on the public buildings contained therein, unless preceded by some fresh provocation on the part of the Chinese, would be inconsistent with the conditions on which he had accepted the surrender of the Anting Gate of the city. Baron Gros was, on the other hand, most desirous that we should take no step which might prevent us from obtaining the signature of the Convention, and the ratification of the Treaties of 1858. On this point I entirely agreed with his Excellency; but I confess that I attached more importance to the impression which we might leave behind us on our departure from this place, than to any formal stipulations by which the Chinese authorities might bind themselves. It was necessary, therefore, to discover some act of retribution and punishment sufficiently severe to produce the required effect, and yet capable of such rapid execution, that it would be possible after it had been accomplished, to complete, before the 1st of November, the Treaties of peace, and such further measures as might be immediately necessary to put them into operation. This had to be done without attacking Peking, or anything within Peking, and in such a manner as to make the blow fall on the Emperor, who was clearly responsible for the crimes committed; without, however, so terrifying his brother, whom he had left behind him to represent him, as to drive him from the field.

The destruction of the Yuen-Ming-Yuen Palace, coupled with the exaction, as a step preliminary to negotiations, and in name of compensation to the sufferers, of such a sum of money as could be raised on the spot by the Government, seemed to me to be the only combination which fulfilled all these conditions. I had also at one time resolved to require that a monument should be erected at the expense of the Chinese Government, stating the circumstances of the arrest and murder of the British subjects illegally captured, who had died from the effects of their ill-treatment in prison, and the penalty which had been inflicted for the deed; but this proposal I finally abandoned for reasons which I have explained elsewhere.

As the destruction of Yuen-Ming-Yuen is, however, an act to which exception may, with great apparent reason, be taken, it is my duty before closing this despatch, to say a few words respecting the only modes of inflicting a specific punishment for the crime in question which, limited as were my means of action for the reasons above stated, I could have adopted as substitutes for that measure.

I might, perhaps, have demanded a large sum of money, not as compensation for the sufferers, but as a penalty inflicted on the Chinese Government. But, independently of the objection in principle to making a high crime of this nature a mere money question, I hold on this point the opinion which is, I believe, entertained by all persons without exception who have investigated the subject, that, in the present disorganised state of the Chinese Government, to obtain large pecuniary indemnities from it is simply impossible, and that all that can be done practically in the matter is, to appropriate such a portion of the Customs revenue as will still leave to it a sufficient interest in that revenue to induce it to allow the natives to continue to trade with foreigners. It is calculated that it will be necessary to take 40 per cent. of the gross Customs revenue of China for about four years, in order to procure payment of the indemnities already claimed by Baron Gros and me, under instructions from your Lordship and the French Government.

Embarrassing questions respecting the occupation of Chinese territory are involved in this arrangement, and I do not think that it would be advisable to bind the Chinese Government by engagements which would cause the term of liquidation of these indemnities to be indefinitely extended.

Or, I might have required that the persons guilty of cruelty to our countrymen, or of the violation of a flag of truce, should be surrendered. But if I had made this demand in general terms, some miserable subordinates would probably have been given up, whom it would have been difficult to pardon and impossible to punish. And if I had specified Sing-ko-linsin, of whose guilt, in violating a flag of truce evidence sufficient to ensure his condemnation by a court-martial could be furnished, I should have made a demand which, it may be confidently affirmed, the Chinese Government would not have conceded, and mine could not have enforced. I must add, that throwing the responsibility for the acts of Government in this way on individuals, resembles too closely the Chinese mode of conducting war to approve itself altogether to my judgment. Having, therefore, to the best of my judgment, examined the question in all its bearings, I came to the conclusion that the destruction of Yuen-Ming-Yuen was the least objectionable of the several courses open to me, unless I could have reconciled it to my sense of duty to suffer the crime which had been committed to pass practically unavenged. I had reason, moreover, to believe that it was an act which was calculated to produce a greater effect in China, and on the Emperor, than persons who look on from a distance may suppose.

It was the Emperor's favourite residence, and its destruction could not fail to be a blow to his pride as well as to his feelings. To this place, as appears from the depositions of the Sikh troopers, copies of which were inclosed in my despatch to your Lordship of October 13, he brought our hapless countrymen, in order that they might undergo their severest tortures within its precincts. Here have been found the horses and accoutrements of the troopers seized, the decorations torn from the breast of a gallant French officer, and other effects belonging to the prisoners. As almost all the valuables had already been taken from the palace, the army would go there, not to pillage, but to mark, by a solemn act of retribution, the horror and indignation with which we were inspired by the perpetration of a great crime. The punishment was one which would fall, not on the people, who may be comparatively innocent, but exclusively on the Emperor, whose direct personal responsibility for the crime committed is established, not only by the treatment of the prisoners at Yuen-Ming-Yuen, but also by the Edict inclosed in my despatch of the 22nd October in which he offers a pecuniary reward for the heads of the foreigners, adding, that he is ready to expend all his treasure in these wages of assassination.

I have now submitted as full a statement as it is in my power to furnish, of the motives which determined the tenor of the despatch which I addressed to Prince Kung, in replying to his communication to me of the 12th instant. I conclude by inclosing a copy of it, and a translation of the rejoinder which it called forth.

Received 12th October, 1860.

The Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication.

THE Prince having repeatedly written to say that he had deputed officers to treat the British Secretary, Mr. Parkes, with all honour, and that as soon as they and he had satisfactorily settled together all questions relating to the sealing and signature of the Convention (the rest of), the British subjects to be returned (as well), conduct towards the British Government which was not illiberal, how comes it that the British troops have carried their outrages into the garden palace of the Emperor, and have fired His Majesty's audience halls and dwellings. Is it reasonable that, the nation of the British Minister being one acquainted with the obligations of man to man, with discipline long established in its army, while its troops have wantonly fired and plundered the garden palace, the commanders of the two armies and the British Minister should affect ignorance of this? The British Minister should by rights state plainly in his reply what steps are to be taken with regard to these proceedings; (1) this day, however, to his surprise, the Prince has received a despatch from his Excellency General Grant, the British Commander-in-Chief, to the effect that he is about to take possession of the Anting Gate, and to preface this by the erection of a battery, and that in the event of a refusal he will assault the city on the 29th instant (13th October).

That the soldiers the British Minister might bring with him, when he came to the capital to exchange the Treaties, should be distributed without the walls, and that his escort should accompany him into the city, were indeed considerations inserted in the Convention, and to which of course effect will be given, as (the Convention) has been in toto assented to both by the former Commissioners and the Prince. The British Minister having also stated, in a despatch which the Prince has received, that there should be no alteration whatever in the Treaty, this too can be at once exchanged; that a good understanding may be established to endure for ever. But the words of the Convention had reference to the British Minister's entrance into the capital for the purpose of exchanging the Treaties; the city gates have ever been under the surveillance of high officers specially charged to see them opened and closed ; if they be thrown open at this moment, before (peace be concluded) and the duty of inspection and search recklessly neglected, the disorderly of the place will probably seize the opportunity to commit all sorts of irregularities. It is indispensable therefore that proper precautions should be taken. The letter received from the British Government (Sir Hope Grant's despatch) says that the Anting Gate will be occupied by a body of troops, and the two nations being now at peace this is an arrangement which of course can be made, but the reply to this despatch should specify certain regulations for the occupation of this gate, and when the British Minister's reply to this effect shall have been received, a day can be named for the signature of the Convention and the exchange of the Treaties, in order that before that day all necessary arrangements may be duly considered, to the establishment of a good understanding.

The British officers (still detained) were seized by the late Commissioners, a certain number were missing after the fight, or [have died] of their wounds or of sickness. The Prince gave orders to the officers whose business it was to find out where they were, to make them comfortable, and to put them under medical treatment, and he now returns them as his former despatch promised that he would return them, keeping his word, without any abatement or modification.

The Prince's correspondence during the last few days has been all carried on with the British Minister, and he thinks it proper to continue to address himself to his Excellency, although he has received the despatch from his Excellency the British General, as the good understanding has been restored.

He therefore writes this despatch, a necessary communication, addressed to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin, &c., &c.

T. W.

THE Undersigned has the honour to acknowledge receipt of a despatch from His Serene Highness the Prince Kung, under date the 12th instant:

As that despatch was in its principal part a reply to a communication which had been addressed to Prince Kung by the Commander-in-chief of Her Britannic Majesty's force, he transmitted a copy of it as soon as it reached him to his Excellency, in order that he might take such notice of it as might seem to him to be fitting.

It is unnecessary, therefore, for the Undersigned to refer to those parts of the despatch in question which refer to the attack on Yuen-Ming-Yuen, and other military acts consequent on the advance of the British and French troops to the neighbourhood of Peking; he will only observe on this head that this advance took place because the Chinese Government refused to accept the terms of peace offered to it by the Undersigned, firstly, at Tientsin and again at Tung-Chaw, and because, in the latter case that refusal was accompanied by an act of barbarous treachery, for which it would be difficult in the annals of the world to find a parallel.

The Commander-in-chief has informed the Undersigned that he took no notice whatsoever that portion of the despatch of the Prince, in which his Highness requires that a letter should be written to him specifying the regulations under which the gate shall be held when surrendered to the allies.

The gate has nevertheless been surrendered unconditionally; this is well; had the Prince adhered to the demand implied in that clause of his despatch, the city of Peking would have been assaulted and taken.

The Undersigned has further to inform His Serene Highness that the letter of the Commander-in-chief, stating the terms on which the city of Peking would be spared, was written before he knew the treatment to which the British and French subjects, seized in violation of a flag-of-truce, on the 18th ultimo, had been subjected; and when all the evidence which he possessed on this point was contained in the despatch of the Prince to the Undersigned, in which despatches the Prince repeatedly averred that the prisoners in question had suffered no mortal injury, were comfortably lodged, and treated with all proper attention.

Information since received establishes the fact that at the time when these words were written several subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, not taken in fight, but seized and bound while relying on the security that should have been afforded them by a flag-of-truce, and offering no resistance, had already died from the effects of the barbarous cruelty to which they and their companions had been subjected as prisoners. This flagrant misrepresentation of the facts of the case, for which the Prince is himself responsible, would fully justify the Commander-in-chief in setting at nought the conditions under which the gate of the city was surrendered into his hands, but he is still desirous to spare, if possible, the lives of the common people.

The Undersigned now proceeds to advert to those portions of the despatch of His Serene Highness which concern him more immediately, and especially to that clause which speaks of peace as already established between Great Britain and China.

The Undersigned begs to remind his Serene Highness that in the first communication which he had the honour to address to him, he informed him that suspension of hostilities and negotiation of peace would be impossible until the officers and subjects of Her Britannic Majesty still missing had returned: to that declaration he has constantly adhered.

How has this condition, which the Undersigned has throughout declared to be indispensable to the resumption of negotiations for the establishment of peace, been fulfilled by Prince Kung and the Government which he represents?

Of the total number of 26 British subjects seized in defiance of honour and of the law of nations, 13 only have been restored alive, all of whom carry on their persons evidence more or less distinctly marked of the indignities and illtreatment from which they have suffered, and 13 have been barbarously murdered under circumstances on which the Undersigned will not dwell lest his indignation should find vent in words which are not suitable to a communication of this nature.

Until this foul deed shall have been expiated, peace between Great Britain and the existing dynasty of China is impossible.

The following, therefore, are the conditions, the immediate acceptance of which will alone avert from it the doom impending on it.

What remains of the palace of Yuen-Ming-Yuen, which appears to be the place at which several of the British captives were subjected to the grossest indignities, will be immediately levelled with the ground; this condition requires no assent on the part of his Highness, because it will be at once carried into effect by the Commander-in-chief.

A sum of 300,000 taels must be paid down at once to the officers appointed by the Undersigned to receive it, which sum will be appropriated at the discretion of Her Majesty's Government to those who have suffered, and to the families of the murdered men.

The immediate signature of the Convention drawn up at Tien-tsin, which will remain as it is with the single change that it shall be competent for the armies of England and France to remain at Tien-tsin until the whole indemnities spoken of in the said Convention are paid, if the Governments of England and France see fit to adopt this course.

The demolition of Yuen-Ming-Yuen will take place immediately.

Unless before 10 A.M. on the 20th, the Prince informs the Undersigned in writing that the sum demanded as compensation for the British subjects who have been maltreated or murdered, will be ready for payment on the 22nd, and that he will be prepared to sign the Convention and to exchange the ratifications of the Treaty of Tien-tsin on the 23rd, the Undersigned will again call on the Commander-in-chief to seize the Imperial Palace in Peking, and to take such other measures to compel the Chinese Government to accede to the demands of that of Great Britain as may seem to him to be fitting. It is proper, however, that he should inform the Prince, that should the contumacy of the Chinese force him to adopt this course, he will address himself to the Commander-in-chief of Her Majesty's Naval Forces, as well as to the Commander-in-chief of Her Majesty's Land Forces. He begs to remind the Prince that the Customs revenue of Canton is being collected for the profit of the Supreme Government of China, although that city is in the military occupation of the Allies.

That it is the military force of the Allies which has for some time past prevented Shanghai from falling into the hands of the rebels, and that the junks carrying rice and tribute to Peking have been allowed to pass and repass unmolested, although the fleets of the Allies command both the seas and rivers.

If peace be not at once concluded, this state of things will cease, and the Undersigned will concert measures with Her Majesty's Naval Commander-in-chief, with the view of obtaining from these and other sources indemnification for the expense which Her Majesty's Government is compelled to incur by the bad faith of that of China.

(Signed) ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

Received 20th October, 7 A. M.

The Prince of Kung, Imperial Commissioner, makes a communication in reply.

Upon the 4th of the 9th moon (17th, October) the Prince received the British Ministers reply of the 3rd, and he now in evidence of his desire for friendly relations makes answer plainly and clearly that we positively agree to everything [therein demanded].

The despatch under acknowledgement states that of 26 persons seized, but 13 have been sent back, and that to compensate these and [the families] of the 13 who are dead, for what they have suffered, the British Minister requires 300,000 taels.

Feeling that his Excellency's requisition for the sum to be so appropriated is prompted by the best intentions on his part, the Prince at once approves of its payment.

As regards the barbarous treatment of the officers and men of the [French and British] nations, the Prince has assented to the payment of the compensation money, that in the amends it makes (or the comfort it will afford) there might be proof (of the re-establishment) of friendly relations.

The day on which his Excellency the British Ambassador will exchange the ratifications, can be satisfactorily arranged between whatever officers may be deputed (for this purpose) on either side.

A necessary reply, addressed to his Excellency, the Earl of Elgin, Hien-Fung, 10th year, 9th moon, 6th day (19th October, 1860).

Before Peking,

SIR,

AS it is important that I should not, at the present conjuncture, make any demands on the Chinese Government, in the enforcement of which I shall not be supported by your Excellency, I beg to know whether I have rightly interpreted your Excellency's views on the following points:

1st. That it is your determination to return to Tien-tsin before the winter sets in.

2ndly. That, in order to effect this object, it is necessary that you should commence your move-ent towards that place not later than the first week in November.

3rdly. That you consider that good faith requires you to abstain from any attack on Pekin, or on the public buildings contained therein, unless the Chinese give fresh cause of provocation.

4thly. But that you are prepared to take measures at once for the complete demolition of the palaces of Haitien and Yuen-Ming-Yuen.

I have, &c.,

Head Quarters, Pekin,

October 15th, 1860.

MY LORD,

IN reply to your Excellency's letter of this date, I have the honour to state as follows :

1st. That, in consultation with General de Montauban, I have determined that it will not be advisable to keep the army here during the winter.

2ndly. That, in order to make the necessary arrangements for wintering at Tien-tsin, the allied forces must march towards that place about the 1st November.

3rdly. That, after the engagements under which the Anting Gate has been surrendered, viz., that the city should not be injured, it would be not only contrary to good faith to attack the city or public buildings, excepting it should become a military necessity, from the Chinese giving fresh cause of provocation, but would also tend to destroy the reputation which we now possess, both in Europe and in the East, for adhering strictly to our word ; and, in the present state of our relations with China, I consider it still more important that we should give rise to no possible misconstruction on this point.

4thly. That I am prepared to ensure the destruction of the palaces of Haitien and Yuen-Ming-Yuen, should your Lordship consider this step to be advisable. I have, &c.

*His Excellency
The Earl of Elgin and Kincardine,

British Embassy, Peking,

MY LORD, 26th October, 1860.

IN my despatch of the 23rd instant, I inclosed the copy of a letter from myself to the Prince of Kung, fixing the 24th instant for the signature of the Convention of Peking, and for the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of Tien-tsin.

I have now the honour to report that, on the day appointed, I went to the Hall of Ceremonies, which is near the southern wall of the Tartar city, accompanied by Sir Hope Grant and several officers of rank, and attended by an escort, furnished by order of the Commander-in-chief, I found the Prince of Kung already there, surrounded by a large number of Mandarins of distinction.

After the exhibition of our respective full powers, we proceeded to the signature of the Convention, which does not materially differ from the draft transmitted to your Lordship from Tien-tsin in my despatch of the 8th of September. Two Articles have, however, been added to those contained in that draft; the one legalizing emigration, and the other ceding to Her Majesty that portion of the township of Cowloon which is included in the lease granted to Harry Smith Parkes, Esq., C.B., on behalf of the British Government by the Governor-General of the Two Kwang.

The signature of the Convention was followed by the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of Tien-tsin ; and, as the Chinese form of ratification is different from ours, I thought it proper to require that the Prince of Kung should certify on the face of the document, under his signature and seal, that the form adopted was binding on the Emperor.

A Minute, recording the proceedings which had taken place in connection with the exchange of the ratifications, was then drawn up in duplicate, and signed and sealed by the Plenipotentiaries, of which duplicates one was delivered to the Prince of Kung, and the other to me.

I inclose herewith the Convention of Peking, duly signed and sealed by myself and the Prince of Kung, the Treaty of Tien-tsin ratified by the Emperor of China, and the Minute certifying the act of ratification, signed and sealed by the Plenipotentiaries, and I have committed these important documents to the care of Mr. Loch, my private secretary, in order that he may in person deliver them to your Lordship.

I commend Mr. Loch to your Lordship's favorable consideration. He was illegally seized and cast into prison by the Chinese authorities on the 18th ultimo, while engaged in the discharge of his official duties, and his conduct, under very trying circumstances, was in the highest degree creditable to him.

I HAVE the honour to inclose a translation of the Imperial Decree, conferring full powers on Prince Kung, and of the certificate affixed to the ratified Treaty, and signed and sealed by him, declaring the apposition of the Emperor's Seal to the Treaty to be a full and valid act of Imperial Ratification.

Before consenting to be satisfied with ratification in this form, I inquired what Baron Gros's views on the subject were, and I ascertained that he would be glad to have the certificate which I proposed to demand, but that he was quite willing to accept the Seal as a valid act of ratification, even without any such certificate.

Translation of the Decree produced by the Prince of Kung at the Court of the Board of Ceremonies, before signing the Convention of the 24th October, 1860.

On the 7th day of the 8th moon of the 10th year of the reign of Hien Fung (21st September, 1860), the Chief Secretariat had the honour to receive the following Imperial Decree.

"We command Yih Su, Imperial Prince of Kung, to be Imperial Commissioner Plenipotentiary, with power to do whatever may be necessary to the exchanging of Treaties and the making of peace between the two nations."

Respect this!

British Embassy, Peking,

MY LORD,

26th October, 1860.

WHEN I addressed to your Lordship my Despatch of the 13th instant of the total number of twenty-six British subjects seized by the Chinese authorities on the 18th ult., while under the protection of a flag of truce, eleven only, namely, Mr. Parkes, Mr. Loch, and eight Sikh troopers had been returned. Since that date two Sikh troopers have been restored to us alive, though suffering severely from the effects of ill-treatment; and twelve corpses have been given up, among which have been recognized the remains of Lieutenant Anderson, Mr. de Normann, and Mr. Bowlby.

Of the regrets inspired by the sad fate of Lieutenant Anderson, and Mr. de Norman, I have already written. Mr. Bowlby was the correspondent of "The Times." He made the passage from England in the same steamer as myself, and I became acquainted with him during the voyage. I deplore his loss not only because he was a highly accomplished and well-informed gentleman, but also because from the conscientious and liberal spirit in which he addressed himself to the investigation of the singularly complicated problems presented by the moral, social, political, and commercial condition of China, I had conceived the hope that he would be the means of diffusing sound information on many points on which it is most important for the national interests that the British public should be correctly informed. The other corpses sent in are those of eight Sikh troopers, and of one English dragoon.

Of the British subjects captured, therefore, Captain Brabazon, of the Royal Artillery, is alone unaccounted for. The silence of the Chinese Authorities, who always plead ignorance of his fate when questioned on the subject, and rumours which reach us from various quarters, lead us to fear that he must have met a violent death. It is reported that, together with a French gentleman (a priest acting as interpreter to General de Montauban), he was beheaded after the action of the 21st ultimo, by direction of a Chinese General who was wounded on that occasion, and who in his exasperation is said to have ordered that these two prisoners, who chanced to be in his power, should be executed. I am inclined to credit this report, although I have no positive evidence of its accuracy. Captain Brabazon was an officer of much promise, and held the appointment of Deputy Assistant-Quartermaster-General of Artillery.

J'AI l'honneur d'envoyer ci-jointes à votre Excellence une copie certifiée de la Convention de paix qui j'ai signée le 25 de ce mois avec le Prince Kung, et une copie aussi du procès-verbal qui constate que l'échange des ratifications du Traité de Tien-tsien a eu lieu dans la même séance entre les Hauts Commissaires respectifs de France et de Chine.

J'ai envoyé une copie de ces deux documents à M. le Général-en-chef des Forces Françaises en Chine, et je lui ai demandé au nom du Gouvernement de l'Empereur de vouloir bien faire cesser tout acte d'hostilité contre la Chine, qui n'aurait pas, cela va sans dire, un caractère essentiellement défensif.

La paix étant heureusement rétablie entre la

France et la Chine, il ne reste plus qu'à exécuter loyalement les engagements qui tiennent depuis le 25 de ce mois, les deux Parties Contractantes signataires du Traité de Tien-tsin et de la Convention de Pékin.

Je compte retourner dans peu de jours à Tien-tsin avec les forces Françaises qui se trouvent devant Pékin, et là, my Lord, je pense que nous aurons encore à nous concerter sur les mesures à prendre pour faciliter dans l'avenir les relations politiques et commerciales si heureusement rétablies par les actes de Pékin.

Je n'ai pas besoin de vous dire, my Lord, combien je suis heureux du concours si cordial et si éclairé que votre Excellence a bien voulu me donner pendant la seconde mission que j'ai eu à remplir avec elle, comme pendant la première, et votre Excellence aura remarqué, je l'espère, que j'ai toujours cherché à marcher avec elle, autant que possible, et à lui rendre autant qu'il a dépendu de moi le secours moral qu'elle a bien voulu me donner, et que j'ai été heureux en remplissant un devoir de faire connaître au Gouvernement de l'Empereur.

I HAVE the honour to inclose herewith copy of a despatch which I have received from the French Ambassador, covering the copy of a Convention signed by his Excellency on behalf of France, and by His Imperial Highness Prince Kung on behalf of China, on the 25th instant; also the copy of a minute similarly signed, and certifying that the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty between France and China, concluded at Tien-tsin in 1858, took place on the same day.

I inclose, moreover, the copy of a letter from myself to Baron Gros, in which I have transmitted to his Excellency copies of the corresponding documents signed by myself and the Chinese Plenipotentiary on the 24th instant.

M. le BARON,

Pekin, October 30, 1860.

I HAVE received your Excellency's despatch of the 26th, inclosing copies of the Convention signed by your Excellency and the Chinese Plenipotentiary on the 25th instant, and of a minute recording the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of 1858, and I have the honour herewith to inclose copies of corresponding documents executed by myself and the Chinese Plenipotentiary on the 24th instant.

I believe with your Excellency therefore on this as on a former occasion, the perfect cordiality and confidence which has subsisted between your Excellency and myself has been very conducive to the furtherance of the objects which we were instructed by our respective Governments to endeavour to attain, and for my own part I have a most grateful sense of the consideration and kindness which I have experienced from your Excellency in the discharge of the duties imposed upon me.

It will give me great pleasure to confer with your Excellency either here or at Tien-tsin, on the subjects referred to in your letter which still require consideration.

In the present disorganized state of the Empire, it is difficult to speak confidently of the future of China, but I venture to think that whatever be the issue of the civil contest now raging here, the British and French Treaties of 1858, supplemented and confirmed by the Conventions of 1860, which open up this vast country to Christianity and commerce, will be henceforward the basis on which its relations with Christendom will rest.

I have.

Camp before Peking,

My Lord,

October 21, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to enclose herewith the translation of a draft note in the vermilion pencil (and therefore purporting to be the Emperor's autograph) found with several other papers at the palace of Yuen-Ming-Yuen. It relates to the question of the presentation of the American Minister, Mr. Ward, to the Emperor, when he visited Peking last year. It is important, inasmuch as it contains a distinct assertion on the Emperor's part to the effect that Mr. Ward's offer to pay to him the same marks of respect as to his own President, was absurd, because it implied the placing of China on an equal rank with the barbarian nations. The Emperor's affectation of superiority is not in itself of much consequence to other sovereigns, but it has an unfavourable bearing as regards the validity of the treaty rights which they obtain from him on behalf of their subjects, because it imparts to them in some sort the character of concessions made of pure grace by a Suzerain to vassals, and enjoyed therefore under some not very definable conditions of fealty.

(Translation.)

Draft of an Imperial Rescript in Vermilion, that is, in autograph, found in the Palace of Yuen-Ming-Yuen, on the 7th October, 1860 :—

“ WE have this day perused the reply of the American barbarians to the communication of Kweiliang and his colleagues.

“ [It shews that] in the matter of their presentation at Court nothing more can be done to bring them to reason. (1) Besides, these barbarians, by their averment that their respect for His Majesty the Emperor is the same as that they feel for their pih-li-si-tien-teh (President), just place China on a par with the barbarians of the South and East, (2) an arrogation of greatness which is simply ridiculous. The proposition of yesterday, that they should have an interview with the Princes, need not either be entertained.”

(1) Lit. There cannot be any more good means for bringing them round (to the right way). Argument is exhausted, so let the question of an audience drop.

(2) The Miran, ancient barbarians of the South, the I of the East.

Pekin,

MY LORD, October 30, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to enclose for your Lordship's perusal a very interesting and detailed narrative by Mr. Parkes of the occurrences which took place while he was detained as a prisoner by the Chinese authorities.

Painful as is the process by which this experience is acquired, such an incident as the capture of Mr. Parkes affords us an insight into the working of the Chinese system which we should never otherwise probably have obtained.

Mr. Parkes' consistent refusal to purchase his own safety, by making any pledges, or even by addressing to me any representations, which might have embarrassed me in the discharge of my duty, is a rare example of courage and devotion to the public interest; and the course which he followed in this respect, by leaving my hands free, enabled me to work out the policy which was best calculated to secure his own release, as well as the attainment of the national objects intrusted to my care.

I am, &c.,

ELGIN & KINCARDINE.

British Head-Quarters,

MY LORD,

Pekin, October 20, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to lay before your Excellency the following statement of the circumstances which attended my capture and subsequent imprisonment :—

I left Ho-se-woo at 4 A.M. on the morning of Monday, the 17th September, accompanied by Mr. Loch, Private Secretary to your Excellency; Mr. De Normann, First Attaché to Her Britannic Majesty's Legation; Colonel Walker, Deputy Quartermaster-General; Mr. Thompson, Deputy-Commissary-General; and Mr. T. W. Bowlby. The escort consisted of five men of the King's Dragoon Guards, and twenty sowars of Fane's Horse, under Lieutenant Anderson.

Shortly after passing Matow, we were met by a Colonel and three other Chinese officers, who had been sent out, as they stated, by the Imperial Commissioners to escort us into Tung-chow. On approaching Chang-kea-wan, I pointed out to Colonel Walker the point, five le south of that place, proposed by the Imperial Commissioners and agreed to by your Excellency as the advanced position of our army, and as we rode over a part of the ground we could see no indications of there being any Chinese force in that vicinity. After passing Chang-kea-wan, however, we observed bodies of Tartar Horse between that place and Tung-chow, and were informed by their Commander, Tih-hingah (the Lieutenant-General commanding at Sin-ho when that place was taken on the 12th August), who rode forward to meet us in a most friendly and courteous manner, that these were some of the troops which had lately held the country between Tung-chow and Ho-se-woo, and had just been called in by order of the Imperial Commissioners. He congratulated us, with much apparent warmth, on "the conclusion of peace;" and, in a soldierly way, made the voluntary observation: "Let us forget that we have been enemies, and henceforward know each other as friends."

Writing after the event, I now see a serious significance in the removal of several small bridges, placed across the small canal or streamlet that runs past Chang-kea-wan, at a point which I afterwards knew, by sad experience, to be the spot whence Sang-ko-liu-sin directed, in person, the movements of the following day. I had observed these bridges on the occasion of my previous visit to Tung-chow, but, in the absence of any other cause for suspicion, we naturally did not now attach an important meaning to the circumstance of their removal.

On reaching Tung-chow at about 10.30 A.M., we went at once to the Temple pointed out by the Chinese officers as the place selected both for our own accommodation and for the meeting with the Imperial Commissioners. All our personal wants were readily supplied, and at about 1 o'clock I was admitted to an interview with the Commissioners; Tsai, Prince of I, and Muh-yin, who were assisted on this occasion by Hang-ki, late Assistant Commissioner at Tien-tsin, and well known to me when he formerly occupied the position of Superintendent of Customs at Canton.

Having delivered to the Commissioners, who received me courteously, your Excellency's despatch of the 16th of September, they raised discussion on three points, namely: the escort, the immediate withdrawal of the forces, and the presentation of Her Majesty's autograph letter to the Emperor. They objected to the escort being taken by your Excellency beyond Tung-chow; urged that the forces should commence to retire the moment the Convention was signed; and called the delivery of the letter a new demand which they had then heard of for the first time. To these objections I replied that it had already been settled at Tien-tsin that your Excellency should take the escort to Peking; that it could not be expected that the forces would retire before your Excellency had concluded all matters connected with the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of 1858; and also that this was not the first time that the delivery of the Queen's letter had been mentioned, your Excellency having already been in written communication on this subject with the Commissioners at Tien-tsin.

As the discussion proceeded, the Commissioners withdrew their objections to the first two points, but continued to oppose the presentation of the letter by your Excellency in person with great earnestness. It could be received, they said, in a manner which denoted, in their opinion, high respect, and an autograph reply could be returned; but the whole ceremonial should be conducted by a Prince or Imperial Commissioner appointed for the purpose, and there could be no occasion for your Excellency to have an audience with the Emperor on this account. I explained the object of the letter, that it was a mark of the respect and friendship entertained by the Queen for the Emperor, but that the honour due to the former would not allow of the letter being presented in any other way than by her own Ambassador; and that seeing that your Excellency had come from a great distance for the purpose of establishing friendly relations with the Chinese Government, it would be unfortunate if the latter were to prove themselves still opposed to closer intimacy, and unwilling to reciprocate the cordiality and good feeling shown by Her Majesty. Finding, however, that these arguments had little weight with the Commissioners, I tried to avoid the question, which, I said, might be considered by themselves and your Excellency on another occasion, and endeavoured to draw their attention to the other business I had on hand; but as they insisted on recurring to it, I distinctly declined further discussion on the ground that I was not authorized to speak on the subject, but that I would not fail to report all that they had urged to your Excellency.

The meeting was interrupted at 4 o'clock by the arrival of the French Secretary of Embassy, who was then received by the Commissioners according to appointment. I was at one time invited both by the French officers and the Commissioners to assist at that interview, and at about 6 o'clock I was once more left alone with the Commissioners, who again brought up the question of audience, and unreasonably insisted that I should decide this without any previous reference to your Excellency. Having at last satisfied them, as I thought, that this was impossible, I prevailed on them to proceed with the consideration of other matters. The terms of the Proclamation in which your Excellency proposed that the Imperial Commissioners should make known to the people the circumstances under which the Allies desisted from further hostilities were discussed, and they accepted, apparently with complete approval, the Draft supplied me by Mr. Wade. I begged therefore that it should be put in the hands of the type-cutters that night, and while they gave, or affected to give, directions to that effect, their Secretaries arranged with me certain particulars as to the form of the document. The Commissioners next named the officers who were to accompany Colonel Walker and myself, at daylight the next morning, to mark out the position of the British camp at the five-le point south of Chang-kea-wan ; other officers were also appointed to act with me in forming a depôt of supplies at the latter town ; and the same persons were directed to furnish the carts required by Mr. Loch for the transport of your Excellency's baggage to Tung-chow. I parted from the Commissioners at about 8 P.M., and such was their tone during the latter part of the interview that I had no reason to suppose that the gratification they expressed, when I congratulated them on the conclusion of the Preliminaries of Peace, was wholly insincere ; and I was subsequently engaged with Hang-ki, until a late hour in the evening, in arranging the details necessary to give effect to the measures they had agreed to.

At daybreak the next morning, Tuesday, the 18th September, the Chinese officer appointed to act with Colonel Walker and myself in marking out the position of the camp was in attendance, and we rode out together to Chang-kea-wan. As we passed the latter place, and reached the five-le point, we were surprised to find that the ground on both sides of the road was occupied by considerable bodies of Infantry and Cavalry ; that the long embankment which formed, as I had understood, the leading mark of the five-le point was lined with matchlock-men, while Cavalry were thrown out in skirmishing order far beyond it; that guns were being rapidly brought into position, we ourselves having unintentionally entered a masked battery of twelve guns, upon the construction of which men were still engaged, and in short that a very considerable force was in active movement all around us. It was in vain that I asked to be directed to some commanding officer who could give me an explanation of this movement: the officers to whom I spoke returned only vague answers, such as that their General might be ten or twenty le off, or that they did not know where he was.

Having my suspicions fully awakened by what I saw, I determined to hasten back to Tung-chow (distant about five miles) for the purpose, first, of learning if the Imperial Commissioners would avert a collision by directing the withdrawal of the force, and, then, of bringing away the remainder of my party (twenty of whom remained in the town) if they refused to do so. I at the same time requested Mr. Loch to ride on and report to General Grant the state of affairs, together with my intention of returning with further information as soon as possible; while Colonel Walker, with the small portion of the escort we had brought out, remained on our encamping ground, making such observations as he thought proper.

On my way to Tung-chow I met Hang-ki, who told me that he was going by direction of the Imperial Commissioners to see your Excellency, an instruction which, if given, he did not carry out, and he expressed surprise at the movement of force then going on, which he said he did not understand. I also met the Secretary of the French Embassy and two other parties of French officers, and advised them to lose no time in returning to their own head-quarters.

On arriving at Tung-chow I sent after the gentlemen of my own party who were out in the town, and then proceeded in quest of the Commissioners. As no one in the Temple would tell me where they were staying, I went to the Chief Magistrate of the city who, after some hesitation, guided me to them in a temple nearly three miles distant from the one in which we had been put up. They did not appear until after some delay, and I at once observed a marked change both in their manner and in that of the crowd of officers around them. I informed them in a guardedly respectful tone of what I had that morning seen, and asked them whether they were aware that a large force of Chinese troops had occupied the very ground which they themselves had named as the situation of the allied camp. The following conversation then ensued :—

Commissioners.—We are not military authorities, and have no control over the troops.

Mr. Parkes.—But your Excellencies, as Imperial Commissioners, have certainly power to instruct your Generals to desist from hostilities, and a collision is now imminent between the force I speak of and the allied column which must shortly reach the same spot. Will you, therefore, direct the immediate withdrawal of the Chinese troops?

Commissioners.—We can only direct our troops to retire when peace shall have been determined on.

Mr. Parkes.—I thought that peace had been determined on both by yourselves as well as by the Allies. Have not all the preliminaries been discussed and concluded at our several interviews?

Commissioners.—We do not think so. You have left one very essential point unsettled—that of the audience.

Mr. Parkes.—I informed your Excellencies that I had no instructions on that point; but at the same time assured you that it could be settled at another time, and the very fact of my not being authorized to discuss it proved that it was not a question upon which peace or war depended.

Commissioners.—We take a different view, and hold that there can be no peace until this point is finally arranged. Until peace is settled our troops cannot retire.

Mr. Parkes.—I am sorry to hear your Excellencies speak in this tone. You should at least have stated as much to me yesterday. I can only return and report what you now say to Lord Elgin.

Commissioners.—You can do much more if you like. You can settle the point at once yourself; but you will not do this.

Mr. Parkes.—I can only repeat that I have no power to do anything of the kind, and all that I can now do is to return to Lord Elgin.

While this conversation was going on, I was repeatedly interrupted by the mandarins standing around the Commissioners, who thought it right to attempt to drown my voice by repeating in a loud tone, with various additions of their own, the remarks of their superiors, and the Commissioners made no attempt to check this rudeness. I made brief notes of the replies of the latter in my pocket-book, explaining to them that I did so to enable me to report accurately to your Lordship all that they had said; and then taking a respectful leave of them, I lost no time in returning to my party.

I found them all collected, and that they had been waiting for me about twenty minutes. Mr. Loch, accompanied by Major Brabazon, had come in from General Grant to say that we must lose no time in returning, and we gave our best heed to the injunction.

We had just passed Chang-kea-wan, and were hoping to be clear, in ten minutes, of the Chinese lines, when a fire of Chinese artillery opened along their front, and showed that the engagement had begun. As soon as we were observed, a number of Tartar Horse moved into the road to intercept us, and halting the party, I informed an officer whom we were, and asked him to allow us to pass on. He desired us not to proceed until orders arrived from a superior officer close at hand, upon which I suggested that time might be saved if I visited that officer myself. He assented, and I therefore rode towards the spot, accompanied by Mr. Loch and one sowar, carrying a white flag. The remainder of the party, namely, Major Brabazon, Lieutenant Anderson, Messrs. De Normann and Bowlby, one dragoon, and, I believe, eighteen sowars, remained in the road, and were also provided with a white flag.

On passing a field of tall cane, which hid us from our party, we suddenly came upon a body of Infantry, who were with difficulty prevented from firing upon us, and we were directed to a mounted mandarin, evidently one of rank, and wearing a red button, who was standing on the opposite side of the canal referred to in the early part of this report, and near to the spot where one of the bridges had been removed. The crowd of soldiers called on us to dismount and cross the canal in a boat. I tried to avoid this, but as the mandarin referred to would not speak to me unless I did so, and seeing that we were surrounded by rude and excited soldiers, who clearly looked upon us as their prisoners, I advised Mr. Loch and the sowar to comply. By this time another mandarin had ridden up to the former one, and hearing, as he approached, the cry raised of "the Prince! the Prince!" I inquired from an officer what Prince it was. He told me Prince Sang (Sang-ko-lin-sin), and I therefore hoped that the use which this personage had himself made in the late hostilities of flags of truce would induce him to respect the one under which we were now acting. We therefore dismounted, in order to cross to him, and directly we did so the soldiers fell upon us, tore off several of the things we had on, dragged us across the canal, and hurled us prostrate on the ground before the Prince.

The moment the Prince gave me an opportunity of speaking to him, which he did by asking me my name, I at once clearly informed him who I was, and of the whole character of my mission to Tung-chow, adding that I was returning to my Ambassador when I was stopped by his troops.

I was proceeding with a remonstrance against the treatment I was receiving, when the Prince interrupted me by saying, "Why did you not agree, yesterday, to settle the audience question?"

"Because I was not empowered to do so," I replied.

The Prince then continued in a very forbidding tone, "Listen! You can talk reason; you have gained two victories to our one. Twice you have dared to take the Peiho forts; why does not that content you? And now you presume to give out" (the Prince here alluded to the proclamation of the Commander-in-chief) "that you will attack any force that stops your march on Tung-chow. I am now doing that. You say that you do not direct these military movements, but I know your name, and that you instigate all the evil that your people commit. You have also used bold language in the presence of the Prince of I, and it is time that foreigners should be taught respect for Chinese nobles and Ministers."

I endeavoured to explain the mistakes of the Prince; told him distinctly what my functions were; that I had come to Tung-chow by express agreement with the Imperial Commissioners, and solely in the interest of peace, and I again begged him to show the same respect to an English flag of truce that we had always paid to those so repeatedly sent in by the Chinese.

The Prince, however, simply laughed at all this, and going towards a house that was close by, directed the soldiers to bring me after him.

On arriving at the house, I was again thrown on my knees before him, and the Prince asked me if I would write for him.

Having asked what it was that he wished me to write, he said, "Write to your people, and tell them to stop the attack."

"It would be useless for me to do so," I replied, "as I cannot control or influence military movements in any way. I will not deceive your Highness by leading you to suppose that anything I might write would have such an effect."

"I see you continue obstinate," he said, "and that you will be of no use to me."

I then heard him give directions to take Mr. Loch, the sowar, and myself to the Prince of I, but to conduct the escort into Chang-kea-wan. While the necessary preparations were being made, two high officers in his suite, wearing red buttons, took me aside into a tent, and told me to sit down and talk with him. "Follow our advice," they said, "and don't think of denying that you can do this or that, or you will get into trouble."

I again explained to them who I was, and how far my powers extended, but they replied that they did not believe me.

Having expressed surprise at the engagement then going on, and inquired how it had commenced, they observed, "It does not matter how it commenced; perhaps you began it, perhaps we did: but you have at last gone too far, and will now get your deserts."

"But we have not gone too far," I replied. "It has been agreed between our Ambassadors and your Commissioners that we are to occupy ground up to five le south of Chang-kea-wan."

"Oh, we are not particular to a few le," said the officers. "It would have been quite the same if you had come within five, ten, or twenty le of our army. You have gone too far, we tell you."

The cannonading now became heavier, and the two officers had to follow Prince Sang, who rode away to the front. Mr. Loch, the sowar, and myself, were ordered to get into an open cart of the roughest description, and two French soldiers, whom we had not before seen, were put in with us. A few moments before I had observed a French officer, whom I knew to be the Commissariat Intendant, being led up to the house; he had evidently been ill-used, but I could not see to what extent, nor had I any opportunity of speaking with him.

We were conveyed to Tung-chow, seeing nothing of our escort on the way, and were taken through the city to the temple in the western suburb, where I had seen the Commissioners in the morning. They had left, and our guard (consisting of fifty horsemen) followed the Pekin-road, inquiring for the Commissioners as they went along, and enjoying the sufferings which the severe shocks occasioned us when the cart was driven along the dilapidated stone causeway at a rapid pace. After retracing their steps in more than one direction, they at last took us into an encampment and threw us on our knees before a mandarin, who they told us was the General and Minister of State, Juy-lin. To avoid another painful and useless examination I feigned faintness, and in reply to his inquiries called out for water. He then directed that we should be taken into the air, but we were so pressed upon by a disorderly mob of soldiers that we had to be removed into a house, where we were searched by a military officer of the rank of Tajin, and everything that we had in our possession was taken from us. Again we were removed to a temple, and a mandarin on the suite of the Prince of I, named Tsing Tajin, who had behaved with marked rudeness to me at the morning's interview, came in and directed that we should be brought before him for examination. He asked us our names and who we were, and then insisted upon my telling him where I had obtained a paper that had been found in my pocket, in which prominent mention happened to be made of several Princes and other important personages who are believed to be among the leading advocates of the war policy. Fearing to criminate the native writer of the memorandum (which was nothing but a list of names), I replied that I had obtained it in a Canton yamun. He declared this to be false, demanded why I presumed to make inquiries about Chinese Princes, and said that force should be used to make me divulge from whom I received the information.

At this moment he was suddenly called away: we heard a stir outside the house, and a number of soldiers with drawn swords rushed in, dragged us all out, and bound our wrists tightly behind us. They were much excited, and called out that death was only our desert, as our soldiers had been killing their people. After a short delay, during which Mr. Loch and myself took, as we thought, a final leave of each other, we were seized by the soldiers and run out of the house at a swift pace, exactly in the way in which I have observed the Chinese conduct their prisoners to execution. Again we came together under some trees, and all five of us were put once more into a cart. All was confusion around us; the camp we had previously observed was being struck, and I could see that some advance on the part of the allied force was evidently causing a retreat on that of the Chinese. Soon we found ourselves again on the Peking-road, and suffering much more than before from the jolting of the cart, as we could not now use our hands or arms to ward off the shocks. The cart being too heavily laden to proceed at the desired pace, another one was called, and the Sikh and one of the Frenchmen were transferred to it. We passed numerous bodies of Infantry in position along the road, and were met by a considerable force of Cavalry going in the direction of Tung-chow. The road was so much blocked up by men and vehicles retreating while others were advancing, that we were often obliged to halt. The Prince of I, Muh-yin, his fellow Commissioner, and Hang-ki, passed us in large sedan chairs, but would not deign to notice us. We could see that we were in the charge of Tsing Tajin, the officer already described as being on the suite of the Prince of I, and our first solicitations for relief from pain and thirst afforded him so much cruel gratification that we made no second appeal to his humanity. Fortunately one of the four soldiers in the cart with us was less relentless, and gave us a little water. It was about half-past 2 o'clock when we were put into the cart, and the sun was setting as we reached the Chaou-yang, or eastern gate of the city. The streets were crowded with people, and our captors made the best use they could of us, to give their return the character of a triumph. We continued to be driven through street after street, passing through the eastern and southern, and into the western quarter of the city, until we entered, at about 8 P.M., a large court, and I saw with a shudder that we were in the hands of the Board of Punishments.

After we had been kept waiting in a dense crowd for half-an-hour longer, I was taken from the cart, and carried before a tribunal composed of examiners of small rank, who made me kneel, and after treating me in a very tyrannical manner, and questioning me on a few unimportant points, they loaded me with chains, and gave me over to a number of ruffianly-looking jailors. These men conducted me through several long courts, and, happening to halt for some purpose, I knew by the clank of chains that another prisoner was approaching. It proved to be Mr. Loch, but they would not allow us to converse, and hastily sent us away in different directions. At last we stood before a building, which I could see was a common prison, and as the massive door opened and closed on me, I found myself in a throng of seventy or eighty wild-looking prisoners, most of them offensive in the extreme, as is usual in Chinese jails, from disease and dirt, and who were naturally anxious to gaze on the new-comer.

I was again carefully examined and searched by the jailors, who also saw that my chains were properly secured, and bound my arms with fresh cords, not so tightly, however, as to prevent circulation, or to occasion serious inconvenience. At the same time, however, they removed, to my intense relief, the cords from my wrists, which being very tightly tied, had caused my hands to swell to twice their proper size, and were now giving me great pain. They then laid me on the raised boarding on which the prisoners sleep, and made me fast by another large chain to a beam overhead. The chains consisted of one long and heavy one stretching from the neck to the feet, to which the hands were fastened by two cross chains and hand-cuffs, and the feet in a similar manner.

Being exhausted with fatigue and want of food, which I had not tasted for upwards of twenty-four hours, I fell asleep, but was soon made sensible of my position by being called up, and again carried before the same Board of inquisitors. It was then about midnight, but the hour did not prevent the collection of a large crowd, composed, however, in this instance of police-runners, jailors, lictors, and the other numerous myrmidons of Chinese law. The mandarins, as I was placed kneeling in my chains before them, warned me that they would force the truth from me if I did not give it willingly, and, in proof of their earnestness, they ordered four torturers to seize me, even before they began to put their questions, by the ears, and the hair of the head and face. They first asked me if I were a Chinese. I told them they had only to look at my face and hair to see that I was not. Their next questions related to my age, length of residence in China, how and where I had been employed, &c. They then proceeded as follows :—

Inquisitors.—State the name of your headman.

Answer.—Which one do you mean—the Ambassador, General, or Admiral ?

Inquisitors (angrily).—You have no such functionaries. Don't presume to use such titles.

Here the torturers suited their action to the tone of the Mandarins, by pulling simultaneously at my hair, ears, &c.

Inquisitors.—Now give the name of your headman.

Answer.—Which one ?

Inquisitors.—The head of your soldiers.

Answer (in English).—Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant.

Inquisitors.—What ?

Answer (in English).—Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant.

Inquisitors.—Say something that we can understand.

Answer.—I am obliged to use the English terms as you will not let me give you these in Chinese.

They attempted to write down, in Chinese sounds, "Lieutenant-General Sir Hope Grant," but not succeeding, they asked the name of another headman.

Answer (in English).—Ambassador Extraordinary the Earl of Elgin.

Finding it equally impossible to write this down in Chinese, or to get on with the examination, they told me I might revert to Chinese names and titles, and I then gave them those of the Ambassador and the Commanders-in-chief.

Inquisitors.—How many soldiers have you?

Answer.—Not less than 20,000 fighting men.

Inquisitors.—That is false. [Torturers clutched me as before.] Repeat how many.

Answer.—Not less than 20,000 fighting men, in which I do not include followers, &c. I have stated that once to you, and have no other answer to give.

Here I was again threatened, both by Mandarins and torturers, but deeming it dangerous to swerve from any statement I had once made, I adhered to that which I had already given them, and it was taken down.

Inquisitors.—How many soldiers have the French?

Answer.—I am less acquainted with their force, but they cannot have less than 10,000 fighting men.

Inquisitors.—You are lying again.

The same question was repeated and enforced by the torturers; I returned the same answer, and it was noted down. I then explained that being myself a civilian I could not be expected to be familiar with military matters, or to know all the particulars of so large an army as the present combined force.

Inquisitors.—So large an army do you call it. What are 30,000 men? They are a mere nothing.

They then proceeded to examine me in the same strain as to the number of our cavalry and artillery, ships, steamers, horses, Chinese coolies, &c., and, in particular, of the range of our field and siege guns, which I gave them at three miles and upwards, together with other particulars of their destructive properties. Hearing that the horses of the force came from India, they questioned me as to the resources of that country, and were much displeased with my statement that it was within twenty days' sail of China, and had an army of upwards of 300,000 men, and a population of more than 100,000,000. They also equally disapproved of my estimate of the population of Great Britain, which I stated at about 30,000,000. But the remark which probably gave them most displeasure, and caused me some pain at the hands of the torturers, was the use, on my part, of a term for Her Majesty denoting equality of rank with the Emperor. They had inquired after our "Prince," to which I had replied, by stating that we had many Princes, both in England and India, but that they were all under one Sovereign, as in the case of the Empire of China.

"What do you mean by using such language," they said; "you have yourself shown that you have been long in China, that you can speak our language and read our books, and you must know, therefore, that there is but one Emperor, who rules over all lands. It is your duty to communicate your superior knowledge on this subject to your countrymen, instead of encouraging them in their extravagant ideas."

They then insisted that I had often been in 1860.

Pekin ; that I had confederates here, and that they would force me to reveal their names. I firmly denied all this, and told them that I knew but three persons in Pekin.

Inquisitors.—Name them.

Answer.—The two Imperial Commissioners—Prince of I and Muh-yin—and the Assistant Commissioner Hang-ki.

I made this reply in the hope of disarming their suspicions, which I could see were very strong on this point ; and the idea that through our Chinese coolies, or in some other way, we had set treason at work within the walls of the capital, was one which evidently gave them considerable apprehension. They were also particular in demanding information as to the number and names of our Interpreters. I complied by giving them the Christian names and surnames of several of these gentlemen in full, knowing, as the event proved, that they would be unable to take down intelligibly the long English words, and they soon relinquished the inquiry. They made pointed inquiries, however, after Mr. Lay, and when I told them that he was now engaged by the invitation of the Chinese authorities in managing their foreign revenue, which had nearly doubled since the collection of it had been placed in his hands, they reproved me for using such language, and called out that Lay was nothing else than a native (Chinese) traitor.

Towards the close of the examination, throughout which I was compelled to remain kneeling on the stone floor, I obtained their permission to make a statement on my own account. I then told them why I and the other gentlemen of my party had come to Tung-chow ; that we were all employed in the cause of peace, and not of war ; but, although acting under a flag of truce, and admitted to interviews with the Imperial Commissioners, we had been seized and were now being treated, not even as prisoners of war, but as common felons, and as offenders against Chinese law. I was urging that this great, and, to me, unaccountable mistake, should not be persisted in, when they interrupted me by saying : " That is your account, but we have another story. Besides, if, as you state, you are a civilian, and have nothing to do with soldiers or their movements, why are you always seen with the advance?" To this I answered, that we always kept an Interpreter in the front to be ready to receive overtures or communications from the Chinese authorities, and to look after the interests of the people. The examination ended, I was ordered back to prison.

I have thus given a full recital, my Lord, of the occurrences of the 18th September, the day on which we were seized; but I shall endeavour to avoid similar detail in the account I have now to add of our subsequent twenty days of imprisonment. On the 19th and 20th a great number of Mandarins visited the prison, and those whose official position entitled them to make the demand, ordered me to be brought out, that they might have the satisfaction of seeing me kneeling before them. Among these were the highest authorities of the Board of Punishments, including, as I now know, the President himself, who abused me in a very bitter tone, laughed at my statement, and appeared as ignorant of foreigners, and as much prejudiced against them, as his subordinates who had conducted the examination above described. Several Censors and Vice-Presidents of the other five Boards of Government were also pointed out to me by the jailors as being among the visitors. Whenever brought out before Mandarins of rank, I lost no opportunity of protesting against my treatment, and of pointing out that in wronging me they were injuring themselves, as it was impossible that peace could be made if they seized and imprisoned the instruments of negotiation.

But it was only from the prisoners that I obtained sympathy, or a hearing. Many of these unfortunate men were glad, when so permitted, to come round me to listen to my story, or any description that I would give them of foreign countries and usages. Instead of following the example set them by their authorities, and treating me with abuse or ridicule, they were seldom disrespectful, addressed me by my title, and often avoided putting me to inconvenience when it was in their power to do so. Most of them were men of the lowest class and the gravest order of offenders, as murderers, burglars, &c. Those who had no means of their own were reduced by prison filth and prison diet to a shocking state of emaciation and disease, but those who could afford to fee the jailors, and purchase such things as they wanted, lived in comparative fulness and comfort.

They explained to me that their prison system cost the Government nothing more than the pay of the jailors, and the supply of two bowls of boiled millet per day to each prisoner. All other expenses, such as water, lighting, fuel, tea, salt, vegetables for the prisoners, and good meals for the jailors, &c., are defrayed by some one among the prisoners who voluntarily undertakes the charge in redemption of a certain portion of his term of imprisonment.

The mandarins of the Board having ordered that I should be supplied with food that I could eat, my maintenance, which cost, as I was told, 1s. a-day, was carried to the charge of the man who held this position, but instead of taking a dislike to me on account of the increased expense which I occasioned him, he was one of the foremost in showing me kindness or consideration. My meals consisted of two meals a-day of boiled rice, or a kind of macaroni seasoned with a very sparing allowance of meat or vegetables ; also cakes or the bread of the country, and a little tea and tobacco.

In the prison roll which was hung up on the wall, I found myself returned as "a rebel," and that I was one of five, out of a total of seventy-three, who were ordered to wear the heaviest chains.

As I grew more intimate with the inmates of the prison, I cautiously endeavoured to obtain information from or through them of the movements of the allies, or the intentions of the Chinese authorities ; but the jailers were always on the watch to prevent communication between me and the prisoners on these subjects, nor would they allow themselves to be drawn into conversation respecting them. Two of these men remained always beside me, both by day and night, and although they occasionally answered my inquiries respecting Mr. Loch and my fellow-prisoners, they defeated every endeavour I made to get a message or note conveyed to them.

On the 22nd September I was removed from the common prison to a separate ward, about eight feet square, on the opposite side of the court, the four jailers appointed to watch me crossing at the same time, and putting up in the same little room. This was scarcely done when I received a visit from the Inspector of the prison, who, instead of making me kneel before him, as he had done on previous visits, desired me to be seated, and introduced another mandarin of small rank as his relief. The latter said he had come merely to pay me a friendly and a private visit, and to suggest in an equally private way whether I could not do something by writing a note of some kind, or in any way that I might suggest, to bring about a settlement of the present differences between our respective nations. I said that when two nations at war wanted to come to a friendly understanding, the first thing to be done was for one or the other to make overtures for peace; negotiations, either by writing or conference, would follow, and if these were carried out to the satisfaction of both parties peace would ensue. The difficulty in the present case was, that the Chinese had made prisoners of the very persons—although essentially non-combatants—who were required to conduct these conferences. Here I gave them a recital of my own story, but after hearing this they simply came back to their first proposal that I should suggest some mode of arrangement, and said they would shortly repeat their visit to hear what had occurred to me. They would give me no information as to the occurrences of the last five days.

Shortly after they had gone, the head jailor asked me if I knew a Mandarin named Hang-ki. He would like to see you, he said, but cannot come into the prison on account of the stench, and I do not see how you can be allowed to go out to him. I told the jailor to act as he pleased, and a few minutes afterwards Hang-ki entered. I have by me the following note of our conversation, which I succeeded in making shortly after he had left me:—

Note.—Hang-ki assumes a look of pity for my condition, though apparently without thinking that it is undeserved. He asks how matters are to be arranged, and I inquire for news. Skirmishes, he says, occasionally occur between San-ko-lin-sin and our troops, who have not yet passed Chang-kea-wan. The Prince of I and Muh-yin have been recalled to Peking, and the Prince of Kung, a younger brother of the Emperor—a very able and amiable man--appointed in their place. Perhaps Kweiliang will be his colleague. How can negotiations be set on foot?

I say that they have increased their difficulties by their wrongful treatment of me and my party, by their violation of a flag of truce, and the rights of an envoy, and I also complain of the deceit practised in my case.

Hang-ki at first professes surprise at hostilities of the 18th. Had he known that these were going to occur, he would not have gone to see Lord Elgin. Came back because he thought Lord Elgin would not see him, and because he found Lord Elgin a long way off— (Correcting himself)--Came back because the Baron de Meritens had told him that it was useless trying to see Lord Elgin before I had returned. The Prince of I had told him that I had been taken prisoner because it was war and not peace, and because I had admitted to him--Hang-ki--on the evening of the 17th of September, that we knew of the arrest several days previously, by our military, of the Prefect of Tien-tsin.

I reminded Hang-ki of all the business we had transacted together the same evening, as showing that the Prince of I had quite given me to believe that he considered hostilities at an end. Certain officers had been appointed to settle with me the position to be taken up by our force; other officers had been appointed to furnish supplies; a proclamation making known the cessation of hostilities had been agreed to, and was being printed under his (Hang-ki's) superintendence; and yet the Chinese attack our troops the next morning when proceeding to take up the ground agreed on, and seize me when engaged in the transaction of the above business. Either the Prince of I had grossly deceived me or Sang-ko-lin-sin had acted independently of the Prince. In a word, the Prince had either played false, or he had no powers over his own people. How could business be transacted with such Commissioners?

Hang-ki evades explanations, and suggests that I should write a letter, but to whom, or to what purpose, he does not seem to know. They want a letter, he says, that will bring about a settlement of affairs. I tell him that such a letter should come from them. He still presses me to write, but I decline to do so, as apart from the vagueness of the requisition, I can see that he has some concealed object in view. He leaves me and says he will shortly pay me another visit.

The 23rd and 24th passed without my seeing Hang-ki, and as an interview with any officer was a relief to the monotony of my imprisonment, and afforded me a chance of gaining some information, I requested the jailor, on the 25th, to inform Hang-ki that I should be glad of another visit from him. The jailor returned and told me that the message could not be forwarded unless I wrote the usual red card in my own handwriting. I complied on being furnished with writing materials, and I find that the card I then sent is the one forwarded to your Lordship in Prince Kung's despatch of the 27th September, in proof of my being well in health and comfortably put up! On the 26th Hang-ki came to the prison, and I quote from a note made at the time the following summary of our conversation :—

At about 2 P.M., 26th September, received a visit from Hang-ki, attended by two Prison Inspectors, Gan and Choo Laou-yays. I first spoke about being put in the same prison with Loch; a small request, and easily granted if they wished to show us any humanity.

Hang-ki followed with a long speech. Grand

Councils had been held, he said, on the subject of foreign relations. It was considered that the hostilities of the Allies are very different on this to all previous occasions, as by advancing on Peking they are attacking the Emperor himself, and not, as heretofore, the Emperor's Viceroys. The Emperor is therefore on his defence, and must fight for his Throne and Dynasty. He has therefore determined to retire to the Hunting Palace at Jehol, in Tartary, and to call in the aid of the forty-eight Mongol Princes, each of whom can furnish, probably, 20,000 men. But, supposing that all is lost—that is, Peking taken—and the Imperial forces retreat, fighting, beyond the frontier, the dismemberment of the Empire will follow, and all trade will be at an end. Is this the course that must be adopted or not? The majority of Princes and Ministers are for it. The Prince of Ching, Prince of I, Sang-ko-lin-sin, and others, say that peace cannot be made with the Allies, because they always make negotiations an opportunity for putting in fresh demands; also that commercial relations are far more costly than profitable to China, for, although some 4,000,000 of taels are received from foreigners annually as duties, the claims for indemnities—first, 21 000,000 dollars in 1842, then 6,000,000 taels in 1858, and now 10,000,000 taels more—almost equal the amount that has reached the Imperial Treasury from the same source during the above period. The personages just named, together with a large majority of their advisers, urge war. The Prince of Kung—the brother of the Emperor—who has now the direction of the foreign question, would be glad to see some other course, but, unless I point one out, no alternative presents itself. If I will not do this, and affairs continue to go wrong, I shall make myself a mark for the public fury, which cannot be restrained at a moment of extremity.

I reply that the conclusion of peace is a very simple matter, and might be managed at any moment. All that is necessary is, that both parties should sincerely wish for it. There can be no doubt as to the desire of Great Britain to be at peace with China. What has Lord Elgin come all this great distance for, but to make peace? But any peace that we conclude must secure to us our rights and national honour. The refusal of China to admit the principle of equality in her relations with foreign countries is the source of all the foreign troubles that have come upon her. Had it not been for those unreasonable pretensions, to which foreign Powers will no longer submit, she would not have seen foreign armies within her borders, and would have saved the large sums paid as indemnities. I cannot understand the singular distinction which he draws between former wars and the present one, or why the Emperor should still persist in fighting. But if Pekin be taken, and His Majesty should fly, I do not see how he is to take the population of the eighteen provinces of China with him, and it is population that makes trade. But to the question of peace, why do they not make peace—or why do they break it as fast as they make it? Can it be that they really have no sincere wish for peace? At Tung-chow the other day they made peace on one day, and then fought us the next. They certainly cannot say that the English had any share in causing war to break out again on the 18th of September, or I should not have been in their hands. Is this double dealing the result of bad faith or of divisions in their Councils and Government? I again go into the story of the 18th, but Hang-ki, whose manner on this occasion is abrupt and unfriendly, stops me by saying that it is useless to refer again to that affair. The question is what can now be done? Have I, or have I not, anything to suggest?

I point out that being in ignorance of all that has occurred since the 18th, I am not the best person to apply to for suggestions. Hang-ki is careful not to supply information, but admits that a correspondence is going on between the Prince of Kung and Lord Elgin. He seems to say that nothing conclusive is yet arrived at or immediately expected. I again observe that differences can only be settled by negotiation, and negotiation to be effectual should not be confined to correspondence, but should be conducted by conferences, either between the Plenipotentiaries themselves or their deputies. But after what has occurred to you, Hang-ki said, your deputy, Mr. Wade, will not come to see us. You certainly cannot expect, I said, that any one of our officers should again place himself in your power, and it is for you, who have violated a flag of truce, to come forward now and send deputies to our side. But will you guarantee their safety? he asked. Yes, I replied, if you send Mr. Loch and myself with them. Hang-ki answered this remark with a smile of derision. That will not do, he said; we want you to guarantee that your people will make peace without any more fighting. You have a better guarantee for peace, I said, in your own sincerity than any that I can give. If you really wish for peace, you have only to send out your deputies to open negotiations, and convince the Ambassadors by your proceedings that you regret all past acts of bad faith.

It is of no use, said Hang-ki, for me to return to the Prince of Kung with a set speech of this kind. Business presses, and I doubt whether I shall be able to see you again. Have you nothing else to say? Do you still refuse to suggest a plan? Here the Prison Inspector, Gan-Laou-yay, interposed the remark that I ought to write a letter. Yes, said Hang-ki, write to your Ambassador or to Mr. Wade, engaging that the mandarin who takes the latter shall be well treated, and that there shall be a cessation of hostilities.

I replied that it was quite out of my power to say anything about the discontinuance of hostilities, and that were I to make such a proposal it would be wholly useless, as it would have no effect upon the proceedings of the English Ambassador. I have suggested a plan, I added, namely, that you should send out your Deputies, and return Mr. Loch and myself with them, in which case we would be answerable for their safety, and they could make any representations or overtures that you might desire. I cannot undertake to do more. As to your menace, I know that I am in danger as long as I am in your hands, because it is no uncommon thing for the Chinese to deal cruelly with their prisoners, or even to take their lives. But while I should prepare for the worst, I know also that my fate will be determined, not by your will, but by that of God. On the other hand, it is for you to bear in mind that, although you would do the allied force but little injury by killing the few prisoners who have fallen into your hands, you would by such an act bring down upon yourselves a terrible vengeance. I also reminded Hang-ki of the different treatment which he received when detained as a prisoner by the allies at Canton in 1858: and I again begged that, in view of whatever might happen to us, Mr. Loch and myself might at least have the satisfaction of being put into the same prison.

Hang-ki replied that his imprisonment and mine were not parallel cases, that he could not say whether Mr. Loch and myself could be allowed to be together, and that he felt he was returning to the Prince of Kung without having anything to tell him. You will be in no danger, however, he added, during the next two or three days.

Two days afterwards, the 28th of September, Hang-ki again appeared, being accompanied on this occasion by a mandarin named Sung, whom he introduced as an officer attached to the Prince of Kung. The Prince, Hang-ki said, had heard of the private visits which he had paid me on the 22nd and 26th, and had sent for him in order that he might hear Hang-ki's own account of all that had passed between us. The Prince wholly disapproved of the manner in which I was treated, and attributing this injustice to Sang-ko-lin-sin and the Prince of I, declared his intention of following a very different policy to that of the latter. Having now the direction of foreign affairs, said the Prince, I shall take my own course, however open it may be to attack, and however people may say that I am encouraging the extravagant pretensions of foreigners by treating them well. I shall adhere strictly to courtesy and justice in my treatment of foreigners, and if they do not meet me in the same way they place themselves in the wrong, while whatever may happen I shall, at least, have the consciousness of having acted rightly. Therefore go to Mr. Parkes and tell him that he shall be removed to good quarters, and that he shall not have to complain of his treatment now that he is in my hands. Let there be no delay, no not even to write orders, but take the officer Sung with you in proof that you are acting by my direction.

Hang-ki followed up this speech with a longer one of his own, the tenour of which was that I should mark my appreciation of the Prince's goodness by persuading the Allies to observe the same high principles as those which actuated the Prince.

I replied, that I had no difficulty in assuring the Prince that justice and courtesy would continue to mark, as hitherto, the action of my own nation. It was the absence of those principles on the part of Chinese officials, as shown in their discourteous and unjust treatment of foreign Governments, by refusing to hold intercourse with them on terms of equality, that had been the cause of the present troubles. With justice and courtesy on the side of the Chinese, I had no doubt that an accommodation could be arrived at.

“Listen !” said Hang-ki to the three mandarins who were with him, “he declares that his nation will act according to justice. Take off his chains !”

This having been done, Hang-ki again resumed the conversation. He told me that affairs remained in a doubtful state ; that correspondence between the Prince of Kung and Lord Elgin continued ; but that it was still impossible to say whether the result would be war or peace. He thought, however, that in the course of the negotiations an opportunity would be afforded me of rendering the Prince some assistance in return for his kindness to me.

I thanked the Prince for his good intentions, but pointed out that, so long as I remained a prisoner, I could be of very little use in promoting the settlement of differences ; and I begged, therefore, that he would form no high expectations of my assistance, as, in the event of matters going contrary to their wishes, they might visit their dissatisfaction upon me.

Hang-ki assured me that I need not apprehend danger in my own case, except in the event of a great emergency—say the assault of the city, when the foreigners would be killing Chinese, and it was only natural that the latter should take revenge. This led me to remark upon the more humane practices of Western nations in regard to their treatment of non-combatants, and those protected by a flag of truce, &c. ; but Hang-ki met my observations by stating, that the customs of all nations could not be expected to be the same on these points.

Hang-ki having told me that I should probably be taken out of prison to-morrow, I stated that I hoped Mr. Loch would have the benefit of this arrangement, as, if not, I could not avail myself of it. We had been sent away together under the same flag of truce; had been seized and imprisoned together; and it would not now do to take one of us out of prison and leave the other in.

Hang-ki replied, that I was raising a difficulty which he could not meet without further instructions from the Prince of Kung.

He then took leave of me, but returned in a quarter of an hour to say that he did not see how he could bring up the subject of the removal of Mr. Loch to the Prince, unless I gave him a note stating that the latter had been exceedingly kind to me, and was also very able and intelligent. I said that it was quite impossible for me to express any opinion as to the Prince's character and attainments, as I had never seen the Prince, nor had I ever heard anything of his Highness besides what Hang-ki himself had told me. Neither could I conscientiously declare that he had treated me with extraordinary kindness, seeing that I was still detained in the common prison into which I had been at first thrown, and that I had only that moment been released from my chains, although this privilege was enjoyed by nine-tenths of the felons who were my companions. It was not favour, but justice, that I sought at the hands of the Prince. To be detained as a prisoner at all was in itself an injustice, but if so detained, I ought not to be treated as a criminal and an offender against Chinese law, but as an officer and a prisoner of war. I was certain, I added, that the justice and courtesy of the Prince, of which Hang-ki had said so much, would induce him to relieve Mr. Loch and myself from our present ignominious position, if the matter were properly represented to him.

Hang-ki urged that if I furnished him with a paper to the effect requested, he could do more than if he went to the Prince empty-handed. Not willing to lose the advantage which this demand gave me, I again replied that I could write nothing of the kind as long as I remained in prison, and that I would not leave the prison unless I was accompanied by Mr. Loch; but that as soon as we were taken out of prison, and were treated properly, I should be ready to note the fact in writing, and also to state, if he wished it, that I had been told that the Prince was an able and intelligent man.

Hang-ki then left me, and returned in the afternoon of the following day (September 29), with an order for the removal of Mr. Loch and myself from the prison of the Board of Punishments to a temple where quarters had been prepared for us. I need not here dwell upon the satisfaction we both felt as we met each other again in one of the outer courts of the Board. Having been put into separate vehicles we were conveyed, in the charge of Hang-ki and a strong escort, to the temple spoken of. Here we were placed in a room about 20 feet by 10, which was entered by another room of the same dimensions, in which eight of the jailors of the Board were stationed. These rooms looked into an open court, about 40 feet square, in which we were allowed to take exercise; but a strong party of soldiers guarded the outer entrance into this court, and we soon became aware that military were put up in and about all parts of the building. Hang-ki explained the presence of the jailors, by saying that they had been brought here to act as our servants. With a degree of consideration for our comfort, not usually shown by Mandarins, he had supplied us not only with such essentials as good food, beds, &c., but also with the luxuries of writing materials, soap and towels, &c. He left it to ourselves to order our meals whenever we chose, and these, I may mention, were abundant and good during the time of our stay in the Kaow-meau temple. As soon as he had seen us located in our new quarters I gave him, according to my promise, the following note :—

“The Chinese authorities are now treating Mr. Loch and myself well, and we are informed that this is done by direction of the Prince of Kung. We are also told by them that his Highness is a man of decision and great intelligence, and I trust that, under these circumstances, hostilities may be temporarily suspended to give opportunity for negotiation.”

♥ September 30.—One of Hang-ki's head servants delivered, in the name of the Prince of Kung, a large present of fruit and confectionary. Hang-ki followed himself at 2 P.M., and talked at considerable length without having any apparent object. He maintained that the invasion of a country and a march upon the capital was altogether contrary to justice and reason, and that was what we were now doing.

I held that the justice or injustice of invasion depended upon circumstances; if one Power were wronged by another Power and could not obtain redress by fair means, force was the only resource left. We knew from history that China had been invaded about two hundred years ago by the Manchoo Tartars, who, when once they had taken possession of the country, never quitted it, but founded the present dynasty, and yet I presumed that he, as a Manchoo, was quite prepared to defend that course.

He then argued that if we captured Peking, we should have to contend against the Viceroy of all the provinces, who would, of course, march upon us.

I said I thought not, as many of these Viceroy were already unable to hold their own against rebels and banditti. Instead, however, of wasting time in arguing upon the degree of mischief that would ensue upon the capture of Peking, I advised Hang-ki to avoid that contingency altogether, by effecting a timely settlement of affairs, instead of continuing to indulge in delays which, under present circumstances, must prove particularly dangerous.

Hang-ki went over a good deal of old ground, and defended hesitation on their part, on the ground that we put difficulties in their way which they could not get over. Among these he enumerated bringing up a large escort to Peking; the demand for indemnities; the presentation of the Queen's letter, &c.

As Hang-ki insisted in keeping me in the dark as to the movements both of the Ambassadors and the Allied forces, I could not give a more practical form to my suggestions. I had gathered from a conversation with one of Hang-ki's servants, previous to the arrival of his master, that our army had advanced to and continued to halt at Pa-le-cheaou, and when I assumed this as the fact, Hang-ki's equivocations convinced me of its truth. I advised him therefore not to lose what appeared to me their last chance of negotiation, as one more march would bring our army under the walls of Peking. Hang-ki having again put forward the old plea that their fears for the safety of their deputies prevented the despatch of these officers to our camp, Mr. Loch volunteered to escort them out and to return with them again. Hang-ki said he would submit this proposal to the Prince of Kung.

October 1. — Hang-ki called at 11 A.M., and was accompanied by Lau, formerly Taoutai at Shanghai and a high literary mandarin. Lau had been sent by the Prince of I to Ho-se-woo with despatches for the Ambassadors at the same time that Mr. Wade and myself had visited the Prince at Tung-chow. In a half serious tone I compared the different treatment in the two cases. On the 16th September I had carefully escorted Lau past our lines, and on the 18th I had been seized and brutally treated by the Chinese in theirs. Hang-ki came forward in defence. The seizure of myself and party was almost a necessity, he said, arising out of the exigency of the moment: hostilities had been resumed, I was in their hands at the time, and it is contrary to all reason, he added, to put a sword into the hand of your enemy at the very time when you are going to give him combat. True, I had at one time to complain of ill-treatment, but that had been corrected, and I was now well taken care of. They all blamed Sang-ko-lin-sin and the Prince of I for fighting at Chang-kea-wan instead of concluding peace; but, although they admitted that my detention was an act of treachery, they would not see in my present detention a continuation of the injustice. The Prince of Kung does not approve, Hang-ki said, of Mr. Loch going out with the deputies; but we wish you to write a note to Lord Elgin proposing that your army should retire for ten or twenty le, and that deputies from both sides should then meet upon some neutral ground. I pointed out that such proposals should be made by them to your Lordship direct, and not through me, and that I could not lower myself in the eyes of my own people by proposing that our troops should fall back previous to negotiation. I consented, however, to note the proposal they made as to a meeting on neutral ground, and accordingly wrote your Lordship the annexed letter. Mr. Loch and myself also prepared private notes to be used in the event of Prince Kung allowing these to be forwarded with the former.

The 2nd of October passed without a visit, but on the 3rd Hang-ki and Lau called in the afternoon. The Prince of Kung, they said, had kept back all the letters we had written on the 1st. Again, they seemed disposed to limit their conversation to general subjects, and to deplore the existence of present differences without making any real effort to settle them. They stated that Lord Elgin had started a different proposition to theirs, namely, that Deputies should meet "before the armies," instead of at "a neutral spot." I pointed out that this was a distinction without a difference. They then showed me a paper purporting to be an extract from one of your Lordship's despatches, on the subject of the presentation of the Queen's letter, and wanted me to declare to them whether this meant that your Lordship had no intention of insisting upon an audience with the Emperor. They also produced another extract, and desired me to inform them whether that meant that your Lordship demanded nothing more than the execution of the Treaty of Tien-tsin. I declined to give an opinion as to the meaning of any isolated passages in your Lordship's communications, unless they showed me the original letters; these they always declined to produce. They then delivered the following note, which had been sent by Mr. Wade, in reply to the paper I had written on the day we were removed from prison, and which, I now learned, had been forwarded by them to the English camp:—

"My dear Parkes,—We were glad to hear from you at last. I have written you a note in Chinese, and take my chance with this in English. Ever since the Prince Kung has begun to write, Lord Elgin has been writing to say, that if they send an officer to get the Treaty ready for signature, and send out the prisoners at the same time, peace will be made. He adds, no conditions to those he insisted on before, and if the Chinese had had any sense they would have made peace a week ago. As it is, they have delayed so long that we have been obliged to move on the force; and if they do not make peace now, we shall be obliged to attack Peking. Our shell will easily destroy the city, and if any harm befall you all, it will be burned from one end to the other. Every one here wishes you well; if the other fellows want anything, try to get the Mandarins to inform us."

The Chinese version of the above note, which had been forwarded open, had, of course, informed them of its contents. It gave us the information we had so long been wishing for, and enabled me to point out to Hang-ki and Lau that it was useless for them to ask me any longer for suggestions, as it was quite clear they had only one course to pursue. Again I urged on them the great risk to which they exposed their Government and city by indulging in further delay; but they did not appear much concerned, and said that they had heard, through the French, that there was to be no more fighting. I then wrote the following acknowledgment of Mr. Wade's note, in English and Chinese, and begged them to deliver it:—

"My dear Wade,—We have received the clothes and your note of the 2nd, acknowledging mine of the 29th September. I see that subsequent notes (one public and two private) of 1st October have not been delivered to you. I find that such arguments as I have been able to use to the Chinese authorities are in complete accord with your own, and my only hope is that Prince Kung is a man of sufficient intelligence and weight in the Councils of his Government as to induce the latter to follow, without further hesitation, the course marked out by Lord Elgin."

In one respect Mr. Wade's note gave us considerable concern, as it seemed to infer that several other persons were in the hands of the Chinese besides the Sikh and the two Frenchmen who were sent to Peking with us; but though we often tried to learn from Hangki and the other Mandarins the fate of the other gentlemen and men from whom we were separated on the day of our seizure, they always insisted that they knew nothing about any other prisoners, and had only accidentally heard three or four foreigners were detained in Sang-ko-lin-sin's camp. Having imagined from casual remarks let fall from time to time by Chinese about us, that Mr. Loch and myself, with the Sikh and the two Frenchmen, were the only prisoners in Peking, we had hitherto hoped that the larger portion of our original party, numbering no less than twenty-three persons, had escaped capture.

October 4th.—Lau called to say that all our notes had been sent to the English camp with another despatch from the Prince of Kung to your Lordship, upon the answer to which, peace or war depended. He would not, however, tell us the tenor of the Prince's despatch.

October 5th.—Hangki and Lau called in the afternoon. As usual, their conversation was at first desultory, and they pretended to want to discuss with me certain provisions of the Treaty of 1858 and the Convention of Tien-tsin. To our enquiries as to whether they had any letters for us, they at first produced only one newspaper and a packet of medicine, but on my insisting that they must have received something more, they delivered us Mr. Wade's note of October 4, informing us, in very decided language that your Lordship had determined not to open negotiations with the Chinese authorities until the prisoners seized under the flag of truce had been given up ; further, that as the Chinese had not complied with this demand, although often repeated, hostilities would at once be resumed. As reference to this letter may be convenient in this place, I beg to annex a copy. I read it over to Hangki twice, and the uneasiness which he and Lau had, till then, been trying to conceal, became now more apparent. They again endeavoured to lead me into a long discussion as to the rightfulness of our proceedings, but I had only the one reply to give them—"You have to choose between the destruction of your capital or the unconditional surrender of your prisoners." They could not agree, they said, to that mode of proceeding, and things must, therefore, take their course. Twice they went away, and twice they returned to ask if I could not point out some other mode of meeting the difficulty. In reply I simply quoted from Mr. Wade's letter. "But if you are released," they said, "before the Convention is signed, and peace concluded, you will want to retaliate upon us in some way for what you have undergone." Mr. Loch and myself very distinctly assured them that we had no wish or intention of the kind, and that they had it yet in their power to atone for the wrong committed, by immediately releasing all their prisoners. They then urged that the Prince of Kung wanted to see me before we were returned. They could not say when, perhaps in two or three days' time. I warned them against incurring any delay on this account, adding that although it would be, gratifying to me to see His Highness, such an interview could not have any influence upon your Lordship's actions. I then wrote and gave them in English and Chinese the following reply to Mr. Wade :

“ MY DEAR WADE,

“ We have received your letters of the 4th, and I read the contents of yours to Hangki (who brought it to me), in order that he might see that the only way of adjusting difficulties is the one which you point out. The Chinese, if they are sincere in their wish for peace, have the means in their own hands of bringing about a settlement at any moment, and if the destruction of Peking or any great calamity ensue, it is the consequence of their own conduct.”

October 6th.—Hangki called at noon. He had been up the whole night, he said, with the Prince of Kung, discussing the provisions of the Treaty of 1858, and the proposed Convention. The Prince of Kung had determined to accept both, and to give up the prisoners in three days' time, on the condition that both the Allied and the Chinese forces should fall back a few miles, and thus place some distance between each other. The Prince now wanted me to write to your Lordship to this effect ; and he also wished explanations from me on several points in both Treaty and Convention, particularly in respect to the Resident Minister, the payment of indemnities, and the evacuation of the places held by the Allied troops. I again pointed out how useless it was for me to continue to write notes to your Lordship, and repeated my objections to being made the medium of proposing that our troops should fall back from any position they now held before or near Peking. It was equally useless for me, I also said, to discuss the Treaty or Convention; but, in order to gratify the Prince, I gave such explanations on some points as I felt at liberty to make, while on others I merely referred him to your Lordship. I then wrote a note in Chinese to Mr. Wade, stating that I had been informed by the Chinese authorities that they intended to send back the whole of the prisoners on the 8th instant; that their troops had already been directed to fall back; and that I trusted there would no longer be occasion for ours to advance. I also gave Hangki, at his particular request, a note, stating, "If Mr. Loch, myself, and all the other prisoners, are sent back in a proper manner, the English Government will take no revenge. As far as I understand the present position of affairs, the British Government do not intend to make fresh demands upon the Chinese, if the latter agree, without any exception, to the provisions of the Treaty of 1858, and the proposed Convention."

October 7th.—At daybreak this morning, we heard the sound of a cannonade, which lasted for a few minutes and then ceased. It seemed to come from no considerable distance, and, as the information conveyed to us, both publicly and secretly, from our friends in camp, had warned us that an attack might take place at any time, we thought that this critical moment had now arrived. At a quarter to eight Hangki came in to learn from us the meaning of the firing. He could no longer conceal from us that our army was before Peking, and admitted that Yuen-Ming-Yuen—the emperor's summer palace—had been taken by the allied troops yesterday afternoon. The Prince of Kung, who had been staying there all along had managed to escape ; but he, Hangki, had been nearly taken, as he was going out to the palace, yesterday afternoon. Returning to the city, in the evening, he found all the gates closed and the walls manned, and his only means of getting into the city was by being hauled up in a basket. He feared that my note, stating that we should be sent out on the 8th, and the official letter from Prince Kung covering it, could not have reached the English camp.

I told him that, during the whole time of our confinement, both in the prison and in the temple, we had never ceased to warn them against the danger of delay, and all that we had foretold seemed now to be coming to pass. Their only chance of escape lay in the immediate surrender of their prisoners.

How is that to be done, said Hangki, in the face of firing ? and how can I now get the authority of Prince Kung for your surrender ? Your immediate departure would also interfere with the interview he intended to give you to-day.

The interview, we replied, was of little importance, and danger to the city, in case of delay, was imminent. We advised him, therefore, to arrange for our being sent away at once, regardless of whether we had to go out in the face of fire or not, as we were very willing to risk that danger.

He left us, promising to return shortly, and we counted the minutes, until these became hours and the day began to wear away. We did not again hear the sound of attack, but detected, now and then, some stir, as of the movement of troops, in our vicinity, and could observe looks of concern on the faces of our guards and jailors. We sent to Hangki's house, to enquire about his movements, but all we could learn from his servants was, that after leaving us he had been lowered over the city wall, and had gone as they supposed in quest of Prince Kung. It was impossible to tell when he would return.

We anxiously looked for the next morning, and felt some relief when no cannonade was heard as daylight broke. By sending to Hangki's house, we learned that he had returned home at 3 a.m., and would be with us shortly. He came at nine, and the glimpse obtained of his countenance, before he had put on the look he wished to assume, shewed considerable dejection and anxiety. He explained to us why he had not returned yesterday. I left you full of concern he said, as I knew that the city and your lives were both in danger. Had the city been assaulted, the first cry raised by the soldiers would have been "Away with the foreign prisoners." When I enquired for Prince Kung, I found that he was too far off for me to hope to reach him. I therefore despatched a note proposing that you should be given up at once, on condition that the foreign troops should retire from Yuen-Ming-Yuen, which they had begun to plunder. At the same time I received an invitation from Mr. Wade, to meet him outside the Tihshing-gate at four o'clock in the afternoon. I went, and we had a long discussion. He demanded not only the immediate surrender of the prisoners, but also one of the city gates, and he handed me this letter, in which you see he states the same in writing. It is quite impossible to comply with such a demand, and what therefore can be done under such circumstances?

I read the note which ran in the names of the Allied Commanders-in-Chief demanding the liberation of all the prisoners who had been seized, and the delivery into their hands of one of the gates of the city, as a precaution against further acts of perfidy on the part of the Chinese. I could only tell Hangki that this step was rendered necessary by their previous acts of bad faith, and that the Allies could no longer put any trust in them. It was useless to hope that the Allied Generals would alter their determination when they had once taken it, nor did I see any course open to the Chinese except compliance.

At this moment the prospect before us seemed darker than ever, but Hangki after some hesitation relieved us from our suspense by remarking that he had agreed with Mr. Wade that we should be given up to-day as already promised, and that we should be sent out at four o'clock in the afternoon. Unable to rely upon the assurance of any Mandarin, we anxiously awaited the hour named, and could see that considerable uncasiness was evinced by Hangki, who visited us several times in the course of the morning. At one time he whispered to me, "I am particularly anxious to get you away for reasons that I will tell you of at a future time, and I will not wait for the hour named to send you off." He was now willing to give us some information respecting the other prisoners. Upwards of twenty had been taken, he said, but with a view to their safe custody, they had been divided into small parties and sent away to different district cities in the interior. It would take some days to get them all back, and he had heard that four or five of them had sickened and died. Those in Peking numbered eight in all, inclusive of Mr. Loch and myself; and we were all to be sent out together.

At last, at two o'clock, he told us that all the prisoners had been assembled, and that we could take our departure. We were placed in covered carts, without being allowed to see each other, and were escorted by a large party of soldiers and Mandarins through streets which wore a deserted appearance to the Se-che, or north-western gate of the city. We soon saw, with thankful hearts, as those great portals opened, and then immediately closed behind us, that we were already free men, for our guard, not daring to follow us out of the city, had left to ourselves the pleasant task of finding our own way to the Allied Camp.

I must not close this report without endeavouring to express my gratitude to your Lordship for the firm and uncompromising manner in which you insisted, from the first, upon our surrender, and which, under the blessing of Divine Providence, has mainly contributed to our liberation. Nor should I omit to acknowledge the great debt I also owe to my fellow-prisoner, Mr. Loch, for the warm support I invariably received from him whenever a moment of trial or of danger presented itself.

I have, &c.,

Inclosure 1.

Mr. Parkes to his Excellency the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, K. T., G. C. B., &c., &c.

Pekin, October 1, 1860.

THE Chinese Authorities have requested the Undersigned to state to your Lordship, that it is the wish of their Government to open negotiations with the Allies; and that looking to what has passed, and the distrust which it is feared exists now on both sides, they desire that some neutral spot between the positions at present held by the respective armies, may be selected for this purpose, where deputies on the part of the Chinese and the Allies may meet, and arrange, it is hoped, the preliminaries of a permanent peace. They consider that while these negotiations between the deputies are being carried on, and in order to afford the necessary facilities for these negotiations, hostilities should be entirely suspended on both sides.

Inclosure No. 2.

Mr. Wade to Mr. Parkes.

MY DEAR PARKES, October 4, 1860.

WE received this morning letters from Loch and yourself. Lord Elgin has read your note stating that the Chinese authorities are willing to send a deputy to meet one from us at some neutral spot, to arrange the preliminaries of peace. Lord Elgin has proposed this over and over again, but he has also insisted upon your being given up at the same time, as the deputy comes forward. He fully commends your efforts to bring about an arrangement, and he is greatly struck by your magnanimity in making no allusion to your own release. He is, however, quite clear on this point, you and others have been seized under a flag of truce. This was not only a violence done to you, but an offence to our national honour, and it is impossible for him to commence negotiations with any Chinese officer, so long as you are detained by the Chinese Government. No Chinese deputy, therefore, will do any good, unless, when he comes, he brings you all with him. On the other hand, if the Chinese Government continues to detain you, hostilities will certainly continue ; and if, in the course of hostilities, any damage befall any of you, Peking will be destroyed. Our heavy guns are up, and we can burn Peking from one end to the other without the loss of a man. If Peking falls, of course there is an end of this dynasty. The news from the south is bad. The rebels have occupied all the country from Soochow to Hangchow, and if they attack Hangchow they are certain to take it.

Ever yours, &c.,
(Signed) T. WADE.

French Head Quarters, near North Gate, Peking,

MY LORD, October 26, 1860.

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship that on the 10th instant a letter was sent to the authorities in Peking, by the two Commanders-in-chief, in which they demanded that the North Gate, opposite to where the French army is encamped, should be given up to be occupied by a force of 200 French and English soldiers. In the event of refusal the walls to be breached, and the city entered by force. Whereas, if the authorities agreed to the demand, the troops would be prevented from entering the city, and no pillaging would be allowed.

Up to 12 o'clock P.M. on Saturday, the 13th instant, was given for reply.

The Commander-in-chief immediately ordered batteries to be erected and armed, within a short distance of the city walls, in case of refusal.

On Friday evening an answer was received from the city authorities, in which they agreed to give up the gate in question, but it does not appear that the Chinese Government had anything to say in the matter. Arrangements having been made early on Saturday, the 13th instant, a force of 200 French and English took peaceable possession of the gate at 12 P.M. on that day.

In the meantime, intelligence of the death of several of the prisoners arrived, some of them having died, I grieve to say, under the savage ill-treatment they had experienced.

The bodies of Mr. de Normann, Lieut. Anderson, Mr. Bowlby (correspondent of the Times) one English soldier, and 12 Sikhs have been sent in, also those of Colonel Grandchamp, M. Ader, Intendent Dubut, and 3 French soldiers. All are now accounted for, 13 Sikhs having returned alive, excepting Captain Brabazon, R. A., Abbé Deluc, and a French soldier, but there is every reason to suppose they were murdered after the failure of the treacherous affair of the 18th of September.

The interment of the English bodies received took place in the Russian cemetery, outside of the north wall, on the morning of the 17th of October, nearly all the officers of the French army off duty attending.

It is General de Montauban's intention to have the bodies of the French officers and soldiers interred within the precincts of the French Catholic chapel inside the city walls.

On the 15th instant the Commanders-in-chief met, and agreed that they could not stop in the neighbourhood of Peking after the 1st of November.

On the 16th instant, Sir Hope Grant sent an English force to Yuen-Ming-Yuen, and burnt all the numerous buildings in the place.

On the 17th instant, letters were sent by the English and French Plenipotentiaries respectively to Prince Kung, the Imperial Commissioner, in which they demanded that the Treaty should be immediately agreed to, and further that 300,000 taels should be paid to the English, and 200,000 taels to the French, these sums to be devoted as a sort of indemnity to the families of the deceased prisoners for the loss occasioned by their deaths, and to the survivors for the sufferings they had endured; also that an acceptance of these demands should be sent by 10 o'clock on the morning of the 20th instant, otherwise the city should be entered by the two forces, and the Imperial palace of Pekin be burnt to the ground.

Prince Kung sent a letter respectively to the Plenipotentiaries, early on the morning of the 20th instant, to say that he accepted unconditionally all the terms, and that the money for the indemnity for the indignities offered to, and murder of, the prisoners, was ready to be paid. This money was delivered over to the English and French on the 22nd instant.

On the morning of the 24th instant, his Excellency, Baron Gros, proceeded, with an escort of 500 men, to take up his residence in the city of Pekin.

At two o'clock P.M. on the same day, his Excellency the Earl of Elgin entered the city in State, and, having met Prince Kung, in a yamun, fitted up for the occasion, the English Treaty was signed.

At eleven o'clock A.M. on the 25th instant, his Excellency, Baron Gros, entered Pekin, in State, and after the same formalities had been observed as on the 24th, the French Treaty was signed.

Nothing which needs remark took place at the latter ceremony. Prince Kung, I am informed by persons present on both occasions, appeared rather more at ease, or perhaps less alarmed than he did on the previous day.

The weather has changed very much during the last fortnight, the mornings and evenings being excessively cold, the thermometer showing occasionally as low as freezing point.

The health of the troops still continues wonderfully good.

It is General de Montauban's present intention, should nothing occur to prevent him, to leave Peking about the end of the month, and proceed to Tien-tsin, where he will remain sufficient time to arrange the location of 2000 men, under General Collinot, then take his departure for Shanghai, which place he intends to make his head-quarters, with the rest of his force, excepting the detachments at Chusan and Chefoo, until he receives further instructions from the Minister of War.

I have, &c.,

Commissioner at French Head Quarters.

TREATY of Peace, Friendship, and Commerce, between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China.

Signed, in the English and Chinese languages, at Tien-tsin, June 26, 1858.

[Ratifications exchanged at Peking, October 24, 1860.]

HER MAJESTY the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the Emperor of China, being desirous to put an end to the existing misunderstanding between the two countries, and to place their relations on a more satisfactory footing in future, have resolved to proceed to a revision and improvement of the Treaties existing between them; and, for that purpose, have named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say;

Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, the Right Honourable the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, a Peer of the United Kingdom, and Knight of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle;

And His Majesty the Emperor of China, the High Commissioners Kweiliang, a Senior Chief Secretary of State, styled of the East Cabinet, Captain-General of the Plain White Banner of the Manchu Banner Force, Superintendent-General of the administration of Criminal Law; and Hwashana, one of His Imperial Majesty's Expositors of the Classics, Manchu President of the Office for the regulation of the Civil Establishment, Captain-General of the Bordered Blue Banner of the Chinese Banner Force, and Visitor of the Office of Interpretation;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, and found them to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:—

ARTICLE I.

The Treaty of Peace and Amity between the two nations, signed at Nankin on the twenty-ninth day of August, in the year eighteen hundred and forty-two, is hereby renewed and confirmed.

The Supplementary Treaty and General Regulations of Trade having been amended and improved, and the substance of their provisions having been incorporated in this Treaty, the said Supplementary Treaty and General Regulations of Trade are hereby abrogated.

ARTICLE II.

For the better preservation of harmony in future, Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and His Majesty the Emperor of China mutually agree that, in accordance with the universal practice of great and friendly nations, Her Majesty the Queen may, if She see fit, appoint Ambassadors, Ministers, or other Diplomatic Agents to the Court of Pekin; and His Majesty the Emperor of China may, in like manner, if He see fit, appoint Ambassadors, Ministers, or other Diplomatic Agents to the Court of St. James'.

ARTICLE III.

His Majesty the Emperor of China hereby agrees, that the Ambassador, Minister, or other Diplomatic Agent, so appointed by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, may reside, with his family and establishment, permanently at the capital, or may visit it occasionally, at the option of the British Government. He shall not be called upon to perform any ceremony derogatory to him as representing the Sovereign of an independent nation on a footing of equality with that of China. On the other hand, he shall use the same forms of ceremony and respect to His Majesty the Emperor as are employed by the Ambassadors, Ministers, or Diplomatic Agents of Her Majesty towards the Sovereigns of independent and equal European nations.

It is further agreed, that Her Majesty's Government may acquire at Pekin a site for building, or may hire houses for the accommodation of Her Majesty's Mission, and that the Chinese Government will assist it in so doing.

Her Majesty's Representative shall be at liberty to choose his own servants and attendants, who shall not be subjected to any kind of molestation whatever.

Any person guilty of disrespect or violence to Her Majesty's Representative, or to any member of his family or establishment, in deed or word, shall be severely punished.

ARTICLE IV.

It is further agreed, that no obstacle or difficulty shall be made to the free movements of Her Majesty's Representative, and that he, and the persons of his suite, may come and go, and travel at their pleasure. He shall, moreover, have full liberty to send and receive his correspondence, to and from any point on the sea-coast that he may select; and his letters and effects shall be held sacred and inviolable. He may employ, for their transmission, special couriers, who shall meet with the same protection and facilities for travelling as the persons employed in carrying despatches for the Imperial Government; and, generally, he shall enjoy the same privileges as are accorded to officers of the same rank by the usage and consent of Western nations.

All expenses attending the Diplomatic Mission of Great Britain in China shall be borne by the British Government.

ARTICLE V.

His Majesty the Emperor of China agrees to nominate one of the Secretaries of State, or a President of one of the Boards, as the high officer with whom the Ambassador, Minister, or other Diplomatic Agent of Her Majesty the Queen shall transact business, either personally or in writing, on a footing of perfect equality.

ARTICLE VI.

Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain agrees that the privileges hereby secured shall be enjoyed in her dominions by the Ambassadors, Ministers, or Diplomatic Agents of the Emperor of China, accredited to the Court of Her Majesty.

ARTICLE VII.

Her Majesty the Queen may appoint one or more Consuls in the dominions of the Emperor of China; and such Consul or Consuls shall be at liberty to reside in any of the open ports or cities of China, as Her Majesty the Queen may consider most expedient for the interests of British commerce. They shall be treated with due respect by the Chinese authorities, and enjoy the same privileges and immunities as the Consular Officers of the most favoured nation.

Consuls and Vice-Consuls in charge shall rank with Intendents of Circuits; Vice-Consuls, Acting Vice-Consuls, and Interpreters, with Prefects. They shall have access to the official residences of these officers, and communicate with them, either personally or in writing, on a footing of equality, as the interests of the public service may require.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Christian religion, as professed by Protestants or Roman Catholics, inculcates the practice of virtue, and teaches man to do as he would be done by. Persons teaching or professing it, therefore, shall alike be entitled to the protection of the Chinese authorities, nor shall any such, peaceably pursuing their calling, and not offending against the law, be persecuted or interfered with.

ARTICLE IX.

British subjects are hereby authorized to travel, for their pleasure or for purposes of trade, to all parts of the interior, under passports which will be issued by their Consuls, and countersigned by the local authorities. These passports, if demanded, must be produced for examination in the localities passed through. If the passport be not irregular, the bearer will be allowed to proceed, and no opposition shall be offered to his hiring persons or hiring vessels for the carriage of his baggage or merchandize. If he be without a passport, or if he commit any offence against the law, he shall be handed over to the nearest Consul for punishment, but he must not be subjected to any ill-usage in excess of necessary restraint. No passport need be applied for by persons going on excursions from the ports open to trade to a distance not exceeding 100 li, and for a period not exceeding five days.

The provisions of this Article do not apply to crews of ships, for the due restraint of whom regulations will be drawn up by the Consul and the local authorities.

To Nankin, and other cities disturbed by persons in arms against the Government, no pass shall be given, until they shall have been recaptured.

ARTICLE X.

British merchant-ships shall have authority to trade upon the Great River (Yang-tsz). The Upper and Lower Valley of the river being, however, disturbed by outlaws, no port shall be for the present opened to trade, with the exception of Chin-kiang, which shall be opened in a year from the date of the signing of this Treaty.

So soon as peace shall have been restored, British vessels shall also be admitted to trade at such ports as far as Han-kow, not exceeding three in number, as the British Minister, after consultation with the Chinese Secretary of State, may determine shall be ports of entry and discharge.

ARTICLE XI.

In addition to the cities and towns of Canton, Amoy, Fuchow, Ningpo, and Shanghai, opened by the Treaty of Nankin, it is agreed that British subjects may frequent the cities and ports of New-Chwang, Tang-Chow, Tai-Wau (Formosa), Chau-Chow (Swatow), and Kiung-Chow (Hainan).

They are permitted to carry on trade with whomsoever they please, and to proceed to and fro at pleasure with their vessels and merchandize.

They shall enjoy the same privileges, advantages, and immunities, at the said towns and ports, as they enjoy at the ports already opened to trade, including the right of residence, of buying or renting houses, of leasing land therein, and of building churches, hospitals, and cemeteries.

ARTICLE XII.

British subjects, whether at the ports or at other places, desiring to build or open houses, warehouses, churches, hospitals, or burial-grounds, shall make their agreement for the land or buildings they require, at the rates prevailing among the people, equitably, and without exactions on either side.

ARTICLE XIII.

The Chinese Government will place no restrictions whatever upon the employment, by British subjects, of Chinese subjects in any lawful capacity.

ARTICLE XIV.

British subjects may hire whatever boats they please for the transport of goods or passengers, and the sum to be paid for such boats shall be settled between the parties themselves, without the interference of the Chinese Government. The number of these boats shall not be limited, nor shall a monopoly in respect either of the boats, or of the porters or coolies engaged in carrying the goods, be granted to any parties. If any smuggling takes place in them, the offenders will, of course, be punished according to law.

ARTICLE XV.

All questions in regard to rights, whether of property or person, arising between British subjects, shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the British authorities.

ARTICLE XVI.

Chinese subjects who may be guilty of any criminal act towards British subjects shall be arrested and punished by the Chinese authorities, according to the laws of China.

British subjects who may commit any crime in China shall be tried and punished by the Consul, or other public functionary authorized thereto, according to the laws of Great Britain.

Justice shall be equitably and impartially administered on both sides.

ARTICLE XVII.

A British subject having reason to complain of a Chinese, must proceed to the Consulate, and state his grievance. The Consul will inquire into the merits of the case, and do his utmost to arrange it amicably. In like manner, if a Chinese have reason to complain of a British subject, the Consul shall no less listen to his complaint, and endeavour to settle it in a friendly manner. If disputes take place of such a nature that the Consul cannot arrange them amicably, then he shall request the assistance of the Chinese authorities, that they may together examine into the merits of the case, and decide it equitably.

ARTICLE XVIII.

The Chinese authorities shall at all times afford the fullest protection to the persons and property of British subjects, whenever these shall have been subjected to insult or violence. In all cases of incendiarism or robbery, the local authorities shall at once take the necessary steps for the recovery of the stolen property, the suppression of disorder, and the arrest of the guilty parties, whom they will punish according to law.

ARTICLE XIX.

If any British merchant-vessel, while within Chinese waters, be plundered by robbers or pirates, it shall be the duty of the Chinese authorities to use every endeavour to capture and punish the said robbers or pirates, and to recover the stolen property, that it may be handed over to the Consul for restoration to the owner.

ARTICLE XX.

If any British vessel be at any time wrecked or stranded on the Coast of China, or be compelled to take refuge in any port within the dominions of the Emperor of China, the Chinese authorities, on being apprised of the fact, shall immediately adopt measures for its relief and security; the persons on board shall receive friendly treatment, and shall be furnished, if necessary, with the means of conveyance to the nearest Consular station.

ARTICLE XXI.

If criminals, subjects of China, shall take refuge in Hong-Kong, or on board the British ships there, they shall, upon due requisition by the Chinese authorities, be searched for, and, on proof of their guilt, be delivered up.

In like manner, if Chinese offenders take refuge in the houses or on board the vessels of British subjects, at the open ports, they shall not be harboured or concealed, but shall be delivered up, on due requisition by the Chinese authorities, addressed to the British Consul.

ARTICLE XXII.

Should any Chinese subject fail to discharge debts incurred to a British subject, or should he fraudulently abscond, the Chinese authorities will do their utmost to effect his arrest, and enforce recovery of the debts. The British authorities will likewise do their utmost to bring to justice any British subject fraudulently absconding, or failing to discharge debts, incurred by him to a Chinese subject.

ARTICLE XXIII.

Should natives of China who may repair to Hong-Kong to trade incur debts there, the recovery of such debts must be arranged for by the English Courts of Justice on the spot; but should the Chinese debtor abscond, and be known to have property, real or personal, within the Chinese territory, it shall be the duty of the Chinese authorities, on application by, and in concert with, the British Consul, to do their utmost to see justice done between the parties.

ARTICLE XXIV.

It is agreed that British subjects shall pay, on all merchandize imported or exported by them, the duties prescribed by the Tariff; but in no case shall they be called upon to pay other or higher duties than are required of the subjects of any other foreign nation.

ARTICLE XXV.

Import duties shall be considered payable on the landing of the goods, and duties of export on the shipment of the same.

ARTICLE XXVI.

Whereas the Tariff fixed by Article X of the Treaty of Nankin, and which was estimated so as to impose on imports and exports a duty at about the rate of five per cent. ad valorem, has been found, by reason of the fall in value of various articles of merchandize, therein enumerated, to impose a duty upon these, considerably in excess of the rate originally assumed as above to be a fair rate, it is agreed that the said Tariff shall be revised, and that as soon as the Treaty shall have been signed, application shall be made to the Emperor of China to depute a high officer of the Board of Revenue to meet, at Shanghai, officers to be deputed on behalf of the British Government, to consider its revision together, so that the Tariff, as revised, may come into operation immediately after the ratification of this Treaty.

ARTICLE XXVII.

It is agreed that either of the High Contracting Parties to this Treaty may demand a further revision of the Tariff, and of the commercial Articles of this Treaty, at the end of ten years; but if no demand be made on either side within six months after the end of the first ten years, then the Tariff shall remain in force for ten years more, reckoned from the end of the preceding ten years; and so it shall be at the end of each successive period of ten years.

ARTICLE XXVIII.

Whereas it was agreed in Article X of the Treaty of Nankin, that British imports, having paid the tariff duties, should be conveyed into the interior free of all further charges, except a transit duty, the amount whereof was not to exceed a certain percentage on tariff value; and whereas no accurate information having been furnished of the amount of such duty, British merchants have constantly complained that charges are suddenly and arbitrarily imposed by the provincial authorities as transit duties upon produce on its way to the foreign market, and on imports on their way into the interior, to the detriment of trade; it is agreed, that within four months from the signing of this Treaty, at all ports now open to British trade, and within a similar period at all ports that may hereafter be opened, the authority appointed to superintend the collection of duties shall be obliged, upon application of the Consul, to declare the amount of duties levyable on produce between the place of production and the port of shipment, and upon imports between the Consular port in question and the inland markets named by the Consul; and that a notification thereof shall be published in English and Chinese for general information.

But it shall be at the option of any British subject, desiring to convey produce purchased inland to a port, or to convey imports from a port to an inland market, to clear his goods of all transit duties, by payment of a single charge. The amount of this charge shall be levyable on exports at the first barrier they may have to pass, or, on imports, at the port at which they are landed; and on payment thereof, a certificate shall be issued, which shall exempt the goods from all further inland charges whatsoever.

It is further agreed, that the amount of this charge shall be calculated, as nearly as possible, at the rate of two and a-half per cent. ad valorem, and that it shall be fixed for each article at the Conference to be held at Shanghai for the revision of the Tariff.

It is distinctly understood, that the payment of transit dues, by commutation or otherwise, shall in no way affect the tariff duties on imports or exports, which will continue to be levied separately and in full.

ARTICLE XXIX.

British merchant-vessels, of more than one hundred and fifty tons burden, shall be charged tonnage dues at the rate of four mace per ton; if of one hundred and fifty tons and under, they shall be charged at the rate of one mace per ton.

Any vessel clearing from any of the open ports of China for any other of the open ports, or for Hong-Kong, shall be entitled, on application of the master, to a special certificate from the Customs, on exhibition of which she shall be exempted from all further payment of tonnage-dues in any open port of China, for a period of four months, to be reckoned from the date of her port clearance.

ARTICLE XXX.

The Master of any British merchant-vessel may, within forty-eight hours after the arrival of his vessel, but not later, decide to depart without breaking bulk, in which case he will not be subject to pay tonnage-dues. But tonnage-dues shall be held due after the expiration of the said forty-eight hours. No other fees or charges upon entry or departure shall be levied.

ARTICLE XXXI.

No tonnage-dues shall be payable on boats employed by British subjects in the conveyance of passengers, baggage, letters, articles of provision, or other articles not subject to duty, between any of the open ports. All cargo boats, however, conveying merchandize subject to duty shall pay tonnage-dues once in six months, at the rate of four mace per register ton.

ARTICLE XXXII.

The Consuls and Superintendents of Customs shall consult together regarding the erection of beacons or lighthouses, and the distribution of buoys and light-ships, as occasion may demand.

ARTICLE XXXIII.

Duties shall be paid to the bankers, authorized by the Chinese Government to receive the same in its behalf, either in sycee or in foreign money, according to the assay made at Canton on the thirteenth of July, one thousand eight hundred and forty-three.

ARTICLE XXXIV.

Sets of standard weights and measures, prepared according to the standard issued to the Canton Custom-house by the Board of Revenue, shall be delivered by the Superintendent of Customs to the Consul at each port, to secure uniformity and prevent confusion.

ARTICLE XXXV.

Any British merchant-vessel arriving at one of the open ports, shall be at liberty to engage the services of a pilot to take her into port. In like manner, after she has discharged all legal dues and duties, and is ready to take her departure, she shall be allowed to select a pilot, to conduct her out of port.

ARTICLE XXXVI.

Whenever a British merchant-vessel shall arrive off one of the open ports, the Superintendent of Customs shall depute one or more Customs officers to guard the ship. They shall either live in a boat of their own, or stay on board the ship, as may best suit their convenience. Their food and expenses shall be supplied them from the Custom-house, and they shall not be entitled to any fees whatever from the master or consignee. Should they violate this regulation, they shall be punished proportionately to the amount exacted.

ARTICLE XXXVII.

Within twenty-four hours after arrival, the ship's papers, bills of lading, &c., shall be lodged in the hands of the Consul, who will, within a further period of twenty-four hours, report to the Superintendent of Customs the name of the ship, her register tonnage, and the nature of her cargo. If, owing to neglect on the part of the master, the above rule is not complied with, within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival, he shall be liable to a fine of fifty taels for every day's delay: the total amount of penalty, however, shall not exceed two hundred taels.

The master will be responsible for the correctness of the manifest, which shall contain a full and true account of the particulars of the cargo on board. For presenting a false manifest, he will subject himself to a fine of five hundred taels; but he will be allowed to correct, within twenty-four hours after delivery of it to the Customs officers, any mistake he may discover in his manifest, without incurring this penalty.

ARTICLE XXXVIII.

After receiving from the Consul the report in due form, the Superintendent of Customs shall grant the vessel a permit to open hatches. If the master shall open hatches and begin to discharge any goods without such permission, he shall be fined five hundred taels, and the goods discharged shall be confiscated wholly.

ARTICLE XXXIX.

Any British merchant who has cargo to land or ship, must apply to the Superintendent of Customs for a special permit. Cargo landed or shipped without such permit, will be liable to confiscation.

ARTICLE XL.

No transshipment from one vessel to another can be made without special permission, under pain of confiscation of the goods so transshipped.

ARTICLE XLI.

When all dues and duties shall have been paid, the Superintendent of Customs shall give a port-clearance, and the Consul shall then return the ship's papers, so that she may depart on her voyage.

ARTICLE XLII.

With respect to articles subject, according to the Tariff, to an ad valorem duty, if the British merchant cannot agree with the Chinese officer in fixing a value, then each party shall call two or three merchants to look at the goods, and the highest price at which any of these merchants would be willing to purchase them, shall be assumed as the value of the goods.

ARTICLE XLIII.

Duties shall be charged upon the net weight of each article, making a deduction for the tare, weight of congee, &c. To fix the tare on any article such as tea, if the British merchant cannot agree with the Custom-house officer, then each party shall choose so many chests out of every hundred, which being first weighed in gross, shall afterwards be tared, and the average tare upon these chests shall be assumed as the tare upon the whole; and upon this principle shall the tare be fixed upon all other goods in packages. If there should be any other points in dispute which cannot be settled, the British merchant may appeal to his Consul, who will communicate the particulars of the case to the Superintendent of Customs, that it may be equitably arranged. But the appeal must be made within twenty-four hours, or it will not be attended to. While such points are still unsettled, the Superintendent of Customs shall postpone the insertion of the same in his books.

ARTICLE XLIV.

Upon all damaged goods a fair reduction of duty shall be allowed, proportionate to their deterioration. If any disputes arise, they shall be settled in the manner pointed out in the clause of this Treaty having reference to articles which pay duty ad valorem.

ARTICLE XLV.

British merchants who may have imported merchandize into any of the open ports and paid the duty thereon, if they desire to re-export the same, shall be entitled to make application to the Superintendent of Customs, who, in order to prevent fraud on the revenue, shall cause examination to be made by suitable officers, to see that the duties paid on such goods, as entered in the Custom-house books, correspond with the representation made, and that the goods remain with their original marks unchanged. He shall then make a memorandum on the port-clearance of the goods and of the amount of duties paid, and deliver the same to the merchant; and shall also certify the facts to the officers of Customs of the other ports. All which being done, on the arrival in port of the vessel in which the goods are laden, everything being found on examination there to correspond, she shall be permitted to break bulk, and land the said goods, without being subject to the payment of any additional duty thereon. But if, on such examination, the Superintendent of Customs shall detect any fraud on the revenue in the case, then the goods shall be subject to confiscation by the Chinese Government.

British merchants desiring to re-export duty-paid imports to a foreign country, shall be entitled, on complying with the same conditions as in the case of re-exportation to another port in China, to a drawback-certificate which shall be a valid tender to the Customs in payment of import or export duties.

Foreign grain brought into any port of China in a British ship, if no part thereof has been landed, may be re-exported without hindrance.

ARTICLE XLVI.

The Chinese authorities at each port shall adopt the means they may judge most proper to prevent the revenue suffering from fraud or smuggling.

ARTICLE XLVII.

British merchant-vessels are not entitled to resort to other than the ports of trade declared open by this Treaty. They are not unlawfully to enter other ports in China, or to carry on clandestine trade along the coasts thereof. Any vessel violating this provision, shall, with her cargo, be subject to confiscation by the Chinese Government.

ARTICLE XLVIII.

If any British merchant-vessel be concerned in smuggling, the goods, whatever their value or nature, shall be subject to confiscation by the Chinese authorities, and the ship may be prohibited from trading further, and sent away as soon as her accounts shall have been adjusted and paid.

ARTICLE XLIX.

All penalties enforced, or confiscations made, under this Treaty, shall belong and be appropriated to the public service of the Government of China, ARTICLE L.

All official communications, addressed by the Diplomatic and Consular Agents of Her Majesty the Queen to the Chinese authorities, shall, henceforth, be written in English. They will for the present be accompanied by a Chinese version, but it is understood that, in the event of there being any difference of meaning between the English and Chinese text, the English Government will hold the sense as expressed in the English text to be the correct sense. This provision is to apply to the Treaty now negotiated, the Chinese text of which has been carefully corrected by the English original.

ARTICLE LI.

It is agreed, that henceforward the character “I” 夷 (barbarian) shall not be applied to the Government or subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, in any Chinese official document issued by the Chinese authorities, either in the capital or in the provinces.

ARTICLE LII.

British ships of war coming for no hostile purpose, or being engaged in the pursuit of pirates, shall be at liberty to visit all ports within the dominions of the Emperor of China, and shall receive every facility for the purchase of provisions, procuring water, and, if occasion require, for the making of repairs. The commanders of such ships shall hold intercourse with the Chinese authorities on terms of equality and courtesy..

ARTICLE LIII.

In consideration of the injury sustained by native and foreign commerce from the prevalence of piracy in the seas of China, the High Contracting Parties agree to concert measures for its suppression.

ARTICLE LIV.

The British Government and its subjects are hereby confirmed in all privileges, immunities, and advantages conferred on them by previous Treaties; and it is hereby expressly stipulated, that the British Government and its subjects will be allowed free and equal participation in all privileges, immunities, and advantages that may have been, or may be hereafter, granted by His Majesty the Emperor of China to the Government or subjects of any other nation.

ARTICLE LV.

In evidence of Her desire for the continuance of a friendly understanding, Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain consents to include in a Separate Article, which shall be in every respect of equal validity with the Articles of this Treaty, the conditions affecting indemnity for expenses incurred and losses sustained in the matter of the Canton question.

ARTICLE LVI.

The Ratifications of this Treaty, under the hand of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Majesty the Emperor of China, respectively, shall be exchanged at Peking, within a year from this day of signature.

In token whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed this Treaty.

Done at Tientsin, this twenty-sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; corresponding with the Chinese date, the sixteenth day, fifth moon, of the eighth year of Hien Fung.

*AGREEMENT made in pursuance of Article
XXVI of the Treaty.*

Signed November 8th, 1858.

WHEREAS it was provided by the Treaty of Tientsin that a conference should be held at Shanghai between officers deputed by the British Government on the one part, and by the Chinese Government on the other part, for the purpose of determining the amount of tariff-duties and transit-dues to be henceforth levied, a conference has been held accordingly ; and its proceedings having been submitted to the Right Honourable the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, High Commissioner and Plenipotentiary of Her Britannic Majesty the Queen, on the one part ; and to Kweiliang, Hwashana, Ho Kweitsing, Mingshen, and Twau Ching-Shih, High Commissioners and Plenipotentiaries of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor, on the other part, these high officers have agreed and determined upon the revised Tariff hereto appended, the rate of transit-dues therewith declared, together with other Rules and Regulations for the better explanation of the Treaty aforesaid ; and do hereby agree that the said Tariff and Rules—the latter being in ten Articles thereto appended—shall be equally binding on the Governments and subjects of both countries with the Treaty itself.

Rule 1.—Unenumerated Goods.

Articles not enumerated in the list of exports, but enumerated in the list of imports, when exported, will pay the amount of duty set against them in the list of imports ; and similarly, articles not enumerated in the lists of imports, but enumerated in the list of exports, when imported, will pay the amount of duty set against them in the list of exports.

Articles not enumerated in either list, nor in the list of duty-free goods, will pay an ad valorem duty of 5 per cent., calculated on the market value.

Rule 2.—Duty-Free Goods.

Gold and silver bullion, foreign coins, flour, Indian meal, sago, biscuit, preserved meats and vegetables, cheese, butter, confectionary, foreign clothing, jewellery, plated ware, perfumery, soap of all kinds, charcoal, fire-wood, candles, (foreign), tobacco (foreign), cigars (foreign), wine, beer, spirits, household stores, ships' stores, personal baggage, stationery, carpeting, druggeting, cutlery, foreign medicines, and glass and crystal ware.

The above pay no import or export duty; but, if transported into the interior, will, with the exception of personal baggage, gold and silver bullion, and foreign coins, pay a transit duty at the rate of two and a half per cent. ad valorem.

A freight or part-freight of duty-free commodities (personal baggage, gold and silver bullion, and foreign coins excepted) will render the vessel carrying them, though no other cargo be on board, liable to tonnage-dues.

Rule 3.—Contraband Goods.

Import and export trade is alike prohibited in the following articles: Gunpowder, shot, cannon, fowling-pieces, rifles, muskets, pistols, and all other munitions and implements of war; and salt.

Rule 4.—Weights and Measures.

In the calculations of the Tariff, the weight of a pecul of one hundred catties is held to be equal to one hundred and thirty-three and one-third pounds avoirdupois; and the length of a chang of ten Chinese feet, to be equal to one hundred and forty-one English inches.

One Chinese chih is held to equal fourteen and one-tenth inches English; and four yards English, less three inches, to equal one chang.

Rule 5.—Regarding certain Commodities heretofore Contraband.

The restrictions affecting trade in opium, cash, grain, pulse, sulphur, brimstone, saltpetre, and spelter, are relaxed, under the following conditions :

1. Opium will henceforth pay thirty taels per pecul import duty. The importer will sell it only at the port. It will be carried into the interior by Chinese only, and only as Chinese property ; the foreign trader will not be allowed to accompany it. The provisions of Article IX of the Treaty of Tientsin, by which British subjects are authorized to proceed into the interior with passports to trade, will not extend to it, nor will those of Article XXVIII of the same Treaty, by which the transit-dues are regulated ; the transit-dues on it will be arranged as the Chinese Government see fit ; nor, in future revisions of the Tariff, is the same rule of revision to be applied to opium as to other goods.

2. Copper Cash.—The export of cash to any foreign port is prohibited ; but it shall be lawful for British subjects to ship it at one of the open ports of China to another, on compliance with the following Regulation. The shipper shall give notice of the amount of cash he desires to ship, and the port of its destination, and shall bind himself, either by a bond with two sufficient sureties, or by depositing such other security as may be deemed by the Customs satisfactory, to return, within six months from the date of clearance, to the collector at the port of shipment, the certificate issued by him, with an acknowledgment thereon of the receipt of the cash at the port of destination, by the collector at that port, who shall thereto affix his seal ; or, failing the production of the certificate, to forfeit a sum equal in value to the cash shipped. Cash will pay no duty inwards or outwards ; but a freight or part freight of cash, though no other cargo be on board, will render the vessel carrying it liable to pay tonnage-dues.

3. The export of rice and all other grain whatsoever, native or foreign, no matter where grown or whence imported, to any foreign port, is prohibited; but these commodities may be carried by British merchants from one of the open ports of China to another, under the same conditions in respect of security as cash, on payment at the port of shipment of the duty specified in the Tariff.

No import duty will be leviable upon rice or grain; but a freight or part freight of rice or grain, though no other cargo be on board, will render the vessel importing it liable to tonnage-dues.

4. Pulse.—The export of pulse and bean-cake from Tung-chau and Niuchwang, under the British flag, is prohibited. From any other of the open ports they may be shipped, on payment of the tariff duty, either to other ports of China or to foreign countries.

5. Saltpetre, sulphur, brimstone, and spelter, being munitions of war, shall not be imported by British subjects, save at the requisition of the Chinese Government, or for sale to Chinese duly authorised to purchase them. No permit to land them will be issued until the Customs have proof that the necessary authority has been given to the purchaser. It shall not be lawful for British subjects to carry these commodities up the Yang-tze-kiang, or into any port other than those open on the seaboard, nor to accompany them into the interior on behalf of Chinese. They must be sold at the ports only, and except at the ports they will be regarded as Chinese property.

Infractions of the conditions, as above set forth, under which trade in opium, cash, grain, pulse, saltpetre, brimstone, sulphur, and spelter, may be henceforward carried on, will be punishable by confiscation of all the goods concerned.

Rule 6.—Liability of Vessels entering Port.

To the prevention of misunderstanding, it is agreed that the term of twenty-four hours, within which British vessels must be reported to the Consul under Article XXXVII of the Treaty of Tientsin, shall be understood to commence from the time a British vessel comes within the limits of the port; as also the term of forty-eight hours allowed her by Article XXX of the same Treaty to remain in port without payment of tonnage-dues.

The limits of the port shall be defined by the Customs, with all consideration for the convenience of trade, compatible with due protection of the revenue; also the limits of the anchorages within which lading and discharging is permitted by the Customs; and the same shall be notified to the Consuls for public information.

Rule 7.—Transit Dues.

It is agreed that Article XXVIII of the Treaty of Tientsin shall be interpreted to declare the amount of transit dues legally leviable upon merchandise imported or exported by British subjects, to be one-half of the tariff duties, except in the case of the duty-free goods liable to a transit duty of two and a half per cent. ad valorem, as provided in Article II of these rules. Merchandise shall be cleared of its transit dues under the following conditions:

In the case of Imports.—Notice being given at the port of entry from which the imports are to be forwarded inland, of the nature and quantity of the goods; the ship from which they have been landed; and the place inland to which they are bound, with all other necessary particulars, the Collector of Customs will, on due inspection made, and on receipt of the transit duty due, issue a transit duty certificate. This must be produced at every barrier station, and viséd. No further duty will be leviable upon imports so certificated, no matter how distant the place of their destination.

In the case of Exports.—Produce purchased by a British subject in the interior, will be inspected and taken account of at the first barrier it passes on its way to the port of shipment. A memorandum, showing the amount of the produce, and the port at which it is to be shipped, will be deposited there by the person in charge of the produce; he will then receive a certificate, which must be exhibited and viséd at every barrier on his way to the port of shipment. On the arrival of the produce at the barrier nearest the port, notice must be given to the Customs at the port, and the transit dues due thereon being paid, it will be passed. On exportation the produce will pay the tariff duty.

Any attempt to pass goods inwards or outwards, otherwise than in compliance with the rule here laid down, will render them liable to confiscation.

Unauthorized sale, in transitu, of goods that have been entered as above for a port, will render them liable to confiscation. Any attempt to pass goods in excess of the quantity specified in the certificate, will render all the goods of the same denomination named in the certificate liable to confiscation. Permission to export produce which cannot be proved to have paid its transit dues, will be refused by the Customs until the transit dues shall have been paid. The above being the arrangement agreed to regarding the transit dues, which will thus be levied once and for all, the notification required under Article XXVIII of the Treaty of Tientsin, for the information of British and Chinese subjects, is hereby dispensed with.

Rule 8.—Foreign Trade under Passport.

It is agreed that Article IX of the Treaty of Tien-tsin shall not be interpreted as authorizing British subjects to enter the capital city of Peking for purposes of trade.

Rule 9.—Abolition of the Meltage Fee.

It is agreed that the percentage of one tael two mace, hitherto charged in excess of duty payments, to defray the expenses of melting by the Chinese Government, shall be no longer levied on British subjects.

Rule 10.—Collection of Duties under one System at all Ports.

It being, by Treaty, at the option of the Chinese Government to adopt what means appear to it best suited to protect its revenue, accruing on British trade, it is agreed that one uniform system shall be enforced at every port.

The high officer appointed by the Chinese Government to superintend foreign trade will, accordingly, from time to time, either himself visit, or will send a deputy to visit, the different ports. The said high officer will be at liberty, of his own choice, and independently of the suggestion or nomination of any British authority, to select any British subject he may see fit to aid him in the administration of the Customs revenue ; in the prevention of smuggling ; in the definition of port boundaries ; or in discharging the duties of harbour-master ; also in the distribution of lights, buoys, beacons, and the like, the maintenance of which shall be provided for out of the tonnage-dues.

The Chinese Government will adopt what measures it shall find requisite to prevent smuggling up the Yang-tze-kiang, when that river shall be opened to trade.

Done at Shanghae, in the province of Kiang-su, this eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, being the third day of the tenth moon of the eight year of the reign of Hien-fung.

Signatures and Seal of the Five Chinese High Commissioners and Plenipotentiaries.

CONVENTION between Her Majesty and the Emperor of China.

Signed, in the English and Chinese Languages, at Peking, October 24, 1860.

HER MAJESTY the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, being alike desirous to bring to an end the misunderstanding at present existing between their respective Governments, and to secure their relations against further interruption, have for this purpose appointed Plenipotentiaries, that is to say: Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, The Earl of Elgin and Kincardine; and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China, His Imperial Highness the Prince of Kung; who, having met and communicated to each other their full powers, and finding these to be in proper form, have agreed upon the following Convention, in nine Articles:

ARTICLE I.

A breach of friendly relations having been occasioned by the act of the garrison of Ta-ku, which obstructed Her Britannic Majesty's Representative when on his way to Peking for the purpose of exchanging the ratifications of the Treaty of Peace concluded at Tientsin in the month of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China expresses his deep regret at the misunderstanding so occasioned.

ARTICLE II.

It is further expressly declared that the arrangement entered into at Shanghai in the month of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, between Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador The Earl of Elgin and Kincardine, and His Imperial Majesty's Commissioners Kweiliang and Hwashana, regarding the residence of Her Britannic Majesty's Representative in China, is hereby cancelled; and that, in accordance with Article III of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, Her Britannic Majesty's Representative will henceforward reside permanently or occasionally at Peking, as Her Britannic Majesty shall be pleased to decide.

ARTICLE III.

It is agreed that the Separate Article of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight is hereby annulled; and that in lieu of the amount of indemnity therein specified, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China shall pay the sum of eight millions of taels in the following proportions or instalments; namely: at Tientsin on or before the thirtieth day of November, the sum of five hundred thousand taels; at Canton, and on or before the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, three hundred and thirty-three thousand three hundred and thirty-three taels, less the sum which shall have been advanced by the Canton authorities towards the completion of the British Factory site at Shameen; and the remainder at the ports open to foreign trade, in quarterly payments, which shall consist of one-fifth of the gross revenue from customs there collected. The first of the said payments being due on the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, for the quarter terminating on that day.

It is further agreed that these moneys shall be paid into the hands of an Officer whom Her Britannic Majesty's Representative shall specially appoint to receive them, and that the accuracy of the amounts shall, before payment, be duly ascertained by British and Chinese Officers appointed to discharge this duty.

In order to prevent future discussion, it is moreover declared that of the eight millions of taels herein guaranteed, two millions will be appropriated to the indemnification of the British mercantile community at Canton, for losses sustained by them, and the remaining six millions to the liquidation of war expenses.

ARTICLE IV.

It is agreed that on the day on which this Convention is signed, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China shall open the port of Tientsin to trade, and that it shall be thereafter competent to British subjects to reside and trade there under the same conditions as at any other port of China by treaty open to trade.

ARTICLE V.

As soon as the ratifications of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight shall have been exchanged, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China will, by decree, command the high authorities of every province to proclaim throughout their jurisdictions, that Chinese choosing to take service in the British Colonies, or other parts beyond sea, are at perfect liberty to enter into engagements with British subjects for that purpose, and to ship themselves and their families on board any British vessel at any of the open ports of China; also, that the high authorities aforesaid shall, in concert with Her Britannic Majesty's Representative in China, frame such regulations for the protection of Chinese emigrating, as above, as the circumstances of the different open ports may demand.

ARTICLE VI.

With a view to the maintenance of law and order in and about the harbour of Hong-Kong His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China agrees to cede to Her Majesty, the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and to her heirs and successors, to have and to hold as a dependency of Her Britannic Majesty's colony of Hong Kong, that portion of the township of Cowloon in the province of Kwang-Tung, of which a lease was granted in perpetuity to Harry Smith Parkes, Esquire, Companion of the Bath, a member of the Allied Commission at Canton, on behalf of Her Britannic Majesty's Government, by Lan Tsung Kwang, Governor-General of the Two Kwang.

It is further declared that the lease in question is hereby cancelled; that the claims of any Chinese to property on the said portion of Cowloon shall be duly investigated by a Mixed Commission of British and Chinese officers; and that compensation shall be awarded by the British Government to any Chinese whose claim shall be by the said Commission established, should his removal be deemed necessary by the British Government.

ARTICLE VII.

It is agreed that the provisions of the Treaty of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, except in so far as these are modified by the present Convention, shall without delay come into operation as soon as the ratifications of the Treaty aforesaid shall have been exchanged.

It is further agreed that no separate ratification of the present Convention shall be necessary, but that it shall take effect from the date of its signature, and be equally binding with the Treaty above-mentioned on the High Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE VIII.

It is agreed that as soon as the ratifications of the Treaty of the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight shall have been exchanged, His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China shall, by decree, command the high authorities in the capital and in the provinces to print and publish the aforesaid Treaty and the present Convention, for general information.

ARTICLE IX.

It is agreed that as soon as this Convention shall have been signed, the ratifications of the Treaty of the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight shall have been exchanged, and an Imperial decree, respecting the publication of the said Convention and Treaty shall have been promulgated as provided for by Article VIII of this Convention, Chusan shall be evacuated by Her Britannic Majesty's troops there stationed, and Her Britannic Majesty's force now before Peking, shall commence its march towards the city of Tientsin, the forts of Taku, the north coast of Shang-tung, and the City of Canton, at each or all of which places it shall be at the option of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, to retain a force until the indemnity of eight millions of taels, guaranteed in Article III, shall have been paid.

Done at Peking, in the Court of the Board of Ceremonies, on the 24th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

War-Office, December 28, 1860.

MAJOR the Honourable A. Anson arrived yesterday evening with a despatch, addressed to Mr. Secretary Herbert by Lieutenant-General Sir J. Hope Grant, G.C.B., Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in China, of which the following is a copy :

No. 56.

Head Quarters, before Peking,

SIR,

October 22, 1860.

IN my despatch, No. 46 of the 20th September, I had the honour to report the illegal capture, by the Chinese, on the 18th of that month, of several officers and soldiers who had accompanied Mr. Parkes to Tungchau, when he went there to meet the Chinese Commissioners.

I have since reported the return of Messrs. Parkes and Loch, and of one Sikh soldier, on the 8th October, and of eight more Sikhs on the 12th October.

I have now to report that, on the 14th instant, two more Sikhs were brought back, the Chinese declaring that they were the last survivors of those who had been taken prisoners.

To prove their assertion, they brought out to us the bodies of Lieutenant R. B. Anderson, of Fane's Horse ; Private John Phipps, King's Dragoon Guards ; Mr. de Norman, of Her Majesty's Legation ; Mr. Bowlby, 'Times' Correspondent in China ; and eight Sikhs.

This accounts for all of those who are missing, except Captain Brabazon, Royal Artillery, and of him I cannot at present obtain any tidings, but I fear ~~that~~ there can be no doubt but that he is dead.

It appears from the statements of the surviving Sikhs, that after Messrs. Parkes and Loch had quitted the party, on the 18th September, to speak to Sangolinsin, as detailed in my despatch of the 9th instant, the Chinese crowded round them in great numbers to disarm them.

The position in which they found themselves precluded any attempt to cut their way out with any chance of success, upon which Lieutenant Anderson very properly determined to trust to the protection of the flag of truce, and ordered the sowars to make no resistance. They were accordingly disarmed and taken to the rear, being permitted to retain their horses. They halted for the night at a joss-house between Tungchau and Pekin ; and the following morning Captain Brabazon and the Abbé Duluc (a French Missionary who spoke Chinese) were taken out and sent back, ostensibly for the purpose of communicating with the Allied Commanders. The remainder of the party, being again mounted on their own horses, were taken through Pekin to Yuen-Ming-Yuen, where they arrived soon after midday. Up to this time they had been very well treated, but about an hour after their halt at the palace they were called out one by one, thrown on their faces, and their hands and feet tied together behind their backs. In this state they were left, without food or drink, for three days. On the 22nd September the Chinese, probably fearing, after our victory of the previous day, that we should advance and recapture their prisoners, took them out, and, dividing them into four parties, placed them in carts, with their hands still bound, and drove them off to four small hill fortresses, varying from twenty to forty miles from Pekin.

I beg to append a statement showing how these parties were divided, and which of the prisoners died in captivity.

Of the cause of their death there can be no doubt ; the survivors of each party tell the same sad tale, of how they remained with their hands tightly bound with cords until mortification ensued, and they died. The whole party would have doubtless shared the same fate, had not their cords been cut on the ninth day, or thereabouts.

Messrs. Parkes, Loch, and their Sikh orderly, more fortunate than their companions, were confined in the common prison of Pekin, and laid in irons for several days, a far more merciful treatment than that vouchsafed to the rest of the party.

I cannot conclude this report without adverting to the loss Her Majesty's service has sustained in Captain Brabazon, Royal Artillery, and Lieutenant Anderson, of Fane's Horse. The former, an officer of much professional ability, had proved himself to be an excellent officer in the field also, by his energy and intelligence whilst serving through the present campaign as Deputy Assistant-Quartermaster-General of Artillery.

The latter was Adjutant of his regiment; and had earned for himself both here and in India, the reputation of being one of the best Irregular Cavalry officers in Her Majesty's Indian army. Nor can I omit mention of Private Phipps, of the 1st Dragoon Guards, who, when last surviving European of his party, encouraged the Sikhs in every way he could, until his decease on the 14th day of his captivity, thus well sustaining the reputation of a British soldier, under the most trying circumstances.

By the kind permission of the Russian Minister General Ignatieff, the bodies of the Englishmen have been interred in the Russian cemetery here. They were buried on the 17th instant, with military honours, in presence of General de Montauban and many officers of the French army, of the officers of the Russian Mission, and of the majority of the officers of the English army and Embassy.
